16-year old Anatoli Petrov had gone to bed late at night when he heard a strange swishing sound in the far corner of the room, where the linen was piled. Glancing at the corner he saw a small shape moving toward him. He then saw a being described as about 160-165 cm tall and all brown. The skin was rough looking as if had "cracks" similar to bark or small protuberances. The creature's head was oval shaped and had dark stain or gap-like eyes. It did not have any whites on the eyes and the witness did not see a mouth. The being had strong shoulders that were "round as if full of muscles." It also had a wide chest and very short legs. It had long hands with what appeared to be membranes in between the fingers. Petrov attempted to shout, but his scream appeared to fade out. The creature moved toward him in an unusual quick manner. Anatoli became afraid and closed his eyes, moments later he saw a light from behind the closed eyelids. He opened his eyes and saw a 25 cm wide blue beam of light shining on his chest. The beam of light came from the creature's hand. The beam consisted of a multitude of light particles. The creature's other hand also beamed a light, which shone on Anatoli's legs. At this point the witness started to float up into the air. As he levitated, the blanked slipped down and off. At this point he apparently lost consciousness. Sometime later he awakened and found himself back in bed covered with the blanket. He was drenched in a cold sweat. Since the incident the witness has suffered from strange dreams. Other members of the family also had strange encounters. His sister saw a tall creature wearing a white overcoat with a hood and his mother watched a small dark creature that walked from out of the wall.

1993 HUMANOID REPORTS

Compiled by
Albert Rosales
dolphins305@comcast.net

1993 brought forth what was termed by Israeli researcher Barry Chamish, "The return of the giants" or of the mythical "Nephilim". The focus was definitely in Israel where bizarre incidents were a common occurrence during 1993. Activity sort of slowed down towards the end of the year, it herald the coming of 1994 which was slow and with few cases of interest far and in between.

On several occasions little "Jason Williams" has reported that several little men have entered his room through closed doors and windows and have taken him to a hospital like room where needles were stuck into his body. The little men are 3 to 4-feet tall, very thin, with big heads, no hair and very big black eyes, one of them is bigger that the rest and appears to be the leader. The boy's parents have at times found his room empty and him missing and have even called authorities in order to find him. They have also seen a strange white round light that followed their vehicle, and one time saw two strange figures wearing all black standing on a nearby field looking intently at the house. The aliens told "Jason" that we were doing far worse things to them than they were doing to us. (!)

Three young men were walking along a wide track through a forestry plantation when one of the youths saw a dark human shaped figure run across the track, from the left to right, two hundred yards ahead of them. He felt an immediate sense of terror and foreboding, but his friends saw nothing. They were teasing him and accusing him of having made up the incident, when all three saw a face that they described as human but not human, peering out at them between the branches of the fir trees. One of them threw a stone at it and the creature disappeared.

The three young men involved in the previous encounter were driving into town, about two miles away from the site of the first experience, when a large, dark and hairy figure appeared at the side of the road. It began to run up the road behind them and was soon level with the car. What was strange about this was that although the figure was running at a speed sometimes approaching 45 mph, it did not seemed to be fatigued. At one point the creature stared into the car at the three youths, with an inquisitive expression, but after about 5 minutes it stopped, abruptly in the middle of the road. They soon lost sight of the creature. A woman living in a secluded cottage in the same area had twice seen a dark, hairy figure standing in the forest watching her cottage, before disappearing into the undergrowth.

Albert Dieppa and some friends drove to the remote location simply to enjoy the surroundings and ride. The group remained within the car with the dome light on, chatting late into the evening, when they suddenly became aware of six or seven presences outside their vehicle, staring at them intently. Dieppa turned on the headlights, and was surprised to see several little child-like figures with adult faces. The beings appeared to be naked, at least form the waist up and they had dark, olive green skin and intense red eyes. The car's occupants remained in stunned, paralyzed, silence until one of them began screaming hysterically, causing the driver to set the car in motion and abandon the area as quickly as possible. Dieppa added that the little men did not try to block their way; they just seemed to vanish as soon as he touched the ignition key.

The witness was sitting on a chair resting in his third floor balcony when he suddenly was overcome by a feeling of well-being. Soon he found himself flying through space, he could see the buildings below him become smaller. He was accompanied by two tall beings, one at each side, these were man-like, and were wearing shiny silvery tight fitting outfits, silvery boots, and a belt that had different apparatus hanging from it. They soon approached a huge silvery oval shaped craft, smooth with no apparent openings or seams. A hatch suddenly opened and he was conducted inside. There he saw a huge metallic sphere on the floor that seemed to be the source of the beings communications. He heard their voices inside his head. Human like aliens who communicated with him extensively met him. He was told many different things about the nature of the universe and the creation of humanity. Apparently about the same time our universe was created an identical dark universe, or anti-universe sprung into being also. This particular group of aliens belonged to some kind of Space Federation that included many different species. Later he was taken to a larger space station that was called "Arkeum", there he saw many different types of beings, but most were human-like. He was warned that beings from the so-called anti-universe were visiting our universe at an increasing rate. He was eventually brought back to his apartment, apparently by the same means of travel.

The witness was told to check an area on a suburban road at a passage that bisects a blocks of houses near his house, because of reported apparitions in the area. One night as he stared at a fence about 20 ft away a humanoid suddenly came into view. It was described as at least 7-feet tall and wearing dark heavy clothing. It had a white pear shaped head with two dark eye sockets as its only facial features. The head was topped by tight orange hair, flat on top that gave the face the appearance of being an upside down triangle. Its arms were very long and almost touched the ground an it appeared to be carrying a black doctor's bag in one of its gloved hands. Despite its malignant appearance, the witness was not afraid and watched as it repeatedly took one step forward and then returned to its position. It seemed to fade away after about 10 minutes.

Rafael Perrin was hosting a party one night in his apartment, around midnight he stepped out onto his sidewalk when he noticed a wounded dog lying on the sidewalk, twisting, and howling. He went to assist the suffering animal, but was prevented from touching the dog by a "young fellow dressed in rags," who in spite of his reduced circumstances did not act like a beggar. The youth told Perrin that a band of aliens roaming the streets of Mexico City had inflected harm upon the canine with a small beam-emitting device they carried on them. Perris was further astonished when the young beggar went into a lengthy discussion of the beam weapon's origin, the nature of the predatory aliens and the damage attributed to "unknown parties" that was common in the area. The youth was about to heal the suffering dog using a similar device which "reversed the effect" of the harmful beam. Rather than staying to witness the cure, Perrin ran back up to his apartment to fetch his camcorder, hoping to capture on film the curing of an injured animal by means of nonhuman technology. But when he returned to the scene, the young beggar was nowhere in sight. Perrin saw only the no-longer wounded dog walking away down the sidewalk.

Two investigators parked out in a remote desert site began watching mysterious lights maneuvering over the area. One of the lights suddenly began to approach; it was a large object with bright square light panels that glowed amber and blue light. As the object, now transformed into two or three bright orbs of light, passed over the vehicle, one of the men attempted to snap a photograph. At this point a state of confusion seemed to have overcome both of the witnesses, as both then became aware of a strange vehicle driving quickly away from the area. A period of missing time was noted. Later under hypnotic regression the main witness was able to recall that the object stopped and hovered over their vehicle. He was floated up through the bottom of the object and inside was met by a being that seemed to walk through a brightly lit interior wall in the craft. The being was gray in color and about 6-feet tall. His eyes were slanted and had what appeared to be black plastic shields on them, and his head was egg-shaped. He wore a two-tone gray suit, with a lighter V in the front and a black belt with a black tube on his right side. He also sported a triangular insignia enclosing a helical coil on the left breast of the suit. The being had long arms that ended in four long fingers. He then communicated with the witness then took him gently by the arm and escorted him inside a dome-like room that was brightly lit. The witness remembers seeing the other witness on the floor, as if frozen apparently being guarded by a short gray humanoid. The main witness was then placed on a metal table that tilted 30 degrees to face a curving wall filled with a row of computer like screens. The being said that this process was a mind-sharing procedure that would allow the witness to learn new things. After about 5 minutes the witness was returned to the exit and jump-floated to the ground about 20 feet below.

Mr. Julio Chagala was sleeping at home when suddenly a bright blue light entered through his window and woke him up. Everything seemed to be very still and all the surroundings were enveloped in that strange blue light. Looking out the window he saw a gold colored disc shaped object about 15 meters in diameter land on a nearby field, the craft was totally silent. A hatch opened and several huge figures came out. These were about 2.50 meters in height, human like, wearing tight fitting silvery diver's outfits. They had long arms, pale complexions, large blue slanted eyes, and long golden-blond hair. The witness at this time had walked over to the craft. The visitors saluted him with a gloved hand wave and then invited him inside the craft. Once inside the witness noticed that the humanoids also had long pointed ears. He also saw numerous consoles and what appeared to be comfortable seats, he also saw a metallic table with several different instruments. One of the humanoids showed him a screen where he saw scenes of war, destruction, and ecological collapse. The craft then landed in an unknown beautiful city, filled with humans of all ages. A large golden sun illuminated the city. He was taken to a crystalline waterfall that was surrounded by beautiful colored stones. There the humanoids explained to Mr. Chagala that his destiny was that of caring and healing his fellow human beings. He was also told that the humanoids had several bases in the area that included one at the Ixtamalapan Lagoon. Chagala was also warned of a different type of humanoid that also visited earth and were the ones responsible for the reported animal mutilations. These were described by his hosts as the short large headed humanoids with huge black eyes, with four fingered hands and protruding stomachs that mostly wore tight fitting maroon outfits and traveled in small flying craft with ball landing gear. Mr. Chagala was eventually returned to his home. He reported a drastic lost of weight soon after the incident but recovered. Other locals reported low flying lighted objects over the area about the same time. Currently Mr. Chagala is a known healer that uses natural herbs and remedies.

Ziporet Carmel woke up earlier than usual and went to her kitchen. As she got there she noticed that the room was bathed in a strange light. She went to check the grounds and as she walked around the storage shed she noticed what appeared to be a large fruit silo on a nearby field. As she took a closer look she noticed that the silo-like object was silver colored and square in shape. It had what appeared to be 18 glowing square windows along its side. Five huge beams of a powerful light shone from its top into the sky. Suddenly what appeared to be a second section of the object materialized doubling in size. Then a seven-foot tall man-like figure appeared near the object. The dogs reacted in a violent manner upon seeing the figure. The figure wore a metallic overall and what appeared to be a sombrero-like headgear with a veil that covered his face completely. The figure and the witness then stared at each other for about 30 seconds. Ziporet then quietly whispered "Why don't you take off your hat so I can see your face." She then heard a clear voice inside her head that spoke in Hebrew telling her that, "That's how things were." The witness then felt compelled to go back to her kitchen.

It headed south and approached the Pennine Range. It was also being tracked by NATO radar and two RAF Jaguar aircraft were scrambled from Coltishall base in Norfolk. At 2037 it was reported on the radar screen at Gatwick Airport at an altitude of 10,000 ft. At the same time Captain Fodoala Parc of the Egyptian Royal Army intelligence, among others, was conducting military maneuvers with the British Army at Salisbury Plains was instructed to go to the above location. Upon arrival they found a cylindrical object, about 60 by 40 feet in diameter with four hydraulic legs, two of which had been damaged on landing causing the object to rest on a 30 degree angle. The object appeared to be made of metal and carbon fiber, highly polished and seamless. Its color was dark charcoal. There was an opening on the side measuring 4 by 2 feet. Upon being detected by USAF high ranking officers he and the others were instructed to secure the area until recovery personnel arrived. Before leaving he noticed standing on top of what appeared to be a flight deck of the object, two strange figures. This were described as being about 3.5 to 4-feet tall, with a grayish smooth complexion, their heads were in extreme proportion to their bodies with slanting eyes and thin arms, and at no time did these communicate. While the visitor was in the bedroom, another was touring the rest of the house, not so much on foot as floating upright---his legs did not move. His face was covered in a thin haze that obscured the details somewhat, but Batya recognized both humanoids as the same race of guests that she had seen previously. This time, however, she noted more details. Their hands were human, but their skin was as light as an albino's. Their clothes were also white but they "shone like neon and were skin-tight." Suddenly the second visitor appeared opposite her bedroom door, just inside her son's bedroom. He gestured his comrade to come and have a look at what he had found. The first being floated to the boy's room and both stared transfixed at the boy's aquarium. The witness was alone with her sleeping children at night and was sitting down reading a book, when suddenly a strange feeling came over the house. Feeling nervous she then heard a child's giggle coming from her daughter's room. Walking to the door of the bedroom she was stunned to see the figure of a small child like being sitting on the edge of her daughter's bed. Her daughter was very much asleep. As far as she could tell, the child-like figure resembled a small naked girl with short, tousled hair. She entered the room in order to obtain a better look when suddenly with a burst of laughter the small figure vanished.

Jane got up and wandered into her brother's room as hers looked out the back. On the road outside, she saw a strange craft hovering a few ft above the ground. It was flat and circular, like a swollen pancake. The circumference was marked by a distinct band and within the band a series of lights were rotating. She went downstairs and stepped outside. A human-like figure was standing beside the craft. He was tall (almost six feet), dressed in a close fitting suit, which also covered his hands and feet. He had a human build. She walked down the path toward him. He held out his hand, which she took and walked aboard the craft with him. No other information.

Terry (involved in previous encounters) remembered seeing some kind of "beings" in the backyard. She then found herself in the yard with a large seven-foot entity in front of her and smaller entities were in back of her. From her description the small beings were what Ufologists commonly call "grays." She described the seven footer as having a large head, which was well out of proportion to the rest of its very thin body. She does not remember this large entity having ears of a nose, and it had only a slit for a mouth. Its hands had three long fingers and a long opposing thumb. She remembered being lead by these entities into the woods behind her house. She was in her nightgown and she had no shoes on. As they entered the woods she thought to herself that she didn't want to go because there were ticks. The large entity replied mentally, "Don't worry, if you get ticks, I'll get them out." She doesn't remember what happened after this, except for brief flashes. She remembers being in a bright room and the seven footer is running its fingers through her hair. She is not sure if it is checking for ticks, but she says the fingers feel very smooth. She remembers seeing markings similar to these (I ? o % 1 ^ E) on the room walls and being told that this is the alphabet the beings use. The walls were white and she remembers a white plaque-like item that blended into the wall. Her husband remembers waking up in the morning to find his wife covered with mud all over her feet. She could not explain how the mud got there. Further hypnotic sessions revealed that Terry remembered being taken to a ship and lying on something that "wasn't really a table." She couldn't describe it well. Everything was white and there were no corners in the room. No lights could be seen, everything was just bright. The aliens told her that they were from another galaxy. However, any further discussion about where they came from was ignored. The entity did tell her that other races are visiting us; some good and some that are hostile toward us. Terry also remembered calling the larger one by the name of "Zing." A total of six encounters were partially remembered consciously.

As he opened his eyes he saw standing over him 2 fluorescent green "men" with large almond shaped black eyes. Instantly one looked and the other and the witness could hear what he was communicating to the other one, though no words were spoken. The alien said, "you had better do it now he is coming too." With that the alien closest to the witness head bent down and poked his finger on the witness neck. It was no ordinary finger; it had a blade like finger nail about 8 cm long. Their arms too, were longer than human arms, looking out of proportion to the rest of their bodies. They stood about 51/2 ft tall and appeared emotionless. The witness had no time to react, as the humanoid poked him on the neck he instantly passed out. He woke up the next morning to find a strange boil or pimple like mark on his neck.

Three carloads of people, including the principal witnesses, 27-year old Kelly Cahill, her husband and three children encountered a huge round object hovering low above the roadway. It had what appeared to be orange-lighted windows around its bottom. Humanoid figures were seen moving inside. Their next conscious memory was seeing the object suddenly shoot away at high speed and later as they approached their home they saw a tall dark figure standing on the side of the road. Later they were able to recall how they had stopped their vehicle and walked out. To their surprise, they noticed another car stopped pm the side of the road. As they walked down toward the craft, they suddenly saw a seven-foot tall black figure with huge fiery red eyes appeared on a nearby field. The figure began moving slowly towards them apparently gliding. The main witness panicked and began yelling hysterically "they have no souls!" suddenly dozens of similar beings appeared and began moving quickly towards the group of witnesses. The aliens were out there in the field, beneath the immense flying craft. The beings seem to congregate in small groups, and one group glided toward Kelly and her husband, covering a hundred yards in a mere few seconds. Another group was approaching the other car, which sat motionless near the hovering craft. Kelly had a sense that the creatures were evil. She clung to her husband, fighting the feeling of blacking out. At this point the witnesses blacked out and the next conscious recall was being in their vehicle watching the object shoot away. The occupants of the other vehicle would come forward and tell almost an exact story, a story of abduction, mind control, and embarrassing procedures. Kelly recalled through dreams the black aliens stooping over her helpless, nude body like he was kissing her navel. From all indications of the descriptions of the aliens, they were intruding into our dimension taking space in our universe. That night as Kelly undressed for bed, she noticed a strange triangular mark on her navel, a mark she had never seen before. Kelly suffered from general malaise for the next two weeks, and was taken to the hospital on two occasions, one for severe stomach pains, and another for a uterine infection. There was an almost 2 hour time lapsed reported.

John had been watching television for some time when he glanced at the clock and noticed the time, then back to the TV. It was at that moment that he noticed odd lights in front of the hill opposite to the house. There was an object about 100 yards away at an altitude of roughly 150 feet. The object moved slowly. It had huge lighted windows, thirteen in all, along its side that appeared to be 8-ft wide and 6-ft high. Each had round corners and they were approximately six feet apart. The altitude of the object was lower than any plane that he had ever seen. He made his way to the bedroom and retrieved a pair of binoculars. The object moved parallel to his position and towards the ocean. It was impossible to see the outline and therefore the shape of the object. A fact that bothers John to this day. The windows were, however, highly visible due to a bright that appeared to be coming from inside though the source of the light cold not be seen. John opened the living room window and was disturbed to discover that the object did not emit any sound. Through the binoculars he could see people at the left side of the object sitting at tables that were in every window. There were also three or four people walking abreast, to and from the front and rear of the object, sometimes passing as groups without having to make room. There were tables on the other side as well with people sitting at them, mostly three to four people at a table. Everyone was dressed in the same, gray uniforms with high collars, which reminded John of something out of the civil war era. None of the people had any hair on their heads and none wore hats or helmets of any sort. They all appeared to be of very similar in size and slightly built. Oriental like stature. They were also very pale. Most of the people sitting seemed to be engaged in drinking from extra large white, luminous cups. One group, however, were staring continuously down at the table as if they were watching something that could not be seen by John. By now John says he was sweating and shaking and having a hard time holding onto the binoculars. He was also having difficulty swallowing. The object then continued to move slowly out over the water, it then went towards Conception Bay, disappearing from view.

An elderly hermit living in a remote ranch land on the eastern slopes of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains reported seeing a "ship" land near his cabin. Two bearded human looking beings came out of the craft and floated towards his cabin, shining a very bright spotlight at it. The hermit claimed that when they pointed the light at the cabin it went right through the wall. Holding a gun he was blinded and paralyzed as the light illuminated the inside of his cabin.

Jane was lying on the settee when several small aliens, between three and four feet tall, suddenly appeared. They had slits for mouths and black eyes like cats. Jane wanted to speak to these visitors, but found that she was unable to move. All around her everything went quiet. But Jane knew what the small entities were up to. She felt waves of light traveling through her, an experience she associated with scanning. The aliens turned her onto her stomach and continued to scan, if that is what they were doing. She felt no pain during the encounter. (Involved in other encounters).

Judy Mickelson (involved in other incidents) remembers being beamed up into a pewter-colored space ship and let into a bright white room. From there, a shower like thing came over her and another thing like a dryer blew over her, and then she was ushered by little creatures about 4 ft tall with big eyes into a room that was colored in earth tones. A tall, slender human shaped being had his back turned to her and told her to sit in something that looked like a dentist chair, which formed around her and perfectly supported her body. When the alien turned around, she got a good look at him: He stood about 7 ft tall, had big shoulders, blond hair and blue eyes. His clothing, she said consisted of a one-piece satiny blue suit with a little cape and a belt with some kind of strange emblem on it. He told her his name was Sanada, and he told her there were far from Earth---that they were on the dark side of the moon. He told her that he and his race live in underground housing on the moon, where they work as miners. He also told her that there had been a lot of interaction between his race and the U.S. government.

A woman was at a cabin in the woods and woke up in the middle of the night to go to the bathroom. Not wanting to disturb the rest of the cabin's occupants she left the bathroom door open. As she sat there, she was looking down the hall towards a window. Suddenly she saw a face appear in the window, going by. This shocked her because the window was about 8 feet above the ground. The face was a classic gray, egg shaped with large almond shaped eyes. A blue light was flashing outside the window, too. The woman screamed and the face disappeared. No tracks were found outside.

She followed the sounds along the right of the trail until she reached a small clearing. At the center of the clearing stood eleven tiny blue figures, one foot tall and seemingly transparent. The beings appeared ethereal in nature and seemed to pulsate and flicker. They had wings larger then their bodies that appeared very delicate. The tiny creatures moved for a few moments in a clockwise circle then reverse direction, all the time singing in an unintelligible language. On Upper Magnetic Mine Road, several witnesses including, Howard Schachter reported seeing unusual ground lights, such as purple flashes, red dots, and blurry white globes. Later a sudden warm wave drew four of the witnesses to a roadside spot by a wooded hillside. They then saw emerald green oval flashes near the small hilltop; they walked to a nearby tree after seeing a white blinking light over the road. Suddenly they all sensed a strong, but gentle presence in front of the tree, it appeared feminine in nature, it seemed to be about 3-feet high, elfin in nature. It was never fully three-dimensional; the being could be glimpsed in flashes and outlines of emerald green. The body appeared wispy; another observer said it resembled a hologram. Two others very briefly saw the figure's head bobbing side to side, with large wrap around eyes. More witnesses came to the spot, feeling an infusion of an unknown energy, drawing them to the hill. One of those present attempted to communicate mentally with the figure, and told it to extend her right arm forward, apparently the being did just that. Soon it left the area. The witnesses, twin boys, Dima and Vitaliy were watching football on TV in their flat. Suddenly they noticed a bright light behind the window. It was a yellow globe emanating a bright yellow light. After that, the globe seemed to dissolve and then a human-looking figure appeared inside the house. The picture from the TV vanished and total interference appeared. The figure was hovering in the air, not touching the floor. It was about 2 meters in height. No face was visible. No hair was visible on its head, which was directly connected to the torso without a neck. Slightly visible yellow spots could be seen where the eyes would have been. It had long arms that stretched below its knees and its legs were short. The whole body of the entity glowed a steady yellowish light. The alien made several moves towards the witnesses, as it walk, it gave the impression of someone walking on the floor, even though it still hovered in the air. Both boys were frightened and the left the room and turned the lights on. They banged on the wall trying to get the neighbor's attention but these were not home. Vitaliy picked inside the room to see what the entity was doing. The figure was now standing examining their cat, holding it in its hands. The cast was meowing desperately, trying to escape. The figure turned his head and looked at the boys, both then ran and hid behind the bed. Next, the glow appeared in their parent's room. Both boys were still hiding when the light soon vanished. But as they looked they noticed that the entity was still there, so they decided to run out the flat. When they ran down the hallway they entity was in the kitchen opening boxes, clattering tableware and dishes. They boys summoned other neighbors to help but upon returning to the flat, the entity was gone. 1994 HUMANOID REPORTS
Albert Rosales
dolphins305@comcast.net

HUMANOID = AN ADJECTIVE MEANING

HAVING HUMAN FORM OR CHARACTERISTICS.

CLOSE ENCOUNTER OF THE THIRD KIND OR CE3:
SEEING OR COMING IN CONTACT WITH AN ENTITY OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN, BEING RELATED TO UFOS OR NOT.

TYPES OF CE3 CLASSIFICATIONS:

TYPE A: WHEN AN ENTITY OR HUMANOID IS SEEN INSIDE OR ON TOP OF AN OBJECT OR UNINDENTIFIED AIRCRAFT.

TYPE B: WHEN AN ENTITY OR HUMANOID IS SEEN ENTERING OR EXITING A UFO.

TYPE C: WHEN AN ENTITY OR HUMANOID IS SEEN IN THE IMMEDIATE VECINITY OF A UFO.

TYPE D: WHEN AN ENTITY OR HUMANOID IS SEEN IN THE SAME AREA WHERE UFOS OR UNKNOWN OBJECTS HAVE BEEN REPORTED.

TYPE E: WHEN AN ENTITY OR HUMANOID IS SEEN ALONE WITHOUT RELATED UFO ACTIVITY, EXAMPLE: BEDROOM VISITATION.

TYPE F: WHEN THERE IS A "PSYCHIC" CONTACT BETWEEN ENTITIES OR HUMANOIDS, BUT AN ENTITY OR HUMANOID IS NOT NECESSARILY SEEN.

TYPE G: WHEN THERE IS DIRECT CONTACT OR INTERACTION BETWEEN A WITNESS OR WITNESSES WITH THE HUMANOID OR ENTITY, EITHER AGAINST AS A RESULT OF A FORCED ABDUCTION OR A VOLUNTARY CONTACT.

TYPE H: WHEN THERE IS A REPORT OF A ALLEGED CRASH OR FORCE LANDING OF A UFO WITH RECOVERY OF ITS OCCUPANTS. OR WHEN AN ANAMOLOUS ENTITY IS CAPTURED OR KILLED BY EITHER A WITNESS OR MILITARY PERSONNEL.

1994 Case Summaries:

1994 was sort of a preview year of the madness that was about to come in 1995-1996. The return of the so-called "flying humanoid" was widely reported in Italy with numerous incredibly cases. Bizarre bedroom visitations dominated the scene in the US while more conventional encounters were reported worldwide, in countries such as France, Slovakia, Brazil, Mexico and Poland. It would herald the coming of a strange cryptid creature that was soon to be known to the world as the "Chupacabra".

After receiving telepathic messages a retired technician saw in a secluded area a landed disc shaped craft, 10 meters from his position. Two beings exited the object, one a tall blond male, of Nordic appearance wearing a white robe, and a shorter creature resembling a robot. The two figures briefly approached the witness but did not communicate with him. They both walked back into the object, which took off at high speed.

Janice and a friend were browsing at the local huge mega shopping center "Mall of the Americas" and Janice had stopped to look at a kiosk in a well-traveled area. Janice looked up from the kiosk to suddenly notice a strange couple standing in front of them. The couple had features that suggested a racial origin not familiar to her. She also noted that the eyes seemed to be solid black. Janice has a rather high degree of psychic sensitivity, and she felt a powerful sense of fear that seemed to emanate from these strangers. It was a sense that Janice could only describe as being "behind enemy lines." This strange couple simply stood there for a few seconds, apparently observing them. Janice brought them to her friend's attention, but her friend did not seem to sense the same strangeness about them. The mysterious couple then walked away, melting into the crowd. Two more times that day, while still at the mall, Janice noted them. She sensed that the strangers seemed to be observing them. Then the strangers would again melt away into the crowd and disappear. Once Janice and her friend had left the mall, they no longer encountered these strangers, and have not seen them since.

29 year old, Kati reported that on several occasions she was visited at night by "aliens" and they made love to her. At first the aliens visited her mother, but turned towards her when they found out she was 7 weeks pregnant. One night several short, glowing gray creatures slipped into her bed, and after several attempts took the fetus away. One of the creatures assured her by using telepathy; the baby would grow up with them and be safe. Several young boys, including the 10-year old main witness and two 16-year old teenagers were playing around some thick hedges, with their bicycles and roller skates. In an area located at a small park, the witness's 12-year old cousin suddenly shouts and points at the hedges. Turning the witness saw at approximately 7 meters away, half hidden behind some shrubs a very small figure about 1.45m in height, very thin. Since it was dark, the witness saw few details. Suddenly his cousin shouted again, that the creature was hairy, as it ran from behind a shrub. At this point the witnesses noticed that the creature had long arms that almost touched the ground, and enormous eyes, very black in color, in contrast with its white-gray skin, which appeared to be covered by "blue" patches in some places. Its head was slightly larger than normal and appeared to be oval in shape. Terrified the juveniles quickly left the area, some locking themselves inside their parent's car. The he felt a sharp pain, like a pin being stuck in his toes. He felt hands around his feet then he was able to look up and see five small figures looking at him from the foot of the bed. The beings had apparently come out of the wardrobe which now looked like the inside of a large hangar which went back into the wall a considerable distance. One of the figures then proceeded to stick a long needle like implement into one of his toes. He then noticed three more figures come out of the wardrobe stand at the foot of the bed and proceed to stick something into his leg. He was then able to move again. He then lifted his leg and stared directly at the beings. They were about 3-4 feet tall, with long arms, smallish heads, dark grayish in appearance with lizard like scales the skin seemed the same color throughout the body. One seemed to be the leader as it ordered the other ones around. At one point as one of the beings grabbed his ankles he noticed that it had three long thin fingers. Soon the beings walked back into the hangar-like wardrobe and disappeared inside, the wardrobe-hangar then disappeared into a cloud of vapor.

The figures wore shiny multi-colored outfits. The father went outside and woke up two neighbors who also watched the object. A door on the left side of the object opened making a slight noise and one of the humanoids stepped out, he was human-like and was carrying a bright torch that he shone towards the witnesses, moving it from side to side. After that he saw the stars flash by. He understood that he was being taken to somewhere but he did not feel afraid. Fear, awful fear, struck him only when he found himself standing in a huge hall before giant beings. One giant looked like a man, he had a narrow dark mustache and cold eyes. Sitting, the giant was about two or three meters tall. Behind the apparent chief were several other beings. The chief said to him: "You will stay with us." But he cried being almost mad with fear, "I don't want to stay here. I want to go home!" The beings did not want to let him go. "You are a fool!" They said. They talked to him but did not use their mouths at all---their voices came from their foreheads or from somewhere else---but he heard a very loud voice. "Ok! You will go home, but you shall die, you shall have a lung disease, lung cancer," they said. And he saw another creature nod agreeing. Soon he was sent back. For a moment he saw the others sitting around the table from high above and then felt himself sitting again at the table. Incredibly the others in the room had not noticed his absence but were stunned to see that forks and other metal utensils stuck to the witness hands from a long distance. Time: late night
A couple was camping in an isolated pine forest. During the very chilly night they built a campfire. But for some unknown reason the fire kept failing. The woman felt uneasy and scared for no apparent reason. As the temperature dropped they sat in the car. Shortly thereafter the woman saw a bright star like object above the tree line. The light moved from side to side and up and down. After about 20 minutes they looked to the west and saw five more similar lights above the tree line. These appeared to be balls of light that danced around very quickly. As they watched the original light descended down behind the tree line. While observing the lights a multi-colored craft came out of the distant northwest sky, it flew at incredible speed and quickly out of sight. Increasingly scared both prayed. Soon the lights from the sky were gone, but an oblong bright white light illuminated the forest floor. Both then took a shotgun and a pistol and settled in the tent. Soon they heard what seemed to be persons walking outside. They sat and listened to what sounded like six to ten people walking around in every direction with an occasional tap or prod to the tent. After an hour a sound came over the tent while simultaneously the ground under the tent floor moved like waves of energy. The wife then looked up through the screened roof and saw a bright ball of white blue light in the sky, just about the tree line. From this light came a large white colored beam of light shining into the tent. The number of "persons" or creatures outside the tent increased, sounding like 30 to 40 of them. Occasionally they heard a sound like whipping wind, along with what sounded like a yipping barking noise that gave them the creeps. At one point a pulsating orange white blue light glowed right next to the tent on the forest floor. It grew larger in size then just disappeared. At daybreak both left the tent and found strange footprints in the dirt and handprints on the dust of the car. The footprints "were toed cloven hoofs" and larger three toed feet. The four-fingered handprints had a skeletal, very long thin look. Frightened they left the area. Their families did not believe their story and they were told that they were "possessed".

The witness was in his bed sleeping when a strong, pulsating blue light suddenly awakened him. He hid under the blanket and suddenly had the feeling that he was floating, he then blacked out. The next thing he remembered was lying on a table in a dark room. The wall, floor, and ceiling were very smooth. Below his feet and on the right side was something resembling a marble column. Suddenly a slim, small white being jumped on top of him. The being was a female with large dark eyes and no hair on her head. She somehow made the witness fell sexually excited; the whole episode was repeated by another similar being. The inside of her foot was silver, but there was no blood. She then realized there were two men standing beside her, one on each side of the bed. They were standing right through the bed. They had blond, shoulder length hair, blue eyes, and appeared to be about 50 years of age. Their skin was a bronze color, as though they had good tans. They wore robes; one was wearing red & white with gold roping around the collar, the other robe was blue and white, with gold roping. The man in the blue went

As they watched fascinated, his wife suddenly let out a blood-curling scream the witness turned around and saw two "aliens" coming towards the car. These were described as bug-like, with their heads looking like preying mantises. They had humanoid-looking bodies, however, and wore bluish gray jumpsuits. The terrified witness, who was armed with a gun, pulled it out and fired two shots towards the road in front of the figures. This must have startled the humanoids, which suddenly ran back to their landed cylinder shaped object. During the wee hours of the morning the witness suddenly found herself in her front yard, in her nightclothes and bare feet, looking toward her house. She was about 100 feet away from the house, and could see a group of what she remembers as four or five "good sized coyotes or wolves" sitting on the top of her house looking down at her. Being both curious and frightened, she slowly began to walk toward the house. As she did, she suddenly found herself being escorted in the direction of the house, by what she felt were two entities behind her, one on either side. She remembers that the entities were extremely close to her, but she did not look directly at them. She suddenly felt as though she was momentarily lifted, as if weightless and rising. She was then in a white, brightly lighted hallway, about 3 feet wide. She was mentally instructed to walk down the hallway, toward a doorway approximately 10 feet away to her right side. She walked through the doorway and entered a small room with a machine on the right side. An entity (which she could not make out in detail) seemed to be standing at the far end of the room, to the left of the machine. She felt that the entity was smaller than she was. She was initially very attracted to the machine, which had a number of bright, multi-colored lights on it. She was briefly allowed to examine the machine. At one point she was compelled to touch a green sticky substance on the machine, which made her feel revolted. After this experiment was over she found herself in a large featureless room along with five entities. One was taller, apparently the leader, with four smaller entities to its left. This time she had a full view of the entities. The larger entity was about five feet tall, and the others were considerably shorter. They were all gray in color and wore tight fitting uniform like clothing. She got the impression from them that they were emotionless, and that while she was in their presence, her emotions were also suspended. The taller entity appeared mystified, and asked her a question, which pertained to her health status. She explained in one sentence her condition to the taller entity. The tall entity then turned around and repeated a one-word version of this to the smaller entities. They then repeated what the witness felt in unison. A man named Filippych reported seeing a beam of light outside his apartment. Looking out he saw a large egg shaped object sitting on the ground, about 4 meters in height and three meters in width. The polished surface resembled that of marble. He saw what appeared to be a crew of three "pilots" not described but apparently human like. Two of the occupants exited the craft while a third remained onboard apparently operating some type of digging rig, which he used to drill a hole on the earth a meter in depth, extracting the soil into the craft. The other two occupants meanwhile collected vegetation and other organic samples. Soon the humanoids returned to the craft and the object left. The curious locals trampled the landing site and investigators noted a strong energy field emanating from the site. Soon after the encounter, Filippych perceived a burning sensation on the upper right hand and his right eye became strongly inflamed. Besides that there were no other ill effects. There is a possibility that as a direct result of the encounter the witness acquired some paranormal abilities.

Thomas Puzzo had just left a restaurant and was walking through a dark and vacant parking lot. As he walked he saw a lighted object overhead. As the craft came closer he could not hear any engine sound. The craft had a pulsating white light on the rear section. The craft then disappeared, moments later as he walked behind a car wash he saw a strange creature coming from behind some shrubs. The creature was about five feet tall and very thin. He wore a one-piece light blue spacesuit. The suit had a turtleneck and it was covered with one inch green squares. The squares had an indescribable quality. His ankles were tapered probably with some kind of rubber band. He wore heavy black boots. The creature had a pointy chin and only a hole where the ears should had been. He also had a large bald and deformed head. He appeared to have difficulty in walking and did not see the witness. He entity disappeared behind the carwash and at the same time the witness heard what sounded like a BB-gun shot. As the witness stood around watching for the reappearance of the creature he saw, standing behind an air condition compressor a five-foot tall ape-looking creature. It was ghostly in appearance and began walking in exaggerated ape-like movements. Its face and head did not look like any "earthly" apes. It had very large hairy forearms. It walked from the center of the car wash to the east wall of the flower shop at an angle. Terrified the witness fled the scene. Puzzo (involved in other encounters) had seen a similar ape-like creature two years before.

Suddenly out of nowhere two luminous beings appeared in front of her. The beings were tall & human like wearing phosphorescent tight-fitting clothing. They stood there looking at her from about 10 meters away. They came closer and the witness could see that one was a woman the other a man. The man was very tall & powerfully built. He had black fluffy hair combed back, dark slanted eyes & arched eyebrows, his ears were larger than humans & slightly pointed, he had a prominent chin and darkish skin. He assured her telling her not to be afraid, to keep calm. His lips moved but she heard the words in her mind. The being went on to tell her that he was "Karran" that he had been here before. The woman also said something that the witness was unable to understand; the woman also had combed back black hair. She had a sculptural looking body & wore tight fitting clothes, revealing a well-delineated silhouette, she smiled and appeared gentle. The woman stepped back and drew something out of the wide belt she wore. The object began to click, and she put it to the witness right ear then said a few strange words. At the same time louder sounds came from the device. The man then took something from his belt and gave it to Joaquina, gesturing to her to raise it to her mouth. She did and it tasted sour. Her mouth quickly filled with saliva and she began to feel nauseated and spat several times. She felt herself dominated by the eyes of the male being who came closer to her and put something into her ear. At the same moment the witness brother was approaching their location. The two beings then withdrew the device from the witness ear and then turning away with their backs to the witness they vanished in plain sight. The witness brother was also able to see the two tall beings from a distance.

Some 62 children were playing in a field of the local private primary Ariel school when they saw three silvery balls in the sky over the school. These disappeared with a flash of light then reappeared at another location. This happened three times then they began descending towards the school. One of the objects then landed or hovered over a section of rough ground composed of trees, thorn bushes, and grass. Moments later a small man about 1 meter in height appeared on top of the object. He then walked a little way across the rough ground, became aware of the children, and disappeared. He then reappeared back at the object, which took off very rapidly and disappeared. The little man was dressed in a tight fitting black suit, which was "shiny". He had a long scrawny neck and huge eyes, with a pale face and long black hair coming below his shoulders. The smaller children were very frightened and cried for help. They believed that the little man was a demon who would eat them. Black African children have heard legends of "tokoloshis" demons that eat children. The children ran to the snack shop operator, but she did not want to leave the shop unattended and so did not go. Curiously, the older students said that they felt that the creatures communicated with them somehow, sending the message that we humans are destroying our planet, polluting the environment in ways that will have dire consequences. According to some sources, UFOs had been seen in the skies over Zimbabwe for two days before the incident occurred.

A young man suddenly woke up to a bright light shining in his face and several figures standing around his bed. He then found himself in a large round, cold, seamless metallic gray room with a reddish tint. He was sitting on a bench next to a blond woman and a man with tattoos that appeared incoherent. He saw tables and cows in the room and beings that seemed to be removing things from the cows. He saw two types of beings. Large ones who seemed to be in charge, these were described as lizard-like, very muscular, with almond shaped black eyes with yellow slits in them. They also had several smile-shaped parallel ridges on their faces. The smaller beings, who were the ones working with the cows wore some type of helmet. Moments later he found himself on one of the tables. The next moment he was back in bed sweating.

A night watchman at a relay station was roused late at night when his dog suddenly rushed outside, barking at "a huge, globe shaped, luminous machine" standing about 50 meters away. A number of creatures slightly resembling human beings and wearing skin-tight silver suits, disembarked from the object through an invisible door, and the dog "gallantly" attacked them. However, one of the humanoids "stretched out his hand

The guard had only time to call the Karatau police station by telephone and urge to come over, before the same humanoid appeared in the doorway, and the same blue ray knocked the guard to the floor. The police were stranded when their car engine cut out about a kilometer from the relay station. This also happened to the back-up car, and all efforts to start the engines failed. Both cars unexpectedly started up again an hour later. The police brought the guard out of his "strange quasi narcotic coma," and he recounted the incident to them. A perfect circle of carbonized rock was left at the place where the UFO had landed. The unfortunate dog never did wake up.

A family living in an isolated cottage sometimes saw a solitary light standing stationary over to the left of the house. Sometimes the light would slowly move off from their view into the night, other times it would simply disappear as if a light had been switched off. For inexplicable reasons, each member of the family became unnerved in the cottage, especially outside, at times they all felt uneasy in the garage. One evening the husband thought he saw dark shapes running along the drive, like animals, but when he focused on them, they disappeared; the dogs at this time were also quite unnerved. His wife, Hannah, also saw dark shadows on different occasions around the garage. Sometimes while the family was outside they had the feeling of being watched or not being alone. One morning Lee, the 15-year old stepson came running to his parents bedroom quite excited, saying that there was a strange animal in the opposite side of the field. As they jumped up to look, the animal had already disappeared. He described the animal as jet black and considerably larger than a dog. He mentioned as being cat-like, maybe even like a panther. Later the family reported seeing a larger helicopter maneuvering over the area using a huge searchlight that scoured the adjoining fields. Other phenomena were reported in the house, large loud cracking noises and bright blue flashes of light.

"Troublesome Things"

1995 signaled the beginning of a very bizarre year filled with high strangeness events that began in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico around March. The dawn of the so-called "Chupacabra" was at hand. Beginning with sightings of a small alien appearing creature in the Island and the start of bizarre animal mutilations and attacks. Pretty soon reports included several South American countries and the US mainland. Whatever the creature was sightings of a similar or related creature have continuously been reported up to 2004, with events now recently concentrated in Chile and Argentina. 1995 was a little noticed landmark year, it herald forth the incredible year of 1996 were the situation became even more bizarre and somewhat out of hand. In the US Chupacabra type creatures were reported widely in 1996 & 1997, with possibly some isolated reports in 2000-2001. In Brazil starting in 1996 with the Varginha episodes, strange creatures began appearing in the countryside, it was a completely new ball game, a completely new humanoid. There are some who think that it simply went away but they would be surprised to read the events of Chile in 2000 and 2001.

A local resident, Georgiy, went to an embankment on the Black Sea for a breath of sea air. With a goblet of beer with him he stepped down to the sand and watched the horizon. It was a calm and beautiful day. Suddenly someone sneaked up to him from behind and puts a rubber mask on his head, Georgiy struggles and grabs the mask under his chin and pulled it off, thinking it was some kind of stupid prank. But in the next second he found himself amid a huge hall, he could neither see the sea or beach or sky. There were huge screens on the walls, multitudes of various control panels with buttons and chairs in front of them. When he looked down, he saw that he was holding a rubber mask resembling that of blue reptilian "monster", skin like a lizard, covered with warts.

Suddenly a door opened in the wall and three "monsters" entered the room. These resembled very much the face on the mask he was holding. They were tall, about 2 meters in height, blue in color, all covered entirely by warts, they were nude and were "awful" in appearance. One of them approached Georgiy and put his hand on his shoulder (the alien had three huge curved clawed fingers on his hand) and said in a low hoarse voice. "Homo Sapiens" Georgiy could see huge yellow fangs in his opened mouth. After that, seized by a terrific panic Georgiy began to scream, he jerked back, threw the mask on the floor and ran away. He entered a corridor and passed numerous oval doors, different screens and instruments. Overwhelmed by fear he ran into another room and there he was confronted by another blue reptilian humanoid. The humanoid opened his huge arms on his sides and said, "Where are you running to"? After that he pressed something on the wall and Georgiy saw what he called an "abyss", endless space everywhere. He could see stars and beautiful scenes in space. He was trembling with fear when one of the blue reptilians approached him took his hand and said, "Do not be afraid". He then accompanied the witness to the next room. In that room he saw hundreds of reptilian humanoids standing in ranks. All were standing shoulder to shoulder and all were looking at the witness. Suddenly they moved aside and the witness saw a beautiful woman with light hair, sleeping on a small sofa, she was totally naked. He saw her for several seconds and after that the blue reptilians close ranks again and she disappeared from sight. The alien then accompanied Georgiy to a screen. There were stars on the screen. The reptilian pointed with his claw at one of the stars and said, "Earth". After that he embraced the witness with his powerful three-fingered hands and said, "Stay with us. We have no time and death." Terrified Georgiy could only say that he wanted to go back home, that his mother was waiting for him and begged them to let him go. The alien then said, "Well then is there anything you want to know?" Georgiy could only think of one thing at that point, "How long will my mother live"? The alien answered, "As much as your age now". After that the star on the screen began to approach very fast and began to resemble the globe of earth, he could see clouds. Suddenly Georgiy realized that he was standing near his house, but only in the opposite direction from where he had originally left. He had been gone for 5 hours. He noticed a peculiar detail; the coins in his pocket began to glow with a yellowish light when he took them out. This light disappeared in the morning.

Two of the witnesses were able to make out a shadowy humanoid shape in the middle of the object, moving inside. As they drove under an overpass they found that the light was still with them. Some of the frightened passengers tried to duck and hide. Just before reaching the intersection of I-20, the object took up into the sky at a steep angle, trailing a trail or streak. The next day two of the witnesses complained of hurting, teary eyes, and dark circles down to their cheeks. The main witness claims her eyes were both brown before the incident, but she now has one blue and one green.

The anonymous witness whilst walking home on a road through the sugar cane fields, abruptly stopped by the side of the road by an unfinished air strip and turned to his left and there stood a huge red colored winged creature with glowing blond curly hair and what seemed to be a halo effect surrounding his head. The sugarcane at the time had been left uncut for many years and stood about 16 ft tall. The "angel" was about 12 ft tall and the most beautiful creature that he had ever seen, the being appeared to have an additional set of ribs that were below his normal ribs unlike a human being, at waist level his legs were fur like and it stood upon hooves instead of feet. They stood about 60 ft apart and just looked at each other for about 5minutes. The being exuded a very bright light from its body and his head, which gave a halo effect. The witness thrust his hand towards the being as a gesture of contact and at this point heard a message of a religious nature and of future warning for humanity, all in his mind. After the message the "Red Angel" turned and his wings unfurled and trailed behind his body as he returned back into the sugar cane. The witness continued to walk towards home. About 150 yards further up the road the "Red Angel" appeared again standing amongst the cane. The witness turned and faced him again, this time standing about 30 ft away, the being's face, although white was glistening black as if in shadow. Soon the bizarre humanoid disappeared into the sugarcane field again.

The witness suddenly found herself in a place with a "lots of empty rooms", resembling a doctor's waiting area. She felt peaceful without emotions or thoughts. Some female entities came to her, they appeared not to have any sexual organs, they were hairless and their skin was "spongy looking" and of a creamy texture. She felt these female beings had "beautiful bodies". These beings walked her through a wall into a room; there were two other beings in that room. She lay on a table and felt paralyzed and heard a loud noise. Then she saw lights and felt pressure on her abdomen. She felt frightened and made the sign of the cross with her tongue and suddenly found herself back in her bedroom.

In a dream-like state at the house that he shared with his girlfriend the witness saw himself in a surgical operation being performed on a being that was sitting in a chair in a sparse room with one or two men in dark suits looking on. The operation consisted of three thick tubes or cables that had been inserted into the back of the head of the being in a horizontal line. The being's skull was exposed so you could clearly see "brain matter" where the cables were inserted. The strange thing about this dream was that although he was looking on, the being in the chair was himself. The next event occurred about 4months later when the witness and his girlfriend were lying in bed close to midnight when he felt an electrical type jolt in the back of his head on the left side, which was followed immediately by another in the middle and then the right side of the back of his head. By then he had opened his eyes and started to look towards the ceiling and wall in front of him, where he noticed there a ripping or shimmering in the air towards the wall in front of him. The more he focused, the clearer it seemed until I could make out one and then another silhouette of the same type of being from the original dream-like experience, either walking towards or away from him. Soon he was able to sit up and everything suddenly returned to normal. He described the beings as having upturned football shaped heads, about 4-5 ft tall with spindly arms and legs.

A middle-aged couple, William and Rose Shelhart was driving outside of Sedona when they spotted a bright light in the sky following them. It soon became apparent that the light was playing a game of cat and mouse with them as it chased them down the road and eventually landed in a field next to them. That was the last thing they consciously remembered. Their next memory was arriving at a hotel in Sedona, several hours too late. Realizing they had missing time, they later sought out a hypnotist and recalled an incredible onboard UFO experience. They recalled being taken on board the craft and examined by nearly human looking uniformed extraterrestrials. While William's recall was negligible, Rose was able to recall most of what happened, including an actual conversation that she had with the aliens. According to Rose, they were invited onboard and treated with kindness and respect. "They were just saying that they were here to help us. They told me that William was in another room receiving additional messages." Rose asked where they came from. The aliens gave a typically enigmatic and evasive answer, replying, "We are from a place you don't know about yet." When asked about their purpose for coming here, their response was decidedly positive. "They said they are helping certain people here because they will help humanity." Rose was unable to obtain any further useful information. She and her husband continue to have sightings and encounters, and William reports that he was healed of carpel tunnel syndrome as a result of his interaction with the aliens.

A UFO crashed into a forest outside the village of Mariyskoye, located about 8-10 km southeast of the city of Kaliningrad. The craft was almost intact and crashed into an isolated area of woods and bogs in the area close to a military reservation. It was seized and placed on the territory belonging to the 1rst Guards Separate Communication Regiment. The alien spacecraft was already opened when the military found it. When the army seized the disk it was already empty of its occupants. According to the first hand testimony of a soldier, V Verkhorubov, who accidentally caught a glance of the disk while in a surface hangar, the craft was dome-shaped and about 8-10 meters in diameter, with a vertical slit-like opening on one side. He was soon spotted standing near the disc by officers and was told to stay back since there was radiation present. Immediately after that all the soldiers in his unit were locked in their barracks. The object was dismantled into 6 segments and the segments were eventually moved by sea on a military transport cargo ship to the Russian port of Saint Petersburg and from there to the island of Novaya Zemlya and into a top-secret installation inside a mountain named "Lednik".

Each time he suddenly found himself able to move, but drenched in sweat and shivering with cold and fear. On two occasions he looked at the alarm clock and remembered the exact time. On the fourth occasion he forced himself to look up, the effort caused a painful strain of the neck muscles. At the foot of the bed, he could see a figure, which appeared to be that of a tall man, apparently wearing a cloak. He couldn't make out any features, but there seemed to be a soft green glow, silhouetting the figure from behind. During a rash of strange animal mutilations in a farm area, a group of farmers decided to arm themselves and mount night watch for the supposed predators. The first night several of the men where on guard duty in a makeshift wooden shack when all of the sudden there was a tremendous uproar among the animals in some nearby pens. Soon after that the men began hearing heavy footfalls and heavy breathing around the shack as if some type of creature was circling the building. At one point whoever it was attempted to push the door open and flung itself against the door. Gathering up enough courage some of the men looked out the window and saw a bizarre standing about 30 meters away holding itself up against a tree. It was described as about 1.80 meters in height and covered entirely in black hair. When the creature noticed that it was being watched it suddenly ran towards the shack on four legs, and violently flung itself against the door. The creature then fled into the woods emitting a very loud scream. Later on several men noticed what appeared to be several vultures circling a certain area of the woods. Upon investigating the reason why these birds were circling the area they were stunned to discover the carcass of a totally unknown hairless creature. Around the thorax area it had what appeared to be three holes from what appeared to have been a heavy caliber weapon. The body also appeared to have several blunt traumas. Upon turning the body over they discovered that the vegetation around it was browned as if exposed to very high heat. James (21), his brother Greg (19) and about a dozen other friends were partying out in the forest in an area called Brown's Camp. James and Greg were partying away from the group on the top of a hill that was overlooking a rock quarry. Just as they were standing they noticed lights of some kind of craft that was silently cruising over the trees down the valley. They went inside their pickup truck and watched the craft speed over them and stop at about 20 ft above them. Now nobody but James remembers this part. A red beam of light shot out from the bottom of the craft hitting first the other two and then James. He said that his brother and friend became motionless as he still trying to fight it. They were definitely taken somewhere other than where they were. When they first got back to camp nobody would believe them. As the night went on other groups of people would disappear only to mysteriously reappear later even denying that they were even gone. Although it was at least midnight they could hear motorcycles and four wheelers screaming through the forests in total darkness. A blue fog descended on the camp. Then a black triangular shaped craft descended near the camp but behind a wall that was made of a single row of trees and blue mist. It just stayed there as if observing them but no one thought anything about it. About this time a man came out of the darkness and told Greg and a couple of others that everything was all right and that they would be OK. Then he walked off into the darkness again. They thought that he might have been wearing a military type of uniform. Some others remembered seeing beings that looked like typical "grays" but instead of black eyes they had bright orange eyes. Some remember seeing a being that was taller and more "praying mantis type." It was definitely the one in charge. Some people remembered seeing little creatures resembling the fuzzy Ewoks in Star Wars. These creatures would disappear into tree stumps (hidden portal?). As the group left the camp they kept running into strangers on motorcycles and four-wheelers speeding around the forest in the dark with their lights off.

Svetlana Koltsov unexpectedly felt sick and filled with nausea and a feeling of vertigo. She was diagnosed as being pregnant, which was incredibly to her since she was a virgin. Her stomach grew increasingly bigger as the weeks went by and one Svetlana was at home watching television when suddenly her small room became engulfed in a bright light. The bright light, struck Svetlana directly on her eyes. She then found on a table and for some reason she could not move. Next to the table stood several man-like figures, human in appearance and wearing gray-blue clothing. She soon lost consciousness and found herself sitting before her television set again. On the eighth month of her pregnancy the same situation repeated itself, again she found herself lying on a table, while several men studied her. It felt as if the embryo was then extracted from her womb. She wanted to cry but for some strange reason could not. She saw her child being placed into a transparent container, filled with some clear liquid. One of the men then approached her and told her, "Everything is fine. You gave---we took." She is currently being treated by a psychologist and is fearful that the "aliens" will someday return for her.

After being shot at by another UFO a craft reportedly crashed into a forest 100km southeast of Riga. The craft was almost intact and crashed into an isolated area of woods and bogs in the area close to a military reservation and was recovered by a Russian military communications unit possibly working at the Skrunda radar station. According to a 1rst hand eyewitness, soldier, V Verkhorubov who accidentally caught a glance of the disk while it was in a surface hangar. The craft was a dome-shaped disk about 7-8 meters in diameter, with a vertical slit opening on one side. His commanding officer noticed him near the disk, watching closely many details of the disk. Suddenly his commanding officer yelled at him, "Radiation, get away"! After that all the soldiers of the unit were locked back again in the barracks. The disk was already opened when the military found it. Three dead humanoids were found onboard, all killed by the hard impact, including 2 bio-robots and another conscious alien. The three dead aliens were of the gray type, their skin was green-grayish, they were dwarf-like with big hairless heads, huge eyes, Asiatic looking faces, hands with four webbed fingers and hoofed feet. The bodies were extracted from the disk and moved expeditiously by a military airplane from a nearby Latvian military aerodrome to Moscow by a special recovery team. The bodies were transported in cryogenic containers. Inscriptions found inside the disk resembled Sanskrit. The disk was moved to a surface hangar in a military industrial complex in Korolyov, in the vicinity of Moscow just north of it. There it was dismantled into 6 segments. The segments of the disk were then eventually moved to the island of Novaya Zemlya, a top-secret military installation build inside a mountain code-named "Glacier". The autopsy of the alien bodies and their preservation was performed in an isolated top-secret underground bunker located under building on the territory of a military biomedical research center east of Solnechnogorsk.

He got out of bed to investigate, thinking that a burglary was taking place. He armed himself with an old military police truncheon before proceeding to walk carefully downstairs. He was more concerned about his little dog, which had run down the stairs ahead of him. When he got to the kitchen he turned the light on and was confronted by a figure about five feet tall, wearing what seemed to be an all in one silver suit. His dog was barking at the figure but would not approach it. At first the witness assumed that it was a teenage boy who had broken into the house wearing some kind of costume. As he moved towards the figure with the truncheon raised, it did not retreat it just suddenly vanished into thin air before the witness eyes. He was able to remember that there was no sign of eyes, nose, or mouth visible through the suit. He then noticed that the battery-operated clock on the kitchen wall had stopped at 150A.

The witness was asleep in bed when something startled her awake. She opened her eyes and about 5 ft in front of her stood a humanoid figure. The creature had a large head, with small black eyes. Eyes that stared at the witness with extreme "coldness". It had large ears and no obvious reproductive organs. The body seemed to consist of small veins, and larger ones, with nothing solid beneath them. It was brownish in color, possibly "cloaking" itself. There was also a small, white spinning object about 2 ft from the witness. It was producing lost of light, but somehow it was contained. The light flash, and then everything vanished.

Javier Tapia and his two daughters had gone into a wooded area in order to obtain some firewood. While collecting the wood, Mr. Tapia suddenly noticed a strange man staring at them from only a few meters away. Tapia was surprised since in spite of the dry conditions he had not heard the man approaching. The figure was very tall and thin and moved very quickly about without making any noise. He approached the witness and said he was "surveying" the area. And then he quickly disappeared down a wooded hill. The witness described the man as hairless and wearing "normal clothing." Around the same time, strange lights had been seen descending into the wooded area.

A lady driving in the area reported seeing "pink sky" she then saw a triangular-shaped UFO hovering over a field behind her house. The craft was gray, tile-like on the outside, with lights on the corner. Two of them were orange and the third was an orange-red color, and a beam of white light that followed the contours of the craft connected all three lights. Later, many more triangular craft were seen over the field behind her house. Large white box-shaped objects and "people" were observed to be working in the field.

Later under hypnosis he recalled being taken inside the object. There he saw two kinds of humanoids of both genders. One type was tall with a large head shaped like an upside down pear with huge eyes & no mouth. The others were similar but smaller. He then heard a voice in his head, telling him he was going to be all right. He thinks he was experimented with. He recalled the beings drilling a hole in his head at one point.

The witness, Dolores Torres, had gone out to his backyard to cut down some banana plants when suddenly everything around him became illuminated. The ground and the plants were then illuminated with multi-colored lights of blue, yellow, red, & white. Looking for the origin of the lights, the witness looked up and saw a transparent cylindrical object, about 14 inches long & 3 inches wide that was suspended in the air, apparently held up by a dark cable that originated from somewhere in the sky. The multi-colored flashes of light were coming from the cylinder. At the same time the witness could hear a loud buzzing sound. Moments later the witness saw a large dark "form" that was floating or flying down toward him. As it hovered over him, the witness could see that it was a humanoid figure apparently enclosed in a dark "wing-shaped" outfit. The being had a human-like face, gray in color with huge eyes that were apparently closed. It also wore what seemed to be a tight-fitting helmet or cap. As the figure attempted to approach the witness, this one began swinging at it with a machete. Finally the being, and the luminous cylinder glided away. The witness had a nervous breakdown and had to be hospitalized.

A local man was returning from an outlying village on foot, about a 15 km walk when he stopped to rest under a birch tree. He sat down smoking a cigarette and looking at the night sky. Suddenly a bright red star caught his attention. It was very large and at first he thought it was the planet Mars. Suddenly the "star" began to grow in size right in front of his eyes. Soon the supposed star turned into a large cylinder or barrel-shaped object, bright red hot in color. A bright beam of light from the object suddenly surrounded the witness. The strange beam enveloped his body penetrating every cell and next a feeling of unearthly love filled him. It was a feeling of complete bliss or ecstasy. He now felt weightless and felt as if he was floating, overwhelmed he almost burst into tears. Suddenly he found himself amid an incredibly white room with columns resembling marble. He looked around but could not see anyone. The room was oval-shaped, the columns were positioned in a circle and he was directly in the center. His attention was drawn to patterns drawn on the columns; these resembled unknown ornaments or plants. For some reason he thought they were lilies, and imagined how the ornament would look with lilies intertwined in it. To his amazement, lilies suddenly appeared intertwined in the pattern. He then heard a loud male voice, "Not too bad" from behind him. He turned around and noticed a male and a woman standing there.

They wore ancient style robes, the man in a white one and the woman in a violet-colored one. Both were tall and very beautiful in appearance. "They are Gods," the witness thought. The humanoids apparently read his mind, and both man and woman smiled and he heard, "We are the same Gods as you". The alien man pointed at the intricate pattern of lilies and said, "You can also become a God if that is what you really want". He then pointed to the floor and the columns disappeared; now a huge "hatch" appeared on the floor. The witness came closer and looked down into it. There he noticed crowds of people walking, men and women. The people appeared confused and walked aimlessly. They were holding children and walking without direction. (This was obviously an alien hologram made especially for the witness to watch). Suddenly the witness felt an urge to help the hapless crowd and yelled at them, "You are walking in the wrong direction, look up, you hear me, look up"! There was no reaction from the crowd. "We are also not heard," said the alien man. The witness looked up and the columns had returned, and he noticed two men with long beards wearing white clothing seating on benches along the oval wall. The witness then heard the man's voice say, "You can become one of them. Purify yourself" But the witness said that he had to return. After that was said both bearded men got up from their bench and walked to the center of the room. The next moment a huge book appeared out of nowhere on a pedestal in the middle of the room, the bearded men opened the book somewhere in the middle of the book and one of them began reading in a strange language. The witness listened attentively to the unknown words, but could not understand anything that was said, and later he could not remember anything that was said. After that the witness then found himself sitting under the birch tree again, and the red star above him blinking as if saying goodbye, it disappeared into the night sky.

Five young men had gone to the Mojave Desert to shoot their rifles and camp for the night. Three of their number had gone to bed while the remaining two stayed up talking and working by portable light on a dirt bike. Soon they heard a strange humming sound and their portable light went out. Looking up, in the light of the full moon, they spotted a large black circular object slowly moving over their camp. Spellbound they followed the craft hoping to make out more details. After about an hour, they lost sight of it over a hill. They headed back to camp but lost their way. After wandering about for nearly an hour, they came upon an old State Park dumpster in the middle of the area used for dirt bikes. Then from within the masonry wall surrounding the dumpsters, they heard loud crashing sounds like if someone was tossing garbage around. One of the men came around the opening in the all, intent on asking directions from whoever was there. He saw a tall blond man, clean shaven and wearing a preppy golf shirt and dress slacks, both stained with motor oil and food grease, wildly tossing garbage around as he searched for something in the dumpster. The camper asked the blond man if he knew how to get back to town, the man responded that he was not from around the area, that maybe the government knew. The campers asked the man what he was doing out in the middle of nowhere dressed as he was, but he ignored them, held up a bullet riddle radiator, and asked them what they thought of it. Concerned the two campers moved back from the stranger. They then looked around for a car but saw nothing. Just then a helicopter flew over the hillside and shot a blinding light down on the group. Though the two campers do not recall the man leaving the dumpster, they turned to talk to him and the preppy was gone. An instant later the helicopter veered off in the direction of a glowing green light that was steadily rising in the sky. Neither camper remembered anything after that. They woke up leaning against the masonry wall sometime after 0600A.

Daniel Klemsrud was walking with a girlfriend in a wooded area near town when they suddenly were turned around and lost. Although it had been in a clear and sunny day, it now suddenly seemed as though the sky was dark and cloudy, and consequently the wooded area in which they were walking became shadowy, murky, as if night were about to fall. A heavy mist also appeared that made it extremely difficult to stay on the trail. Suddenly from all around them they could hear the sounds of giggling, like small children laughing and playing. The laughter was almost musical. Klemsrud walked toward a clump of bushes that were shaking as if they were sheltering some little eavesdroppers. As he pulled back the branches, he caught a glimpse of two smallish, yet perfectly proportioned, men in greenish jumpsuits scurrying into a hole. They were only about three feet in height and he saw a shiny buckle on the boot of one of them as he dove into what appeared to be a tunnel. That was when he noticed that they were standing at the base of a rather large mound of earth that was completely barren of vegetation. Responding to an inner message, Daniel reached in his pocket and found some loose change. The moment he tossed the coins into the opening of the mound, the sky became clear, the dark mist lifted, and he could now easily see the path he had missed just minutes before.

The two main witnesses had attended a friend's birthday party. The moment they arrived they noticed a strange man sitting on the sofa. He was tall, largely built, approximately 250 lbs. He had short very black hair, pale skin; his eyes in some lights were dark brown, sometimes greenish. His face was also as heavily muscled as his body. His clothing was of a black, shimmering material. He appeared to be accompanied by an attractive, older woman of about 80 years of age. She had long white hair and was wearing new age jewelry. He arose from the couch only once during the course of the party to speak with someone briefly. Many people in the party felt a strong presence and magnetism coming from the stranger. One of the main witnesses felt that the man was studying her, that he was pretty much studying everyone there. A curious feature was noted about the strange man, that unless you faced him directly, you could not understand a word he was saying, even if you were even at a slight angle to him, all you could make out would be unintelligible nonsense. A door on the underside of the craft opened and a powerful shaft of light shone down onto the garden, at this point all the witnesses described a feeling of light headed & confusion. All sound around them stopped and everything seem to be going in slow motion. They suddenly recovered and watched the craft ascend and disappear into the distance. An old farmer's wife went out to see if there were any strawberries at a familiar spot in the forest. Walking towards it she heard three faint shot-like noises, but ignored them. When she came closer to the spot she noticed something blue in the forest. When she came closer she saw something resembling a giant blue "umbrella", which rose and then descended about half a meter. She heard two "sigh" like noises when the "umbrella" descended to some 20cm above the ground. Under the blue surface of the object some kind of ribbing could be seen, hence the image of an umbrella. To her astonishment she now saw that a man was standing stooped over about a meter from the blue object. He seemed to be picking something up and throwing it into his vessel, which made a "ping" like noise every time he threw something inside. She assumed the man was collecting pieces of ore, as there were many mines in the area. The man was clad in a dark green overall with possibly a broad belt. Once he stood up and then stooped back down again. After observing the man for some 5-15 minutes she felt a compulsive urge to leave, so that she would not disturb the man's work. She went home, (the men and the object were still there when she left) and on her way looked around for any cars in the forest but did not see any. When she got home her daughter in law noticed that something had happened to her, and after they discussed the event they decide to go to the site two hours later. When they came to the spot a faint impression could be seen on the ground. During the next several months the elderly witness often felt a compulsion to visit the site and could see the ground vegetation withering away, turning almost black at the end. UFO investigators visited the site the following spring and found five black spots still visible on the ground. The area on the ground was still lifeless as of 1996.

At 2215 several teenagers noticed a strange shinning trapezoid shaped object, which made a ring or ellipse while rotating above rooftops of neighbor houses on the north. Later at 0130A, the same phenomenon was seen by other witnesses and reported that it had shone bright beams of light towards the ground. At 0020A, Josef B suddenly felt the strange urge to go outside his house. He came out and in the front of his home he noticed a bright object on the ground and three small men like silhouettes that were moving slowly toward him. He stood in a stupor and could not move. Suddenly each figure raised a hand and "sparks" seemed to come from them. At the same time Josef heard a telepathic message, "Come with us" it said. The figures stopped and gazed at him. Terrified he declined the invitation, saying that he had to pay his debts tomorrow. He turned around and notified his mother. His mother woke up and saw the alien figures standing about 50 meters from the house. They then walked towards the UFO and vanished as they approached it. The UFO then rose about 10 meters flew towards the west, then towards the east and finally toward the north, where it disappeared. Before the UFO vanished, it covered itself with shiny sparks and the witness received another message. "We will return." The object was hemispherical in shape, about 6 meters in diameter and 2 meters in height. The figures were about 1.3 m tall and walked like normal humans.

The next night, Josef B had spent the evening at the "Wlodarza" motel where he had two beers; he then decided to walk back home. On Rozana Street he suddenly heard a woman's voice, "Mr. B, please stop, we want to talk to you." He turned around and noticed a thin, human like silhouette. Josef said, "If you want to talk, please come closer." "No we can't show ourselves," the figure said. Suddenly above the street where the "woman" stood he noticed a large ball of light, 1.5 bigger than the moon. Meanwhile the humanoid figure disappeared into the darkness. Frightened he ran home, but not before the ball of light illuminated him with a bright beam of light. The ball of light then disappeared.

The craft followed the witness vehicle for several blocks, sometimes descending and ascending and at times performing zigzag maneuvers. At one point the object remained stationary above some trees and the witness began driving away when he felt "heat waves" or gusts, hit the back of his legs. He looked behind and noticed that the object had now continued following him. He then noticed a kind of orange light that floated over his body in an up and down motion. At the same time he felt a powerful heat wave, even though it was in the middle of an intense cold wave. The craft then hovered above a nearby tree only five meters away and dimmed its lights. At that time the witness noticed that it was oval in shape with an opaque or acrylic cabin on top, inside he could see a crouching shadowy figure. As another vehicle approached, the object left. The witness then arrived home, later than usual. A man named Brzinski was working the late shift at a coat-hanger factory and at the time was alone in an isle when he heard some peculiar sounds coming from behind some hanger racks. The sound resembled a fast, choppy, garbled speech. As he looked between the rows of hangers he saw three distinct creatures. When they realized that he saw them they seemed surprised. They then apparently stopped talking. One was a few inches taller than the other two and they were all dressed identically. The shorter ones were about 4 1/2 feet tall. They wore something resembling a scuba or wet suit, tight fitting, flexible and elastic like suit that even appeared to cover their hands and fingers. They appeared to have some type of facial covering also. The creatures had 3 fingers on each hand. One resembled a thumb and the other two were longer and located closer together like fingers. Brzinski said that the taller one seemed to be explaining to the other two something to do with one of the automated coat hanger making machines. They seemed very interested in it for some reason. It was very dark and it was very difficult to make out any facial features, partially due to the covering. When they realized he saw them, the shorter ones ran away very quickly, in a peculiar shuffling manner almost with difficulty. The factory windows and doors were all open that night. The taller humanoid remained behind. It opened its hand and as it did, the uniform that also covered its hand caught a little bit of the factory light and seemed to have a silver color to it. When it opened its hand, it emitted a strange robotic sound. As it opened its hand, in the center of its palm was a small ball that seemed to be emitting an extremely bright laser-like light. The laser light beamed out and struck the witness in his eyes, almost knocking him back a bit with its force. It stung like needles and hurt its eyes, causing him to close them. When he opened them, the creature was gone. The entire incident lasted about 1 minute.

Madeline then saw he was staring at a creature, which was walking down the sidewalk towards him. The creature stopped right in front of her window, its progress blocked by the man's car, which was parked on the sidewalk. The creature was no more than 6 feet away. It was described as 3 to 4 feet tall, covered in a coarse dark brown-black hair, wearing no clothing. She did not notice genitalia. Its arms, which it kept pulled up close to its body, were long and thin, ending in three long claws. It had what appeared to be a long comb of feathers or spikes down its back. It also had several bare circular patches on its skin, which were purple in color and looked as if they were burn marks. Its jaw was prominent, it had a slit for a mouth and two holes for a nose, small ears, and large slanted eyes, which were gray in color, lacking the whites. The eyes were moist or gelatin like. When it moved its head, it seemed to be in slow jerky mechanical motions. The upper body was thin and its lower body was thick and strong. The startled neighbor jumped into his car and took off in a panic. Madeline then screamed for her mother. The creature then ran across the street, its feet moving so fast that it appeared they did not touch the ground. It then headed to a nearby small field of grass. Madeline's mother, Isabel Maldonado, and a mechanic from a nearby shop followed the creature to the field. They could see that the spikes on its back resembled those of a prehistoric lizard, and when it opened its mouth it hand four fangs. The mechanic lunged at the creature in an attempt to capture it (!). But the creature bolted and when it reached a 6-foot fence, it jumped over like a kangaroo and scurried away.

Someone then opened the closed verandah door. When Marina turned around to look she saw two male humanoid figures. One was about 2 to 2.5 meters in height reaching the ceiling; the second was about 1.5m in height. Both were dressed in turquoise or blue shiny coveralls. They had large eyes without pupils. The tall humanoid wore a small cap on his head; the smaller alien was absolutely hairless, wearing a tight-fitting skullcap. Extremely fearful, Marina was unable to utter a word. The strangers could obviously

The smaller alien stretched his hand toward her, his hand was very thin and delicate, fearful Marina retreated back and sat on the chair. Then the two humanoids walked out the closed verandah doors. After they left, Marina regained control of her senses, she felt an unusual energy within her body. She decided to follow the aliens. She went outside but could not see the aliens anywhere. But she remembered that they had mentioned that their ship was beyond the forest and she then follow the only narrow road into the forest. She hurried down the path and at about 500 meters into the pine forest she noticed flashes of light and when she passed by a small copse she came over a large gully and in the gully she saw the spaceship. She described it as a large disc-shaped object, resting on a tripod-leg landing gear. The craft had round windows that gave off a black and white light from a television set. The tall alien was standing close to the disk. As she watched, no one noticed her. She stared at the scene as if hypnotized or charmed. In about 5 minutes the lights on the craft dimmed and it became dark. Suddenly, Marina felt an immense fear, an uncommon fear apparently generated by the aliens themselves (for protection?). In a state of horror she rushed home. The next morning she visited the landing place and noticed an area of matted down grass but did not dare descend into the gully. After the incident Marina began drawing pictures of space or alien themes, however she was never able to duplicate the alien object that she witnessed.

She was then told, in a non-verbal manner, that his name was "Marcus", and he was there for her. She felt that she had a very close relationship with him. She described the entity as being tall, approximately human in appearance, but with a cat-like face. The entity held his hands out to her, palms up, and she instinctively knew to put her hands in his. She then rose up, and he pulled her in closer to him. At that point she felt that they were within a ball of light, and as if they were "dancing". She could not recall any sounds, and was not sure whether or not they were still within the room, but felt that there was not enough space within the room, to have "danced" in the manner which they presently were. The witness fell asleep on a chair when he was suddenly lifted into a globular object, flown over a city where he saw people looking up at him. Then he flew above what appeared to be an African savannah and muddy river, the craft then apparently goes up into orbit. He was then placed into a transparent tub or tank filled with breathable fluid by two short gray humanoids while a third one watched. He was surprisingly calm as the humanoids apparently took notes. After a few minutes he was allowed to walk to a window or screen. A metallic cylinder of great size begins to fill the view in the left of the window. There are white and blue lights running the entire length of it. Later before being returned he saw four species of beings in one place together. No other information.

He described the creature as about 5-feet tall, dark skin, a round head with pointy chin, with large red eyes, no ears and what appeared to be two long fangs coming out of its mouth. It had a thin neck, thin arms with three fingered hands that had sharp claws. It had two large strong legs and on the ridge of his back it had what appeared to be a sharp crest, that seemed to be phosphorescent and change colors from green to blue, to red, orange, green and violet. The creature seemed to be inspecting the neighborhood from the balcony, upon being discovered by the witness it looked into the window then left.

A 20-year-old woman was taking her sheep to a pasture in a valley, when she noticed something shiny standing nearby. She got closer to the object and it suddenly turned towards her. She could now see that it was a small smiling humanoid wearing a brown coverall within a sort of transparent "space suit." It stood about 50cm tall and appeared to have no arms or a nose. It had a silver half sphere with an antenna on top, on its shoulders. She stared at the figure for about 5 minutes then began walking back home. The small being apparently began following her. The witness panicked and she called out to a neighbor, who attempted to approach the small being. This one then began to trot quickly away, then it took off into the air emitting a noise like a motorcycle motor. Two others saw the flying humanoid over a field.

While walking in the area near the All Saints Cemetery in Middletown Rd a woman heard a "static" sound, which directed her attention to an object resting on the ground. She described the object as "helmet shaped" and said that her first thought was that someone had fallen from a bicycle or motorcycle, but soon realized that the object was much too large to be a bicycle or motorcycle helmet. She continued walking until she had approached within 30 or 40 ft of the object. She described it as red metallic about 2 ft wide and 2 ft high, with a large concentration of white lights constantly blinking. She said she watched the lights blink for an estimated ten minutes, before she became alarmed at hearing the words, "oops, we goofed", twice. She was certain she heard those words spoken inside her head. After becoming alarmed, she quickly moved off in the direction of a nearby monument, and, once there, became curious and returned to the sighting spot on the lawn. When she arrived the object was gone. Her trip to and back from the monument would have taken about 4 minutes. Another woman had seen about 15 years ago over the same Cemetery a large metallic bowl-shaped object flying directly overhead several hundred feet up.

The witness, Michael, suddenly woke up onboard a flying saucer. He was in the forward section of the ship and looking down through a large window. To the right was a panel of raised buttons, they were shaped like diamonds and squares and they were in primary colors. He kept looking around and saw three alien being standing toward the back, they had dome-shaped heads and slanted eyes. They were wearing white robes and they were of different heights. The witness received the distinct impression that the aliens did not want him to look at them. He then decided to look at the controls. "As I looked over to my right at the bank of controls, it was almost as though, hidden to my left behind the wall, there was a plastic covering in the shape of the control panel. It went around (covering the control panel) just slightly faster than my eyes, so, I was looking at a shiny white, curved panel. I imagine they covered the controls as a containment procedure. I thought boy, this is interesting, they're either handling my mind, or this is really a real phenomenon. So what am I going to do now." As he looked at the window and thought if the window was able to do anything, there was a flash and the window was suddenly covered in not only letters and numbers but also hieroglyphics in orange color. The witness had the impression that the machinery and the object reacted to his thoughts and somehow he was able to control some of the movements and maneuvers. At about three thousand feet up he was looking down at an angle at some mountains. He sees a ray of light going down, and it lights up this huge gold aura at the base of the ray. The witness suspects that he is being shown the location of a long lost wagonload of gold lost hundreds of years ago. "The ship was interacting with my mind. I asked the beings, 'so are there any more locations of lost gold? And suddenly another six to eight miles north he was being shown another one'. He remembered being over a particular hill and the object tilting over at an extreme angle and him looking down at this rather large amount of 'something' in the ground that emanated a golden aura. The witness then asked the beings about the major canyon treasures (gold) in this area. Very quickly he was suddenly looking down at a mountain full of gold, he noted where it came up close to the surface, where a crevice might be located for a person to find something. The aura around this gold was about a quarter mile out. The aura seemed relative to the amount of gold he was seeing. Suddenly he heard a kind of voice or thought that seemed to come from the back of the ship, which was kind of gravelly, kind of commanding. It said, "That's enough". His grandfather who had noticed the bright light in the boy's room now came inside to see what had happened. Upon entering the room he saw the bizarre creature. He tried to hit the creature with a bat, but the creature suddenly transformed itself into a ball of light and shot out the window. Looking out the window he then saw a landed metallic object on the patio resting on several legs. It had several lighted windows and lights. Suddenly the object shot up into the sky at very high speed.

The two witnesses were crossing a valley in an isolated area when both suddenly heard a loud humming sound and became dizzy and disoriented. They then probably lost consciousness. When they came too they found themselves inside a cool lighted "hall".

They were unable to move but were able to move their eyes. They were however only able to see a limited area of their surrounding environment. They could not recognize anything "human" everything seemed very strange. They appeared to be in some kind of metallic tunnel. The walls shone silvery white. On the walls there were numerous small metallic flaps which moved up & down constantly. They also could hear strange hissing noises. Then they lost consciousness again. Her next memory was of lying on a field about 200 meters away from their original position. They have no other memory of the event.

Rafael Tapia was returning home on his bicycle and as he neared a neighbor's house observed not more than 10 meters away a bizarre creature. At first, because of the

The strange figure turned around and stared at the witness, it then scrambled down a grassy embankment and disappeared from sight. Stunned the witness ran to where the creature had disappeared to, and flung a couple of rocks at its direction. And then he reboarded his bicycle and pedaled home. A huge disc shaped craft with opaque windows hovered right above the antenna of the local radio station Radio Poder according to witness Jose Arriaga and others in the area. Through some unexplained process it apparently caused some very old equipment (1957) inside the station to turn on by itself and began to operate. Apparently some of the equipment was not even plugged in (!). Meanwhile around the same time and near the Radio Poder site, two young boys, Edwin Valdes, & Gumersindo Alicea were playing ball in a field when the ball fell at the edge of some woods. They describe it as about 4 ft tall, with a spike like crest on its back and large red oval shaped eyes. Incredibly they felt no fear and reported that the creature remained still for a few moments and then turned around disappearing into the woods. Gumersindo reported that he felt paralyzed during the encounter, apparently caused by some time of "influence" emitted by the creature. At no time did they felt threatened by the creature. A smaller being (1.60m) stands closer to the witness and seems to be attempting to control his mind. This being is somewhat upset at the witness resistance. The witness turns his head and sees about 4-5 of the humanoids standing around his sister's bed, the creatures seemed to be doing something to her foot and the witness hears her groan. The witness then directs all his strength in order to break the paralysis and feels it ebbing. The creatures again direct their attention towards him. The room seems to darken and a circle of light becomes visible in the ceiling and inside the circle he sees symbols resembling hieroglyphics. A beam of light now becomes visible and is directed towards the sky. The witness so far has remained conscious during the "intrusion". The witness has further vague memories of meeting other more human aliens, described as tall, fair and blond and shorter brown haired child like humanoids.

The witness awoke to a white haze in his bedroom, it suddenly dissolved, and several dozen small "angel-like" creatures appeared. These were described as about 3 foot tall, with white wing-like protrusions and with little lights. Their faces seemed to be a gray-human combination with the pupils of the eyes larger than a normal human and the faces larger in proportion to the body. The experiences made the witness feel elated.

44-year old mechanic, Osvaldo Rosado was up late washing a car. As he walked toward the patio of his home to shut off the water where the hose was connected, he was suddenly grabbed from behind. When he tried to fight off the intruder, he was shocked to see a black haired "gorilla" type figure about 7 feet tall, with large luminous red eyes. The creature ran off and Rosado drove himself to a nearby hospital to treat some cuts on his abdomen. In the same area mutilated bloodless chickens had been found.

Rex Silverwood was out one cold winter night when he was drawn to the presence of a strange grouping of lights flying slowly, high over the property. The lights seemed to outline no discernible shape; simply 5 irregularly grouped white lights. His wife observed the lights also but went back inside the house. Two of the lights will fly repeatedly over the area back & forth making an odd vibration humming sound, which was difficult to hear. Soon the witness attempted to obtain psychic impressions of the pilot. After about a minute, he received the distinct impression of a non-human intelligence and he tried to convey a friendly mental hello. He was rewarded with a definite feeling of a mutual connection with an alien mind, which acknowledged his mental and physical presence and conveyed a feeling of friendship and a wonderful sense of peace. He lost sight of the craft and watched the second one flying back and forth as he walked further into the darkened field. Suddenly three luminous figures appeared clearly right in front o him in a V-shaped formation. Startled he stopped in his tracks and noticed that he could see right through them, yet they had definite outlines. A fourth figure seemed somewhat hazy but was also visible to the left. They appeared as short humanoid beings with two arms and two legs each, with one large bulbous head graced with two extremely large lidless black eyes and pale gray skin. Small mouths and nose less nostrils were apparently on their pale gray faces. There was no apparent visible clothing. The witness and the beings stood there regarding each other when the being closest to him lifted its arm and pointed into the darkness toward a part of the clearing. He want walking in the direction where the being had indicated, hoping to make contact with them. As he continued to walk he heard the mental command of "Stop there." He stood there for about 20 seconds then looked around realizing the images (figures) had vanished. He then heard a sound like a high-pitched electronic vibration like he had heard earlier, but louder now, came into his ear. The sound kept getting louder and seemed to come from all around him. The sound abruptly ended and the witness saw what appeared to be the possible source. A huge dark circle silhouetted against the clear sky. On the object's outer rim he could see a dim circle of red lights. Despite the cold he felt warm and experienced a feeling of well-being. Later back in the house he realized that he could not account for a period of three hours.

1996 HUMANOID REPORTS

Compiled by Albert Rosales
dolphins305@comcast.net

Worldwide encounters. Chupacabra mania enveloped parts of South America and the Caribbean. A bizarre cryptic creature, unfortunately named "The Chupacabra" seemed to have been active in different locations in South and Central America. The connection between UFOs and this strange humanoid was obvious in many encounters. Bizarre animals mutilations were attributed to this humanoid. Another strange creature created havoc and spread panic in India during the summer. Landings of strange objects, encounters with other types of humanoids and bizarre abductions stories were reported from many different locations worldwide. Even a Mothman type creature was reported in the state of Washington. During the fall, the occupied Arab territories in Israel became the scene of bizarre and numerous encounters, without precedence. High Strangeness spread throughout the Holy Land like wildfire. 1996 became a landmark year; it was the biggest humanoid wave since the memorable year of 1989.

The witness, a psychology student was sleeping along with two other students in a local flat when suddenly he realized he had woken up. He rested, relaxed in bed listening to the heavy breathing of a roommate in the same room. Suddenly from the bedroom door that had been left open, an apparently human-like figure entered. The figure was dressed in white and was not too tall; the witness immediately felt it was a woman. The figure came close to the side of the bed and took the witness left hand and began to pull with certain strength. It seemed that the entity wanted to pull him off the bed. Overcome with terror he began to resist the pull and began to scream wildly. Suddenly he found himself in the same position and the strange white suited entity had disappeared.

Two others joined him. The first one waved a membrane hand at the diver, and then all of them approached him and stopped a short distance away. Then they turned around and swam away.

Driving late at night on Route BR-101 near a local bridge, Maria Marlene Carvalho, 27, saw a light in the distance and felt the car suddenly being pulled towards it. The vehicle began to shake, and she lost total control of it as the car slowed to a crawl. Marlene suddenly found herself in a wooded hill surrounded by trees. A tall dark skinned humanoid figure suddenly appeared in front of her. In a deep grave voice the creature introduced itself as "Dakon." The tall humanoid had large green glowing eyes. She seemed to black out and her next recollection was of walking into a police station near the capital. Police later searched the area but were unable to find anything.

Date: 1996

John was driving back from Lismore when his car suddenly stopped. He checked under the bonnet but could not find anything obvious so decided to start walking to get help. John stated that he had a funny feeling like something was touching his spine. He looked up to see 2 bright white lights about 500m above and heard what he described as like the sound of an arc welder. He noticed that there were trucks driving by on the road. John then hit the ground and rolled down the embankment. He then noticed a "gray" alien, which said to him, "you can't get away" and grabbed him by the arm and proceeded towards one of the "motherships". John stated that the craft was shaped like Egyptian "Eye of Osiris" metallic and gunmetal gray with no apparent openings. He said that both walked straight through the wall. The alien (who John learned his name was Theoraba) took him inside and he observed other aliens working on computers etc. And also noticed what he now calls "baby aliens" in flasks of red, green-orange solution. John asked him "what are those"? And the alien replied that they were "baby aliens". The alien then asked him, "Would you like to have something to do with these in the future"? Two aliens then grabbed his arms and legs as he was approached by a female alien who he thought was a half human "hybrid", with the body of a woman, long arms, 5 fingers and very dark black eyes. He was told that the aliens wanted him to father children for them, and at this point John began to panic. The female alien then took on a more human appearance and that he then became sexually aroused and made love to the female alien. A metal object was later introduced into his anal cavity (the famous anal probe) and a patch of skin from his left palm was taken for "DNA" samples. When he asked about the skin sample he was told that their planet had "blown up" and that in order to continue their species and ensure that genetic inbreeding didn't occur that hybrids were the only alternative. That same year on another occasion John was walking along the road at Kingscliffe and saw two "motherships" again, and shouted at them to leave him alone. Apparently he met the now familiar gray alien who told him that they had inserted an implant in his finger. Still on another occasion whilst out in the bush John encountered a female alien hybrid, which he assumes was one of his offspring. He communicated with her telepathically. He states that she was quite young and because of this was wearing what he assumed to be breathing apparatus, which went from around her head into her mouth and nostrils. He was told that she was unable to breathe in our atmosphere yet. John claims he has 5 male and 1 female hybrid offspring.

During a nighttime patrol by a security guard, he heard what sounded like horses hooves, apparently galloping. Needless to say there should not have been any horses in the fenced off area. The guard was using his flashlight, and rounded a corner of a building when the flashlight beam illuminated an unusual sight---a full sized Centaur, right out of Greek mythology. The only "incorrect" feature was that the Centaur had human hands and feet on the end of its horse's limbs. (How did he make a galloping sound of horse's hooves?) The guard, somewhat spooked, ran away from the scene.

She could not tell the sex of the individual, as she could not make out any particular features. However, the figure was very tall. Her ceilings were perhaps 9-foot ceilings and this figure stood at about 7 ft tall. The figure was glowing with a light so bright that it made the room glow with a strange white color light. Gonzalo Fernandez Gamboa and several friends were camping out in the desert and were having a cookout around a large fire. Suddenly as they sat around talking a tall stranger appeared out of nowhere, the man was about 1.90m in height, with very wide shoulders impeccably dressed, in a white shirt, no hat. He approached the group and speaking in perfect Spanish asked the group for some fire. One of the men grabbed a small stick about 40cm in length lit it up and gave it to the stranger. The stranger thank the group and then added, "be careful with fire it could be dangerous". The group was extremely surprised since the stranger was completely clean without an ounce of dust on him, while the group was totally covered head to toe by the desert sand. The stranger disappeared into the darkness. Several of those present attempted to locate him but could not find any footprints or traces.

As the object descended they could see that it was a domed disc shaped craft encased in a reddish foggy glow. It was emitting bright flashes of light and a high frequency humming sound. The craft also had a dome on its bottom and in the center area multi-colored lights rotated. Suddenly the craft divided itself in two and one section flew off towards the nearby Island of Culebra, while the other larger section remained and tilted to one side and flew off towards the west. Before it left, it hovered 300 feet away from the house of two adult witnesses, Carmelo Felix and his wife Maria, that were able to see the upper transparent cupola and inside of it they could see multi-colored flashes of light, plus what appeared to be the constant movement of a shadowy figure.

Traveling north on the heavily traveled Fernao Dias highway 35-year old Carlos da Souza suddenly heard a muffled roaring sound, and he wondered if something was wrong with the truck. He stopped to check, but when he stepped down from the cab he realized the noise was coming from a cigar-shaped craft about 400 ft in the air just west of the highway. It was silver colored, reflecting the sun, and appeared to be 30 to 40 ft long and 12 to 15 ft wide. It had at least four windows along the side and what looked like a big jagged hole four or five feet in diameter in the front. There was a long dent or crack running from the hole back to the middle of the craft, from which point white smoke or vapor was coming out. The craft was traveling north, almost parallel to the highway, at about 40 to 50 miles an hour. Astonished, Da Souza jumped in his pickup and followed the UFO for about 10 miles. It soon crossed over to the east side of the highway and eventually passed over some small mountains. Then it went into a 30-degree dive and disappeared from sight. Da Souza was afraid it had crashed and desperately searched for a way to get to the area. After 20 minutes or so, he found a dirt side road and turned onto it. A few minutes later he drove over the crest of a hill and there before him was wreckage spread all over a hilly field of knee-high grass. He also saw about 40 soldiers and two male nurses, two trucks, a helicopter, an ambulance and three cars---all Army vehicles. Everyone was busily running around picking up pieces of debris. One truck already held a chunk half the size of a mini-van. A strong smell of ammonia and ether hung in the air. It was a terrible crash and Da Souza doubted that anyone had lived through it. He was surprised to see anyone there, let alone the military. He didn't know at the time that the site was only seven miles from the ESA Army base in Tres Coracoes. He parked and walked toward the wreckage, thinking he could help. He picked up a piece of aluminum-like material that was very light. It floated to the ground when he dropped it. Then one of the men spotted him, shouted, and in an instant, armed soldiers rushed toward him, ordering him to leave immediately. He protested, thinking someone had been badly hurt or killed, but a corporal screamed at him to get out. Da Souza was so astounded by what he'd seen that he abandoned his trip and headed back toward Sao Paulo. About 10 minutes later he stopped at a roadside restaurant to have coffee and think about what had happened. He was sitting there two hours later when a car drove up with two men in civilian clothes, but military haircuts and bearing. One got out and walked up to him, asked if his name was Carlos da Souza, then asked what he'd seen. He was then warned not to say anything to anybody and threatened, the men then left. (This occurred one week before the incidents in Varginha).

The witness was lying in bed with his head opposite to the window when he began to see lights reflecting/flashing on the wall. They resembled ambulance and fire truck lights. He looked out the window and could not see anything out of the ordinary. He climbed back into bed and later began hearing odd little noises resembling muffled voices or whispers, which were unintelligible; he also heard noises coming from the backdoor. Soon an uneasy feeling came over him as if there was someone else in the room. He looked up and saw a figure that stood not much taller than his waterbed. At the very most the figure was about 3ft tall. It was staring directly at him. Because of the darkness he could no see any other details. Panicking, he suddenly was unable to move. Hildo Lucio Galindo opened his bathroom window to see a creature with oily dark brown skin crouched in a nearby alleyway. It had very small hands with three extremely long fingers, ran away when Hildo cried out. The creature had no hair or clothing and was about 4-5 feet tall. Later several calls came into the local fire department about some "wild animal" on the loose in the northern area of the park. When the fire department arrived they found the military already on scene. According to other witnesses some children had thrown stones at a strange creature that emitted a soft buzzing sound like a bee. This creature was apparently captured by the military and put in a wooden box with a white plastic canvas cover and transported away by an army truck. Around the same time local residents heard three shots and saw soldiers come out of the woods carrying two campaign sacks. One motionless, the other moving. Sources revealed that the soldiers had shot a creature on the chest and it had died instantly. Others saw army trucks near the woods and others saw two F-5 aircraft moving at a low altitude over the area. It was reported that a total of 8 creatures were captured at the time. 1 dead, 2 injured, and 5 unhurt and living. Earlier that same day, around 0130A two farm workers in the same general area had spotted a group of agitated animals running away from a location, upon closer investigation they saw a gray metallic submarine shaped craft that appeared to be trembling like a curtain and emitting smoke or fog as it descended to at least 5 meters above the ground. Military witnesses later admitted that it had crashed.

Three girls were walking past a plot of land when they spotted a bizarre looking creature, described as man like but only about 80 cm tall. It had brown skin, bulging red eyes, bulging veins, enormous feet, and three protruding lumps on its head. The being was apparently unclothed and its body seemed covered with oil. The girls panicked and ran away from the area to obtained additional witnesses. Soon units of the local fire department arrived and apparently took the creature into custody. Apparently a similar creature had been captured earlier. The creature emitted a strange buzzing like sound. Others saw strange cigar shaped objects flying low over a field. Later the military apparently took the creature to the nearby city of Campinas.

At a remote mountain village several Quechua Indian shepherds tending their flocks watched six objects flying over the area. According to a witness, Silvia Bedoya, 40, the objects apparently emerged from nearby Lake Cocucha. The objects formed what seemed a protective circle around a larger mother-ship type object. The flight of the objects illuminated the whole valley in an eerie deep purple type of light. The "mother ship" landed upriver from the village. Soon two occupants emerged from the object. These were described as 3 feet, 3 inches tall, with large oversized heads, long spindly arms and short bandy legs. They wore gunmetal gray helmets and matching one-piece coveralls. The humanoids took out transparent containers and, ignoring the shepherds, collected many samples, like soil, grass, mountain weeds, & water from the nearby river. Soon the humanoids entered the large object and all the objects shot away into space @ high speed.

The same night that witnesses saw a large triangular vessel hovering over the town of Buckingham, Quebec, farmer Louis Boisvert, 19, saw a very large metallic triangular craft with a set of red lights hovering over a barn, while plowing snow on his tractor. The craft seemed to very slowly fly over the barn. The light coming form the triangle did not illuminate the ground or even the roof of the barn. The craft then suddenly left. After the craft left Boisvert and his father, noticed that their electric water pump would not function. Troubled by recurring dreams, Boisvert underwent hypnotic regressing. He was then able to remember that he had hopped of the tractor and ran to the barn where his father was working. As he rushed into the barn, he saw his father standing there with a blank expression on his face. Besides him stood two reptilian looking creatures, with long faces, scaled leathery skin, black eyes, clawed hands, and gaunt arms and legs. Both Boisvert and his father were taken onboard the triangular object by the humanoids.

Paul Green suddenly woke up and immediately felt a distinct presence in the bedroom. He had heard it come into the bedroom but had thought it was his daughter. He then opened his eyes and looked to the side of the bed and saw an entity standing in front of the wardrobe, nearly facing him and his sleeping wife. Its entire body was giving off a soft dull bluish glow. The entity had human characteristics. It had a small head with a distinctly pointed chin, a bald domed head, and a very thin neck. It had a barrel shaped body, and very thin flexible arms, which was waving around very slowly in a fashion similar to Tai Chi movements. The glow that was giving off obscured its facial features. It seemed to exude an aura of peace. The entity, who seemed to be looking towards the witness daughter's room, suddenly reacted, turning its head slightly towards the witness and then smoothly stretching out a hand in his direction, fingers widespread. Then a pale ball of light, leaped from the palm of the humanoid's hand straight towards the witness, in a slow motion manner, hitting the witness square between the eyes. Irasema Margarita Cuevas, and other witnesses in the household heard their dogs barking outside and went out to investigate. Outside they saw a red-orange dome shaped craft floating a few feet from the ground, near some nearby trees about 50 meters away. Soon from the craft a small humanoid emerged, about 1 meter in height. It began floating up and down in peculiar movements. From a belt around its waist a bluish beam of light emerged. The being appeared robotic in nature, somewhat resembling "Alpha" from the famed children's shows "The Power Rangers." After a few minutes the being re-entered the object, which rose up to join a similar craft. They both then flew towards the nearby swamps. Several witnesses then followed the objects and were able to see a brilliant light emerge from behind some trees and a huge column of gray smoke. Upon seeing this, the head of the household, Guillermo Serna Marquez, told his family to return to the house and went into the woods to investigate alone, on the way there he ran into a farmhand, which accompanied him into the woods. As they watched they saw a luminous craft fly over the trees in the direction of the swamp, then a 2 meter tall humanoid appeared, seemingly floating above the trees and accompanied by the small robotic "Alpha" like entity. They watched the beings float around and then enter the dome shaped object. After awhile the witnesses grew tired of watching this spectacle and went back home. The next day a large section of the ground was found scorched in the form of three enormous circles. Strange foam like substance was also found at the site, purplish white in color. Numerous other strange incidents were reported in subsequent days. On March 2 1996 at 0630A police found a 17-year old boy wandering confused at the edge of Ilopango Lake. Later under interrogation he related a bizarre story. During the night in question he had been walking towards his home during a local "black-out." Suddenly there was a bright flash of blue light from behind him. Thinking that it was the police he turned slowly around. Suddenly his next memory was of being in a completely white "space" or room. He could not distinguish any walls or furniture of any kind. He then realized that he was lying prone and unable to move in some sort of "bed." He noticed numerous "cables" that appeared to be connected to his chest area, and on his right arm he had an object resembling a blood IV machine. He then saw several humanoids, about 1.2 meters in height. They had extremely large heads, huge eyes and in the forehead area he could see what appeared to be another "protuberance" resembling another eye. They also had sparse beards around the mouth and chin area. In a horrible state of confusion he noticed other humans in the room but could not tell if they were also prisoners or not. He remember seeing a terrible scene in which he saw several of the humanoids apparently operating on a woman, seemingly cutting her in half. Then they took the upper half of the human female and somehow inserted it on top and back of a "hump-like" area of one female humanoid that had apparently was being prepared on another bed. The humanoids wore white tunics on which they had a strange "symbol" on the right side of their chests. He was then taken to the shores of Lake Ilopango where they told the witness that their race "was in a state of war and could not reproduce in their original normal manner." He then had the sensation of falling towards the lake. This part was very confusing and could not be remembered in detail. The beings also told the witness that on the bottom of the lake they had their reproductive "eggs." Several strange scars were found on the witness body.

38-year-old Jose Manuel Castro Gonzalo was getting ready to retire for the night and glanced out the window to take one last look at the fields. Immediately he noticed a small orange sphere, encased in a multi-colored glow, hovering over a nearby hill. He decided to go outside and look at the strange spectacle; at the same time he summoned his brother Cesareo. Jose Manuel then took out a small flashlight and began signaling at the object; at the same time yelling "Come down, Come down! Suddenly the sphere descended at very high speed to treetop level. Jose Manuel then ran upstairs to an outside terrace where he could see the sphere better. Inside the apparently transparent sphere he was able to see five very tall men who appeared to be floating around as the sphere slowly rotated emitting a low humming sound. Moments later a shaft of "coherent" light appeared under the sphere, it reached the ground right below the sphere. Soon after, three small humanoids descended to the ground via the shaft of light, these seemed to move in slow motion. Once on the ground the three beings formed a line, grabbing each other's shoulders, not unlike a "Conga" line. Then using quick jumping motions they began moving towards the witness location. Frightened the witness jumped in his bed and hid under the covers until dawn. The next day strange footprints were found at the site where the small humanoids had jumped around.

Several students at the local Sahun primary school reported seeing a huge object descend very close to the ground on school grounds. Others, including faculty members also reported seeing the object, which was apparently seen on two or three consecutive days. Another teacher named "Gonzalo" reported seeing a huge metallic object on the ground. Around the same time a young girl named Zaira who lived very close to the school reported seeing a round luminous object hovering over the area and a short gray colored figure walking around her house. The creature was less than one meter in height, white-gray in color with two large protuberances on each side of its large oval-shaped head in the area where the ears would have been. Her father, David Luna and her brother Juan Luna also reported seeing the object, which they described as very large metallic, oval-shaped with several luminous beams of light pointed towards the ground. On top the object had a small dome surmounted with what appeared to have been an antenna. Soon the object emitted a loud humming sound and accelerated away from the area at great speed. The humanoid was not seen again.

A 58-year old retired police officer and his wife arrived home together. On entering their house he detected a strong smell of sulfur. On investigation he found nothing visibly out of the usual. His wife went to the main bedroom and put on the lights in the hallway and in the bedroom. She then walked back along the hallway to the living room end of the house. He then walked along the hallway towards the bedroom and as he neared the end of the hallway where Jenny (his wife) had just passed, he walked into an area of extreme cold, which, as he touched it, discharged a strong electrical current, which caused him to reel backwards. He retreated back to the entry to the hall and he was filled with a feeling of revulsion and fear. He quickly recovered and Jenny then walked along the hall and suffered a similar experience. He tried again to walk along the hall and again suffered a similar electrical discharge. The witness and his wife discussed the situation for a while and tried several times to move past it along the hall, each time with the same result. During this period the object remained stationary at the southern end of the hallway. Their toy poodle was very much aware that something was wrong and he noticed that when he looked along the hall the guanine at the back of his eyes reflected a bright orange color instead of the usual bright green. The presence of the object could be determined by the feeling of an electrical discharge similar to static electricity though very strong and goose bumps appeared on the skin. Within the object it was extremely cold and quite painful. Upon direct contact one was drained of all energy for a short period and normal breathing was difficult. Later at 2030 their son Adrian and his then partner, Petra, arrived and he was invited to walk along the hallway. As he entered the hall he encountered the same discharge effect. The entity had moved eight meters and was in the northern end of the hall by this time. Petra, who was eight and a half months pregnant, encountered the object and was seemingly brushed or slapped aside but not hurt by it. Over the ensuing period all four of them had several direct contacts with the entity as it moved with apparent purpose throughout the house. Petra's contacts were much less vigorous than those of the other three witnesses. At 2130 Adrian was ejected from a chair by the entity. Jenny had a severe accidental direct contact with the entity and was caught for a moment within it. She was visibly affected, breathing labored, elevated pulse rate, weakness and disorientation. External check of the premises revealed a column of warm air at the southern end of the house but nothing else unusual. During this period there was no discernible traffic or other sounds within or around the house. Adrian had another hard encounter with the entity. Adrian and Petra returned to their home. At 2330 a ball of light energy crossed within the screen of a television set. An independent witness testified to seeing a huge orange light suspended above the house at the same time, 0020A. A neighbor reported that her house shook and trembled for a period. The telemetry from the water storage reservoir across the road crashed and then, impossibly, restored itself. Loud clicks in a cadence of three and groups of three were heard several times throughout the house. Later some of the witnesses developed symptoms similar to a form of radiation sickness with severe headaches and flu like symptoms, sore eyes and joints, etc. Three developed chronic and permanent tinnitus. The main witness developed a brown-pigmented stain on both legs and a circular mark on the top of his left foot. Several rocks in the garden were discovered to have been affected by some form of energy, one having exploded into a fine powder. A candle had been selectively melted and the stearic acid component separated and crystallized. Moss on the concrete path showed burns marks. Two small sections of the path appeared to have been melted or glazed. Presently two of the witnesses have developed substantial psychic abilities.

During a period of bizarre animal killings in the area, a witness, Silva Avila, saw a creature in profile at a distance of some 33 feet, it stood motionless. Avila threw some stones at it but he missed, the creature then turned toward him and moved away with hurried jumps, vaulting over a 6-foot wall. It was about 30 inches tall, with a small head, with short pointed ears, and its eyes a brilliant red color. Avila also added that it was covered in black fur and had legs that folded at the knees, and that it had two small arms, like those of a kangaroo that produced from its torso.

Marcelo Barbosa and his wife Vaudeline were fixing some windows in their house when they perceived some bright white, yellow and blue lights coming from a wooded area about 50 meters away. Marcelo decided to investigate closer and saw a large white cloud that began descending slowly over the woods. Suddenly from out of the cloud a luminous disc shaped object emerged. The object was about 8 meters in length, and it had a revolving light on top resembling that of a police car. The object had two or three brightly lit windows and inside one of these Barbosa was able to see several figures or forms moving around. The object descended and landed briefly, becoming dark, then bright again. Before it landed the witnesses saw an L shaped ramp that apparently had come out from the bottom of the object. As the object became bright again, it quickly took off at high speed.

It was reported that numerous witnesses spotted an unusual aircraft swoop down and land on the runway without tower permission and taxied over to the privately owned airplane parking area. The craft was described as a triangle-shaped object. The tower called the pilot but received no response. Three small occupants emerged from the object and began walking among the parked airplanes. Airport security then chased the beings across the runway right in front of a landing Delta airliner. Delta passengers described the beings as child-like in appearance, wearing metallic suits and white helmets. The three humanoids ducked into the terminal through the baggage area still being chased by airport security. Police were called in but when they apparently cornered the trio near a yogurt stand, they ran into what seemed to be an invisible barrier and could not get close to them. The humanoids then ran out through the baggage area. At the same time that Army personnel were arriving on humvees, the delta-winged UFO began to move. Witnesses saw the three occupants in the cockpit window. The object then rose straight up and took off at high speed.

Eva Leonidovna and her husband Leonid Pavlovich both residents of this small village were sitting inside their house reading when suddenly Eva felt someone's fixed stare on her; she put down the newspaper and glanced out the window. Outside she saw a humanoid entity moving on their neighbor's yard in the direction of the wicket fence towards the porch. The alien was more than 3 meters in height, which could be easily calculated judging by the height of the house. The width of the alien's body was estimated as 2 times thicker than a telephone pole. Its hands and legs strangely did not move as it seemed to float just above the ground. The most amazing part of the alien was its head, which was completely round, the shape of an ideal sphere. The face was not visible because the whole head was dark in color and sparkled at times with blue, yellow and white flashes. The strange entity then disappeared behind some rowan berry bushes. Evan then rushed to the window, but she could not see anything. The entity had apparently dissolved into thin air. The whole observation lasted for 2 minutes; the woman attempted to notify her husband, but could not speak a word, apparently somehow influenced by the alien's presence.

On Sunday a local man named Pyetr Tsegelnyi decided to take a walk on Hydropark Island on the River Dnepr. As he walked towards one of the lakes on the island not far from the path, he seemed to be alone in the brushwood. Suddenly he seemed to trip and stumble over a hole on the ground. Suddenly the surrounding landscape had vanished; Pyetr felt a sense of well being as his thoughts seemed to be clear. He found himself standing on a long white narrow road, made out of what appeared to be polished tiles. To his right was a beautiful dome shaped structure with large rhomb-shaped windows. On his left everything appeared to be shrouded in a cloudy mist or fog and he could see nothing through it. Suddenly a medium sized human-like figure wearing a white shirt and trousers appeared from within the mist. Pyetr was apparently unnoticed. Soon two more similar figures appeared out of the mist. The pair walked directly towards Pyetr apparently not noticing or seeing him. As the figures were almost upon him Pyetr attempted to move to one side but did not succeed as the two figures, a man and a woman, walked right through him (!), and apparently without any visible effects both figures continued on their way towards the strange dome-shaped building. Confused, Pyetr took several more steps along the strange road and was suddenly enveloped by a dense fog, using pure instinct he attempted to swat the fog away but suddenly found himself among the bushes in Hydropark Island, not far from the lake. Later Pyetr along with his brother returned to the site and searched the area but failed to find anything suspicious or out of place. Several local UFO researchers in Kiev suspect that this area is some kind of doorway or portal into another dimensional continuum.

18-year-old Norberto Perez was at his aunt's house for a family reunion when he began experiencing a strong headache and stomach discomfort. He then became very sleepy and decided to go to bed. At the moment that he closed his eyes he found himself in a strange metallic room on a cot-like bed, unable to move. Standing around him were four 4-foot tall humanoids, very thin and wearing tight fitting gold-colored outfits and gold sandals. They had long six fingered hands. He was surrounded by a bright light and wore a white long tunic up to his ankles, with silvery sandals. The witness noticed that the man wore a gold colored ring with the image of a pyramid imprinted on it. The tall blond male then approached him and one of the short humanoids handed him a transparent sphere that contained an electronic chip-like device. The sphere was placed over Perez's forehead, and it floated, then it floated over different parts of his body then it vanished. At that moment the blond man approached him and apparently began communicating by using telepathy since he did not move his lips. He told the witness not to fear. The witness then asked why he was chosen and was told because "he had been born with a special type of energy." Soon the witness was able to move and he was taken into another room that seemed to be the control center. There he saw three of the short humanoids operating some consoles. Suddenly a huge screen became visible where he saw all the planets align. Then he saw the planet Earth but it appeared to be upside down. Then he saw something resembling a nuclear blast and much death and destruction. He was then warned that humanity was headed in that direction if we did not mend our ways. Another door now became visible and the witness noticed what appeared to be dozens of domed disc-shaped objects, apparently in a huge hangar. On their way he took a secondary road that past by an empty airfield, located in an isolated plain. As they drove near the airfield they all noticed a strange triangular-shaped mark on the ground, however they did not stop to investigate. Soon they began hearing bizarre screams resembling those of a woman being attacked or "raped". Immediately after that they all saw a brilliant humanoid figure at least 3 meters in height, it shone like brilliant metal. Its face was oval-shaped and its eyes almond in shape emitting a brilliant light. Astounded the witnesses watched as the shiny giant creature stepped in front of their car and signaled them to stop. The whole time the driver slowed the vehicle down until it was going a minimal speed. Three people, Natalya Gracheva a reporter for the "Crimean Times" and two men, Anatoly and Alexander had gone by boat near the remote hamlet of Partenit and camped near the front section of Ayu Dag, near the high rocky precipices directly above the water. This location was usually used to bake in the sun and to skinny dip. At night while they rested near a lone tree Natalya sensed a strange feeling of worry. She noticed how the air seemed to condense near the water surface, like a cloak of some kind, and strange shadows were crossing the moon. Suddenly Alexander screamed, asking her if she was OK since he could not move, the next moment a bright white light blinded them. Now Natalya was also completely paralyzed. Anatoly, who was closer to the water also screamed. The only thing that Natalya could see was a blinding white light. She lost consciousness and awoke only in the morning. Anatoly was now quite able to move and told a strange story of encountering alien beings (not described). The whole contact lasted about 15 minutes, the aliens apparently communicated by using telepathy and seemed to know everything about him. In rural Apache County several people were staying at a rural home near Concho and were sitting around the kitchen table when one of the men looked out the kitchen table and saw along with another woman a bright UFO streak by, apparently crashing. The witnesses said that the object left a wake of fire. They jumped into a jeep raced off in search for the crashed object. They crossed State Highway 61 and drove along an old cattle trail and soon came upon an elderly couple that had parked their white van on the side of the road, both were outside staring into the fields. They asked the witnesses if they had seen a UFO crash and they told them they were going to try to find them. The elderly couple had been driving westerly along Highway 61 toward Show Low when they saw the object streak by and appear to crash. The witnesses then drove to the area where the object had apparently crashed. This area had few trees, some scattered cedar and junipers and a lot of rock and canyons. After about an hour of driving they arrived at a very deep canyon and could drive no further. Deep in this canyon was the crashed UFO. It was an oblong, egg shape object. The color was strange---it was the color of Caucasian skin with a fading tan and it faintly glowed. The glow was sufficiently enough to illuminate the bottom of the canyon. There were two "pillars" (for lack of a better word) at the front of the object. These pillars may have been posted on either side of a door---although a doorway was not visible. It was about the size of a barn. Oddly the witnesses also saw a helicopter on the scene and a black pick up. They were baffled as to how the truck could have gotten down the remote canyon so quickly, unless there was some road that they did know about. They watched the scene for a while then left. Apparently none of the witnesses ever returned to the site of the alleged crash.

The witness, Alfredo, who had previously had an encounter in 1995, felt an urge to travel to this location and accompanied by his parents and another couple they arrived at the summer home of the latter. Soon Alfredo felt that it was time for the "contact". Closely followed by his parents he began following a path through a field, they were also being watched by one of the witnesses using a pair of binoculars. As they approached a hilly area, Alfredo suddenly was lost from sight. His worried parents yelled out for him and searched around but failed to locate him. The witness with the binoculars did not see Alfredo depart in any direction. His parents then decided to walk back to the house. Meanwhile back at the house the other witness suddenly saw Alfredo in her backyard, standing there smiling at her. Curious she asked him how he got there so quickly, he replied that he jumped the chicken wire fence. His parents were stunned when they arrived 20 minutes later, to see him there having lunch. They noticed that he did not appeared tired at all and his eyes were a little red. While eating lunch he told those present that he had been levitated up in a tube of light into a metallic sterile environment. There he was met by several short beings (not described) that conversed with him telling the reason for him being chosen.

Two boys, students of the 5th grade Dmitriy Freyderov and his friend Sergey Boikov were walking on the edge of the village when they saw an object emitting yellow light that circled over the forest for 5 minutes, it then vertically descended and made a landing in the forest about 300-400 meters away from the witnesses. The two boys ran in the direction of the landing site and soon entered a clearing. In the middle of the clearing there had been an area cleared by a bulldozer and there they saw a landed saucer-shaped object. The object was disc-shaped and was about 30 meters in diameter (bigger than a bus) with a smooth metallic silvery surface. The disk had a broad central dome and generally the craft was hat-shaped. A trident-shaped antenna was visible on the top. The general height of the object was estimated at no less than 10meters. The saucer had a flat bottom and it was resting on four broad landing props. There was a line of round openings or lights on its periphery each one about 20cm in diameter which emanated multicolored lights, but these soon died out. The lower section of the dome was circled by similar round lights but these were bigger---about 35-40cm across. The boys did not dare to approach the object, and hid behind some bushes about 30-40 meters from the object. Suddenly three doors opened on the hull, which were of rectangular shape with slanted rounded corners. Ladders descended towards the ground from all three doors. Humanoids wearing silvery suits began exiting the craft, each one taller than the average human, about 1.9 to 2.0meters in height. In total 13-15 aliens came out of the disk. One lone humanoid exited from the right door and judging from his behavior the boys understood that he was the "commander". The alien's bodies were normally proportioned and transparent globe-shaped helmets covered their heads. As soon as the humanoids touched the ground all of them performed the same task, identical green plates appeared on their left shoulders and they pressed them this apparently caused the helmets to fold back in some unfathomable manner, somewhere behind their collars, it was difficult for the boys to image where had the globe-shaped helmets gone to. The whole time the boys sat behind the bushes looking at the aliens. The aliens had normal faces, light skin, blue elongated eyes resembling those of Mongol people, elongated faces, with pointed chins, straight thin noses, thin mouths and narrow lips. They had 5 digit hands. On the shoulder of the alien commander were two jutting protrusions resembling shoulder straps. The aliens had short-cut grayish white hair. Eventually the alien commander noticed the boys and glanced at them especially at Sergey. When Sergey caught the alien's glance his eyes began to ache and when he looked at the alien for a second time his chest began to hurt. Then a voice appeared in the head of both boys, which told the boys that they were here to "dig" out something in the forest and had landed for that purpose. Besides if they wanted it to, the aliens could take the boys for a ride with them as soon as they finished their task. Moments later all the humanoids including their commander entered the forest. They returned 45 minutes later and after approaching the craft the alien commander faced the boys again and both experienced a strange sensation and became concerned that the aliens would take them and inexplicably walked to an area behind the landed saucer and there a big rectangular window opened up in the upper dome area, its cover moving up like a blind. Inside the boys were able to see a control panel and several humanoids sitting around it. Later at about 60 meters from the craft the boys saw the rest of the humanoid entities re-entering the object, the alien commander again used the special door on the right, the ladders were taken back up and the doors closed. The "blind" on the upper rectangular window closed and then multicolored lights switched on along the perimeter of the hull giving off a very intensive light. Soon a fiery red flame appeared in the center of the craft's bottom, as if emanating from a "rocket" and the object rose smoothly from the ground and gradually began ascending up emitting a whistling sound as it did. The antenna on the dome began rotating and all 4 landing props moved inside the hull and the hull itself began emanating reddish then orange, yellow, bright green and eventually a bright white light. After rising at an altitude of about 1km the saucer stopped and flew horizontally and then it flashed and vanished across the horizon. At the landing spot the boys found a scorched round spot black in color exactly at the place where the flame had shot out from the craft.

Its front extremities seemed to move up and down and the rear extremities propelled it to jump. The size of the entity was compared to that of a calf, its body covered in dense red fur, which reflected the rays of the Sun. The neck was short and thick, and it had large ears. Dmitriy did not manage to see its face clearly. Tracks and footprints were found at the location where the entity was observed. One print resembled that of a hand, very different from that of a human, the fingers were no longer than 6cm, the largest finger only about 3.5m long. The largest depth of the track left by the palm print was 2.5cm. A second track was 70cm apart from the first one. Its width near the base of the fingers was 17cm; at the heel it was 12cm. The tracks of the feet had four digits. The entity somewhat resembled a bear, but was definitely not one. Members of the expedition also observed several UFOs and flashes of light in the forest.

John Wright was asleep in his second story bedroom when he heard a number of loud crashing sounds from a lot across the street. Because coyotes and the local youth both liked to enter the unfinished houses at night, John assumed it to be common trouble of one type or another. He immediately grabbed his mag light and narrowed a beam over at the location. As he panned over the front of the houses, a pair of red glowing eyes looking directly at him startled him. Assuming it was a coyote John threw his clothes on and armed himself with a 30-06 deer rifle and proceeded to investigate. As he approached the house, he heard a strange mechanical whirling sound, almost like a servomechanism of some kind, only much louder than he had ever heard before. He approached the house and leveled his rifle at the house when a large mechanical robot of some kind came barreling out. The thing was roughly human in size and proportion, but had a large, domed head and flailing mechanical arms, the joints of which appeared to be servomechanisms. Startled, John fired his gun at the machination but didn't think he hit it. He did not wait around to find out either; he ran to his house and locked the door. John reloaded his rifle, broke out his shotgun and pistol, and barricaded himself in his study. 10 minutes later he heard a car drive up. It was the local sheriff, who came to investigate the shot John had fired. John explained the encounter to a shocked sheriff, who then went with John over to the house. Something had indeed rummaged through the empty house. Construction material was strewn about everywhere and someone or something had drilled many equally sized holes in the wooded planks used to construct the roof.

On a dark cold night the witness was in his room when a bright flash like light suddenly illuminated his room. He opened his window but could not see anything in the dark. Suddenly a kind of a stupor invaded his body and he was unable to move. He seemed to loose control of his movements and against his will his body rose up into the air, and floated out the front door into the darkness. He floated just above the ground towards a nearby wooded ravine. In the ravine he saw a bright blue disc shaped object hovering very close to the ground. The object was completely smooth without any visible openings. It seemed to be only about 3 meters in width and almost two meters in height. He floated to within two meters of the object when suddenly a triangular shaped opening became visible. He floated inside and down a metallic ramp into a circular room. There a pyramid shaped form made out of pure light met him, it seemed to be in constant dynamic movement and appeared incredibly complex. It appeared to be a "living thing" and was about 80 cm in height. The witness felt terrified, as his body did not obey his will. As he floated near the figure he experienced a number of mood swings, from euphoria to extreme sadness. He felt as if the pyramid shaped light creature was feeding of his emotions, he also felt like a trapped lab animal. His body began performing several athletic movements against his will, moving his arms and legs in all directions. At the same time the pyramid of light went through several light changes. It moved across her husband's side toward the foot of the bed in a sort of sitting/scampering motion. the entities just stood there in the huddle as if watching her. This went on for about 10 more minutes, and then the witness apparently went to sleep. They wore dark cloak like garments and dark hats, similar to a Panama. There was no sound, unusual odor or other effects noticed, and no form of communication transpired. The entities skin tone appeared to be light gray. Shortly after awakening in the morning she related the experience to her husband who recalled nothing unusual during the night. The 32-year old witness had decided to take a walk around the countryside and had sat down on a field to read a book. Suddenly as she sat reading she was aware of a large shadow moving over her. She looked up and was astonished to see a large black triangular craft overhead. It was twice the size of an aircraft and had a white light at each corner. It hovered silently over her. Then suddenly a beam of blue light shot down from the object and covered her. The next thing she felt that she was going upwards, very fast and she felt very sick. She went up very fast and blacked out. Her next memory was of being in a strange building, everything very white and bright. There was also a "funny smell" around. She then saw several strange beings around her that were doing something down near her legs. But she could see or feel anything. She described the humanoids as having black eyes, there was no white to their eyes, they had no eyebrows, no eyelashes, no cheekbones, no ears, no mouth or any facial hair or anything similar to human skin. It was a translucent white skin tone. There was a taller humanoid that seemed to be in charge of the others. This humanoid looked like the others but was about 6 ft tall. Police sergeant Marian Mancu and volunteer police officer Marcel Rusu were patrolling on the main road passing the village in front of the police office. Between the road and the sidewalks, there are deep ditches, with small bridges across them. Mancu lived in the area and told Rusu he was going to eat something at his home. The moment the sergeant passed the corner near his house, he heard a whistling sound from the street and sensed a current of air. He turned immediately back, seeing on the road something, which "splashed blue and red lights, making a sound like voom-voom." At first Mancu thought it was a police car from the district that had arrived on a routine patrol. Getting closer he realized that the object was hovering half meter above the paved road and a small and very strange figure was moving around it. He yelled for Rusu that was now hiding behind the ditch observing the strange spectacle. Rusu declared that immediately after Mancu had left and disappeared behind the apartment house, "a fluttering from above appeared". The neon lighting in the street seemed to change in intensity. The object descended slowly, without noise, behind him. He became frightened when he noticed that the object remained suspended above the ground and three small human like creatures were moving around it. As both witnesses agreed, the object had the form of a flat hut, 5-6 meter across and 2 2.5 meters high, and was hovering and balancing at about 1/2 meter from the ground. Around the edge it had a continuous girdle of light "like a rainbow." The colors, red, and blue changed from each other and flared. At the bottom of the object was a bright white light. None of the witnesses saw doors, portholes or other details. After about two minutes, the UFO rose vertically. At that moment its lights became much brighter, but the neon streetlights went off. The object then rose to about 30 meters and then disappeared towards the east at high speed. Rusu saw the humanoid creatures better as Mancu noticed only one and only from behind. Their height was estimated to have been around 1 meter, maybe less. Rusu said he heard some noises made by the humanoids, "as the rain in the drain pipe." Both described the creatures as "abortions" or ugly. They had large heads, very elongated behind and covered with bumps, with no hair, and large ears. Their faces were white and they had big eyes. Gray metallic shiny scales, resembling fish scales, covered their bodies. They also had large limp protruding bellies. They had thin spindly arms and no noses or mouths were visible. The witnesses thought that the creatures floated just above the ground and moved around "as if they were drunk." A huge sweet cherry tree nearby had around 15 % of its leaves affected as by an extreme heat. Other witnesses in nearby villages reported strange lights over the area on the same night.

A family of four was suddenly awakened by weird noises coming from the trailer's backyard deck. Grabbing a flashlight, the father went to investigate. Sliding the door open he illuminated the deck's wooden railing. he then heard a noise that sounded like "something running across the deck, bumping into things." The noise startled him. Neither of his dogs had barked at the intruder. Shining his flashlight toward the railing, he saw something rear up, and stare at him between the rails. He described it as a kind of rubbery or pulpy object five feet in diameter. It extended a tentacle or appendage through the railing and onto the deck floor. The witness estimated the appendage was"18 to 24 inches long" resembling an elephant's trunk. He went to wake up his two sons, and then the whole family watched the creature from the trailer's dining room window. The wife also noticed some bright lights some distance away. Every time the family members aimed their flashlight at the creature it acted in a very defensive manner, moving very fast over the yard, under cars, back under the deck, and apparently changed into a glowing disk at times. At 0400A the main witness left the trailer to look for his dogs, he found them very subdued, one of them had a wound to his hind leg, just inside the thigh and limped as if in great pain. Meanwhile a luminous object hovered over a nearby clearing, shooting off beams of light. The witness was apparently struck by these beams of light on the elbow and the neck. The man and his two sons followed the creature to the family's parked cars. They then noticed the window of both vehicles covered with some kind of fog or ice, and one of the cars had some kind of electrical hum about it, and the antenna was shaking. 66-year-old Dionisio, a retired farmer, was walking through a field and had sat down on a rock next to a tree. Suddenly there was a very strong & pungent odor in the air & a low hum could be heard. He then noticed an object hovering near the ground, next to some nearby power lines. The object was shaped like a dome & was shiny & metallic, it also had several black glass oval shaped windows. It was about 3 meters in length & 1 & a half-meter in height. On one side of the object he noticed what appeared to be some inscriptions, part of it resembling "IOIO" and from the top of the object there were some cables that were apparently connected to the nearby power lines. Dionisio also noticed a curious fact, if he moved back about 3 meters he could no longer see the object, but once he moved forward again, he was able to see it. Suddenly he saw three figures standing next to the object, these were about six-feet tall. There were two men & one woman. They were wearing tight fitting one-piece silvery outfits. The humanoid's faces were Asian in appearance, with high cheekbones, very pale skin, and slanted eyes. They had large hands with five long well defined fingers and their mouths were slit-like. They also wore silvery boots. Suddenly the witness felt something strike his chest, looking up he noticed that the woman was signaling him, and one of the men was kneeling down next to the object. Soon he began hearing voices in his head. Frightened he hid behind some rocks, and then he heard the humming sound & noticed the pungent odor again. Coming out from the rocks he noticed that the humanoids and the object were gone. Investigators found ground traces at the site. A mysterious rock was also found at the site. During the same time others in the region saw low flying lights and objects.

Two local youngsters reported that while sleeping on the grassy slopes of Monte Berici they suddenly noticed the total lack of animal noises in the area. Then everything became extremely quiet. Soon they heard a sort of modulated scraping metallic sound. Then they heard the sounds of something moving in the forest, they looked towards the sound and noticed two dark gleaming eyes staring at them. The girl became frightened and covered herself with a blanket, the boy then saw what appeared to be a large form, like a white-silvery blanket approaching from a nearby hill, it was a meter in height and it approached to within 50 cm of the girl, apparently looking down on her with two large red-colored metallic eyes. Attempting to protect her the boy jumped in front of the girl. At that point the bizarre robotic creature seemed to shrink up within itself then apparently disappeared into the woods. Others in the area reported hearing loud noises resembling a helicopter coming from the woods.

Aged pensioner, Tamara Vasilievna Prosvirina had gone to the village cemetery. Tamara had suffered from psychiatric problems for years and used to gather flowers from the local graves to decorate her bedroom. That evening after returning from the cemetery she had supper and went to bed. Suddenly she heard a strange "voice" in her brain. It requested Vasilievna to return to the cemetery. She got dressed, grabbed a flashlight and went out. At the cemetery she saw huge eyes staring at her from behind the closest grave mound. The pensioner approached the grave and saw a strange creature about 25cm in height. It was obviously not a human being. It had a tiny onion-shaped head that appeared to be composed of five "petals". The little creature had no ears, huge slanted cat-like eyes, which cover most of its face. The creature could not talk but it began to whistle quietly to attract Tamara's attention. It probably communicated in this manner in his "home world". The pensioner took the creature to her home and there began examining the "alien". The body of "Aleshenka" (the name given by Tamara to the creature) was plump and soft like jelly. The skin was gray and it had dark brown spots on its head. It had no hair, small holes instead of ears and a small flat nose enabled to creature to breath. The eyes were dark gray without eyelids. The vertical pupils in the eyes constantly narrowed and expanded. It had long fingers with small sharp claws. There was no indication of any genitals that would reveal its gender. Interestingly the creature had no navel, which all mammals must have. The woman could not figure out how to feed Aleshenka. Its mouth resembled a tiny hole and had no lips, but it could stretch it widely revealing a complete set of teeth, but a very small lower jaw and a huge scarlet tongue occupied most of its mouth cavity, which disturbed any chewing process. Tamara inserted a caramel candy on the creature's mouth and it began to suck on it, she also fed it some milk, and water with a small spoon. Soon moist sweat appeared on the alien's body after eating. The sweat gave off a sweet smell that completely soaked the clothes and furniture. From time to time Tamara would wipe the sweat off with a rag from Aleshenka. The creature remained still most of the time, hardly moving. At times it would seem to stretch its legs. The next day Tamara told all the villagers that she now had a "child" called Aleshenka. At first most people thought it was just Tamara hallucinating. However one day the pensioner's daughter in law (also named Tamara) came to visit her. After sitting and talking in the kitchen for a while, the old lady mentioned that it was time to feed the child. Her daughter in law followed her into another room and saw the strange creature wrapped in a swaddling band. Later both the daughter in law and her mother saw the creature but did not reported it to the police. They thought if it had been a "human child" they would have reported it to the police. They thought it was some type of animal and therefore Tamara's pet. However, a neighbor reported Tamara to her psychiatrists and one day an ambulance came and took her to the psychiatric hospital. Concerned, Tamara tried to explain that she had left a child alone in the house, but the doctors did not take her seriously. No one knew Tamara had been taken to the hospital and no one took care or fed the creature and it soon died. After the alien's death its body began to dry up and become mummified. One man, Vladimir Nurdinov remembered the creature, he used to visit Tamara and reported seeing Aleshenka and after hearing that Tamara had been taken to the hospital went to her house to pick up Aleshenka. But he was too late; the alien was dead, mummified and lying on the bed. Nurdinov took the dead body to his place not knowing what to do with it. Soon the police came to the man's apartment---he had been suspected of stealing electricity in Novogorny. The police found the body and suspected it was the body of a mummified child and took it for further study. However doctors confirmed that the mummified creature had 20 features distinguishing it from a human being and medical experts rejected the idea that Aleshenka could have been a mutated child. During a second examination other experts theorized that the town of Kyshtym was situated in an area that had been contaminated after the crash of a strange object in 1957. After the crash it was reported that possibly as a result of radiation several human mutations were born in the area. Soon the head of UFO Organization from the town of Kamensk-Uralsky in the Sverdlovsk region, Galina Semenkova took the mummified body to conduct her "research". She soon dropped from sight and efforts to reach her and the mummified body proved fruitless. But recently Semenkova surfaced at a UFO seminar in Tokyo and explained what occurred to Aleshenka's remains. According to Semenkova when she was carrying the corpse from Kyshtym to her town a UFO appeared in the sky. Her vehicle engine stopped and aliens (not described) from the UFO demanded the body of their dead comrade and she immediately obliged.

Alaor Bernardes and his 12 year old were working a tract of land with a tractor at the local Tres Barras de Cima Fazenda. As they entered the fenced in piece of land they perceived a strange hairy creature standing next to some nearby woods. The witnesses estimated the creature to have been 1.50 meters in height, with a very strong build and wide chest, it had a large dog-like head with long pointy canine teeth protruding from its mouth. It was dark yellow in color and seemed to move in a strange sideways motion. The figure began walking in the direction of the witnesses and concerned for their safety Alaor and his son drove the tractor in reverse and hid behind some ornamental trees that circled the wire-fenced field. The creature moved a distance of 200 meters in the direction of the fence and the witness at very high speed, strangely it had apparently not seen the wire fence or the witnesses and walked right into the fence falling backwards to the ground. Very quickly it raised itself up and jumped the fence still walking towards the two astounded witnesses. Incredibly the creature had apparently not seen the witnesses yet even though he was just now about 4 meters away. Panic stricken Alaor armed himself with a large rock in case the creature attacked him and his son. At this point the creature perceived the presence of the witnesses and turned staring directly at them. In an apparent aggressive act in bared his teeth and began approaching very slowly towards Alaor. Terrified the witness jumped into the tractor with his son and drove away from the area not wanting a confrontation with such a bizarre entity. As they drove away they looked back and saw the humanoid walking away quickly in the opposite direction it jumped over the fence again and disappeared into the woods.

The witnesses had seen at 2000 a huge triangular shaped craft shining some very bright beams of lights towards the ground. The object hovered over the area and was seen to slowly bank revealing a large dome on top. On the underside they could see three small red lights on each apex of the object. Suddenly the object shot away into the distance at the sound of an approaching aircraft. At 2030 the witnesses again saw the huge triangle over the same location, shining down powerful beams of white light. Later some of the witnesses returned back to the area and watched a powerful blue glow appear above a field at about treetop height. In order to obtain a better look they drove down a narrow lane and parked their vehicle. They then saw a large star-like object just above the blue glow that was pulsing & growing larger & smaller alternately. Suddenly they noticed the silhouettes of numerous small thin figures, moving about, one of the figures however was much taller than the others, around seven feet tall. Other small beings moved in amongst the trees in the field. A large black object sat on the ground. The figures appeared to be moving towards the object. At this point the witnesses became extremely frightened & drove away from the area. They arrived at the home of one of the other witnesses borrowing some binoculars. They soon returned to the location & noticed the blue light still glowing. They again saw the little beings moving in & out of the trees. They also saw the very tall being standing with its back to them. Looking at the hovering object with binoculars they could now tell that it was amber in color, with dark indentations all around it. It rotated slowly, occasionally turning on its axis. Dozens of small creatures apparently carrying small boxes and tubular canisters were visible. Taller figures were also seen & described as having brown skin & oriental eyes, that seemed to be supervising a large group of the smaller beings. Using the binoculars they now spotted a large transparent illuminated capsule-shaped object, rippled on the outside with indentations like a brain. The object appeared to be on the ground & there were some very small thin beings inside it. Next to this object was another smaller one, otherwise identical to the first. This one contained a very tall being with brown skin. Another larger craft was also seen on the ground near the woods. There were lots of lights around it and dozens of small entities that appeared to be working in groups, going in & out of the woods. The witnesses also saw capsule shaped objects resembling cocoons coming out of the woods. These objects suddenly shot across the field towards the witnesses, hovering a few feet from them. Each of the capsules contained one of the small entities. They were dozens of capsules now hovering near the witnesses. At this point the witnesses became disoriented and had vague memories of being touched by the small entities with probe like devices. The small entities were described as having huge black eyes, & smiled at the witnesses. They communicated among themselves by making loud high-pitched noises, like whales. The witnesses later remembered leaving the area & returning home in a state of shock. Later while checking the scene of the incident, investigators found circular marks on the ground, burnt & dead vegetation, and branches from nearby trees covered in what appeared to be white spider web-type material.

Two children, a girl and a boy, age 9 spotted a weird looking entity walking through a cornfield near their school. The creature was reported striding across the clearing moving its arms back and forth like a soldier. It was described as four-feet tall, with long arms that ended in three fingers. It had a tube-like appendage lying on top of its head and dangling down in the rear. Its skin color was light blue and it had a black "thing" that appeared to be an eye but low where a nose would have been. The entity was in view for about nine minutes and no unusual sounds were associated with it.

The witness was lying in bed when he heard a loud noise resembling an approaching train. The ground shook around his bed. Then a bright light lit up the sky and moved over the house, and then seemed to hover over the porch area. Looking out the window he saw a dark figure standing outside. He closed his eyes terrified and then found himself floating above the hedge outside the house. Looking up he saw an arrangement of red, blue, yellow, and white lights. In the middle of the object there appeared to be a glowing door shaped entrance. The witness screamed and blacked out. He remembers waking up in his bed three days later, having no memory of what happened during those three days.
(Hypnotic regression apparently has not been explored) He found numerous scars on his body.

Nelson Cortes had been unable to fall sleep that night when his younger brother Josue alerted him to a strange-lighted object that had apparently landed in a field behind Cortes house. Upon investigating the site they saw a large rounded object that had landed on three leg-like supports. The object was surrounded by a brilliant red glow. The craft was silvery metallic in color. The two witnesses then saw a ramp like protrusion extend to the ground. Several short green humanoids then exited the object via the ramp. These were described as thin, with long skinny arms, potbellies, large heads, huge pointy ears, and large dark oval shaped eyes. They all wore tight fitting metallic helmets on their heads. The beings began to walk around the field. At that moment both witnesses panicked and began screaming, immediately the beings ran into the object, which then closed the ramp, became brighter, tilted to one side then shot away at incredible speed. Neighbors heard the boys scream and also saw the object and lights.

While hiking in the rugged mountainous region, Roberto Suarez Molina, 28, became lost. During the search, air rescue units reported strange glows around the snow-covered peak of Nevado Chorolque, at the western end of the Tajsara Range. On Friday Roberto saw a light with a weird appearance, it crossed the sky, stopped for a moment in mid-air, and then became a red light before disappearing. Later a bright light lit up Roberto's campsite. Looking up he saw a "tube of light" of incredible brilliance. The tube of light turned from the horizontal to the vertical, then slowly descended, landing on the mountain trail near his campfire. He suddenly found himself face to face with a luminous humanoid form that "told him things". The entity predicted that Roberto would be rescued by the Bolivian air force around noontime on Saturday. The humanoid was right, on that day Roberto was spotted by a Cessna aircraft and was picked up by a helicopter.

Two men, Benicio Quintero and Onelio Gonzalez were fishing in an isolated area when they suddenly noticed some rotating multicolored lights that appeared to be approaching their location from a nearby hill. They appeared to descend slowly down the slopes towards the men. Concerned one of the men armed himself with a knife. As they lights approached their location the two men hid behind some brushes and turned off their flashlights. The lights kept descending along very difficult terrain when suddenly they changed direction and apparently disappeared, all without a sound. As the men looked around the lights came on again at a location about 20 meters from them. They could now a see a row of lights and what appeared to be some type of object behind the lights. Suddenly they saw several figures gliding over the ground coming from the object. The figures were above normal in height and appeared not to touch the ground. Curious the men shone their flashlights towards the figures and were able to see about 5 or 6 humanoids. At the same time the multicolored lights rotated behind the humanoids, which seemed to control them. The figures seemed to be wearing tight-fitting dark gray or khaki mesh-like suits. One of them carried something resembling a flashlight. At no time did the men heard any noises but did felt a slight heat or warmth coming from the figures. After the humanoids saw the witnesses they turned around and glided over to an inaccessible area known as "La Palometa." The humanoids stayed in the area for a long time and the witnesses left before they returned.

Dr Jonathan Reed had been hiking for about an hour and a half when his 7-year old Golden Retriever ran ahead of him and disappeared over a rise. He began barking frantically. Dr Reed dropped his backpack and ran up the slope where the fog disappeared. He picked up a tree branch on the way, thinking that he might need it to rescue her form some kind of animal. Topping the rise he saw that Suzy (the dog) had a strange creature by the left arm. The creature was shaking violently in an attempt to dislodge the dog. The dog released the creature and backed away. At the same time the creature extended a "fleshy pseudo pod" around the dog's muzzle and severely wounded her. Suzy's tissues seemed to "flow" into this wound. She was consumed in a matter of seconds. Later, Dr Reed could find no trace of her except for a fine white powder on the ground. The creature turned to look at Reed with an expression of what seemed to be pure rage then turned its head back to look at Suzy. Reed ran forward at this point and hit the creature with the branch with all the force he could muster. He knocked the creature back about four ft. The creature lay dead on the ground covered in it's own blood. Shocked, Reed fell to the ground attempting to compose himself. Finally he remembered the camera equipment he usually carried on his frequent hikes ran back for his backpack and began taking pictures and videotape footage of the creature. A short time later, Jonathan became aware of a strange, low frequency vibration. He surveyed the area and discovered a black (craft like) device floating above the ground nearby. He approached the object and touched it. It was freezing cold and burned his hand. He took pictures of the object. After several hours, Jonathan still very sick, decided to wrap the creature in a survival blanket that he had with him. He decided to take the creature with him back to Seattle. He put the creature in a small freezer he had at home. The creature was described as about 4 ft tall that was capable of moving incredibly fast. It had large bloated eyes, which it was able to open and close, light in color. He also said that the creature emitted a horrifying scream or "shriek" as it fell to the ground. Around the fourth day Jonathan heard noises coming from within the freezer. He opened it and the creature was alive. In a panic he slammed the freezer shut, then called a friend over. Over the next few days he attempted many times to communicate with the creature and did so. He tried to feed it but it refused all food. It did, however drink water. Apparently unknown government agents broke into the house and removed the creature.

He hid behind some shrubs and observed the scene. After the light faded away, Dima noticed that the object was oval or egg-shaped, silver in color. It was about 8-9 m in diameter, standing on three landing props. A yellow oval light was visible in the center of the object, which was surrounded by yellow lights. It had an antenna shaped like a "Y". Two doors opened and ladders were lowered down to the ground. Two humanoids came out of the object. They were of average height, maybe 1.7 m or 1.9 m. They both wore helmets, which connected to their overalls, the helmets opened, but the boy could not discern any facial features or the color of their skin. What was visible was red lettering on their helmets. The aliens began walking towards the village. Dima then started running towards the village, while running he notices that the object became bright red again and it was making a slight buzzing sound and was rotating slowly, it then rose and zoomed away at high speed. A local young man named Igor V. Kolomiets (involved in other encounters) claimed that he had been abducted onboard a UFO from his bedroom late at night. He felt paralyzed and was then beamed up from his bedroom into a hovering disk-shaped object outside his bedroom window in his apartment located on Aviamotornaya Street tenement house # 26. While floating in the air towards the object, he succeeded in looking at the object; it was not exactly disk-shaped from the top and only similar to a disk, looking at it from its side. In fact it appeared more oblong in shaped, narrow at the tail, streamlined with a gradual dome on top and a flat bottom. The dome was not even and was more elongated towards the front section. It looked like a perfect aerodynamic structure and was matt-black in color. A number of hieroglyphs or symbols resembling Egyptian scripture were visible alongside the outer rim of the craft encircling the dome, but Igor only remembered the one hieroglyph that was shaped as two horizontal lines, concaved and crossed by 3 vertical lines. He then floated into the opening of the craft. Inside, the object was segmented into several compartments positioned in a radial structure. His body was placed on some type of "operation table" and he noticed several alien beings in the room. He heard their voices even though their mouths were closed (evidently through telepathy). The humanoids were short, about 1.2-1.5 m in height, with beige colored skin, very frail body built, with thin narrow long arms and short legs, the arms were much longer than the legs, they had disproportionably very large heads over their small bodies. The aliens had very large, dark slanted eyes, without visible eyelashes and eyelids (maybe they were wearing some type of protective lid over their eyes), beak-shaped noses like those of birds and small thin mouths. On top of their huge heads they had a small amount of very short black hair, like the bristle or small fluff. They were dressed in tight-fitting overalls, dark in color. According to his impression the humanoids were very aggressive. They conducted a number of painful medical procedures on the witness, apparently studying his body and his mind. Igor understood that they had scanned all of his memory, which included his whole life and even his previous life (!). During the examination Igor could see vivid images from his past. The witness understood that the aliens originated from a star cluster in the constellation of Taurus or Pleiades, he received several mental impulses mentioning the world Pleiades in his mind. Unexpectedly one of the aliens stared in amazement and communicated that the witness had previously incarnated into an extraterrestrial civilization in the Orion constellation. The humanoids appeared shocked since apparently that civilization had been their foe in a distant past and had attempted to enslave them. Eli Hawald had gone outside his home when suddenly out of nowhere he saw a gigantic green light descend from the sky. He ran into the house locked the door and watched from a window. When the light was ten meters above the ground, it dimmed and three figures descended towards the ground from the light. The figures were human-like but very dark in appearance. They acted oddly, fanning out, and then quickly returning to the same place. Their speed was fantastic and they seemed to emit a siren like sound. At this point the witness alerted his wife and children and they ran out the back door. They did not see the entities and light depart.

Two young boys were playing in the bedroom when suddenly one of them, Peter, looked out the window and was surprised to see a small "white being" with lots of "jagged teeth" looking straight at him. The being was free floating and was not standing on top of the kitchen roof. After a few seconds the being just simply floated straight upwards with ease, and was gone from sight in seconds. The other boy also saw the strange being. Later that night Peter entered the bathroom and saw a small white being standing next to the wash hand basin and bath. This being also had a row of "jagged teeth." He was small and thin and looked very pale. Peter screamed and the being simply vanished. The family had been involved in a spectacular UFO incident the month before.

A man named Paul was driving on the Bulawayo Road near the Lilfordia School when he saw a bright light descending silently from the sky. As the object neared him he became aware that it was a disc shaped craft. As the object landed on a large open field to his left, Paul pulled over and stopped the car. As he watched, a door opened---moving upwards---on the side of the object, and two men wearing shiny black coveralls climbed out of a dome at the top of the craft. At this point coming from the opposite direction came another vehicle, which also stopped, on the right hand side of the road. The entities must have then become aware of being watched, and the men went quickly back inside the object. Then the door closed, moving downwards. At this point the occupant from the other vehicle ran across the road and yelled at the witness to leave the area quickly. Both men then drove off very fast.

Near the river they noticed a strange haze, which appeared to approach their location, suddenly near the bonfire about 10 meters away, they saw two figures looking at them. They were a man and woman, very tall, blond haired and with beautiful features. The woman had long curly hair and the man long straight hair. Their facial features were without emotion. They simply stared at the witnesses silently. Their clothing was extraordinary; it appeared to be illuminated, like a cobweb, made out of a very beautiful material that covered their bodies. Their features were strict and imperturbable. Frightened Nikolai heard a mental message from the woman telling him not to fear, that they had visited the same area previously. In the distance the rancher saw another two of the same creatures, kind of running away from there. The creature in the trap was 2 feet long but the two others he saw in the distance were about 4 feet long. According to the rancher they really were not running but taking leaps, anywhere from 10-15 feet. The creature in the trap was described as looking like a large lizard, with a large head, disproportional large for the body. On its back coming from the spine, there were at least 13 vertical spikes that stuck up, 12 inches off the back of the creature, it had a long tongue ending in a sharp tip. The humanoid approached Bragatto and in a peculiar language that sounded like Spanish invited the witness inside the object. The witness agreed and was escorted inside. Once inside he noticed that the inside of the object had a metallic bluish sheen to it. Still speaking in the peculiar language, that the witness was somehow able to understand, the humanoid told Bragatto that they were going to take him to their "native planet." He was given the impression that the planet was "Mars". Inside the object there was a total of three humanoids, 2 men and a woman. Described as closely resembling humans, wearing loose fitting gray outfits, with several golden medallions hanging around their necks. According to the witness the humanoid's hair grew from the middle of their heads back, and they had large ears and mouths, making them somewhat ugly. Before leaving, Bragatto was given a medical examination by the beings. His stomach area was probed with several needle-like instruments. On the way to the humanoid's home planet the witness was given a fruit resembling a "Mamey" (known tropical fruit) and something resembling an empanada. They immediately accepted. Arriving, the witness was greeted by numerous similar appearing beings. He noticed that the "planet" was beautiful in appearance and saw numerous buildings that appeared to be made of a nylon-like material. One of the beings now approached him and told him that it was time to go, that 8 hours had already passed. On his was back to the object, the witness saw a huge television screen which showed strange holographic like images, that included dinosaur like animals. The young witness was walking back home after an errand and had taken a short cut through an old churchyard. As he stepped through the gate something off to his left caught his eye. Feeling a strange sense of dread he stopped dead in his tracks. He noticed a very black figure about 3 ft high that was squatting over a grave; it was about 15 ft away in the shadows. All he could see was an outline but no details. Terrified the young witness beat a hasty retreat and went home.

Shoshana Bar-on and her boyfriend Ilan Cohen were returning home from Tel Aviv by car when both spotted an orange-red disk flying over the seaside cliffs. They stopped the car and attempted to chase the object. The object then seemed to brake into three parts, one part further split into dozens of glowing plates that fell on the beach below the witnesses. Shoshana bent over the cliff and saw four small gray humanoids on the ledge below. She called over to Ilan to look but he, for some strange reason could not see them. She stood up and saw a nine foot long, clam shaped craft appear opposite to her. The opt of the object opened up and she saw four entities, three in a row and a pilot sitting forward, they were all seated in tight, tiny chairs, that had several button like controls. One of the entities floated vertically from the craft and stunned Shoshana with "white projector like beams coming from his eyes." The being approached her and rubbed her arms & neck with a stubby, soft hand. She later recalled that his touch felt good. She screamed, but Ilan could not hear her. She then collapsed to the ground. Ilan managed to drag her away from the site but in a voice "that was not hers" she insisted in being taken back. He pulled her to the side of the road where he flagged down a car that drove them to a nearby hospital. Numerous other phenomena occurred in the witness apartment the following days.

1997 HUMANOID REPORTS

Ephesians 6:12

The new millennium was approaching; the so-called "Chupacabra" epidemic was ebbing. But it was not gone; it swept through Brazil and parts of the America Northwest like wildfire with numerous high strangeness reports describing bizarre creatures. 1997 ushered in a sort of normalcy. High strangeness reports still trickled in, but nothing compared to the madness of 1995 and 1996. There was a noticeable slow down of reports picking up again towards the end of the year ending with a sort of "Bang" taken into account the Kenwick Australia report. 1997 ushered in 1998, which was even calmer and kind of boring. But it was like a calm before the storm of 2000, which suddenly shot up with bizarre encounters, especially from South America and more specifically Chile.

Once he drove by the figure he stopped his motorcycle, and concerned looked back at the figure. As he stared at the figure it suddenly vanished in plain sight. He then drove away, but the figure appeared one more time at the side of the road, but this time he kept on driving and did not stop.

Two men, M. Yumtsov and P. Stepashin were traveling by car in the area when they suddenly saw a bright light descending directly over them. Both men seem to loose consciousness. Soon Yumtsov regained consciousness and saw his partner apparently sleeping leaning against the door. He was surprised to see his speedometer reading 80km per hour; he felt no sensation of movement. In front of the car hovered a luminous sphere. He watched as several diffused figures descended from the sphere on what appeared to be bright threads. One of the figures floated up to the front windshield of the car and began to make hand signals, as if suggesting Yumtsov to open the door. The witness wanted to open the door but suddenly became very frightened and remained still. The figure appeared not to have a face; instead of eyes or a mouth it had slight indentations. When the witness refused to open the door, the humanoid apparently became terribly angered and emitted a shrill whistling scream, almost bursting out Yumtsov's eardrums. The figure approached the windshield further and somehow managed to insert several silvery threads into the car. The threads grabbed on to the sleeping Stepashin's arm and encircled and then began to pull him. Terrified Yumtsov suddenly applied the brakes this somehow caused the bizarre figure at the windshield to float back and retrieve the silvery threads thus releasing Stepashin. The luminous sphere then also disappeared. At this point Stepashin woke up not knowing what had occurred; he did find several bruises around his wrists. Also several dents were found on the car's hood. The two men were so terrified that they remained parked on the side of the road the rest of the night.

On a dark night Kyle Keatts was wandering about in the woods near his home when something caught his eye near the chicken coop, which was near a barbed wired fence, and beyond that for several miles were some cows and other farm animals. He remembered seeing two red eyes that stuck out from out of the darkness near the ground, he then approached it in order to obtain a better look. He remembered looking at the protruding, oval-shaped eyes, which appeared to have a black slit through them, like a cat's eyes. It looked back at the Keatts and he perceived a sense of danger and became frightened, and ran towards his house yelling for his father to come out. His father ran out and saw what appeared to be a 3-4 foot tall animal running upright on its legs, and its legs looked like that of a kangaroo, but it did not hop, it just ran very fast. In the light of the light pole they saw that the creature was black with scaly-looking skin with what looked like spikes running down its back. A neighbor had reported that an unknown predator had slaughtered 10-15 of her chickens.

While working in a shopping center the witness (involved in other encounters) she noticed a woman who had a certain air about her and as she watched her she seemed to be gliding along above the floor. The woman came to her desk and she noticed that this woman's irises were a pale gray color and her pupils were elongated from top to bottom rather than the usual round shape. She couldn't keep her own eyes off the woman's eyes and felt quite mesmerized by watching her. She knew she was asked a question but can't remember what it was or what she answered. She thought to herself "what planet are you from"? And with that the woman quickly moved off and disappeared. She described the strange woman as having un-styled hair that was just to her ears, fairly straight and a mousy brown color. She wore a cardigan done up to the top button and the dress seemed to just hang on her. She didn't seem to be dressed for the times but more like in her grandmother's days. She carried an old fashioned handbag over her arm. The witness has experienced strange dreams in which she has found herself getting out of a ship and meeting a young man about 20 years old with tight curly hair, plaid trousers and a very tight-fitting jumper. She accompanied the young man on a dinghy like boat into a floating craft, on the top of the craft there was a gray type alien that appeared to be steering it. He wore a tight-fitting gray suit with an emblem on one side. She saw a craft with transparent walls and people walking inside, she thought these people were "workers".

Two 12-year old boys, Peter & Steven, had silently sneaked out of their homes as their parents slept, & had gone to a nearby storage yard to play for awhile. Soon they headed home taking a short cut through a large equipment yard, sliding underneath the chain link fence. Halfway through the lot they noticed a very large shiny white box on the ground. As they passed it hey heard a "thump" like noise. Right after that came a "popping" sound. They moved on to see a series of lights, red, blue, green reflecting from some nearby equipment. Unable to determine their source they crossed the yard, at this point reaching a dark area of the property. They then heard a lengthy high-pitched modulating screech that made their hair stand up. Whirling around they saw, three small "pink figures" walking rapidly between some items of equipment, quickly becoming lost from view. The being had no sign of a buttocks cleavage, nor visible evidence of knee joints or fingers. During the whole encounter it was very warm. At this point a maroon van suddenly roared around the corner and came to a skidding halt near the boys. Its headlights illuminated the boys & its bald headed driver remained inside the van. Very frightened at this point the boys ran out of the property vaulting over the chain link fence. They felt extremely thirsty upon arriving home.

Four days after encountering a UFO William Shearer had come home from work, and was trying to get some sleep, his wife and daughter had stepped out. He came downstairs for a drink, and thought he heard a faint knock on the door. As Shearer approached the door he could see the outline of a tall man through the glass. Shearer opened the door and was faced with a strange sight. The man was around 6'4", and dressed in a dark gray suit and full-length coat. He wore a brilliant white shirt and a red tie, and was holding a brimmed hat. Another similarly dressed man was standing behind Shearer's wife car, and appeared to be looking up and down the road, as if to see if anyone was coming. The tall man said, "Can I speak to you please?" His voice was very deep, and seemed to be coming from his chest rather than his mouth. At this stage the man's gaze was lowered to the floor so Shearer could not see his face. Thinking they were Jehovah's Witnesses, Shearer replied, "No, I am not dressed". The man persisted, and asked again to speak to Shearer who again declined and asked him to come back later. When the man lifted his head and looked straight at Shearer his first impression was that the man was very ill, as he looked deathly pale. In contrast his lips seemed to tinged red, as if he were wearing lipstick. The stranger insisted in coming in, but Shearer held his ground. The two strangers kept looking at each other, either nodding or gesturing in some way. The men then walked towards their car, which was black and according to Shearer it looked like something straight out of a gangster movie, yet it looked brand new. Shearer noticed that the men walked awkwardly and appeared to have no facial hair. He also received a later visit.

Inside the cupola he could see a tall humanoid figure looking down on him. The figure appeared thin, with a large bulb-shaped head; he also noticed that it had large dark eyes. While looking at the craft a bright beam of light suddenly illuminated him. At that moment he felt a great sense of peace. The craft was silent and it had blinking multi-colored lights. The craft then began to move slowly away. He got inside his vehicle and attempted to follow the object, but his path was blocked by what appeared to be a military vehicle. It leant over her and as it did so the witness hear telepathically in her head mechanical sounding words "Gran says do it in the morning." With that the small entity vanished, leaving a heavy odor of burnt paper in the room, and Angie discovered she could move normally again. After having slept like a log for several hours, she woke refreshed, recalling the strange event with great clarity. She was in no doubt about the meaning of those cryptic words. While investigating a peculiar mutilation of a sheep, which was found with some holes in the skull and completely drained of blood, local military police heard some peculiar noises coming from a field near the farmer's house. While conducting a search of the area one officer reported seeing a tall dark humanoid shape in a sugar cane field. He called for assistance. Later while searching the area the officers found a strange greenish liquid on the ground among the stalks. Strange unmarked helicopters were also seen in the same area the next morning. (At the site of a goat mutilation in Miami, in 1996, which I went to, a greenish ooze came out of the round holes around the dead animal's neck, there was no blood present, AR).

Ann S was heading towards Klamath Falls when she suddenly heard a thump and thought it may have been a flat tire. Ann grabbed a flashlight and checked the tires, which were OK, and then got back into the car. She said there was a funny smell, and she looked out the window, seeing something moving towards her. Thinking it to be a person with bad intentions she locked the doors and prepared to start the engine, and whatever it was kept coming. She shined her flashlight out the window, and saw what she described as a "weirdo" creature. It had large red eyes that reflected the light when the flashlight hit them. The creature then covered its eyes with its arms crossed, and screeched. It appeared to rub its eyes as if to get its sight back. She noted that the creature was about 4 ft tall, green, scaly, and had claws on its four fingered hands. She honked the horn, which caused the creature to run away, she then noticed that it had several long green "spines" which hung off its back.

Marta Aguilar Montoya and her two small children were asleep in the bedroom when suddenly she heard a crackling noise. Turning to look towards the TV set in the room she noticed a small figure, about 4-feet 8 inches tall, wearing a tight fitting suit and a helmet. The helmet had a visor and the being also wore a backpack connected to the helmet by two hoses, one over each shoulder. Afraid she took her two children to her bed and just watched. The being stared at the trio but never made a move towards them. After several minutes the being turned to face the bedroom wall, again there was a loud crackling sound and then the beings disappeared through the wall, leaving only his silhouette on the wall, which disappeared after 2 minutes.

The witness was returning home by car when he noticed something unusual in his headlights in the distance on the right hand side of the road, on a footpath about 80 meters away. It resembled the figures of two children playing on the footpath, which was very unusual given the time. As the witness approached it became obvious that what the witness thought were children were not. There were two featureless, long, hunched, stick-like figures about 4 ft tall in height. They had long skinny arms stretching to the ground, long skinny legs and a very skinny body, which looked no wider than 20cm in diameter. They had no facial features and appeared to be wearing a dark one-piece body suit, black in color, which covered their whole bodies including their heads. As the car of the witness closed in to about 15 meters, the witness noticed that they appeared to become frightened upon seeing the vehicle. At that instant they scurried across in front of the car at great speed. The witness became scared realizing that what he had seen had been totally alien in nature. He accelerated looking into the rearview mirror noticing that the figures had crossed into the front yard of a house on the opposite side of the street. Shaken, the witness sped home and spent a sleepless night pondering over what had occurred. The next day the witness returned to the area to check around but noted nothing untoward.

A 50-year old grandmother was sleeping with her grandchildren in a room and had left several lights on to comfort them. She awoke suddenly and noticed that the lights were turned off. Her eyes slowly accustomed to the dark and she felt a presence in the room. She then saw two short figures standing near her bed. She attempted to contact them, by using telepathy, pleading to go with them if they left the children alone. The beings did not answer her plea. She was then startled as one of the beings moved aggressively and grabbed her. She jumped up and punched the being on the face, his skin felt like hard plastic, she struggled further grabbing the figure by the throat, the neck appeared horribly wrinkled. The being was about 5-feet tall and thin. She then bit the being; she said it felt like biting a cold piece of ham. After a few minutes of struggling the being dropped to the floor. At this time a third figure appeared in the room, then the two standing aliens moved towards her. One brushed against her face and grabbed her wrist; this one seemed stronger than the first. She then suddenly passed out. Upon regaining consciousness the figures were gone. The children had been apparently unharmed. Riccardo, while fishing alone by the River Livenza suddenly felt a presence behind him, turning around he saw a bizarre humanoid figure somewhat similar to a man. The humanoid was about 1.30 meters in height with an oval shaped head lacking a mouth, nose or ears. It had two large black oval shaped eyes covered with some form of retina similar to cobweb. Riccardo approached the humanoid and touched its skin. The humanoid's body was covered in a fine gray fur similar to that of an "astrakhan" rug. Its arms were disproportionately long as compared to the rest of the body and its hands were dark gray in color with three long pointy digits that ended in pink colored tips. Its feet were identical to the hands. The humanoid lacked elbows or knees and no sexual organs were apparent. It slowly approached Riccardo touching his forehead with one of its hands. At this point Riccardo felt as he had gone into some kind of psychic or telepathic contact with the humanoid. Suddenly a strange mist began to form around them and out of a mist a metallic landed object appeared. Riccardo was then taken inside the craft and shown around for about five minutes and then was deposited back on the riverside.

Geraldine McNeill was out walking her dog on the sloping ground above Lornshill Academy on the outskirts of the city when her black Labrador started whining with fear and stopped. The dog simply refused to go any further. Looking around Geraldine spotted a strong beam of light shining through a row of trees directly ahead of her. It seemed to be pulsating "on a regular rhythm" and at the same time changing color from pale cream through to yellow to deep yellow, and back to cream again. Ms McNeill estimated that the light beam was about 30 ft across. Clearly, a large object must be at the source of the glow. Baffled and concerned, Geraldine decided to call the police and walked over to a nearby phone box. A couple of police officers arrived shortly and Mrs McNeill suggested meeting, at the back of the Academy so they could get the best view of the strange light. However by the time they met up the pulsating light had disappeared and all that could be seen was a pinpoint of light to the right of the original. The two police officers went to investigate as Geraldine watched anxiously. She saw them reach the spot where the light source had been situated and then walk about waving their torches in every direction. After a few minutes they gave up the search and returned down the slope. It was at this point that Ms McNeill noticed a very strange occurrence. At the spot at the top of the slope where the police had been standing seconds before were two odd figures, walking methodically backwards and forwards. When the police officers came back to McNeill they told her that it had only been a burning long, but that they would arrange for a firefighter to arrive. As they spoke the two figures were still clearly visible at the edge of the trees. She pointed out the figures to the two officers. The two young officers seemed taken aback by this and quickly departed, stating that they would have to write up their report. (!) Apparently the two officers had not seen the strange figures.

On a property outside of Portland, two children (11 & 9) saw a large ball of silver blue light hovering about a meter above a paddock about 30 meters away from the house. The grass beneath the object was "moving and swirling." The children saw details on the object including something like a "door" and possible appendages. Their mother verified the presence of the object, but she seemed "mesmerized" and kept talking on the phone with a friend, with the children still outside. After 30 minutes the phone cut out. She loaded a gun and went outside, walked around the house to ensure there were no intruders, virtually ignoring the UFO, which was still present. She felt inexplicably tired and just walked passed the children back into the house and lay down and seemingly "blacked out." She apparently woke up around midnight, showered and went to be, "as if she were in a trance," without checking on the kids. She woke up in the morning feeling terrified, and found both of the children sleeping peacefully in their beds. She went outside and verified at the spot where the object had been hovering "a strange 12 ft diameter of swirled grass. It was discolored, a strange purple color with brown areas which appeared to be burned or affected by intense heat." During the next few months there was unusual activity of "unmarked helicopters" in the area. The children began to recollect further details. One of them had 3 strange red spots on a foot. The girl had an unusual "scar" on the back of the neck that could not be accounted for. She also saw a strange "person" outside her window. Under hypnotic regression an apparent abduction milieu was developed, particularly involving the children. No details on that.

At an isolated ranch in Northeastern Utah barking dogs alerted a team of investigators to something lurking in a tree near the ranch house. Tom Gorman grabbed a hunting rifle and took off in his truck toward the tree. Two NIDS staffers followed in another vehicle. Up in the tree branches, they could make out a huge set of yellowish, reptilian eyes. The head of this "animal" had to be three feet wide, they guessed. At the bottom of the tree there was something else. Gorman described it as huge and hairy, with massively muscled front legs and a dog-like head. Gorman who is a crack shot, fired at both figures from a distance of 40 yards. The creature on the ground seemed to vanish. The thing in the tree apparently fell to the ground because Gorman heard it as it landed heavily in the patches of snow below. All three men ran through the pasture and scrub brush, chasing what they thought was a wounded animal, but they never found the animal and saw no blood either. A professional tracker failed to locate anything. At the bottom of the tree, they found and photographed a weird footprint, or rather, a claw print. The print left in the snow was from something large. It had three digits with what they guessed were sharp claws on the end. After analysis, and incredibly, the print closely resembled that of a velociraptor, an extinct dinosaur made famous in the Jurassic Park films.

A witness was driving through a heavily wooded area at night when all of a sudden, the car started rocking, and from the top of the car, an ugly gray face peered down and looked in the front window...it was pressing so hard against the windshield that it cracked it. Trying to get in, it rammed the car repeatedly with its shoulder and did some $500 worth of damage. It left heavy scratches as it tried to get in as the car careened along at 80 mph. Suddenly; it flew straight up, keeping up with its wings. It had red glowing eyes, was four feet tall, and was brown and gray. It glided along rather than pump the 5-foot long wings like a bird.

In a rural area, farmer, Emilia Carballaz had gone out into a field in order to satisfy a physiological need. At the field she suddenly heard noises coming from behind her. Turning around she was terrified to see a beast-like form, resembling a bipedal animal, dark and hairy. It somewhat resembled a large two legged dog, with huge kangaroo-like hind legs. It had hairy human-like facial features and emitted loud grunting sounds. The bizarre humanoid advanced towards her and tore off her clothes using extremely sharp claws. The witness was paralyzed with fear and could only scream in terror. The creature apparently, sexually assaulted her. She apparently passed out during the assault and soon woke up to see the creature standing over her. It suddenly ran away using great leaps and bounds and disappeared from sight. Soon after that she saw a luminous object take off from a nearby field and disappear into the sky. It was reported that Mrs. Carballaz became pregnant as a result of the assault.

The 4-year old witness (was able to recall?) remembers something waking him up in the middle of the night, a strange feeling, which he didn't like. He then noticed a light outside, and first assumed it was aircraft. But then he looked outside and saw a very large light, larger than the moon. Its colors constantly shifted, changing hues every second. Surrounding it were dozens of smaller lights. Through the window he was able to see a strange, "grotesque shape"---the large light was the center of the craft and along with the other lights were a few that were smaller than the large one but bigger than the smaller ones, that outlined the craft. The craft itself seemed teardrop-shaped, yet sprouting from random parts of the craft were long tentacle-like protrusions and they seemed to be coming dangerously close to the ground. The craft had a pointed end. Squinting to see better the witness was able to see miniscule humanoids inside the craft, but before he could see more details, a flash of light broke the calm, and it was the last thing he remembers. He came back to on his bed nearly an hour later, but did not recall falling asleep. A week later, however, stranger markings began appearing on him. They resembled needle marks---only much bigger and much redder. His IQ nearly doubled after the incident, perplexing his doctors. (The witness has experienced other UFO sightings).

A local resident named Igor Utkin was in his apartment when he saw a column of blue light penetrating from somewhere in the ceiling and stretching down to the floor like a stalactite. Soon the beam reached the floor and seemed to become solid. A male humanoid and two female humanoids then descended out of the beam of light. One of the women was apparently the leader of the group. She approached the witness to within a couple of feet and began telepathic communication with him. The witness reported that she was about 1.7meters in height, with an elongated face, medium sized round dark eyes, and eyebrows that were outlined by narrow arcs, her head was hairless. She wore a tall hat on her head shaped like those wore by Catholic Bishops. Here skin was dense green in color, not shiny. The dress of the alien woman reminded the witness of those old style dresses wore by women, long light-green in color, with a red cloak and a tall light red collar. The claret-colored hat had a yellow "feather" on the front section. Within the feather he saw something crystal-like resembling a diamond. The alien woman was holding a stick shaped like a scepter with a double tip in her right hand. The alien female telepathically informed Igor that her name was Zuri, and that she was from the planet Galeya. She then invited the witness to leave the earth with them in order to decrease his "sufferings". Igor declined, saying that his relatives would suffer without him. The woman then said that they could cause this to happen in a way that no one would notice and will not even suspect, because they had the ability to incarnate another soul into his body that would replace his departing soul the existence of his body on earth will continue as a bio-robot. Utkin still refused. The contact lasted for about 5 minutes and then the humanoids re-entered the blue beam or energy channel and quickly zoomed up. After that the beam of light vanished. The alien woman reportedly appeared to the witness again the next day (April 24 1997, evening), but quickly vanished.

Comments: I wonder if there have been instances in which witnesses have agreed to travel or leave with the aliens, I suspect so because there has been reports of deaths of humans which have left notes or information behind detailing their contacts with aliens and the fact that they could only travel with then in astral form or with their "souls" or spirits. I suspect that in those instances something has gone wrong, since the body of the human was supposed to remain behind as a cyborg or bio-robot.

Officer-submariner, Nikolay M. an amateur diver had been diving in shallow water in the bay when he spotted a strange elongated object, shaped like a cucumber. Thinking that it was part of the wreckage of an old vessel, Nikolay tied a rope around the object and tried to pull it to the surface. However he was not successful and decided to attach some slings to the strange "cucumber" and connect it to his automobile bumper to pull the thing out of the bay. He came to the surface and obtained the necessary equipment in order to perform that task. He brought a pneumatic drill with him for the purpose to drill holes on the object and attach the slings. Nikolay descended to the bottom again and attempted to drill the holes on the object. Suddenly a stream of dark liquid resembling oil spewed out of the object hitting him on the face. But instead of switching off the drill Nikolay increased its air pressure in an attempt to make the hole deeper. He heard a loud crunch within the "cucumber" and noticed a blood like substance in the water. The object suddenly then split in half revealing a large cavity inside, from it a large dull bubble floated out. At this moment Nikolay encountered a strange entity, apparently human-like with unnaturally white skin and what appeared to be a wound on his back caused by the drill, the wound appeared to be bleeding. The entity's face was distorted by pain and anger. The entity looked at Nikolay with an immovable hypnotic glance, soundlessly opening and closing his mouth. The witness attempted to push away the cucumber-shaped object along with the strange entity, but the entity succeeded in grabbing his hand. The humanoid had clawed fingers, very sharp, which tore into his sleeve and cutting him deeply. Struggling, Nikolay used the drill with his free hand and stabbed the entity directly into the chest. After that Nikolay apparently lost consciousness. He was pulled out of the water and saved but he had lost part of his hand. No traces of the strange humanoid or object were found. Apparently the cucumber-shaped object had been some type of alien "cocoon" which the witness had accidentally stumbled upon.

Local resident, Nina Alekseevna had gone into the forest with another woman, her neighbor, to rest and gather some berries. After completing their task the women intended to return home when suddenly they could no longer move and felt as if some "mysterious force" was preventing them from doing so. The sky turned dark-violet in color and apparently able to move again both women were seized by fear and rushed home. As they passed by a nearby gully, they saw a bright flash in the sky. They looked up and unexpectedly a huge disc-shaped object appeared from behind the treetops at an altitude of about 50 meters. The disk was dark and totally silent. It slowly floated above the startled women. Both screamed simultaneously, "UFO"! And became fearful once again, and quickly ran home. In the village they immediately informed the other locals and a crowd of people rushed to the edge of the forest. But it was already very dark and nothing could be seen at first. Closer to midnight the dogs started howling, looking in the direction of the dark forest. Looking into the darkness, soon the locals noticed silhouettes of humanoid entities coming out of the forest. The distance from the figures was about 300 meters and no details could be yet seen on them. The bravest among the villagers, among them, Nina Alekseevna, someone took a rifle with him. The strange silhouettes continued to approach the villagers, about 150 meters from the group the figures stopped. The dogs were still howling and the villagers also stopped their approach. Now they could clearly see the aliens and described as seeing three of them, dressed in white tight-fitting suits, about 2 meters in height, slender, proportionally built and unearthly beautiful in appearance. However, the villagers did not approach the strangers, after watching the aliens for about 5 minutes the group decided to go home. Immediately after the incident a strange Jell-O-like mass began forming on the leaves of trees in the mornings. After being touched, it melted, apparently as a result of the heat emanated by the human body. It also evaporated under the sunrays.

Lisa Dawn Messana was going to bed late that night when suddenly she was surrounded by about 5-10 "alien" faces somehow resembling 3-D, superimposed portraits with barely traceable human features. All she could remember seeing were the faces, no bodies. Her next memory was of lying in bed. She does not recall actually laying down but her next recall was of lying in bed on her right side. Her boyfriend was sleeping soundly no more than 2 inches from her. She could not move, or speak. All she could move were her eyes and she glanced around and was able to see her dog, Mucker who apparently noticed her moving her eyes and started coming down the hallway from the living room. Her dog was very loyal to her so the next move was very unusual. He stopped about 5 ft from the bedroom and would not come any further. Her next memory was of waking up around 0600A-0700A feeling very sick, like she drank a ton of water. When she took out her dog for the morning walk the animal suddenly threw up on the deck. A couple of months later feeling ill she visited doctors who discovered strange bruise marks on both her arms. She also suffered from severe headaches. During this time her dog Mucker (a Boxer) seriously attacked 4 or 5 of the family members (sending one to the hospital) for no known reason. Her cat also came home paralyzed in her hindquarter during this period of time. No known reason was found for that either. Recently the witness has bee suffering from unexplained nosebleeds.

A bright beam of light was piercing her chest area, causing terrible pain. She felt the stream of light going out her back area. She had to close her eyes as a result of the blinding light and the extreme pain. She then heard voices in her head speaking to each other, "Everything is normal, but it is early", they said. The voices came from several dark silhouettes that she could barely see through the slits of her almost totally closed eyes; on the background of the figures there as a blinding white light. She then lost consciousness and the rest of the events were apparently erased from her memory. She woke up in the morning on her bed.

As Rogerio approached the figure he noticed that it wore a beige colored outfit that seemed to wrap around its body. It resembled a very dark woman, about 1.5 meters in height, large dark eyes, with no whites and a small nose. Thinking that it was some type of vagrant Rogerio threatened to call the police but the stranger ignored him. The visitor then walked out followed by the witness that heard a phrase in his mind to the effect of "I come from God." The figure then walked to a nearby curve at the end of the street and was joined by two more similar figures. Phillip H Krapf awoke in the middle of the night and found himself encased in a luminous shaft of light, then involuntarily beamed aboard an alien spacecraft. Within a matter of seconds, he was standing before the strangest creatures he had ever seen, though not so different from depictions of alien beings that others have given. They were just over five feet tall, with dark, narrow eyes, nearly imperceptible noses, no visible body hair, and skin tones from grayish white to slightly tan. They were wearing satiny robes of varying muted colors. They spoke to Krapf in English even though their thin lips didn't move. During the whole experience the witness felt at peace and fully alert. These aliens called themselves "The Verdants", and claimed they come from a planet some 14 million light-years from Earth (the name of their planet apparently translates into "Verdant" in English, which the witness interpreted to mean something akin to "garden planet). They said that they had been recruiting hundreds of humans to serve as liaisons for an impending summit conference between representatives of the two species. Krapf spent most of his waking hours on the ship being briefed by the Verdants in orientation sessions. During his stay, he had a personal tour guide and attendant who went by the name of Gina. The other key figure among the Verdants with whom he had contact was using the name "Gus". These names were adopted for his benefit because he was incapable of addressing them by their real names in their native tongue. He learned in the orientation sessions that the Verdants have been space explorers for millions of years. Apparently they belonged to a handful of other advanced species to form the Intergalactic Federation of Sovereign Planets. Currently the group has a total of 27,000 species or members in their files. The Verdants also said that they had colonized a great number of formerly uninhabited planets making them more habitable or more hospitable.

A very curious detail (never before or after reported!) was that they had what appeared to be a plume of hair, tight up like a ponytail, that suck straight up from the top of their baldheads. When the witness drove closer to the object it shifted and became longer. She felt no fear and a feeling of euphoria came over her. Spontaneously she began to pray. The object radiated a sharp, white light at one end. Incredibly, the witness reported that as she observed the object she suddenly heard a voice in her head of a former friend who had taken his life in 1975, which told her "come visit me, please come"! She was surprised since she had not really thought about her friend in more than 20 years. While she drove on she had a strong internal obligation to drive to the grave of her former colleague. Near the city of Kronach she could not longer resist the inner urge to visit the grave of her friend and drove like a "fury" to the cemetery in Thonberg. In a trance-like state she went directly to the grave. When she stood at the grave she again heard the voice of her dead friend in her head that seemed to be please that she had visited. main witness was armed with a Ruger 10-22 rifle with approximately 150 rounds of ammo ready to go. It was covered with thick black fur. It was slimmer that the popular Bigfoot image, almost skinny. And it had a neck. Also protruding on either side of its head were long tapered "horns" also black in color. On the top of the head also protruded a horn pointing straight up. All horns were approximately 5-6 inch in length and were the same dark color as the creature. The terrified witness emptied a 25 round clip into the creature and then retreated into a nearby cabin about 65 ft away. The next morning they could not find anything except for lots of spent shell casings and bullet holes on a walnut tree. He thought he had struck the creature several times. Jaime Flores & Lauri Alves both employees for a local communications company were repairing a micro ditch on the side of the road when they noticed a strange bipedal creature staring at them from some nearby woods. The creature had large reddish eyes, and long arms that ended in sharp claws. As both men stared back at the creature they felt strangely attracted to it. And if not because they also felt scared they would have gone over to where the creature was.

A 14-year old boy walking on a field heard a low rumbling sound, apparently coming from a nearby wood. Curious he walked over to the trees and noticed a dog that was eating some discarded meat. Suddenly the dog perked up its ears and ran away from the area as if scared of something. The witness then noticed standing nearby a one-meter tall, thin, greenish colored figure, standing to its back to the witness. It apparently heard the witness and turned around revealing two large black staring eyes. Terrified the witness ran away from the area.

Five local residents, including a young man named M. Ryapolov, were fishing in a pond between a grove of birches and some cottages with private garden plots near Kashinskaya and Zarechnaya Streets when suddenly they saw a fiery red-yellowish globe flying in the sky. The globe then descended in an inclined trajectory and began to hover low over the ground at an altitude of about one meter. The globe-shaped object appeared approximately to be 3 meters in diameter. The distance from the witnesses and the object was about 40 meters. The globe was smooth, with what appeared to be a horizontal belt consisting of a row of spikes or thorns (each one about 10cm in diameter and 25cm long) were circling its middle section on its even smooth surface. A rectangular shaped door was opened in the lower section of the globe downwards creating a ladder, which was installed in the inner surface of the door. Two humanoids easily stepped out of the globe. Each entity was about 1.9 to 2 meters in height. They were dressed in dull gray black cloth-like tunics, but tighter fitting than those priests wear. The aliens had protruding noses, small ears, and hairless heads. Their skin was light, with round bulging eyes. One alien had red-yellow eyes, the second, lackluster bluish eyes. Both aliens had just slits instead of lips. At first the humanoids moved about as if they were "skating", but then moved about like normal humans. They walked towards a cottage, several of the witnesses attempted to get closer but Ryapolov dissuaded from doing that. Meanwhile the humanoids were returning from the cottage and were carrying an elderly woman with them. The woman was screaming, "Help me, save me!" and was attempting to resist. When the aliens finally brought her to the craft, she stopped resisting and lost consciousness. The humanoids had been carrying her in a strange matter, elbows pointed to the front. During the ascent into the door of the craft the woman slipped out of one of the humanoid's hands, but they quickly picked her up and moved her inside the spacecraft. The door immediately closed after that, and the globe-shaped craft zoomed into the sky. After that the witnesses approached the landing site but could not step into as they suddenly experienced cramps, convulsions in their bodies and extremities as if shocked by electricity. This situation was repeated on each attempt within 5 meters of the landing site. It appeared to have a protective field or barrier around it. The humanoids left clear boot prints on the soil.

The witness was walking on busy Wiltshire Blvd, when she looked up, and saw hovering between two buildings a large metallic hat shaped object, with several portholes around its rim. It was completely silent. As the witness stared at the object she felt some type of mental communication from it. Several nights later in a dream like state she remembered being in a round room with windows around it. She could see the skyline of West Los Angeles. She was apparently there with her sister and two nieces. Each of them had an instructor or guide. Her instructor was a very handsome man, with shoulder length blonde hair, about 32 years old, with a bare chest. He was loving, gentle, and kind. He had beautiful skin and smelled wonderful. Apparently she was taught many different things, one of them was that there was no such thing as time that it was a concept that earthlings only believe in and had grown accustomed to it. She remembers going up in the room in a spinning motion. They looked down and could see the San Bernardino Mountains.

The chief of a local children's health camp, Anatoly Ivanovich K sat exhausted in the porch of the office building after another long fruitless search for his 5-year old son already missing for over 24 hours in the nearby impenetrable forest. Filled with painful thought he rose and retreated to his bedroom. Laying in bed awake the room was suddenly filled with an unexpected bright light from an unknown source. After looking around he could not locate the origin of the light. As he sat down back in bed he felt a presence next to him, after turning his head to the right he saw a bluish circle of light and within it a short gnome-like figure. Stupefied the camp chief watched the fairy tale like character, which he described as resembling an old man with a long white beard, wearing a red sash and a broad white belt with a red cap. The bizarre creature was distinctively visible within the bluish light. The old man smiled politely and greeted the witness and then said, "Your son will arrive tomorrow". Then he beckoned to the witness with a miniature finger and rapidly walked towards the forest, at all times encased in an eerie bluish light. Despite his atheism Anatoly involuntarily crossed himself and almost unconsciously followed the old gnome-like creature into the forest. After entering the forest he found himself in an impenetrable darkness lit only by the glow around the short gnome. He followed the creature for about half an hour until they reached an impenetrable thicket. The witness, who knew the area very well, felt disoriented and confused, he did not recognize his surroundings. At this point the short gnome had already vanished. The witness was found dazed and shoeless wandering near the office building by camp associates. He had no memory of where he had spend half of the night. Happily his son did show up to the camp the next day, apparently unharmed.

A local young man named Igor V. Kolomiets (involved in other encounters) encountered a strange humanoid figure that suddenly appeared in his bedroom out of thin air. The alien was very tall and was dressed in a black or gray loose-fitting overall. Facial details could not be discerned because it wore a hood or cowl that covered his head completely, and the room was also very dark. But Igor could see a greenish aura emanating from the alien's body. The alien also radiated fear and the witness was immediately paralyzed, but was able to retain the ability to speak. The witness had been subconsciously ready for the contact and asked the visitor who he was and where he was from. Igor then heard inside his head in a cold, chilly and emotionless voice, "I am a representative of a civilization from the Canum Venaticorum constellation". Igor was not frightened and began to ask additional questions, he asked, "How old is your civilization?" "Two million years. We are ahead of your civilization by 1000 years" Igor then asked, "Are you part of the Black League" (Apparently a group of negative civilizations from the Constellation Orion and others). The answer was a resounding yes. "What do you want from humans" asked Igor. He answered "We need vital space". "What do you want from Irina?" (Igor's friend who had also experienced contacts with a similar entity). The alien answered, "She is a powerful medium. We want her. We will take her soon". (According to Igor's claims Irina is actually a reincarnated alien being, by the name of Inzeada). Next the alien stopped answering questions and began speaking in a monologue, "Your civilization disturbs and hampers us. We did not find Irina by accident; we "pushed" her to you, because we are searching for control of you." The alien paused a minute and then said, "Don't interfere in the alien or UFO business, or death will await you. You will belong to my race". After hearing this Igor became upset and yelled at the alien to "go to hell and get out". At the end the alien transmitted a message in his brain, which the witness wrote in a piece of paper in the morning. It was purportedly a message from his "Government" directly to the witness.

June (involved in other encounters) had been visiting a friend and upon leaving noticed a "heavy" darkness. The streetlights seemed diffused and dimmer than normal. As June continued to drive, the streetlights seemed even dimmer. As she approached the traffic light by the railroad crossing on the corner of A1A and Park Ave. in Lake Park three cars stopped at the intersection as though the light were red on both sides. While waiting for the traffic signal, June looked down Park Ave. and saw what appeared to be a tunnel. The streetlights were only pinpricks of light. After a long time the light turned green and June proceeded into the "eye" of the tunnel. The road seemed black and she could not see the street or even the instrument panel on her car. She down shifted and drove slowly. The 15-minute drive from her friend's house took 45 minutes. June arrived home badly frightened. Later June was hypnotically regressed to the time she was at the intersection where she waited for the light to turn green. June recalled seeing a bright light all around her she was not able to move and did not know where she was. She then found herself in a room with "shadows" all around her, across the room she sees little people looking at her. One is touching her all over. This being was holding something bright---shiny in his hand, about a foot long. It resembled a rod with a light on the end. He puts it in her body as she yells to her to stop; she is still unable to move. There is a very disagreeable odor in the room. The small creature resembles an insect, something like a praying mantis. The room is very cold and has a very bad odor. The being with the rod is further described as about 4 ft tall, with four fingers that he wiggled slowly. He had antennae as well as a beak-like protrusion on his face. The bed in which she was lying on was low and close to the floor. The room was described as curved and platinum in color but with a greenish light that came from the walls, ceiling and floor. She did not remember being hurt by the being. June further remembered that as she drove through the "tunnel" she remembered opening the car door to try to see the centerline on the street, but did not see it. She took her foot off the clutch. She remembered that the car didn't sway as it normally did and she didn't feel the road beneath her. The streetlights were dim and tiny. She also had a hard time breathing.

As curiosity overcame fear they walked towards the landing zone. As they approached an opening became visible on the craft and two 6 ft tall creatures, grayish-blue in color and wearing what appeared to be armor-like suits stepped out. At this point two of the men ran away but the third was caught by the creatures and was taken onboard the object. Inside the object he was put into what appeared to be a "cage". The creatures apparently used telepathy in order to communicate amongst each other but somehow the witness was able to hear their thoughts, as they could hear his. The aliens told the witness that if the humans attempted to capture or injured their kind in any way, they would be forced to retaliate. Upon being asked about their point of origin they told the witness that they came from "beyond 300 million light years away". Asked how could they travel so far they pointed out that they used the speed of gravity, which was faster then light. Moscow resident Mrs. R P Ziborova was visiting her mother in law and had stayed over to sleep in the small village. She was sleeping in the same room as her husband, but in different beds. She remembers standing up around 0100A walking outside and returning around 0300A. She remembers the times clearly since she was wearing a digital watch. She had inexplicably lost two hours of time. The next morning, she discovered a strange scar on her body shaped like the letter "L" about 3 cm in dimensions. It resembled a cattle brand; her skin became reddish around the edges of this scar, resembling a fresh burn. That same night several residents of the village reported numerous UFOs over the area.

The witness was working in a fabrication shop that made modified parts for snowmobiles. The shop was located in an area that was virtually surrounded by endless miles of farmland. After finishing his shift he decided to drive home with the top down of his convertible. As he came up to a long stretch of road he had to take in order to get home he saw something crawling on all fours coming out of the culvert on the corner of the road. The creature was huge, it was about 2 quarters the size of his car with appeared to be black matted fur that almost looked like a shadow as it moved toward the house that was in the corner. It never dawned on the witness that he had completely stopped his car in order to look at the creature. As the witness stared at it trying to make sense of what it was it suddenly turned its head and looked at him. He then saw two almond-shaped blood red eyes that seemed to illuminate out of the black void as they peered at him. The creature then turned away and slowly moved toward the back of the house where it vanished.

A Mrs. Sosedenko, who was very ill at the time, reported seeing the shadow of a cigar-shaped object hovering near the balcony of her apartment. Soon after that a strange man entered her bedroom through the balcony. He was dressed in a tight-fitting gray overall. He seemed to have normal arms and legs and head but his face seemed to be a blank spot. The alien then approached her bed, and the witness whispered, " I am afraid". The "man" then stopped and began communicating with the witness telepathically. He said to her, "We will help you, we will cure you, but you would need to come with us". The witness then asked him if she would be brought back. "No" was his answer. She then refused the help proposed by the alien and told him that she had a deaf daughter, which she could not leave. The alien the proposed to take her daughter also but she again refused telling the alien that her daughter had a large family that she would refuse to leave behind. The alien then went out the balcony disappearing into the hovering cigar shaped craft. Her daughter Viktoria Sosedenko also reported anomalous activity in her flat. The alien stayed right beside her. Then suddenly another voice came from out of nowhere and it said, "Go away!" This voice sounded like it was spoken in slow motion. It was very deep and masculine voice. Miraculously the being vanished, she was paralyzed from her waist down. Her brain seemed as if it was drugged. All she wanted to do was go back to sleep, but somehow she knew if she did something terrible would happen. Finally after much struggle she was able to move and sat up in bed. When he was near the henhouse he saw coming out of a nearby ditch, a dark colored creature that stood and stared at him with its arm raised, the palm open. He could only see the creature from the waist upward, the rest of it being hidden by the vegetation around the ditch. Correa was just at the verge on firing at it when a thought came to him, "Maybe if I fire my revolver the thing will make it explode in my face." During this moment of hesitation he heard the creature dive back into the ditch again. And then he smelt a powerful odor resembling crush garlic mixed with sulfur. Correa promptly searched the entire ditch and scythed away all the vegetation, but found not the slightest trace of the creature. He described the creature as "ugly" with the top of its head flatter. The eyes were bigger than humans, with yellowish spots on them. The face was wrinkled and the skin was dark. The eyes were big and round and unblinking. It had a short goatee of the same shade as its hair, which was reddish brown. The mouth was half closed, and was very wide and a bit squarish. It had two big, broad, very white teeth.

The witness, who for more than a month had been seeing, three dimensionally solid but transparent, boomerang shaped objects flying at very low altitudes over her house and yard, had invited investigator Harold Egeln over to discuss the matter. Around 0330A they retired to bed. Soon her 5-year-old daughter abruptly woke up from a sound sleep, frightened by mysterious knocking sounds she heard in her bedroom. She went to sleep again at 0400A, when the witness heard her scream again. She ran to her bedroom nearly colliding with her, apparently the lights in her bedroom kept turning on and off. As the witness reached for the light switch everything turned deep, dark velvet black, there was an apparent power outage in the neighboring area. At this point Harold had woken up and was looking out the window where they noticed a beam of white light that emanated directly from above the house. After several minutes the witness and her daughter went back to bed. Soon a bright white light appeared in the bedroom window, and she noticed that her daughter was fast asleep. Turning back towards the light she was startled to see a tall, thin grayish yellow being, standing beside the bed. She then heard the following words in her head: "I am Dralov, I come as representative of the Sirian Arcturian Coalition for Interplanetary Defense." The witness felt her body become very light and saw her sleeping daughter being levitated from her bed. In a trance like state they were escorted toward the hallway. In the living room they met Harold. Soon they left the house with a group of people all seemingly human, who waited in the corner, clearly illuminated by a bright white light from above the house. Someone in the crowd waved at Harold, and the three of them were led around the back of the house to a nearby vacant lot where a blue beam of light enveloped them and transported them up to a large craft that hovered just above the roof top. Onboard the craft Harold was surrounded by a group of small "little gray humanoids" who apparently knew him, and he walked off with them smiling. A tall gray being in a silvery white robe took the witness daughter hand and led her away, The witness stood with Dralov, and he pointed to an arched doorway that suddenly became visible as it opened. Telepathically Dralov told the witness that an Elder would like to see her, before the presentation. The Elder was a short being with large blue eyes and a black robe. He sat near a small, half circle table in a white, domed room and gestured for the witness to sit next to him on a white step like seat that protruded from the wall. The Elder touched the witness on her right hand and she noticed that he had a small thumb and three fingers of nearly equal length. He communicated with her telepathically. A man reported three silvery dark beings about 4 1/2 feet tall entered his home by coming through his bedroom wall. He suddenly became paralyzed. The entities then took him through his bedroom wall. The entities seemed to have had ceramic like skin with no seams or wrinkles. The witness thought they might have been some type of solid form of energy. Most of his glimpses of the humanoids were distorted "like looking at coins in a deep pool of water." He was unable to discern any facial features, but the beings were humanoid in shape. They had arms and legs but strangely their hands seemed club-like except when they sometimes showed "webbed" digits. On coming outside into his backyard, he saw the outlines of a huge saucer shaped object. It seemed to be hovering above some nearby trees. A portion of the dark craft hung down immediately behind his house. Behind this portion of the craft a light emerged and in an instant the witness and the entities were inside the craft. The interior of the craft was brilliantly lit, and the witness could see humanoids everywhere. He was put on an examination table. He was able to see dozens of other people on similar tables. Machines with long arms, similar to x-ray machines were moving around the tables. A probe thumped his right front calf. He was then flipped over and something thumped his buttocks. 22-year old Duane Berger and a friend Mark were camping in an isolated area and as daylight faded they had build a campfire and were sitting around eating. Soon they began to hear "terrible screams" that seemed to be coming from an old mine nearby. After a few moments of nervous discussions and assessment of the very eerie situation the two young men decided to investigate the matter. Armed with a tire iron the two friends entered the mineshaft. They had walked a dozen yards when they saw a greenish glow ahead of them. As they got closer they could make out the dark figures of two men in hooded robes. It was clear that they intended to block their progress farther into the mine. But as the two young men drew nearer to the light, they noticed that the two figures were barely five ft in height. They then boldly demanded that the hooded figures release the women or whoever they were hurting. Then a deep, mechanical voice boomed out of the cowled figures in unison and told them, "The women are beyond your help! Leave at once or perish! Leave at once---or you shall join them in the caves." The robed figures then produced some type of wand-like instruments and directed a yellow light at the two young men that held them both immobile. Next, they aimed a greenish beam against a wall of the mineshaft. The wall of solid rock seemed to melt away, allowing them to walk into the wall and disappear. Within seconds, the wall was once again nothing but hard rock. After a few moments the two men were able to move again and fled the area quickly, knowing that there was nothing they could do to help whoever was being detained in the caves.

A large solid red saucer shaped object that was seen over the area in 1995 was again seen hovering above some trees. That same night the witness began seeing "moving shadows" in the room. Then one night he woke up to see "a human like figure moving in the room." It was too dark to see any details other than it was small. Over time the witness found strange cuts, bruises and marks on his body, which were not there before he went to bed. A "raw" smell permeated his nose, which lasted for two weeks.

A couple and their children were driving on the Bodfair/Landernog road when they found their car engulfed by a purple triangular craft. The next thing they remember is that the purple craft had gone. They could not account for a considerable amount of time lost. The father was having trouble afterwards with a top molar tooth and he had to go to the dentist. A black unknown object fell out while he was at the dentist---but he had no fillings. The man reported the family's encounter to the authorities and he was said to have been visited twice by air force personnel, and requested not to speak publicly about the matter. Around the same time and the same area a local businessman saw a huge craft the shape of a "child's spinning top" while he was driving along the same road. The man said that the craft had a myriad of lit windows, making him believe that the huge object was capable of carrying hundreds of people---or beings.

The two witnesses saw some lights outside and went out to investigate, they then saw two figures about 6'5" in height, reptilian in appearance with red and blue lights on their bodies. The figures were picking garbage or something from a nearby neighbor's dumpster. The humanoids spotted the witness and attempted to chase and grab them. As the figures chased them, they appeared to grow in size. The next day, both witnesses found the dumpster in a mangled state.

The two witnesses were driving through a very isolated area just past the Yanchep National Park and had the high beams on since it was a very dark & cold night. Suddenly the witnesses had to come to a an abrupt stop when a kangaroo jumped into the street right in front of their vehicle, it then scurried away. As they were getting ready to drive away both heard a pig-like squeal. Curious one the witnesses grabbed a flashlight and went into the brush to investigate. As he got to the edge of the brush about 2 meters from the car he was stunned to see a bizarre creature standing five meters from him next to a gum tree. The witness crouched down to see a creature with two huge red piercing eyes. He then heard the pig like squeal sound again & the creature moved sideways becoming illuminated by the vehicle's high beams, the witness could now hear his friend yelling at him from inside the car. As the creature emerged from the brush the witness could see that it had a hairy body, a large head & large teeth. The creature gave out very strong sulfur like smell. It kind of half walked, bobbing up and down as if sniffing the air. It had no tail & large pointy ears, a pug-like nose & was about 5-feet tall. It made horrible snorting & squealing sounds. As the witnesses drove away the creature leaped up into the air and into a nearby gum tree.

After finding several of his farm fowl dead under bizarre circumstances, apparently killed by an unknown predator, sometimes completely drained of blood, farmer Romeu Takeda, 54, was standing guard near the henhouse when he spotted a strange hairy figure approximately 1.50 meters in height, that suddenly rose from the ground about three meters away. It had his hairy arms outstretched. Frightened Takeda shot at it with a 28-caliber gun apparently striking it on the stomach area. The entity did not fall or cry out but it staggered to a nearby river about 70 meters away, without running but walking slowly. He described the creature as being covered with short dark brown hair with large round yellow eyes. He did not find any trace of blood or hair on the ground.

The witness was watching the Leonid meteor shower when he saw 2 glowing amber-colored lights hovering to the west over the Gulf of Mexico. He pointed them out to his friends but they all dismissed them as being just planes. Suddenly one of the craft began to get closer while the second one remained behind. The craft seemed to glide towards where the witness stood. He told his friends about it and they all became scared and all four of them took off running towards the pier. The craft hovered about 500 ft offshore when it sent down some kind of light beam that lit up a boat that was anchored right in front of the witness location. The beam of light was shaped like a cylinder. The craft then hovered above the witness and he tilted his head back looking on in astonishment. He felt mesmerized, and then he felt as he was given a telepathic message or image of the occupants of the craft. In his mind he saw two beings facing each other. They were very tall and dark. His memory of this part of the event is not to clear but he thought that the beings were somehow reptilian in nature, dark green in scaly. After the encounter ended the craft disappeared silently over the area flying over some nearby houses. The witness has been involved in further sightings.

A woman walking along a deserted road spotted a bizarre humanoid figure standing still about 3-4 meters from her. She described the figure as about 1.70 meters in height, and very thin. Its head was directly set on the shoulders, completely lacking a neck. The witness could hear that it emitted a strange sound. Approaching the figure she noticed that the sound emanated from a strange round facial orifice that seemed to be moving in an undulating fashion. It wore some type of dark habit with a type of cape hanging from its left side of the body. The stunned witness reported that the figure appeared to be bi-dimensional, "like a photo." At one point the figure put one hand on his mouth, extracting a strange tiny object. The witness felt dizzy and briefly turned away from the creature, upon looking back the strange humanoid had vanished.

The night of before the witness, Noel Chandler, had seen a round glowing UFO over his horse shed and for several nights previous there would be three loud thumps on the house and after checking all around outside, no cause was found. While in bed that night he became aware of a light in his bedroom from an outside source, bluish white, then a figure appeared, no real distinguishing features---real large eyes about the size of horse eyes, a small mouth, and nostrils like small holes. The witness was unable to move or talk. He heard a voice in his mind that told him that "they" were here to collect sperm samples. Soon a tube about 1/2 " in diameter and six inches long with a ball at the end scanned his body. The tube was placed over his pubic hair just above the penis on the left side. A needle was then inserted; his left testicle was drawn up into his groin. There was no real discomfort or pain. The needle and tube were removed and taken into a floating sphere. Moments later another form came down the light, like floating in a horizontal position. It was a female with funny looking hair on her head. The needle and tube came out of the sphere and she inserted it into her navel. Then, telepathically, the witness was informed that their society was dying because they could not reproduce. They were becoming sterile; they said that by introducing new blood lines and clones, they could possibly regenerate their society. Their gestation period is three to four months. Soon the bluish light started to "close" in at the bottom and they were gone. A strange smell lingered.

A group of eight children, five boys, and three girls aged from 7 to 13, decided to camp out on the family property. Soon one of the boys, Ryan, noticed to the north west, about two kilometers away, flashes of red light streaking up into the sky and back down again. This went on for some time, and due to the unusual nature of the lights, Ryan called out to the other children to have a look. They did watch for some time then went into the tent. About 30 minutes later, Ryan, who had not gone into the tent, was astonished to see a huge illuminated object coming towards him from the direction of the lights. He called out once more for the rest of the children to come out to see. Of the eight children, five saw the object at varying positions in the sky in order of emergence from the tent. The other 3 were either sleep or not interested. As the craft flew directly overhead they could her a swooshing sound. All described the object as huge, with three brilliant yellow lights centrally situated underneath the craft in a triangular shape. And small blue, yellow, red, and white lights all around it. All described it as a "square circle shape" from underneath, and having three metallic, or bright silver landing pods. Ryan, who had the best overall view of the object, described a row of large yellow windows. Behind each window was a humanoid, described as having no hair, no clothing, large eyes, thin arms and legs, and potbellies. Behind each figure Ryan could also see some kind of controls. What appeared to be an orange window above and below the main row of portholes showed no signs of life. As the object passed directly overhead, it stopped over them for a few seconds. Around the landing gear and the lights swirled a white mist or vapor. The object eventually disappeared from sight.

Humanoid Sighting Reports
1998 HUMANOID REPORTS

Compiled by
Albert Rosales
dolphins305@comcast.net

The bulk of the 1986 reports (as of 2007) for 1998 are indeed bizarre stories of contact and abduction, some touching in the sexual aspects and of possible human hybridization. Among these there are some “common” close encounters cases of the early 70’s and 60’s type. Brazil and the territories of the former Soviet Union dominated in high strangeness cases, however there were numerous cases in Puerto Rico, Australia and the USA. Activity seemed to have picked up in the summer in Spain and Italy which also produced a few fascinating cases. However Abduction like tales seemed to be still the focus. Following is a list of the known reports with encounters with otherworldly entities for 1998.

Location. Near St. Louis Missouri
Date: 1998

The witness woke up from a night’s sleep to find herself in a marble like autopsy table. The area she was in had a gray mist with non-directional lighting coming through. She thought she was in a walled enclosure and when she looked down at her feet she noticed what she took to be a very startled alien. This was a being about the size of an 8-year old child, very thin in build with long arms and legs, gray in color and lacking any sort of clothing. It had very large completely black, elongated eyes, with a pointed chin and large head. The entity had a very large forehead with a complete lack of hair over its body, the being appeared surprised that the witness was awake and came around up to her face and telepathically told her to fall back to sleep but before she did so she felt that there were others off to her left which were observing these proceedings

Ibrahim Ismail and several other local youths were out fishing in one of the lagoons when they spotted what they thought was another “man” standing about a hundred feet away from them. The group immediately knew that the “man” was not a human. As it got darker and colder the witnesses stood in frozen stupor as they watched the silhouette of a giant man-like figure approaching their position. They estimated that the “monster” was at least 10 ft tall. The group was finally able to move and ran towards the shore as fast as they could move. As they looked back they could see that the eyes of the giant were large, bright and glowing. When the group reached the shore, they saw the giant arrive also but it suddenly disappeared. A month later another man was also fishing in the area when he saw a similar figure suddenly come out of the water and walk on the water; it also had large glowing eyes.

A young girl named Anastasia Stepanova suddenly woke up in the middle of the night feeling great fear. She felt as she was being observed and saw a gray figure about 1.20m in height standing at the edge of the bed, staring at her. She felt a feeling of aversion against the creature and almost felt sick. She could not move a muscle as the creature inched slowly towards her, getting closer and closer. Soon the creature was upon her and she felt its cold rigid body, she then felt penetrated by the entity. She apparently lost consciousness. Soon after the incident she became ill and began suffering symptoms of pregnancy. Visiting her doctor he was surprised that she was indeed pregnant and that the embryo was developing considerably more rapid than usual. It had begun to stir in a week. Soon Anastasia refused to visit the doctor anymore. Later one night she woke up again feeling paralyzed, her bed was surrounded by several short ugly entities. She lost consciousness and in the morning woke up realizing that her child was gone. Soon Anastasia went to visit a very well known and respected gynecologist, Victor Kozlov, who examined her and was astounded to find strange bright spots in the walls of her womb. She suffered from abortion-like symptoms soon after the incident. One night she had a very vivid “dream” in which she saw a 1-year old child with strange pink-gray skin, elongated eyes on a wide face. It seemed to be playing with animals similar to the terrestrial pig and hen. To this day Anastasia is convinced that the little boy was her child.

This was true as the witness had been going to leave the Gold Coast three times before but didn't. Then the woman told the witness about her life from when she was a little girl. Alla, a local woman was in her bed submerged in dark thoughts, her husband and her three children were alcoholics. She saw no future and had on that night decided to commit suicide. Suddenly someone knocked on her front door. She could only say, "Who is there? The time is late". But she did not have time to react as two strange entities suddenly appeared amid the room. The figures were generally humanoid in appearance with very black claw-like hands with long nails. Evidently the entities knew exactly what their purpose was. They then said politely, but firmly, "Don't do what you are planning, is better that you come with us." Where? For what? And who are you, Alla replied. Her guests explained that they lived in a planet with "shape shifting beings" that can change their shape and density at will "It is difficult for those being to perform physical tasks, that's why at times they ask humans for help". Their species also lacked female of their kind, and were having trouble in continuing their species. It was difficult for their women to give birth and that's why they invited terrestrial females to their planet. At this point, Alla half got up, intending to put her shoes on, but the strangers stopped her, saying, "No footwear is needed." Her next memory was in appearing in a large room, evidently onboard of a big spacecraft. She saw about three compartments onboard and in one she noticed about 20 human males of different ages, the second compartment was empty, and in the third room she saw two adult women that were talking to each other. In apparent bewilderment one of them was saying to the other, “I can’t understand, whether I am still in this world, or already dead and in heaven?” Surprised, Alla wondered why the aliens needed those elderly women. At this moment the door opened and the aliens appeared, accompanied by a younger human woman. “Hello” she said to everyone. One of the “captive” men then said, “Here is one more prisoner”. Moments later the young woman explained to Alla that she had met the strange entities as she left a dance hall, at which time they proposed sex to her. After getting over her shock, she agreed, since her life was full of marital and family problems anyway. The aliens then performed medical checks on both women and also performed some type of “IQ” test, that including remembering chemical formulas. They aliens were evidently testing their mental capabilities. The aliens spoke with the captives in the Russian and Ukrainian languages, but communicated among themselves in a strange “sing-song” language. Apparently Alla did not passed any of the tests given to her by the aliens, so she was apparently returned back to her home. But apparently the other female taken from outside the dance hall remained with the aliens. While speaking with the other earth woman onboard the spacecraft, Alla noticed five small globe-shaped spheres, resembling ball lighting and seemingly behaving like intelligent beings. They positioned themselves in a row. The alien commander then proceeded to tell them something, which Alla understood as, “My dear, you returned! Well go to your place.” Alla then saw six small containers on the control panel resembling ordinary wine glasses; the spheres obeyed and placed themselves inside those containers, changing into the shape of a mushroom.

The image of alien woman, longhaired with large black eyes appeared on the globe. This time around the alien woman looked disappointed. The alien woman stretched her hand out and said, “The time has come. Good or evil?” Diana saw a bright beam of light emanating from the palm of the alien woman. Diana wanted to touch it but was blinded by the bright light and the vision then disappeared. At that very moment she remembered her previous contact of 1991. While asleep the witness woke up and heard a distinct deep humming noise which vibrated her bedroom windows. She was unable to move and was paralyzed from head to toe. She moved his eyes towards the window and saw a tall man standing inside the bedroom by the window. The figure was about 6.5ft to 7ft in height, with a bald head and wearing a black coat, the figure looked human but did not speak but communicated telepathically with the witness telling her not to be afraid. The humming sound began to move through her body as he tried to scream but could not. The tall man-like figure then parted the curtains and the witness saw huge lights on what appeared to be the underside of a spacecraft, suddenly there were large flashes of light and her hand, which she had been trying to desperately move to wake her husband was suddenly released from the paralysis, she then grabbed her husband, but by that time the lights and the tall man-like figure were already gone. The witness was terrified after the encounter and apparently encountered a similar figure in 2002.

The witness who slept on a mattress on the floor in his bedroom of a two room ground floor apartment woke up in the middle of the night with a visitor beside his “bed”. He was looking into the eyes of a being that seemed ancient and youthful at the same time. The eyes seemed to be normal eyes. The room was dark, and the being was wearing a “Jedi-like” cowl---a dark brown or gray monk-like robe. The witness thought, “Let’s get on with it”. He recalled being resigned, and not about to enjoy it. When he awoke the next morning he remembered a lot of the event. Traveling in a craft replete with technology, they went somewhere. He recalled being free to observe inside the craft but he couldn’t recall more than one area. He didn’t recall being restrained and didn’t recall a negative emotional state, other than his own initial resignation. He couldn’t recall the being communicating with him, although he got the impression that he was answering questions. The witness seemed to have forgotten the rest of the event. (Witness has been involved in other encounters).

Two people who were probably stealing wood in the forest reported seeing an unidentified creature (no description given). Three dead goats were found at the scene. The goats apparently bled to death from round incisions under their lower jaws. Other sources indicate that other animals had been killed in similar circumstances around the same time. Other people saw men dressed like commandos or anti-terrorist police take the corpse of a strange creature away. Others further indicated that a living creature had [as1] been captured and transported to an institute in Warsaw.

Pamela Stonebrook, the famous jazz singer, whose first recorded abduction is dated 1994 (but she had earlier abductions, suppressed in her memory since her childhood) reported that she later had sexual contacts with a reptilian entity. The sex was very unlike any sex with any human man. On that night she was sleeping when suddenly she awoke and found that she was having sex with someone beautiful “like a Greek God”. The man was tall, blond, light haired with a beautiful face. At first she thought that it was just a dream. But the sex was so furious that she closed her eyes and enjoyed the all-submerging feelings. And when she opened her eyes next she didn’t see the beautiful blond slender man but before her she instead saw a reptilian entity with scaly skin. And that moment she understood that the alien visitor was able to camouflage its appearance. Afraid of the alien’s real appearance, she cowered back. But then she heard a telepathic message from her “partner” “With me you are safe. We have been together forever, we love each other”. Maybe they had been together forever indeed but Pamela only remembered the encounters since 1998. Pamela described her reptilian lover as very sensitive and very intelligent, his body resembled that of the body of a snake, solid, but smooth, greenish or yellow-green in color. The eyes of the reptilian were larger than human eyes and she noticed different tints in the alien’s eyes---golden, red and brown. The alien’s eyes reminded her of a cat’s eyes, with vertical pupils, but very beautiful. His neck was massive and on the top of his head he had a “crest” and two openings and a small bulge for a nose. Pamela finally was able to talk to her family and friends about her encounters and said, “Frankly speaking, I don’t care a rap if anyone would laugh at my story, because I myself could react the same way---before it happened to me.”

At a water tank storage area a security guard watched a huge brightly illuminated wheel-shaped craft hovering low over the area. The 45-year old witness became frightened grabbed some clothing and ran to the road and rode his vehicle into nearby Tocopilla, there, still stunned he entered a church, where he began to meditate. While inside the temple he was approached by a tall Nordic-appearing man that sat next to him and asked him, "Why did you run away, we were not going to hurt you."? The witness became concerned since he had not told anyone about his previous encounter. Frightened, the witness stood up and without saying a word to the stranger walked out of the church. According to the witness the last words he heard the tall stranger say was, "We will see you again".

The witness who lived alone in a 2 bedroom apartment was suddenly awoken not by a noise (or one that she could remember) and was looking at 2 small beings in cloaks that covered their heads and only left shadows where the face should have been. She looked behind them to see a taller one. The taller one was a little slumped over due to the fact it was taller than the ceiling allowed. What surprised her was that the first thing she said was “not again”. She was on her right side laying down when she made a fist and proceeded to strike one of the smaller entities. She drew her arm back to hit one of the small ones but it suddenly held up its hands to stop her which it did. She came within an inch of its hand but could move any further, it felt as she was pushing down on an opposing “magnet”. Her next memory was of being led (she could not remember if her legs were moving) to a disk shaped object that was leaning against her bedroom wall. She then leaned into the disk shape object and found that the material she was leaning into was very soft. She sank into it. The material was black in color. The disk then lifted her into a laying position and proceeded to float toward the bedroom wall that leads outside. She thought or spoke out loud that there was no way that she could go through the wall. But she apparently went through it, it did not hurt but she could feel going through it. When they were outside she felt that someone was definitely going to see what was happening. The disk then floated up and she became very sleepy, she fought it but her eyes closed. The air was blowing on her face and she knew that she was going up. Her next memory was of waking up in a room that was all white. No straight edges anywhere, on the walls the floor doors and window were all rounded edges. She got up but does not remember what the bed looked like. She walked towards some curtains that were blowing in the wind and the closer she got to the curtains she realized that it was some kind of balcony. She walked outside and was amazed at the beauty of it all. The sky was pink, a beautiful pink and there were white clouds. The more she looked at the sky the more she realized that the clouds were not like the ones on earth. It almost appeared that they were “simulated” to look like clouds. She noticed that there were ripples in the pink sky, just like when you drop an object in water and get the ripple effect. She looked down and saw a huge lake also pink in color and rippling. She looked back up and thought, “Oh I see there is a dome over us and is reflecting the water.” As soon as she thought this a small being touched her hand and she became sleepy again. Her next memory was of waking up in the morning with a big chunk of her sheet in her mouth.

Local resident Igor Vitalievich Arshinnikov was reportedly abducted on board a UFO, medically examined and implanted by humanoid entities, but his memory about this event was totally erased. However, he found a strange opens car on his hand, resembling a common pimple (blackhead) with a black dot in the middle. A year after the abduction the pimple had grown to about 1cm in diameter, and had become hard, and it then became inflamed with pain. The witness then pulled out (using pincers) a flat elongated object from inside the wound, the size of an orange seed. The man took the strange find to his brother Evgeniy Denisov who owned a microscope. Looking through the microscope Denisov noticed that the surface of the object was rough and homogenous. The object resembled molten metal or ceramic, he attempted to scratch the object using a scalpel but the surface was extremely hard just like a diamond. Immediately after being extracted from the skin the "implant" had been charcoal black but in a couple of days it had become red in color. The object was defiantly not a simple metallic splinter and the witness had not noticed any wound or scratch in the area before. Igor pointed out that soon after he removed the object from his body he began to feel better; he no longer had back pain or nightmares at night. He was possibly abducted again in 2005 but again his memory was totally erased.

A young Tatar-Muslim woman named Aihsa reported entering into a series of contacts with aliens from an extraterrestrial civilization from the Big Bear constellation (Ursa Major). At one time a man-like humanoid entity entered her bedroom and communicated with the witness via telepathy. The alien was tall, about 1.8m to 1.9m in height, and was dressed in a dark overall, his face was tanned, and he had large slanted eyes, a long straight nose and a slightly protruding chin. He hand five long narrow fingers. The alien said that his name was "IMA" and spoke about numerous different subjects: God, evil, and about the 5 laws of the Universe. Sometimes he spoke in Russian and at times bright, living images were transmitted directly into her mind like a cinema. She always saw "IMA" in front of her as if it were a holographic image, she was told: "What you before your eyes, its not entirely me" He added, "Information transmitted to you can be so exact to a degree that you will be able to almost touch it." At one point they argued as to the nature of the aliens, Aisha stated that they were neither Gods nor demons and she then received the following answer, “Aisha were are not Gods or demons. We are not from some unnaturally developed civilization. We are the same people as you are, but based on a different genetic base. So that qualitatively makes us people, men, but not in principle. We are not spirits we belong to the SAINA race”. The aliens told Aisha that they were inhabitants of a huge star system called “O-NAVAIL”. Their star was located in the Great Bear Constellation. They call their star system IR-SHIIR. Their planet is called NIASU which literally means, “The dwelling place”. And the center of their entire system (which is a union of 5 different planetary systems in different constellations) is a spiritual entity called TRON. TRON is the collective mind of all the representatives of the system. Aisha later learned that IMA was subordinated to his alien “boss” which is a female by the name of KILAMANS. IMA was supposed to take her place in this difficult system (Earth?) and have a career here. Aisha made an astral journey to the alien planet NIASU which she found quite interesting. Everything in the planet was surrounded by stern solemnity, tranquility and as seemed to her, aristocratism. The light there was dim (cloud cover?) but the ultraviolet rays were powerful like in the hottest deserts on Earth. Their cities had many trees and plants, and they build their homes in the immediate vicinity of the water reservoirs, which was cooler than the rest of the planet. At one point Aisha asked IMA if they had created the Earth and IMA answered, “We didn’t create anything, everything is the will of the Universe, but we have kept your planet under control since the moment of its birth”. IMA also added that temporarily they had established a base in the area of the Kerch Peninsula (probably under the Sea of Azov). They are “the 5th unit of a galactic star fleet”. IMA is the captain of a flagship named “The floating Butterfly”. They are engaged in guarding and studying the Universe and provide communications within. For some time now they have had responsibility over the human civilization, which was imposed to them as “curators” of Earth. On another occasion Aisha was contacted by an alien named LOESU which she considered to be the ideal of inner beauty and perfection. He was tall, dark skinned, with huge slanted eyes, no hair (his head was covered with something resembling a hood) a long nose, wide mouth and broad lips. He had very long and thin fingers. LOESU also had a very muscular chest, which Aisha saw since he wore something resembling a partially opened shirt. When asked by local journalists why she had been chosen for contact, Aisha answered that the aliens did not have the right to communicate with any human. They have to follow definite criteria to choose the person they were to contact. The “Contactee” must have the abilities that can play the role in expanding humanity’s mind. The person must have the aptitude for comprehending the existence of other civilizations and to promote others to realize the fact. They told her that they would be transmitting information to her and that she “should write it down or draw it”. The aliens told her that they had been preparing her for the final contact and had decided that she met all the requirements they insisted upon. They only asked her to pass the information on to others since they wanted to study their reaction. They also told Aisha that this was needed more by humans than by them, in fact they pointed out that “human souls were the smallest particles of the whole universal soul.” That humans had lost their communication with space and must somehow restore it. At one time IMA told Aisha that evil exists only in the mind and that we had the ability to throw it out with our thoughts. That meant that humans must change their attitudes. Only by understanding their role in the Universe can humans re-establish their connection with the Creator. The Creator will then help humans cleanse themselves from evil. But only the humans had the choice to destroy of save themselves. None of the alien races were able to interfere in this.According to IMA the five basic laws of the Universe were: 1. The priority of Energy. 2. Creation. 3. Non-comparison. 4. Compatibility. 5. Eternity.

"Did you fall from the moon?" she asked the stranger, but he did not answer. Then she felt herself becoming unconscious. She awoke in the morning thinking it had all been a strange dream. However the next night she awoke in the middle of the night again and felt her hands become torpid, she attempted to lift her arms and the next moment her body zoomed up into the air. She slowly floats in the room, feeling a pleasant weightlessness, looking around at everything in the room, realizing that this was really happening to her. She then felt someone touching the comforter that covered her body. She then realized that she was not floating by herself, in fact someone else appeared to be "carrying" her, they floated from room to room, to the corridor and then towards the kitchen window. Remembering that she lived in the 5th floor, Marina began to feverishly pray. Apparently the next moment she was returned back to her bed, she could not remember anything else. The strange man then began visiting her almost every night. He would pull Marina out of bed, "teaching" her to walk through walls and to feel free while levitating in the air. One night she managed to switch on the light as the stranger was in the room in an attempt to get a better look at the stranger. The man was wearing a huge mask-like visor on his face, he had light hair and was of athletic built and was wearing a black tight-fitting coverall. Soon, after teaching Marina "the necessary skills" the mysterious alien "teacher" did not return. Apparently from that day on Marina was able to levitate independently.

A total of 7 witnesses including the main witness M D were driving to a hunting expedition in two cars: a Peugeot 306 driven by M D and a Lancia with J M being the only occupant and his dog. The meeting place was a location called "La Guibarderie" near the little hamlet of "Le Ruel" not far from Haravilliers. Independently, M K was on his way to the meeting place in his Mercedes. The weather conditions were exceptionally clear and many stars were visible. As the two cars approached the parking area at the hunting preserve, their occupants see through their windshield a bright illumination in the sky in the horizon. Soon a huge black round object (30 to 45 m in diameter) comes towards them, slowly gliding only about 20 meters above the ground. The first thing M D notices are a series of large projectors disposed on 6 to 7 light ramps, like those of a stadium. Measuring 5 x 3 m, each ramp bears, red, green and yellow spotlights. The beams do not light up the surrounding area. They resemble those of a Christmas tree decoration. Inexplicably, M D does not stop the car and the Peugeot continues to approach the location where the object is hovering. M D feels compelled to lower the glass on the driver's seat side to get a better look. As the car passes just beneath the object, a bit on the left side, he can see a dull gray platform with a brighter octagonal contraption in the center (about 15 m) resembling a screw with a middle round aperture (diameter 6 m) punched with 8 regularly disposed exhaust type portholes about 1m in diameter. Next, a beam of light comes down to the ground, and then the 4 Peugeot occupants see three green, red and yellow beams converging on the parked Mercedes. There follows a gap of 3 minutes during which, nobody remembers what occurred, and the five witnesses find themselves 1200m father from their original position without M D remembering having driven the distance. The object is no longer in sight. The two cars then meet in the parking lot and the Mercedes driver confirms that he had been also bathed in the light-beams that poured down on the Mercedes. The three cars then resumed their journey to the meeting place, everybody feeling a bit dazed. The six friends did not mention the incident to the other 25 hunters in the party. On January 15 M D begins to suffer from acute conjunctivitis, which led him to consult an eye doctor. Around April 20 M D's memory begins to return little by little. He recalls having been levitated into the hovering UFO through the central hole. Inside he was confronted by a humanoid figure about 1.20m in height, completely covered in a diving suit, his face was hidden behind a metallic cylindrical dull-black helmet. This helmet was about 42-43 cm high and about 32-33 cm in width. It had a curved top, two round holes were the eyes should have been and a wide horizontal double row of "piano keys" resembling a row of straight white teeth, making it look like a mouth, which remained closed at all times. This gave the mask a somewhat shamanic and sinister appearance. At one point the entity said something like "Tobro", which M D assumed could be the name of his place of origin. Although he only remembers having seen this one creature, he had the impression that there were other unseen entities in the object. He was placed on a table but does not remember having been subjected to a physical examination. A pale white-beige light that seemed to emanate from all directions illuminated the room. A strange putrid odor permeated the room. M D thinks that an implant was inserted into his body. Later it was revealed that a gamekeeper located not far from where the men were to meet testified having heard "the sound of heavy engines, not unlike that of a Boeing 747" a few minutes later he saw a big round dark object emitting three colored beams of light.

An employee at a cow ranch that belonged to the University of Puerto Rico, Carlos David Vargas Montalvo was doing his usual morning chores of rounding up the cows from the feeding lot. Like usual and without any apparent fright the animals responded to his call and lined up, except for what he thought was one white cow that remained back in the field without moving. Curious he called the "cow" again but again there was no response, he decided to walk over thinking that the animal could be hurt or sick. As he approached the white form on the ground he kept calling it, when suddenly the supposed cow began to twist and turn on the ground and took out two huge white wings, at this point the stunned Montalvo realized that it was not a cow but a bizarre winged bird-like creature, totally white in color. Stunned the witness watch ed the creature rise up on his wings and disappeared quickly towards the nearby Laguna Cartagena. A heart patient, Montalvo was in shock for the next several hours.

A local couple reported that their week old baby boy, Dave Nagawang, was killed by an "aswang" (a mythical winged creature). Dave, his parents and neighbors said, was found dead early in the morning with blood in his mouth and on the walls near his bed. Rumors circulated that an aswang killed the boy. Neighbors reported hearing something bigger than a cat walking on the roof, and of the sounds of wings flapping overhead, of a strange bird-like chirping at night: "ik-ik-ik. Subsequent sightings of the aswang or some say is flying counterpart the mana-nanggal were reported in Marikina, Pasig and Navotas. So far, the aswang has allegedly claimed the lives of an old man and an old woman, and a middle-aged widow. The creature is believed to be malevolent and preys particularly on women, babies and young children. Is reported to be "dog-like" with wings, and glowing red eyes.

Paula Copestake, her husband Phillip, and 8-year-old son Edward were visiting the Neolithic site in a crisp clear afternoon. While Mr. Copestake was busying himself taking photographs of the forecourt area, Paula Copestake climbed to the top of the mound in order to take in the panoramic view and to enjoy the solitude. She was therefore disappointed to see a group of people moving towards the site from the northwest, across and adjacent field. At first sight there seemed to be about five people, one smaller in front and the others in two pairs, walking quickly towards Belas Knap along the field boundary which forms part of the Cotswold Way. They faced forward and were all dressed alike in dark, grayish black clothes with pale, oval, translucent faces beneath pointed hoods. They were only a few hundred yards away. Her son briefly distracted her, and when she looked back again she was startled by the emergence of more figures in the group. She told her husband that “hundreds” of people were coming and she impatiently told him to hurry because there seemed to be at least a dozen of them walking purposefully towards their location. They seemed to emerge from the dark shadows of the overhanging evergreen trees and bushes along the boundary between the two nearby fields. Every figure was hooded and they still followed the smaller figure at the front. She assumed that the lead figure must have been a child of about 12 because he was half the height of the others. She could not see any part of their bodies below knee level so she thought they must have been walking through long pale dead grass that obscured their lower limbs. They walked closely along the hedge line in silence, never turning to their companions but all walking at a vigorous pace, so she was surprised to see that they appeared to be in the same position as before in the field. They did not appear to have made any progress in reaching the long barrow, despite their fairly rapid pace. They appeared to walk down a slope and up again as if going down into a ditch and up the other side. Annoyed at the intrusion the witness took one final look at them and then deliberately turned her back and walked to the other end of the mound. Disturbingly, they had seemed to be even further away than ever although still moving as purposefully toward them. She then joined her son and husband who had finished his activities as he climbed up to mound to look he was surprised to see no one at all.

A recent attack by covert forces with a deadly Saran-like nerve gas on an “alien” spaceport under the Mount Blanca mastiff ended in disaster when the gas overcame the attacking forces and a quarter of the personnel involved had to be medically evacuated. Around 30 people from the CSETI group saw several flying objects nearby at the same time Greer and Sheri Adamiak, went up the trail alone, and remote viewed several entities inside the mountain. When they came back down the trail to get the rest of the group they all saw Greer disappear in a “gold light” which seemed to be coming from above them. Then a semi-circle of a dozen alien elders all different size, surrounded Greer who seemed to then disappear. The aliens then communicated with Greer. They told him that they were under attack in the mountain by covert military forces. The experience lasted for about 20 minutes.

After taking some photos the witness ran home because he was scared. During the next day he saw many black helicopters flying around the zone, he then decided to go see what had happened. As more than a dozen men worked at a local vineyard located at the edge of the road they suddenly noticed a strange object approaching in their direction from a northern-south trajectory. The craft flew at a low altitude, witnesses described the object as resembling a large beach ball which changed colors, and most witnesses described the object as shaped like a globe. One of the witnesses 22-year old Rosita Nuñez described the object as being gray and globe shaped as it flew silently over the witness's heads. It flew over a small eucalyptus grove and landed on the side of a mountain, at about 800 meters from the astounded witnesses. The object landed in front of at least 20 witnesses. After the object landed the witnesses saw that it appeared to be somewhat hexagonal in shape as a door opened on the craft. As the door on the object opened heavy smoke seemed to come out from it and at the same time a figure dressed in all black jumped out of the craft. The humanoid was described as human-like dressed in all black wearing a tight-fitting black helmet. The creature raised its arms and remained standing next to the smoking object. Two minutes later there was an explosion without any sound, and the witnesses saw multicolored lights and a bright flame rose up into the air, which suddenly turned off. The explosion apparently emanated extreme heat as the surrounding vegetation, including trees and brush immediately caught fire. The flames achieved a very strong and high level and the fate of the humanoid and the object remained unknown as no trace of either one was found at the site.

A local woman and member of the town's administration, N.G., was walking her dog and while walking near a strip of forest, she let her dog loose so he could run in the trees and the fresh snow. Suddenly N. G. felt the presence of someone behind her back and some force compelled to turn around. She then saw at about 150-200m away a large foggy globe, white in color, about 8-9meters in diameter. The globe was moving at an altitude of about 40-50meters from the ground. Inside the globe the witness could see saw several smaller sized globes. A feeling of fear and discomfort seemed to increase with each passing second, for a long time she stood in a sort of stupor watching the object, she could not remember how long. And her dog who before had been frolicking in the snow and trees, was now hiding between her legs and whining loudly, the barking of other dogs could be heard from afar. Apparently this sound alarmed the apparent alien guests since the globe began to slowly rise upwards and then vanished. Several seconds after the UFO had vanished another very interesting event took place. N.G. briefly glanced at a nearby snowy field and saw a large black “car”. The “car” was very beautiful, long, with a sleek streamlined aerodynamic shape, similar to a foreign limousine. It was dark but the woman distinctly saw two passengers inside the “car”. They were dressed in black, and not in suits, but in something that reminded her of “spacesuits”. At that moment N.G. felt a very strong fear and for a few seconds she covered her eyes with her hands. When she opened her eyes again, she saw a bright flash of light and the strange modern looking “foreign car” had vanished without a trace. Despite the distance N.G. ran home very quickly and terribly scared. She could not sleep and had to take a sleeping pill. In the morning she told her neighbor and together they went to the location of the event. There they found the distinct tracks of automobile tires imprinted in the snow, but there were not traces which indicated how the car had arrived or left the location, as if the car had simply zoomed up into the air and flew away. There were no other traces. Since the incident N.G. has had the feeling of being watched, she also saw “things” connected to UFOs on several occasions. (No more specifics on that).

The main witness, a local female resident and accountant was in a bus together with several other passengers on their way to the bank in the town of Yalta when she noticed that as the bus passed under a high bridge overpass near the river and before turning into the highway, there was a strange object or “construction” nearby on the slope of the road (this in midday in the presence of dozens of witnesses). The weird “building” or structure was bizarre in nature, rhomb-shaped, seemingly made out of rusty metal. The structure itself consisted of several interconnected triangle-shaped surfaces. Near the weird building she saw three tall men apparently doing something near the structure. It appeared that the three men were very “worried” about something and were in much of a hurry. All three were dressed in tight-fitting black suits resembling those of diver suits. In appearance they were pleasant looking, very tall, about 1.9 to 2.0 meters, their faces resembled that of normal men, though the witness had very little time to observe other details. The most amazing detail of all was that the rest of the passengers on the bus (about 15-20) as well as the driver, absolutely did not pay any attention to the strange structure of the 3 tall men on the side of the road, and when the bus passed by none of the other passengers commented or talked about it. The rest of the passengers appeared to have been under some kind of hypnotic control. At first she thought that the men had been only just common workers but on her way back from Yalta she stopped at the location where she had seen the strange building and the men and was surprised that the place was now “empty”. The witness, not knowing how, suddenly found himself sitting on a comfortable chair or couch. The room was extremely illuminated and as he looked up he saw six strange figures looking down on him. He could only see the facial features of one of the creatures, which appeared “dwarf-like” it appeared to have normal eyes, ears, nose and neck. The back of its head appeared to have a large curved bump-like protrusion. The couch appeared to be free-floating on the floor in front of a large screen display. It showed what appeared to be a space scene with the highest quality colors he had ever seen. Linguistic communication with the humanoids was made with a kind of “language computer” the voice was clearly understandable, slow and in flowing German. The figures left the room and the witness was left alone to ask questions. On the screen there appeared a view of the solar system. He was shown what appeared to be a huge floating space station around the moon and numerous small flying objects. He was instructed to push several buttons, which enable him to hear detailed technical explanations. The aliens told the witness that they came from a planet (name not understood), which could be probably be seen by the humans with today’s radio telescopes, however it was millions of light years away. They pointed out however that distance was insignificant for them since they use “9 dimensions” to travel. They also mentioned that there were countless of inhabited planets with intelligent life in the universe. He was told that many of the alien’s races were genetically mixed with humans. The whole time there he saw free floating images of what appeared to be sites in ancient temples in South America during festive periods, which appeared to be 7,000 years before Christ. He also saw ancient locomotive engines, circa 1890. However he was not shown future images. Soon he was submitted to different physical examinations. Soon he was suffering from a terrific headache and at that point a figure wearing a tight-fitting dark green coverall approached him. It had extremely thin legs, large lash-less staring eyes; it was totally silent and emotionless. The witness was given a type of pill in a spoon; within minutes the headache was gone. Soon after that he was apparently shown what appeared to have been a hologram, which displayed 3-dimensional images off the human body. A round black hole appeared in which the witness inserted his hand, as he did the image of the hand seemed to divide itself into 9 separate images. After that, still in front of the white wall, an image of larger dark hole was shown, in which the light appeared to be absorbed. Soon three-dimensional images of what appeared to be a computer screen with instructions in English appeared in front of the white wall. Feeling very exhausted the witness was given additional pills. Many of the formulas displayed on the white wall were unintelligible and he could not understand many of it. He was apparently shown formulas and images having to do with gravity and anti-gravity devices. He was eventually released by the aliens into his bedroom.

39-year old Antonio McCoy found himself inside a round whitish, blue room. Apparently he was lying down on something. A figure wearing a bluish shiny suit approached him. The being was carrying something resembling a “tine tuning fork” and was attempting to place it on the witness torso area. The witness attempted to resist but an invisible force kept him still. He experienced severe headaches after the incident and reported seeing strange black helicopters flying around his neighborhood.

Damaso Rosales is awakened by lights which approach his location from the southeast. As they got closer he could see that it was an object with multicolored flashing lights and silent which began to descend near his house which was located on a hill located about 1km from town. As he approached to within 5 meters from the object he could see that it was egg-shaped, silvery in color. Immediately he began to hear a very “soft and sweet melody” as the object began to cover itself in a sort of thick mist, covering the lower section of the object completely thus Rosales was unable to see if the object was resting on the ground. Suddenly a bright beam of light from the object illuminated Rosales and paralyzed him. Everything then became dark and Rosales felt “people” around him that touched him and apparently measured his body and arms. Later the light turned on again, as he could still hear the soft melody. Slowly the object then began to rise from the ground and then at high speed disappeared towards the north. While he was close to the object he also heard a humming sound, like that of a “sophisticated engine”. He estimated the object’s diameter as that of 25-30meters. It was found that the grass at the scene of the landing “was different” than from other places.

At least 20 witnesses watched a UFO on the ground less than 50 meters from the River Jacuruna. At first it was nothing but a weak light, it began to grow in size and then when about 60cm in diameter it began shooting out colored beams of light in different directions. A few minutes later a second light appeared, much larger and fluorescent than the first one, there appeared to be small colored images floating around its vicinity. Seconds later some of the witnesses noticed a humanoid figure about 1.80m in height standing close to the lights and at the riverside. One of the witnesses attempted to approach the location and ran away terrified as additional figures now appeared next to the first one by the river's edge. The figures approached the witness followed by the hovering colored balls of light. The lights then flew to the other side of the river and shone circular beams of light on the surface of the river as if searching for something. Moments later the larger light dimmed taking the form of a luminous tube, it then disappeared, and the other light also disappeared at this point.

The main witness, Ursulina and her husband were in bed sleeping when they heard a noise resembling that of someone attempting to open the door in the rear of the house. The cat was also acting very agitated. Her husband, Francisco, went to investigate while Ursulina remained behind in bed praying. Soon she heard a sound resembling a radio being tuned and then a bright blue light invaded the room. Looking towards the door of the bedroom she saw a strange creature standing there. She described the entity as being about 1.50 meters in height, with a huge head not in proportion to the rest of the body, wide shoulders, and very thin waist, long dangling arms. It had huge black eyes, a small lipless mouth; it was also hairless and had little "bumps" where the nose should have been. She described the clothing as a brown tight-fitting coverall, with belts and boots. The entity stared intently at Ursulina. Despite her terror she managed to ask the entity what it wanted. She heard an unintelligible reply and then screamed for her husband. At that same instant the creature ran out the door and disappeared down the corridor. Her husband apparently was able to see the figure run from the bedroom.

The witness was getting ready to go to sleep when she saw what appeared to be a figure at her bedroom door. Frightened she attempted to go to sleep and then she heard a really loud buzzing sound that seemed to increase in intensity. She began to pray, but to no avail. Her next memory was of floating in the air above the bed. She then blacked out. She woke up lying on a very cold steel bed, she was totally naked. The air was very damp and there was a sort of fog around the room. She then saw a figure coming towards her. She described it as humanoid, very tall, no hair and a white glow around him. She then began hearing words in her mind apparently from the humanoid that told her they were here to help. Another figure then came over and touched her arm. A glowing metallic object now descended over her, at the same time one of the figures told her not to worry that they were giving her information that one day would be useful. The object touched her right between the eyes. She then saw many different things, like numbers, symbols, shapes, events, etc. She then passed out. Later she woke up and realized she was able to move, she began to explore the room and saw a dim light nearby, she approached it, and it was what appeared to be a porthole. It was round with numerous symbols around it. Very geometric but somewhat different. She looked out the porthole and saw the planet Earth floating in space. At this time one of the humanoids appeared floating nearby and told her not to be afraid that it was time to go home. She was taken back to the steel table. Her next memory was of lying on her bed totally naked.

The witness remembers waking up on a black dentist-like chair with a woman standing over him. She looked very human and if he were to describe her she looked like a “perfect human”. She had jet-black hair in what the witness described as a “bun”. She was wearing an all in one black suit and she also seemed to have a black collar as well. The material was similar to PVC and shiny. He doesn’t remember if there were any markings or patterns on the suit but the witness does remember that she had black lipstick on. The woman disappeared into a room that was behind the “dentist’s chair” to the right of the witness. The chair seemed to be situated away from the front part of the room in an open but separate part of the room. The room seemed to have carpet, brown in color. His next memory was of being sat next to 4 or 5 people, they were all men. The men were different from the women and they had blond hair and were wearing light blue suits. There were about 4 or 5 of them and four of the men looked identical, again very human like in appearance. But one of the men looked different but he like the others was wearing the same clothing and had the same hair color. Again their clothing seemed to be one-piece. However the witness seems to recall that they had a yellow V-shape on the front going from one shoulder down to the chest and back up to the other shoulder. The line seemed to be an inch thick. These men sat in front of what appeared to be machinery with orange flashing lights. Only one of the men spoke to him, the others seemed to be busy. The one that spoke to the witness was the one that was different from the others. The controls seemed to be in front of what appeared to be windows and he remembered the room being a half circle. There were windows next to each other right across the room outside was black. One of the blond men spoke to the witness orally, but he could not reply, the man appeared to be able to read the witness thoughts. He could not recall most of the conversation but remembered thinking about Australia for some unknown reason. His next memory was of looking through the windows at a coastline, but he was viewing it from the sea. Then the woman that he had previously met seemed to appear again from another room, and said that the men should not talk to him and that it was time for him to leave. His next memory was of sitting on his bed looking out the window for some strange reason. After a week after this experience he developed an infection in the roof of his mouth, it finally developed into a cyst that’s still there today.

Dr Gary Lincoff and his wife were boating on the lake near the North Conway mines. They had paddled into a deep hidden canyon, entering between huge boulders, which formed a narrow gateway. Later they pulled the boat up onto the narrow beach and sat down for lunch. Soon they felt the air vibrate strongly like an explosion's aftershock. Dr Lincoff climbed up the boulder in order to check the area. After reaching the top, which was, split and he could look out through a sharp cleft in the rock. Two large, shiny round craft floated on the water just beyond the narrow entrance to the cove. Stunned he scrambled down and got his wife. Both climbed to the well-hidden perspective. Both craft were fifty ft to sixty ft wide and about 20 ft thick. Round, black-edged ports covered the rim at a distance of very four feet. On the topsides, hatch covers were open and moving slowly around its surface were spindly creatures that moved in unison like robots. On both ships over their heads from a central position was a slowly rotating hoop-shaped object. When the hoop reached a point directly opposite the husband and wife it stopped. So did the creatures, they stared toward the couple's hiding place and remained motionless. Sure that the creatures had spotted them they ducked down. They hid until a deer approached the edge of the lake to drink. They then went up for another look and noticed that the hoop was rotating once more, operated by a creature standing below it, which wore a small, scarlet head covering. All were small and wore close fitting dark suits and blue helmets. One creature placed a shiny green hose in the water, drawing in water and at the same time discharging something from another hose. Again the hoop stopped and all the figures froze. They stared toward the couple on the rock. Husband and wife ducked down, moments later they inched up for another look. Two hours later, dazed, and confused the couple ambled back to their boat unable to account for those two hours.

The witness then put down his tools and walked towards a nearby barn in order to hide from the strange object. However several seconds later something flew towards Igor from behind the storage shed. To Igor's surprise it was a very small humanoid figure about 25-30cm in height. At first Igor attempted to run away but he could not move his body as it felt as it was being held to down. The small humanoid entity hovered at about 3 meters from Igor. The small humanoid figure was proportional in nature and was dressed in tight-fitting coveralls. It wore a black cap on its head. Its head was small, about five cm in diameter, black eyes, and a slit-like mouth and a hardly distinguishable nose. During the entire speechless encounter the small figure hovered in front of Igor using up and down motions. According to Igor as soon as the small figure flew over his head his fear vanished completely replaced now by curiosity. After about 15 minutes the small figure unexpectedly flew away. Next day as he worked in the garden, Igor Nikolayevich saw two small figures, similar to the one he had seen the day before. The same taciturn mutual observation was repeated. On the third day Igor again saw hovering above the porch a small figure that appeared to be looking around, giving Igor the impression that "the little fellow" was looking for him. As soon as the small humanoid saw Igor it flew up to his head and 10 minutes later disappeared. After the described events Igor Nikolayevich began to notice changes in his body, which were officially confirmed by relatives and his doctor. The witness (involved in other encounters) was traveling just inside the Iowa border in a section of the highway surrounded by woods when she saw a small “man” dressed all in a shiny gray outfit with a gray helmet that had a split, large black eyes-shaped visor slowly wave to her from the edge of the tree line between the north and south bound lanes as she drove past. The little figure seemed to have not acknowledged any other cars except hers. She was compelled to wave back. The little man appeared to have been sitting on a small “motor bike” which looked out of proportion somehow. She drove on and did not stop.

The witness suddenly woke up in the middle of the night and sat up in bed. She looked out her window and saw a bright white light hovering amongst the trees. Frightened she hid on the floor and covered herself with a blanket. But the light grew brighter and brighter. She could not breathe and removed the blanket only to find four beings at her side. They were all pale in color, almost translucent. They were all the same size, about 4 ft or so. The witness felt spindly hands grab her and pick her up. There were two beings on either side of her. She was then levitated and was able to see her husband sleeping as if nothing was happening. The witness began to struggle and managed to hit one of the beings. She was suddenly alone, standing at the same spot where it has had begun. She looked down and found a strange looking white object in her hands. Overcome with terror she went outside and threw the object in the dumpster. Her next memory was of waking up in a depressed state and afraid.

A group of fishermen and their families including Sergey Kalinichenko were camped out on the banks of the River Dnepr. One late night, Sergey and his oldest daughter, Tatyana spotted a pulsating light between the trees. The pulsating light was located somewhere on the right side of the wooded area; it seemed to pulsate at intervals of about 5-10 seconds. They observed the light for quite a long time and others in the camp also woke up to see the light. 30-40 minutes later the witnesses noticed several humanoid figures moving in between the trees. The humanoids were dressed in white overalls and were moving in a strange manner, apparently floating just above the ground. In total the witnesses counted 4 humanoids. The witnesses debated as to what the figures were, some thought they were hunters and went back to sleep. However about an hour later Sergey was awakened by his daughter Tatyana and younger daughter Irina. The witnesses again saw the strange pulsating light in the trees. The male campers were awakened, and armed themselves with axes and sticks and rushed towards the pulsating light. As they approached the light grew dimmer until it was totally dark. When the men reached the clearing where the light was emanating from they saw a strange triangular shape craft flying from east to west at an altitude of a five story building. The triangular craft was sharply positioned downward, and multicolored lights flashed on the top section. The craft was moving slowly and disappeared behind some trees. The men then returned to the camp. The same or similar object was seen again on July 10 1998 at 2330.

The curtain was closed and yet the light filled the room. A tall, thin male being walked straight through the wall or the window and stood at the end of the witness bed. The witness felt mental communication from the being as he stared at the creature. Then a very white female gray type being entered the bedroom through the wall. Frightened the witness rolled to his right and grabbed his hunting knife he kept under the pillow. In another case a mountain guide in nearby Joinville said that many times luminous flying discs have been seen around the opening of the tunnel and that he had heard a chorus of men and women singing underground near the tunnel entrance. Then he encountered a group of subterraneans who were standing near the tunnel. They were white with red beards and long hair, very muscular. As he approached them they fled. Another explorer claims he encountered a beautiful young woman in a tunnel who did not appeared more than 20-years old. She spoke to him Portuguese and said she was more than 2,500 years old. Another man encountered a similar tunnel in the Serra do Mar mountains, and sampled a mysterious fruit from an orchid. He also saw several "subterraneans" talking to each other in high-pitched voices in an unknown language.

Peter reports that he was apparently "scanned" for the next 3 hours right up to 0600A by something that felt like mild static electricity. Sometimes over his waist area or his torso or from the top of his head down to his feet. During this time he heard a female voice talking to him. She spoke gently and continually without stopping to take a breath or to start a new sentence, so the witness thought that she was communicating to him telepathically. At no time did he felt scared but did feel concerned. In the morning he could not remember what the female was saying to him. During that time he also heard sounds like groups of little feet running on his roof. He thought that if they came in he would attack them and the running stopped. The witness woke up in the middle of the night to hear a humming sound and a bright light coming in through the window that filled her apartment located on the 3rd floor of her building. She remembered saying “Oh they’re here” for some reason she seemed to have been talking to somebody else in the room. When she awoke she was paralyzed and was unable to move her body. She turned her eyes to her left and there stood a small being dressed in a foiled, silvery suit with a scaly look to it. The being was very short but she could not see his face. She noticed the being’s gloved hand moved to his belt. The terrified witness began praying and apparently passed out. She woke up later and lying in a peculiar position in bed. That same morning she suffered from excessive vaginal discharges. Electrical appliances and equipment at work malfunctioned when she was around them.

The S. family was living with their two children in the vicinity of the “Old Town” in Warsaw. Their 10-year old daughter Ania occupied a room with her mother. One evening Ania found strange marks on her skin. That evening look usual she had gone to bed while her mom was in the other room. She couldn’t sleep and felt powerlessness as a strange energy levitated her from the bed. Suddenly she woke up in a strange room she had never seen. She was lying on a bed, unable to move a muscle. A black figure was standing next to her. It was definitely not a human since it had no face, and resembled a black “mannequin”. He grabbed her hand and it became itchy. Everything was quite around her and she wasn’t able to utter a word. Suddenly she heard in her head a voice that said, “Don’t be afraid of us, we wont harm you. We are looking after you, we need you.” The girl then suddenly felt the strange energy again and was floating in midair but suddenly noticed that she was now lying on her own bed. She thought that it had only been a dream but her hand was still itchy and when she turned the light on she found two quite fresh small wounds on her finger. She wasn’t bleeding.

The main witness was flying in a plane with his wife and mother in law to a place called Alto Paraiso. As the plane was gathering speed to take off, he noticed a small flying saucer off the left wing, it was very light blue in color and about two meters in diameter. The witness claims that he did not see this through the window, but via his inner clairvoyant vision. It held steady, “glued” a few meters off the wing. The witness promptly let it out of his attention. He spotted it again ten minutes later, but this time it was in the aisle of the plane about three meters in front of him. He nudged his wife and mother in law and started to point vaguely at the craft, but before he could say anything they both acknowledge the presence of the craft. Three little beings about a half-meter tall came out of the craft and wandered around the plane and then about 20 minutes later the mother ship came in and the whole plane was embedded inside of it, perfectly locked on. The plane then became awash with the little beings, doing different things with different people. One stood on the witness lap and placed a very high “technology energy jacket” around his upper body and then made adjustments to it. During the last 20 minutes of the flight the witness head dropped and he went into a very deep inner space, conscious but totally in the void. He came out of this as the plane started to land. Later the witness learned that in an area around Alto Paraiso there was an alien base composed of three small domed buildings, one for living, one for working and one for storage.

A young woman named Alicia was traveling in a bus on the 131 route, listening to music from an FM station on her Walkman. There were only a few other passengers on the bus. At one point the station's musical programming changed suddenly, rather than a soft instrumental music, a sort of choral music performed in a foreign language made itself heard. Alicia tried changing stations, but could not. Her fingers were paralyzed, as well as the rest of her body; a light or white fog began to encase her body. Her bus surroundings vanished. She was then transported toward a luminous point in space, which gradually turned into a luminous spaceship. Inside the vessel, Alicia reportedly saw a large headed dwarfish creature that took her hands and began touching certain points of her body. The creature softly felt her abdomen. Soon after, still enveloped in the strange fog and listening to the same music, she felt herself transported back to the bus and was able to see the familiar surroundings again. Upon arriving home the strange music still issued from the Walkman and later from the home stereo. She and her mother listened to the strange music, which was accompanied by an unpleasant sound. A few seconds later the original frequency was suddenly restored. The witness suffered from nightmares after this bizarre incident.

Two women were sitting on the balcony of the house of one of them, at Markou Mousourou Street, opposite to Ardittos hill. They saw a small blackish object in the sky, about 1 km away. At first they thought it was a helicopter but there was no sound. When the object approached, they saw it was a humanoid figure in a standing position, (horizontal). Getting closer, the flying humanoid turned its body once to nearby Zappeio park and then in the opposite direction, without changing speed or posture. It started to coming down and seemed to land somewhere inside the forest on Ardittos hill. They thought that the flying creature was wearing something like an "astronaut suit" because from time to time the sunset light gleamed on it. After the landing, the figure made some small mechanical "hops" ascending the hill until it reached a point just before the top, when it stopped. When hopping, it was not bending its arms or legs. Ten minutes later the creature transformed itself into a "bright spot" and then vanished. During the incident, there was a strong wind blowing but the movement of the creature's flight was steady.

Forestry wardens in the Sarny area discovered huge humanoid footprints near a remote unpopulated lake amid the dense forests. The footprints appeared to have been left by giant entities, measuring 80cm long and 26cm wide. The distance between them was about 1.5 meters. Authorities took the incident very serious and the next day the local authorities and journalists arrived at the lake and was established that the footprints originated from the lake and led into the forest. But no one dared to examine the dense forest, so the delegations went home. Local residents stated that they had never encountered huge animals in the area, much less humanoid in shape. 45-year old Lina Lozano Villa was alone at home after her husband and children had gone out when suddenly she felt extremely tired and fell into a stupor. In a state of lethargy she climbed into bed. Moments later she heard somebody enter the bedroom, locked the door and sit at the foot of her bed. She opened her eyes and noticed a figure extending a hand out to her, automatically she extended her hand also, but she wasn't able to touch the hand since her hand stopped 3 or 4 centimeters from the figure's hand. Her next memory was of standing outside a landed domed disc-shaped UFO, a hatch opened on the left side of the dome and the enigmatic figure invited her onboard, inside there was another alien who communicated telepathically with Lina and told her he was going to show her "their city", at this point the witness realized that the alien's mouth did not move when she heard the words and it became obvious that all the communication was mental. Surprised she asked the alien how was he able to talk without moving his mouth and was told that they did not need their mouths to speak. He then motioned to her to follow him, she sat on the lone armchair located at the end of an empty hall. The room was illuminated by an unseen source of light and as she sat down she had the sensation of riding up in an elevator at high speed, she did not where the two aliens had gone. After an unknown amount of time, the tall alien appeared out of nowhere and motioned her to follow him. The hatchway opened and at that point she noticed the other alien standing next to her. Walking outside she came to an area completely illuminated by white light. The alien asked her to go on, but she refused, afraid that she might fall. He assured her that would not, and took her by her hand, she felt as she was walking in mid-air. Soon she was at a location standing on a rock, not on a normal rock but on what appeared to be a metallic rock formation, metallic-gray in color. Pointing with his hand he told Lina, "Here is my city". She then saw an incredible sight, what appeared to have been a huge city within a "crater" encased in a transparent dome. She could not see sky, clouds, or a sun, only a white light. As she contemplated the scene she asked the alien why they have brought her to see their city. The alien answered but she could not remember what he told her. And then the alien said, "You will remember some things and others you will not". At this point using to fingers the alien touched Lina's forehead and her next memory was of waking up in the morning on her bed, which was neatly made up. She described the aliens as very tall, light skinned, small slanted eyes, very small mouths, lacking eyebrows or eyelashes, their eyes were of an undefined color. She felt at peace with the aliens, and felt that the aliens were friendly and wanted to make contact but were afraid of how humans would react, they seemed fragile in nature. She noticed that the humanoids wore tight-fitting gloves that somehow seemed to adjust and opened up to the movement of the fingers, she could not understand how it was possible.

The witness had just gone to bed when a bright light entered the room. The light dimmed and through the partially closed vertical blinds a light entered the room and circles it. Through the vertical blinds a shadow then appeared. The shadow or figure had an elongated head, sort of football shaped, a long thin neck and a thick body. The light apparently shone from behind the figure, which seemed to be moving. When the witness looked outside the light and figure had vanished and the car alarms were going off. Then he heard a low level humming sound that lasted for a few moments.

A man was alone in his house when he noticed a "girl" about four feet in height but featureless and dark, standing less than twenty feet away. In the two seconds that they stared at each other, he noted she wore a flowing dress nearly the color of the face, and her shoulder length hair seemed to flow into her clothing. The apparition then floated away and disappeared. Two hours later the man spotted "a blue cast" shining under his daughter's bedroom door. He rushed in, but the light had vanished. The man and his wife had heard phantom footsteps walking about the house and unintelligible conversation for four months before these incidents.

The witness was laying down alone in his bed (he was staying with his parents in their villa), he always kept the light on, since he did not sleep in the dark. There was then a light in the bathroom and the door was open. But he did not remember leaving the door open. He looked towards the bathroom and thought “My God, what happened? The door is opened. I did not leave it open. Strange.” And then he blinked his eyes. After he blinked he opened his eyes again, he was standing beside his bed. The room seemed much larger, as if it stretched. He then looked around and saw two beings beside him. They were tall, much taller than he was. They were dressed in a strange glowing jumpsuit. They were two men with red hair, they then hold his hands and he freezes. He then hears a message inside his head, “Don’t worry. We are going to do something and you will relax. This is for your good.” Then he started to move, leaning forward, but floating. He was now floating with his face towards the floor. He could see their legs, and then they said, “We are going to put something in you, then we are going to make you sleep now because it is going to hurt a little bit.” And then he blacked out and woke up the next day with a little pain in his back. Four boys from the local “elementary” school, Eldar Islamov, Anton Kireichev, Server Devlyatov, and Alyesha Alyabyev had gone out of the school building to use the toilet. On their way there they heard a strange guttural sound coming from behind them, and looking back they saw a strange humanoid entity climbing over the fence. The entity was approximately 1.7m in height. The boys froze in terror as the entity began approaching them. The alien had a large head, not in proportion to its body, two huge red eyes and a square flat body. Its long arms touched the ground and ended in three clawed black fingers. The legs of the entity were black and straight. The rest of its body was semi-transparent, smoke in color. The boys noticed neither hair, nor mouth, ears nor nose. The boys named the entity “the slug”. The alien approached one of the boys and put its hand on his shoulder. The boy felt neither heaviness nor pain and tried to push it away. The boys noticed that the entity had some type of device with a button attached to its elbow. The alien then pressed the button with its clawed finger and immediately the alien was “sucked” through the wall of the school building. Only the entity’s red eyes could still be seen on the wall. The boy’s skin turned red on the place where the entity had touched him, but he felt no pain or burning sensation. Soon it disappeared and the screaming boys rushed to their classroom. The teacher was unable to calm them and one of the boys stuttered uncontrollably. They feared going to the toilet alone after the incident. The witness was driving a diesel tractor on a dirt road at the edge of the Cleveland National Forest when he sensed a presence above him and, looking up, saw what seemed to have been a very large, leather-winged, sharp beaked Pterosaur. No feathers, bony wings and a somewhat long, narrow tail. It seemed to have a bit of red on its head and dark, dull green on its back as it passed away from him, probably 20 ft above him with a wingspan of 30 feet. It didn’t appear to notice the witness or the noise of the diesel tractor at all. Suddenly all around the “Pterosaur”, the air appeared to become wavy, almost like the effect of ripples in still water. The witness somehow got the impression that it was in another time zone or just didn’t belong in this dimension. As he sat watching on the tractor, the further it flew away, the more it looked like it was dissolving away rather than growing smaller in the distance and still with air waves around it.

A man reported being contacted by a race of intelligent beings for a period of 6 months. He reported that they were very similar to humans with the exception some had only one nostril opening. He also mentioned four races of beings. Some that were pigmy like, others were tall etheric looking giants (7 feet or more). They all had their ancestral specialty, working symbiotically to support the whole community. He was also told that they resided in four specific regions in the Hollow Earth. Near the inner equator, he was shown that gravity was at its lowest there. They could jump as high as 20feet or more, floating gently back to the inner Earth. He noted that none ate the flesh of animals, eating was a minimal occurrence. They apparently did not require the level of food sustenance as humans do. Partly because of their efficiency of how they think. He was also led to believe that their INNER SUN also provided nutrients through the absorption through the retinas. Hollow Earth inhabitants have that spectrum of light available all the time. On the surface we must wait for the sunrise or the sunset to gaze and obtain nutrients. Which explains why over millennia beings become etheric (transparent) their whole body absorbs raw full spectrum light energy; eating "food" is no longer necessary. Food is nothing more than a dense form of light at specific wavelengths. The Sun is full spectrum light. They also revealed that their means of propulsion was through what we call "magnetism" with the exception they utilized it in a way that redefined gravity as we know it. There were other forms of travel ranging in different spectrums of light. Light is far more complex that we could possibly understand at this time in our evolution of science. Our Sun communicates with the Inner Sun and all the Suns in the Universe instantaneously in every moment. Music is a rich part of their culture, the witness described what looked like a guitar with strings, but it wasn't plucked with a pick or finger, instead it was a shiny sphere when brought into close proximity to the strings, the sound was like that of a hundred crystal bowls playing in unison. (The witness passed away in October 2003 at the age of 64).

Local sea cadets in the eastern part of the island around “El Tapon” lagoon reported encountering strange little dark men, that were very fast and ran speedily from one place to the other, sometimes in a zigzagging motions and at other times in jumps. They were described as three to four-feet tall, skinny with long arms with large egg shaped heads. At times the cadets would see the little dark men jump into the lagoon, disappearing underwater. Around the same time they also observed shiny blue-white spheres that varied in size four to eight inches in diameter that also entered the waters of the lagoon.

It was a gnome-like creature that was standing behind a tree. He was very small, wore a white, cone-shaped hat and pointy shoes. Everything he wore was white. He saw the witness and both looked at each other. When she blinked he disappeared. A couple of days later she saw him again outside her window, smiling at her…and then she disappeared. The next time she saw him she yelled out, “What’s your name?” To her surprise he yelled back and said, “My name is Sebastian Polizar” The next morning around 0100A the witness mother also saw the gnome. There was reported poltergeist activity in the house around the same time.

A family was woken up by the sound of something falling on their roof and then footsteps. Looking out the window they saw a short humanoid figure, described as having a greenish head, with pointy ears and a brown body that had apparently jumped from the roof to their patio. The entity scurried away in a peculiar sideways fashion and was quickly lost from sight. No other information.

An anonymous witness was awakened sometime in the middle of the night by the louder than usual barking of his neighbor's dog. Being shaken from his slumber, he had a very strange feeling, either from something frightening going on outside, or from the remnants of a bad dream. To rule out the former he took a walk outside to see if he could pinpoint the cause of the dog's heightened state of alarm. He was immediately drawn to a strange light in the sky. The light seemed to emanate from three separate spots, the brightest being in front of two others, creating a triangular shape. He was now awake enough to know he was staring at a triangle shaped UFO, which seemed to hover not far from his home. He ran back into the house and grabbed his video camera. He was hoping to film the unknown lights before they disappeared. Running back outside, his attention was grabbed by a muffled sound. Turning in the direction of the garbled noise, he saw a sight that shocked him. He was now looking at what he described as "small ghost-like beings" that seemed to be rummaging around behind his fence. He gained his composure enough to set his camera to record, and filmed about 4 minutes of the beings activities. The anonymous witness was frank in stating that he was a student of the paranormal and had experienced strange occurrences before, yet none as strange as what he encountered this night. The small beings soon disappeared and he never saw them again.

The young witness woke up lying in an unfamiliar room paralyzed, unable to speak and surrounded by thin, greenish looking humanoids with red bulbous eyes. The green humanoid opposite to her was holding something in his hand, that looked small, pink, and meaty, reminded her of what a tumor might look like. She also noticed other "objects" nearby, but she could not make them out. Terrified she tried to scream and move but was unable to. Soon she found herself back in her bedroom. She had trouble sleeping after the experience. (Information discovered later indicated that indeed a tumor had been removed from the witness).

Geoff Evans (involved in other encounters) was at work when three beings appeared in front of him, although they appeared in a translucent or spiritual form, it was as if they were almost physical. It was obvious that they wanted him to be aware of what was happening. Standing directly in front of him was a small human looking being and standing by his side were two “grays”. The male human was slightly smaller than the witness and was wearing a white gown. He seemed petite and had long blond hair that came to just above the shoulders. This being raised his hands so that his palms were facing the witness and an intense tingling or energy sensation entered his abdomen and he found himself having an image from somewhere else. It was another female human he had seen during some encounters but she was sitting on a chair in a room talking to someone and looked agitated about something. Then it stopped and he found himself still standing with the three beings. Then they vanished and he was left wondering why he was shown an image of the female alien.

Laura woke up one night and attempted to look out her bedroom window. She could usually notice lights on the stairwell of the block of flats across the road, but this night the lights were not visible. There was mist everywhere. Laura wiped a section of the window, as there was condensation on it. She then noticed that a figure was blocking the stairwell lights, a round black ball shape with a vertical band around the center, which protruded out, just hovering there. It was level with her window view, as she looked at it, it moved off to the right. She ran out of her room to the balcony door to open it and get a better look. Laura doesn’t know if she opened the door, apparently she found herself standing in the lounge-room away from the door and wondered what had happened. She immediately went in and checked on her son. She noticed dawn was breaking and wondered where the time had gone; it was pitch back one minute and dawn the next. The next day someone mentioned to her that she had five small evenly spaced holes between her eyes; it took three days for them to go away. After they went away she woke up one day with four evenly spaced holes between her eyes in a square formation. Since this event took place she is having instances of possibly getting out of bed, getting dressed and going places during the night, but doesn’t know for sure.

Eva Trent had fallen asleep when she awoke to a buzzing sound. Opening her eyes she was horrified to find two strange creatures standing on either side of her bed. The entity to her right was about 7-8-feet tall, weighed about 300 pounds, had apparently no clothing and seemed to have either crocodile or snake type skin. The creature to her left was identical in appearance but smaller in height and weight. They seemed to be communicating in a chirping manner. Each of the entities eyes glowed. Eva quickly discovered that she was unable to move. As she stared at the two creatures she found that either one or both were giving her instructions telepathically. The nature of this was seemingly for her to create mentally visual scenes of various kinds and then “they” proceeded to distort that particular pleasant scene in a perverse manner. Apparently the creatures were intent not only to observe her emotional reaction, but also possibly to feed off the energy that was produced. After awhile Eva began to mentally resist the mind manipulation and began to pray earnestly. A short time later she fell back to sleep. The next morning the witness found 5 of her music tapes grossly distorted as if extreme heat had been applied. However no evidence of fire or odor was present.

Several workers among them V Beriozina, a brick plant worker suddenly saw a column of smoke resembling a cloud. As they turned to obtain a better look, the “cloud” changed into the figure of a man of about 2 meters in height wearing a silvery suit. Then a blue light patch appeared under his feet, the figure started moving slowly along it, leaning a bit forward, like a slow motion picture. A crowd began to gather but nobody had the courage to approach it and watched the spectacle from about 50 meters or so. Then another cloud appeared near the man’s figure and a woman’s figure appeared and also began to walk like the man, leaning forward. One of the witnesses turned to notice standing on a nearby coal hill, another figure; different from the first but dress the same. This figure was very much like an old man from the local settlement. Somebody surmised that he had dressed accordingly for a joke. But soon they realized that he stood silently among the crowd of onlookers. Soon all three figures vanished suddenly, rising into the clouds and disappearing in the sky.

Suddenly one of the witnesses realized that her friend's face was contorted with fear, and she was silent. She only pointed out the window in front of the car. At this point the vehicle engine shut off and the car was just coasting with the headlights very dim. There was a line on both sides of the road were beings with only their heads and shoulders showing above the 10 ft bushes. They had no features. They did not emit light to illuminate the darkness around them. They were very tall above the bushes and had very wide shoulders and the heads and shoulders were much larger than a human's. Stunned the witness immediately said, "They want to communicate. I am stopping." But her friend became violently hysterical at that comment, so they coasted on. The car engine started again once they coasted by the beings. The beings had lined the road on both sides for about 50 ft, or more. One of the women locked herself up in her room for two days and would not talk to anyone after the incident.

The witness (source) had an experience in which he received communication from 3 alien beings from the planet “Leahya” which orbits the Bellatrix in the Orion star system. It was as if his consciousness was taken aboard their starship. During the experience a man walked by his room and claims the witness was not there. He calls the aliens the “Orions” which were female, 6 ft to 6 ft 3 inches tall, of olive complexion, large almond shaped eyes, and 3 fingers instead of 4. They told him many things, including their method of space travel. The Orions travel inter-dimensionally in “time loop travel”. They use energy produced by flawless crystals and pure iron rods in conjunction with psychic energy that permeates the universe. In this mode of travel “time” is actually bent back upon itself creating a “loop” and the vehicle transects it in a straight line, but arrives light years away in a matter of days or weeks. The starship itself was a bio-molecular living entity named “Rania.” It is similar in concept to the starship portrayed on the sci-fi show “Farscape”. The aliens themselves can exist in our 3 dimensional worlds, as well as the 4th, 5th and 6th dimension. There is a 7th dimension, which he was told was the realm of the Creator, who they call “The One that is.” He was also told that the little gray aliens with black eyes are deceptive, and are in league with secret government agencies. The tall humanoid beings such as the Orions and the Pleiadians are the ones who represent the harmony of God. The witness has been involved in other encounters.

The witness woke up feeling dehydrated and was sweating. He drank a glass of water and opened the window curtains, as he did he saw a bright spherical object that was circling overhead. He took out his video camera and began filming the object. The object began making symmetrical maneuvers, apparently drawing lines and numbers in the sky. The witness felt mental communication then the video camera shut down. After about 10 minutes of circling around the object left. The witness felt a strange electrical sensation in his left lung soon afterwards. Later upon viewing the film he reported seeing three humanoid figures, including a female figure. Whereabouts of the film is unknown.

Police officer Alan George was patrolling an isolated wooded area when he noticed something strange about the night sky, it would seem to open up and show an eerie glowing light and then just disappear back into the darkness. As he drove through a rather large patch of woods on the outskirts of town he noticed a faint light in the distance that soon covered the entire night sky. The lights and colors were so bright at one point that he had to shield his eyes from the glare; it had red, green, blue and orange glows. He stopped the car and got out staring in amazement at the spectacle. The colors just seemed to dance across the sky in a circular motion. Mesmerized he began to see a picture emerge. He began to see the face of a longhaired man with a beard, thunder then erupted and flashes of light covered the night sky. These flashes where not normal as they seemed to be colored also and the tremendous roar from the thunder was like nothing he'd ever heard before. Suddenly everything disappeared and returned to normal.

Walking back home Yanna Tobin spotted a strange object hovering above a nearby field. It was a metallic gray colored object, typical round disc that hovered above the ground on three legs. It was surrounded in a bluish white light. Through an opening she could see three short figures scurrying around as if performing quick tasks inside the object. The object suddenly rose up retracted the legs and hovered for about 30 seconds at about 30 ft above the ground. A strange array of red and white lights seemed to glow from it and flick on and off in unison. Then the object darted to the left then to the right and departed at very high speed.

Dimitris Hellenas had taken his motorcycle and went to a specific part of his farm to turn on the water valves for the watering of the plants. The night was hot and calm. Suddenly he saw in front of him a luminous triangle, about 15 meters high and the same distance away. It was emitting a golden light. Startled he reduced speed immediately then he heard a calm, sweet, masculine voice that told him: “Don’t be afraid, I am the Almighty. I will do whatever you ask me to.” After the initial shock, the farmer did not hesitate a single minute. He asked from the luminous triangle to be relieved from the habit of smoking and torturing migraine headaches. The response was immediate. “In no time at all, the headache was gone. I took the packet of cigarettes from my pocket and threw it away. The permanent bitter taste I had in my mouth for years was lost. So did the triangle.” Hellenas was still shocked but full of joy and happiness. He continued on the road with the motorbike until he reached the water valves. He took out his flashlight, but then the triangle appeared again---along with the voice. “Throw it away. I will light your way from now on.” The voice said. Then the voice from the triangle told Hellenas to go to the shack and tell the other workers what had happened, of course he was not believed. After that, Hellenas came out and saw the luminous triangle again, which now told him to go to his girlfriend’s house. But her reaction was the same as his co-workers. He returned to the farm, having the triangle as his guide. During the whole time, the luminous triangle was flying at the height and same distance of 15 meters. He stopped the car and the voice then instructed him to go on foot to the fields. Using superhuman strength he ran there. Once in the field the voice instructed Hellenas to take the lighter from his pocket and burn his hand, he felt nothing but saw his flesh roasting, with the smell of burning flesh making him sick. Then the voice told him to put his hand out. There was no burn, no pain. He did this two more times. He was then told to “swallow” the flame to “clear all the dirt he had within him.” After that the voice demanded from Hellenas to hold his lighter and chant an Orthodox Church hymn, “Blessed be God” three times. He was then ordered to eat a handful of soil, which he did. He was then told to go on and do his work (fertilize the watermelons) and come back later to “talk like old friends.” During his next encounter with the “voice of God” he was instructed to drink a mixture of fertilizer and water (a strong poison) and after that to drink his own urine (!). During the experience, the triangle and the voice were intermittently appearing and disappearing. He was told that during the second coming “all the bad people on earth” would be eliminated. Soon he left to work in the fields again and return later but the luminous triangle did not appear. Soon he started to hear music, resembling many birds singing and then animals screaming, live wolves, and jackals howling. This went on for 10 minutes and then the triangle appeared again. Soon he was told to leave that their “conversation” was finished.

Claudio Castellon director of the Maria Elena Museum along with 13 other archeologists were surveying an old abandoned Spanish settlement when out of the hillside two tall figures approached. The men remained paralyzed unable to move as the figures walked by without communicating. They described the humanoids as about 2 meters in height, wearing white colored tight fitting suits, oriental eyes, pale skin, and blond hair. These humanoids moved clumsily almost robot-like, but quickly disappeared along the hillside.

Retired Air Force Colonel Alexander Smimov (involved in a previous encounter) and three friends were fishing in a remote forest outside of Moscow. At night they had parked their car under a large oak tree. The weather was excellent and the sky was cloudless. Smimov friends went to sleep but he remained awake looking at the clear and beautiful night sky filled with stars. He briefly felt asleep but was suddenly awakened and noticed an unusual dead silence in the area. Suddenly he noticed a star move side to side and stop in one place, it then descended to the ground sharply. Filled with curiosity he walked towards the landed object. About 15 meters from the craft he felt paralyzed and a dense of air hindered his movement. The alien craft appeared to be inside some sort of force field. Suddenly a hatch opened on the lower part of the craft and a platform descended to the ground. Several strange entities stood on the platform, they remotely resembled humans and had on "space suits" but very different from terrestrial spacesuits, they resembled the suits wore by deep-sea divers. Their faces were not visible, and the suits were dark. He had a sudden feeling of being watched or scanned and then heard a voice that told him that, "They were not going to do anything wrong" that they were just collecting water and soil samples. Smimov told the aliens that he was a former pilot and his great curiosity made him approach their craft. All conversation was via thought or telepathically. The protective wall of dense air remained. Smimov told the aliens that he had contacted them back in 1990, they said, "We know" and the wall of air suddenly dissolved and he heard the command to come in. He approached the circular craft with a tripod landing gear, resembling the time he had seen back in 1990. The craft consisted of two sections with its lower half rotating. The aliens told Smimov that they had "modified their technique" and told him to climb in. He obeyed and the platform ascended. The aliens were still wearing their suits and their faces were not visible, and Smimov wanted to see them. He then heard a response, "It is early, your air is not yet acceptable to us, and in time you will see us, come to the control post." He approached the console, the instruments were giving light in the semi-darkness and he could see three chairs in the middle of the room. He was told to sit on the control console and was told how to operate the instruments. He was told to start testing the engines and not to "mix up the sequence". Smimov began following the instructions but nothing occurred the craft did not take off. He then heard that everything was Ok that he was not ready yet that it had only been a test to probe his reaction. They said that they would teach him how to control the craft the next time; they recommended not telling anyone about their encounter. They added, “We establish contacts gradually, we do not need a panic among the earthlings”. The witness then stood on the platform and descended to the ground. He then heard a slight humming sound and the UFO ascended over the ground, the tripod landing gear retracted into the object. The lower section of the craft began to rotate, first slow and then at very high speed. The craft then sharply zoomed up and disappeared from sight.

Three men were walking back home from a local pizza parlor when they spotted a sphere shaped object, bright red in color descending slowly at a 60-degree angle. It had a weak yellow light on its upper section. It was about 200 meters away above a nearby rooftop when first seen. Before reaching the ground, the object stopped at about 6 meters from it and hovered. Through an opening on the top of the craft the witnesses saw a vaguely human shaped figure. Immediately after that, the craft shot up and disappeared over the rooftops in a horizontal position. Five days later around 1430 the main witness was returning home when he saw a white vehicle occupied by two men, parked in front of his house. Soon after he went in, the two men knocked on the door. Enrique Fowler and his grandson, 13-year old Jean Fowler were just arriving at a location on Yerbas Buenas street and Enrique was parking his truck, when they both suddenly noticed a strange figure standing only 4 meters in front of them. Terrified both saw the creature clearly illuminated by the truck headlights. The creature was described as bipedal and only 1 meter in height, ape like in appearance, dirty gray in color, and very hairy. It had a short neck, with a long rounded torso. When first seen the creature was standing with its back to the witnesses, the creature suddenly "twisted around" making an incredible 180 degree turn with the top of its body, in order to look directly at the witnesses. The terrified witnesses could now see that the creature's face was gray in color, with large glowing almond shaped eyes, and a small mouth that kept opening and closing as if very exhausted. It appeared to have a long scraggly beard and several tufts of unruly hair hung from its head. It had very short arms, resembling that of kangaroos that he kept close to the body. Its hands had three fingers with long sharp gray colored nails. A curious feature was that the creature's toe nails seemed to protrude and then go in again, in some type of rhythmic sequence. Suddenly the creature turned again, and made a three meter leap, quickly disappearing from sight in the nearby trees. Enrique Fowler was so stunned that he waited nearly 15 minutes before he exited the truck. Both were soon struck by a severe skin allergy after the encounter. In October 31 2000 Enrique Fowler, only 60-years old, died of a massive heart attack.

In a dream like state the witness remembered being in a field near his home. He is unable to control himself as he walks towards a landed silver colored object that rested on 3 or four legs. An extremely bright "liquid" light was pouring from it. Suddenly he found himself onboard the object, looking at several TV monitors that displayed images of what seemed to be different sections of the inside of the ship. He then came upon a humanoid that was lying on the floor; it had large oval shaped black eyes, and was wearing a shiny blue suit. It did not have any eyelids sot the witness could not tell if it was resting or passed out. He then continued on exploring the ship and came upon a monitor displaying the section where the alien had been on lying down and it was no longer there. He then saw the same humanoid coming through a wall towards him, he began to run and saw about 5-7 more similar looking humanoids apparently coming out of a hole on the floor. The witness then ran out of the object into the field. His next memory was of waking up in the morning feeling very tired. He found two thin scratches on his upper lip that were not there the night before.

After about 15 minutes a being came out of the stainless steel like craft and pointed in the witness direction. It looked like it was real close to the top of the trees and it went down into the field. It did not land, but it hovered silently in one spot. Soon it shot back up and disappeared. A few days later Rosie and her husband were jogging near the area where she had seen the silvery ball when they saw what appeared to be a tall, hairy man cross the road in front of them and disappear into the woods. The ape-like creature walked upright. It had extremely black hair about three inches long, or more. It had a big, cone-shaped head that extended down to a big hump on its back. Its legs were much longer that an ape's. And the arms were shorter than an ape's and seemed to swing as it walked by.

A father and son were hunting grouse in an abandoned field when they saw a bizarre looking craft hovering nearby. It was shaped like a barrel with bright red and green lights that flashed in a rapid circular pattern. It never touched the ground but it hovered about a foot over it. A door opened and a being dressed in bright yellow proceeded to use some kind of device that emitted several flashes of light towards the witnesses. Both could see a strange marking on the craft that resembled that of a rooster or a type of bird. The son wanted to shoot at the craft but the father convinced him otherwise. Just after going to bed the witness found himself in a dream like state, he was in an odd bedroom, with furniture that did not look like bedroom furniture, it was more hospital like. A person came in the room that looked like his sister, but was apparently not. They had a conversation and she left the room, then another person resembling his mother came in. They also conversed and he was told to lie down on his bed. When he approached the bed he noticed that it was like a metallic hospital bed, on the right of the bed there was a table with a sort of rectangular beige device on top. Angry he began banging on the glass partition of the van, and then he felt something on the lower back of his skull and lost consciousness. His next memory was of being let to a room by the man in blue, as they stood outside the room he saw about 15 people inside the room, all dressed in white that were casually talking among themselves. The man that was leading the witness now began to talk to another man inside the room who told him that he was "not a telepath." The witness then heard him say, "I will tell them you are ready", then he lost consciousness again. Later he woke up in an orange red-lighted room. Both recalled seeing a large entirely black “shiny” triangular shaped craft descend over their vehicle and land on the road ahead. They next recalled being somehow inside the object and two humanoids with large heads and huge oblong shaped eyes looking at them. Larissa recalls receiving telepathic communication from the aliens and sitting on a molded chair in a rounded room surrounded by four short humanoids. Later she is introduced to a small “child” (hybrid?) with a very large cranium, huge blue eyes and very short extremities. She also experiences severe stomach pains. Her father recalls sitting on a comfortable chair and a being placing something on his forehead. He recalls that the humanoids are similar in appearance with large slanting eyes and small mouths. They seemed benevolent. He sees other smaller robot-like creatures that appear to be operating controls. Their next memory is of being back in their vehicle, parked on the side of the road.

Paulo Cesar was riding his horse through his farm when he noticed that the animal began acting strange, as if scared of something. Looking towards a nearby lake he saw a large round object on the ground next to the water. Close to the object stood four humanoid figures about 1.50 meters in height. One of the figures appeared to be the leader since it was pointing and apparently telling the other 3 what to do. Cesar yelled at the figures that seemed startled and entered through an opening that suddenly appeared on the object. The object began spinning rapidly and shot up into the air quickly disappearing from sight.

Donald Kessler was returning home from a friend's house he was on a usually busy highway but at that time it was Saturday and appeared totally deserted. After passing the I95 exit he saw a 7 or 8 ft tall creature step out of the median strip and step out into the witness path. I had dark curly hair, a flat featureless face, little beady black eyes, no nose and a large row of pointy teeth in his grinning mouth. It was dressed in a brown work-shirt, pants and black boots. It turned his head looked at Kessler and then disappeared. The witness reported that he nearly skidded off the road after hitting his breaks. Apparently the witness saw the same or similar creature a couple of years later.

The witness was lying on his bed when he suddenly felt his body stiffened and he was unable to move and unable to speak. Soon a medium sized figure appeared in the room. It had small shiny eyes, and a "viscous" skin. The witness heard a voice in his head that told him not be afraid that he had come from the planet "Saturn"; at the same time that was said the humanoid emitted an "ironic" laugh. The creature then touched the witness hand and he felt extreme fear at that point. He was finally able to move and ran to the wall to turn the light switch on, but the creature had vanished. The next day he found a small burn on his hand.

Marko Batau was walking from Chawarura Shopping Center and as he approached the Hunyani River, he saw what appeared to be a white woman basking in the sun and sitting on a rock, half immersed in a pool of water. The woman was naked and Marko was surprised at this. Then he noticed that what he initially thought to be her leg, drawn up on the rock, was actually a scaled fish tail. The woman did not notice him at first, until he deliberately made a noise while walking on the gravel to get closer, and in an instant she disappeared into the water. A few days later, his curiosity aroused, Marko took the same route home. To his amazement, the woman was there, basking on the rock again. But not only that: this time there was laundry laid out on some stones to dry, with some draped over the bushes nearby. Unfortunately, in his astonishment and perhaps some fear, he did not see what type of washing it was, whether clothing or merely pieces of cloth. Again Marko drew nearer to get a closer view. Suddenly, the woman became aware of him and looked at him as though admonishing him. The next thing, she had disappeared in the water. The following week, Marko deliberately took this rather isolated shortcut home. Immediately when he reached the pool on the river, he saw the same creature there. Only this time, she was holding a baby in her arms and giving it a bath. Still puzzled by what he was seeing, Marko tried to draw closer to verify what he was seeing, but the moment the woman heard his footsteps on the gravel, she and the baby disappeared into the water together.

The witness was fishing at Bluewater Lake and as he sat on a chair by the water's edge he heard something that sounded like a dog trotting nearby, the trotting stopped and he could not see anything by the light of the fire. He picked up his flashlight and began scanning the grounds nearby. About 35 ft away he spotted something in the light beam. It was sitting on its hind legs with its back to the witness but as soon as he hit it with the flashlight beam it slowly turned its head and looked over its right shoulder directly at him. The creature looked like a wolf but was very mangy and large; it opened its mouth very wide; much wider that the witness had ever seen a dog or wolf open its mouth. Saliva was dripping from its bottom jaw and its eyes were kind of glowing red. The witness pulled out his firearm but did not fire at the creature, which remained totally silent as it stared at him. The creature then scurried into the dark and disappeared.

The USS GG 67 Shiloh (A Ticonderoga class missile cruiser) was patrolling the Pacific Ocean when its radar detected a UFO and visually. The object was disc-shaped resembling two deep saucers placed together, somewhat like a smooth image of the planet Saturn. The disk approached the Shiloh and began circling the ship. This alarmed the command staff and personnel. The order was given to use weapons against the object and several AA-class missiles were shot at the alien craft. The disk was apparently struck and it plummeted to the waters close to the ship. A rescue team transported the disk onboard the Shiloh. The disk was about 8.5 meters in diameter. A slit-like door was opened on the top part of the disk. Inside a crew of two aliens was found. 1 was dead either as a result of the impact or an explosion, the second was taken alive. The UFO was then placed on the helicopter pod of the Shiloh and transported to a top-secret location in the continental USA. Both humanoids were similar to the so-called grays but not exactly. They were about 1.5 to 1.6 meters in height, with large hairless heads, small noses, and large black eyes with eye-covering lids, small ears, long muscular necks, very high cheekbones and gray-greenish skin tone. An autopsy of the dead alien was conducted onboard the Shiloh by a team of Naval doctors. The second entity died in captivity approximately one month after the crash, he did not submit any information to the authorities. It is believe that the disc was shot down because it had already some technical malfunction onboard and could not defend itself.

Traveling southbound on Hwy 67 towards Hazelwood the witness noticed that a Florissant police officer had a motorist pulled over to the right side of the roadway. Upon closer examination the witness noticed the officer walking back to his cruiser and saw him looking towards the sky near a grocery store. The witness looked towards that direction and saw a huge black rectangle with large windows on the side. The interior of the object was lit up well enough so the witness could tell that the mass of the object was very large. The witness would estimate the object to be as wide as a five lane highway or at least 100 yards wide. Witness also remembered seeing some extremely bright neon or bluish color lights on the exterior of the object. The object passed about 200 feet off the ground nearly directly over the "Schnucks" store and flew over hwy 67 and out of sight. The object made no sound as it flew overhead. As it passed the witness noticed movement inside of the back windows of the object and apparently saw someone move from the interior portion of the craft to look out the window. The witness immediate impression was that it was some sort of military stealth blimp. The witness remembered seeing other colored lights on the exterior of the craft but can't be certain of the configuration as a result of the distraction by the movement inside the window.

The grabbed a Rugger 10-22 rifle loaded with a 100 round magazine and started firing at the bottom part of the object. The witness was apparently able to shoot out the light. While grabbing a second clip, he saw a hatch open up on the bottom side of the object and two persons leaned down and yelled "Stop shooting at us you idiot." He also heard a hissing sound resembling air escaping from a flat tire. The object then moved off to the south. A helicopter then appeared and hovered over the boat. The chopper was flat black in color, and it was silent with no markings on it. As the chopper hovered a flash of light was directed towards the boat. While doing his regular skywatch on the roof of his home, respected skywatcher Salvador Guerrero encountered something so bizarre, it has opened an entirely new chapter in the history of Mexican UFO Research. At first, Salvador thought the object could be a dark UFO high in the sky, so he started videotaping as usual. When he pressed the camera's zoom, he couldn't believe what he saw through the viewfinder. It was a dark, solid object which was almost static in the sky, spinning slowly on its axis...featuring what looked to be a human form with 'arms' and 'legs' perfectly visible---giving the impression that "he" or "it" was floating freely in the air. Needless to say, Salvador was shocked. The dark humanoid figure was floating at a high altitude but Salvador's years of experience in skywatching allowed him to track this dark object in the sky and he was able to make an excellent recording of the incredibly mysterious experience. The dark humanoid creature remained stationary in the same spot for several minutes, spinning slowly with arms and legs 'outstretched' all the time. The object then began to move, disappearing behind a building.

40-year old Elaine King was lying in bed when she suddenly found herself in a metallic corridor of some sort. In a room she encountered two types of beings who communicated with her by using telepathy. She entered a room where she saw a human male lying on a table; the room had white mesh metallic walls, with curved white supports. There appeared to be some wires coming from the ceiling into the man's body. In that room she communicated with a female being that wore a robe, and had wig-like hair. The other humanoids were about 5-feet tall, totally bald. The female being was taller and strongly build. Back in the corridor Elaine became weaker and weaker and almost collapsed. Soon the witness found herself back in her bed and only eleven and half minutes had passed.

An Ulster man claims that a UFO lifted his car off the ground and he experienced six hours of "missing time" as a result. John H, employed at a factory in West Belfast was on his way home from work. He had pulled into a petrol station to fill up the tank and noticed to his right a large light in the sky. It had the shape of an egg. Concerned he drove away from the petrol station without paying. The object followed John on a road that lead to Dublin, which surprised him since he did not want to go to Dublin. Without knowing why, he stopped the car on a hillside road that leads to a farming area northbound on the M-3. The car, it seemed was lifting off the ground. John felt it but for some reason he felt confused and was not sure what was really happening. His next memory was of driving on the Donegal Road on his way home. There was a six-hour period of missing time. As far as I know no hypnotic regression has been attempted.

June (involved in other encounters) awoke from a weird dream in which in it there were mountains, hills, trees, streams and on the ground below her (she was flying) there stood five or six groups of people, 25 to 30 people in all. All of them seemed to be whispering things, just out of her hearing. As she soared over their heads they would look quietly up at her and then resume their whispering. These people looked normal in every way, right down to their shoes. Suddenly she awoke and was instantly aware of a kind of silver mesh net undulating throughout her entire bedroom and just above her body. It reminded her somewhat of a fish net drying in the breeze, only horizontally or like a sail on a mast puffing in and out. She closed her eyes tightly to dispel what she thought had to be a dream. But when she opened them again six or 7 seconds later, it (the net) was still there. It remained where it was for at least 30 seconds more, then it began to scrunch up and it sort of oozed down her hallway toward the living room, disappearing as it passed by the kitchen. She instantly thought of "dimensions in time and space." She doesn't know why but she felt like she had been enclosed inside the "net" and taken somewhere strange.

Valentina Lychkova had returned home late one night when suddenly from somewhere on top a beam of luminous light shone on her. The area around her became unnaturally dense; she could not move her arms or legs. She suddenly perceived something dense penetrate her inside, filling her completely. At first the feeling was awful but then it changed into bliss. But she could neither shout nor laugh. Soon the beam of light disappeared into the darkness and the atmosphere around her became normal, she was again able to move.

Upon hearing the frenetic barking of his dogs, security guard (involved in a previous encounter) Luis Alberto Calivar armed himself with a flashlight and a knife and went outside to investigate, as he did the dogs suddenly became very still. Soon his lights illuminated a dark greenish form that ran very quickly climbing up a Wasintonia palm. As he shone the flashlight at the figure he felt his arm become "cold" and the knife and watch dropped out of his hand, at the same time the dogs stood very quiet and still. A feeling of numbness overcame his body and he ran back inside his security shack, he was followed by the dogs that hid under the room and began to shake in fear. He could only describe the creature as having large flopping ears, fluid in nature, apparently without a bone structure (!), it gave the appearance of being a flexible mass that moved around like a Kangaroo. It moved silently and was about 1.30m in height. When he first spotted the creature it seemed to have been crouching down, behind a bush. It seemed to twist its body around and never looked straight at the witness, which never dropped his flashlight. Incredibly despite the reactions the witness felt no fear and did not notice any odors coming from the creature. The encounter lasted about 5 minutes and the creature was about 9 meters away from the witness. He further described the creature as having greenish hairs about 5 to 6cm in length. Soon after the encounter Calivar had too see a doctor and lost about 20 pounds.

41-year old Roger Mixon was out hunting in an isolated and aptly named area when he came across a bizarre dark-purple color object the size of an 18-wheeler and shaped like a bat wing sitting on the ground. He could see a drawbridge type door that was opened and nearby saw three creatures attempting to capture an alligator. The beings wore what appeared to be crowns of gold had human-like faces and had long hair and sharp teeth like those of lions. They had breastplates resembling cast iron. One of the most bizarre features was the 4 wing-like protrusions and scorpion-like tail that each creature had.

They did not see Mixon at first but when one spotted him he fired his 12-gauge shotgun hitting one in the chest knocking him down, but the creature quickly was on his feet again and apparently fired back with some type of implement that dangled from his waist. A beam like light struck the witness on his wrist leaving a scar. According to the witness he has lost most of the use of that arm as a result of the incident. He was overcome by a sense of fear and turned to run when he was confronted by several more grays no more than a few feet from him. How they got that close without him noticing, Josh cannot explain, citing only that he was tired and the sudden rush of adrenaline made him even more exhausted when it left the body. Overwhelmed with fear, Josh blacked out. When he woke up, it was daylight and he was laying in the back seat of his car. Six hours had gone by since the "accident", and based on the burn marks Josh found on his legs he believes he was abducted by the grays after he had passed out.

In an isolated area known as the "Blue Labyrinth" Sue O'Connor woke from a disturbing dream which was accompanied by a weird "electric" feeling, looked up at the window behind their bed and saw a large animal staring back at her. The creature had a human-sized head, which looked disproportionately small as it was set low into a pair of absolutely huge shoulders. As it was illuminated by a streetlight and a full moon; Sue could see the creature had a slim nose, a very wide mouth and a rounded clump of tan colored hair on top of its head. Soon Sue and her husband Jerry experienced six similar sightings, always preceded by the strange "electric" dreams, cold chills and fear. To look through the bedroom window the creature must have been over eight feet tall. A strange fact was that the visits always occurred just before or during Sue's monthly periods.

Felipe an employee at a local disco reported that one night there was a loud pounding on the outside door, in the back of the building. Thinking that it was a robbery attempt, he armed himself with a club, opened the door, and was confronted by an upright four-foot tall creature with glowing yellow eyes. The creature breathed out a strong substance, which stunned Felipe, who then saw the being silently glide away. Around the same time other local residents reported seeing metallic bell shaped craft flying over the area.

16-year old J Pettina and some friends were camping in an isolated area filming for a web page they were working on. It was getting dark and Pettina decided to go for a walk. It got darker and darker when he realized he was lost. Soon he heard footsteps about 10 meters behind him. He turned and saw in the distance a figure dressed in black clothing, as it got closer, it started whispering. It was a male voice. It said he was going to take the witness back to its lair in the mountains and eat his flesh (!) and see what his body was made of. The terrified witness was frozen to the spot and wanted to run but could not. As it came closer the witness could see that its face was red and that it had a long nose. His eyebrows were thick and he talked without moving his lips. Then he heard his friends scream out his name, he turned to see where they were for a split second, and when he looked back the strange creature was gone. The witness rushed back to his friends and told them what had happened but he was not believed. That night he was awoken by footsteps again. He did not want to move. He curled up in a ball and closed his eyes tight. The whispering started again and the witness heard it say that he would return when he was alone. None of his friends heard it.

Five witnesses observed what they described as an alien "glide" across a field. The witnesses described the being as about 5 feet tall with long slender extremities. It carried a brown "staff" about 5 feet long. It was observed for about a minute from a distance of about 250 feet. No apparent disturbances to the area around the being were reported. The creature appeared to glide about 6 inches above the ground, according to the witnesses. Weather conditions were cool and clear with no wind. No sounds were reported and witnesses commented on it seeming abnormally quiet at the time. Crickets and other normal background noises were absent. The witnesses lost sight of the being when they drove a short distance up the road to an area which they thought would offer a better view, only about 75 to 100 ft from where the being was seen. A small knoll obstructed their view as they drove. When they got to the closer location, the being was gone. The witnesses returned home after the encounter. They reported no serious effects from their sighting, although three of them did claim to be very tired the next day.

In this village west of Moscow several campers observed a small disc shaped object fall to earth in a field east of the hamlet emitting a humming sound resembling that of an electric engine the sound of a hard impact was also heard. The disk was shiny and smoke was observed at the place of impact. It was about 3.5 m in diameter, with a big dome and a dark "belt" on the rim. It had a flat finish with gradual rising dome. One part of the object was damage as a result of the impact. In about 15-20 minutes a military team was observed arriving in a truck. The military quickly loaded the disk on the truck covered it with a tarpaulin and drove away. The military had apparently tracked the object on radar. It was established later that the disk was transported to a military base near Moscow where a team of experts examined it. The team succeeded in opening the disk and the bodies of two small humanoids were found inside the alien craft. Both aliens were dead, obviously killed by the hard impact. They were of the typical "gray" type, dwarf like, with large hairless heads, huge black eyes, webbed fingers and hoofed feet. The beings were taken out of the disk; autopsied and hidden in a top secret underground facility north of Moscow near Solnechnogorsk.

Ten hens, including a rooster fell victims to a strange creature that roamed at will inside a chicken pen in a farmer's house. One of the hens was found decapitated and all showed signs of having bitten and sucked completely dry of blood. The incident occurred in the house of a farm couple, Alejandro Rivas and Leonor Zuñiga. Leonor reported hearing noises and seeing a strange creature, which she described as small with a round hairless head, small shiny eyes, long fang-like teeth and large mouth. However she did not see any legs, hair or feathers on the creature. It was shiny yellow in color. As she open the gate to the chicken pen some of the animals managed to fly out obviously terrified. At that moment she noticed the bizarre creature, which seemed to rear up on a corner and emit a huffing sound as if preparing to attack the witness. However it disappeared through a hole in the pen and towards a nearby swampy area near the river, only a few meters from the farmhouse. It appeared to be some type of hybrid creature, thin and tall, large eye sockets, over sized fangs and with several protuberances on the upper vertebrae, shaped like a crocodile's crest, it also had very small ears. Others had reported similar creatures in the nearby cordillera, one with white or silver fur, and two with black fur. At this they became hysterical and ended up in the bathroom with the door shut. Diane and her husband could hear them moving about outside the door. Fearing for their children Diane opened the bathroom door with the intention of stabbing one of them and was startled to see one of the creatures standing on the doorway looking at her. She suddenly heard something talking to her in her head, the voice said, "Why are you afraid, you know you have nothing to fear." Suddenly Diane lunged forward with the knife and as she did so the creature produced a thin silver gray rod with a light on the tip and pointed it at her stomach and as it did so she doubled up in excruciating pain and passed out. The next morning the couple remembered waking up the next morning suffering severe stomach pains. Diane was sick and spent several days in bed recovering. The penknife disappeared and has never been seen again. The witness was sleeping when he was suddenly jolted awake by the sounds of the window being pried open, when his eyes came into focus he saw two figures already inside the room and a third coming in. The figures appeared to be slightly luminous. The terrified witness could not speak, and began to sway back and forth on his bed. One of the figures then became dark and apparently approached the witness. He now felt hands around his mouth and was lifted up. He then became unconscious. He could not remember anything else of the incident. The next day neighbor's mentioned something about seeing an object on the ground on a nearby field.

Fresia Berlina Vega was playing with 10-year old Valentina the daughter of a local schoolteacher on the school grounds when they saw in the sky a bright star-like light suddenly appear. The light suddenly descended towards the witness emitting bright-multicolored flashes of light. Within the light the two witnesses could see a huge round object that hovered outside the school perimeter at a low altitude. Suddenly a thunder clap-like noise was heard and a bright beam of light emerged from the object illuminating both witnesses. Fresia felt a cold wave envelope her body. The beam of light then retreated back into the object and another thunderclap was heard. The object then remained above the witnesses for a few more moments in which Fresia again felt a definite change of temperature, she felt as if her head seemed to swell up. In a moment she was looking directly at the object in a state of total relaxation. She felt a prickling sensation invade her entire body. Meanwhile Valentina felt the same presence and complained of a headache and discomfort in her nose, later she was to suffer from insomnia. While under the beam of light Fresia had the distinct impression that a photograph had been taken of her. As the object moved away towards the nearby cemetery both witnesses felt a slight tremor in the earth. Fresia reported some beneficial aftereffects after the encounter, a persistent back pain went away, but she also experienced irregularities with her menstrual cycle. She felt more relax and at ease and monetary problems seem to have gone away. She would have peculiar "dreams" in which, several short human-like figures, dark in color and with large heads would approach her and ask her how she was feeling. They reassure her that things were going to improve in her life. She further described the beings as about 1.50m in height, wearing thick soled boots. She is convinced that she will see them again some day.

The witness had gone on a fishing trip in an isolated area with a friend. Around dusk he decided to go into the brush in order to obtain some firewood. Soon he heard a low pitch hum and yelled out at his friend that said he could not hear it. All of the sudden it disappeared. After awhile they were cooking and heard some rustling sounds in the brush but they ignored it and went back to fish. Later on they were hungry again and got up to heat the pots, as they got up they noticed a being standing just outside of the bush. It was described as small, about 3-4 feet high, with big black eyes, it had lips and a moving mouth and what the witnesses thought was a "vagina." Its skin was very light gray, with light brown patches over its head and chest. The being stood there staring at the witnesses who were compelled to just stand there and look back. After a few minutes they heard the humming sound again. They looked back at the humanoid that raised its hand and seemed to smile. It then walked off into the bush and then the humming disappeared again. The witnesses decided to go back to sleep and left in the morning.

A family of four that included a 19-year old daughter and a 13-year-old son had gone out to picnic in a rugged abandoned strip mine area. As they walked towards the nearby edge of the mining gorge, after parking their vehicle, they noticed a bright flash of light from behind a nearby hill, and then there was a loud sound resembling exploding firecrackers. The 13-year old boy hopped on his bicycle and began approaching the area. Being dangerous terrain, his father prevented him from going any further. Again the loud exploding sounds were heard. The family then arrived at the edge of the strip-mining gorge and soon noticed two strangely dress figures at the bottom of the gorge, which appeared to be digging or surveying the terrain. As they watched the two figures another bright flash of light emanated from behind a path directly above the figures. As the witnesses approached the edge of the gorge, the two figures suddenly turned around and stared at them. The family then noticed that the figures were wearing dull gray colored coveralls. They seemed to be wearing some sort of masks that prevented the witnesses from seeing any facial features. But the girl thought that their heads were somewhat larger than normal. Apparently startled by the sudden intrusion of the family, the two figures began to leave the area using very quick and inhuman movements, one of them traversing a distance of 300 meters in a matter of seconds. The other figure, using several vertical jumps of more than 30 meters each, climbed the rocky wall of the gorge. The two figures were now level with the witnesses and standing across the gorge about 600 yards away. At this point the bright flashes behind the path increased in intensity and in numbers. The father then approached the edge of the gorge and saw more flashes at the bottom of the gorge. Suddenly two more similarly garbed beings appeared, these seem to glide about 50 cm above the ground and were carrying something very bright in their hands. These two new figures stopped briefly and looked at the witnesses, then followed the path, which the other two humanoids had taken. Their bodies appear to give off bright flashes of light. Suddenly one of the figures, again using very quick movements, glided back down the bottom of the gorge and seem to search for something, in seconds it returned back to join the others. At this point the family became hysterical, the mother feeling an intense pressure in her eardrums. The two younger members were screaming hysterically and all felt drained of energy. Suddenly a metallic gray oval shaped craft appeared behind the 4 humanoids, and descended to about a meter from the ground. The four humanoids then disappeared into the object in an unknown manner, since no opening was seen. The family thought that the object must have been larger inside as to what appeared to be in the outside. The craft then suddenly flashed and shot away at angle disappearing at tremendous speed.

The witness, Mr. Boris Ustinov was returning home in a taxi from Moscow Square but after passing the Central market and Sevastopolskaya Street a police patrol stopped the taxi. While the driver and the inspector argued Boris decided to sneak away and without being seen he disappeared into a dark alley and into a narrow street. After 15 minutes of walking he began to feel apprehensive and noticed a very long fence along the road. He stopped and was surprised at the total silence around him, he did not hear cars, dogs barking or anything else, and the silence was absolute. Even the air was still; he could only hear the sound of his own breath. He began walking along the strange fence and was surprised to notice another fence on the opposite side of the narrow street made out of what appeared to be unprocessed stones, like the other "fence". At times he saw low wooded doors, with wrought iron gates. Behind the fence he saw some roofs of unknown buildings. He suddenly realized that there was a total lack of light anywhere, neither electric or candle powered, there were no shadows, and he could only see a star covered sky and felt oppressive silence all around him. He walked in total bewilderment around the area for at least four hours, afraid to knock on any of the doors. When he turned a corner he saw about 2 meters away a small entity, about 40-50cm in height, with pupil-less eyes that gave off a bright red light, whatever it was it resembled a dwarf. Terrified, Boris froze in place. The dwarf stood motionless like a statue. They were facing each other in silence. Apparently the dwarf was also amaze to see him. The dwarf had large ears, a curved nose, wrinkled "old" skin and shiny red eyes. He had an elongated body with small legs and small hands. Suddenly the alien displayed a broad ironical smile, showing a row of curved and "wet" teeth. Horrified Boris ran from the area not going where he was going, running next to the strange stone fence with its intricate network of designs. The whole time he could hear small footsteps behind him. Suddenly he reached the end of the fence into some bushes, having no choice he jumped over the dense wall of black-green bushes. As he did he fell onto the pavement of a street and almost under the wheels of a passing trolley, he could now hear the normal sounds of the city as his hands and legs trembled. He returned in the morning to the area and only found an old abandoned cemetery behind the dense green wall of brush.

According to some, the creature moves nimbly between the shadows and is responsible for the deaths of small animals, which led them to recall a similar apparition seen last year in the city. A resident named Jesus Peralta saw the creature and described it as looking like a curly dog but of great size with red eyes, walking on all fours and standing on two hind legs to howl. It's swift and vanishes when one tries to cast a beam of light on it. Peralta claims to have fire twice at it with no apparent effect. The witness, Aleksey Tikhonovich suddenly woke up in the middle of the night feeling an urge to inspect the house, he finds everyone asleep and the house dark. Suddenly he sees a very tall figure standing by his bedroom door. He ran into his bedroom and grabbed a stick he kept next to his headboard; at the same time asking the intruder how did he get in the house. The intruder however remained calmed and told him not to be angry that he believed in the same God, he then applied his right hand on the left side of his breast and said, "I have come in peace". Aleksey could now see the intruder clearly and he described him as well built human like figure 2 meters in height. He was dressed in a tight-fitting one-piece gray suit that covered him all the way to his hands and neck. He had short hair of a shade difficult to describe, with an expressive face resembling that of a well-known Russian actor (!). The stranger seemed benevolent and curious. Immediately Aleksey relaxed and put the stick down. He then asked the stranger,

"Where did you fly from"? "From a distance" was the evasive answer. He then added, "We not only come here, but we go to all the different parts of the earth" "We have been studying humans for a long time" "We see how you have polluted your planet". A little offended the witness asked the alien if his planet was "cleaner" than the earth. His answer was a resounding yes, since they did not have such "terrible technologies" as the humans did. Growing bolder in his demeanor Aleksey continue to ask questions to the visitor. The visitor told him that in his planet the average lifespan was over a hundred years. He seemed interest in Aleksey everyday life and his method of making ends meet. When Aleksey mentioned that he had served in the Army for 20 years and was receiving a pension the visitor said that they did not have an Army in his planet. Astonished, the witness asked the visitor how did they deal with any criminal element. He received a curious answer, "We exiled them to other planets, there they learn to survive" "We teach our children well from a young age, we do not have homeless children like they have here on earth". Aleksey was also told that a large council comprised of a group of "specialists" governed them. Aleksey asked the alien how did he learn to speak Russian so well, but received no answer only a curt smile. He then told Aleksey that their main means of communication was through telepathy. At this point Aleksey realized that the stranger had not been moving his lips that he had heard all the conversation in his mind. After 15 minutes the witness asked what type of technology they used to fly their ships, the stranger only said that they used different "measurements" in their technologies. The stranger then walked towards the window and semi-squatted on the floor, Aleksey was briefly distracted and had glanced away, when he looked back the stranger had disappeared. He only saw a fading light outside the window that quickly vanished. He approached the window and looked outside but everything was dark. After the stranger left Aleksey thoroughly inspected the apartment to make sure that his family was sleeping soundly. The next morning he realized that a small "welding torch" had mysteriously disappeared perhaps taken by the stranger. Only then did he tell his family of his strange encounter. For the most part their reaction was restrained. After the encounter Aleksey was ill for five days and remembers the alien telling him that it was going to be so since they had different "bio-fields" that were sometimes harmful to humans. He added that the chemistry of humans "suffocates".

Several days after witnessing two low flying objects over the area, on two separate night. (One of the objects was described as huge, making a rumbling like noise; it had a V-shaped tail with two rows of round and oblong windows and was black, gray, and silver in color.) And after receiving a suspicious phone call from someone claiming to be a General from the Canadian armed forces, two strange men appeared at the door of the witness residence. They produced wallets, one black, one brown, containing photo ID that stated they were from the Canadian Air Defense. They asked to come inside. The witness extended his hand, but was ignored. Moving into the house took them through the kitchen area, but they stopped upon seeing the microwave. After some questioning, the witness lowered a portion of a counter and they carefully slid through the extra space. Sitting down they produced a small silver colored tape recorder and inserted a small disc, between a nickel and a quarter in size. On entering the house one of the men had noticed an unusual walking stick in the hallway, to which he remarked that the head of the stick's carving, painted red, reminded him of primates back home. The two men were olive skinned and appeared to have slanted eyes. Each wore glasses with thick rims. They wore gray suits with black shirts, one had a white tie, and the other was buttoned up to the neck. The one with the tie had a clip that contained a red "stone" that flickered. The other had a ruby ring surrounded with diamonds. His watch was square but without apparent hands, instead being encircled with buttons that periodically illuminated from white to green to mauve. The strap appeared to be molded into the skin and was a solid steel band. The belt on his pants was of metallic strips with a square buckle. Both had very large feet, estimated to be 14". Each carried a brief case that was heavy and cold. When sitting down they never relaxed into their chairs but retained a stiff back the whole time. Not once during their stay in the house did they speak to each other. The witness two cats were extremely agitated the whole time during the visitors stay. Also the owner's dog that lived upstairs barked during the whole episode. The men noticed that the witness was wearing a very unusual watch and one of them touched his arm. The touch felt very cold and clammy. They questioned the witness about his sightings, and one of them appeared to be taken short hand notes. When they questioned him they looked into his eyes and seemed to "pierce his brain". As they were leaving they again carefully avoided the microwave. Outside in the yard they spent about 30 minutes scouring the ground with a Geiger counter. As they rounded the corner of the house the witness went from the kitchen to the bedroom, which gave him a clearer view of the driveway and the road. Despite the very short period of time it took him to achieve this, the two men were not in sight, nor was a car

One was carrying a Geiger counter, the other a 12 to 16 inch parabolic dish in his hand, pointing to the sky, plus earphones and a microphone that was attached. He appeared to be searching the sky. The wires all led into a black box at his waist. At one point he had what looked like a camera, although not video, aimed at a tree over which the UFO had been originally seen. During the time they were together neither was seen speaking to each other. Nor was any car seen which they might have arrived in.

Retired civil guard Luis Arturo Bayer Garcia, 52 year of age was riding his motorcycle along an isolated area when he saw standing on the side of the road a tall, thin, figure, almost 2 meters in height. He was not able to see any facial features, only a gray-yellow texture. It seemed to be wearing a two-piece outfit and was totally motionless. The witness accelerated away from the area at high speed.

A Mr. Vega woke up in the middle of the night, unable to sleep because of the heat. Suddenly he heard a loud thump on the roof of the adjacent patio, and then he heard the sounds of strange movements from outside. He went to investigate the sounds that seemed to come from an area where a 6-meter tall antenna was located. From his position he could hear loud scratching and "swaying" sounds apparently coming from the antenna cable. Still looking out the window Mr. Vega saw floating on top of a nearby metal sheet roof a strange black simian like figure, it floated quickly over the roof then was lost from sight in the direction of a neighbor's yard. The creature exhibited "swimming" motions in mid-air, moving its arms and legs rapidly. Mr. Vega noticed what appeared to be an "energy" glow on top of the creature that seemed to accompany it leaving behind a luminous track. The witness also recalled that the moment he opened the window he was hit by a "cold wave" that practically froze his nose and ears, just minutes before he had been sweating as a result of the heat. He was also overcome by a feeling of fright, but armed with a stick stepped out into the patio. While in the patio he suffered from cold shivers and spasms, he also noticed two guard dogs that were cowered and whimpering on a corner. The next day he found some damage to the antenna and surrounding plants and also to a chain-link fence.

Several students at the local Valentin Gomez Farias School were sent to the yard by their teacher in order to collect some wood. As they reach the location, they reported being showered by numerous stones and then accosted by several small man-like figures wearing caps that seemed to be in an angry mood. One of the students, Rafael Ortega, reported being struck on the face by a board wielded by one of the little men. One of the teachers also reported seeing one of the small humanoid running through the yard.

Joao Joaquim Da Silva, 50, his wife Rosa 43, a cousin, granddaughter and another woman were traveling by car on their way back to town when they spotted red and yellow lights on what appeared to be a square-shaped object flying over the road. A small round light appeared to detach itself from the object and fly away. Joao decided to pull off to the side of the road to see what was going on. Suddenly they saw the object descending behind some nearby trees, it had rotating red and yellow lights. Joao then heard a loud cracking sound and felt a loud buzzing in his head, immediately he felt paralyzed as a buzzing sound permeated the area. The little girl began screaming saying that she could see several figures approaching the car. One of the women saw a white face figure, lacking a nose and with large black oval shaped eyes. At the same time Joao experienced a terrible headache and felt himself being levitated and feeling as if he was somehow "shrinking" in size. Soon he floated back to the car. Then all saw what they described as a beautiful hovering oval shaped craft, apparently metallic and only about 12 meters away. A strong heat wave enveloped the group. The witnesses then left the area. Later on the different family members remember seeing several short humanoids onboard the object. The little girl remembered the little humanoids doing something to her feet. In a strange twist the witnesses also recalled seeing a strange symbol on the object and on the heads of several of the humanoids that when described it seemed to resemble the famous (or infamous) UMMO logo (!).

Autumn Dreesan had gone out to empty the trash and as she walked back from the curb she heard a noise above her. It was a very high-pitched whistle, she could barely hear. Her dog, which had accompanied her, turned his head from side to side. The noise grew louder and she looked up. She saw a bright circular light floating near the moon. Her dog ran back into the house. The noise suddenly stopped, then fiver very strange humanoids appeared in a circle around her. They were about four and a half feet tall, pure white in color, had no hair, and had very large red oval shaped eyes, no mouth, and two slits for noses and no ears that she could see. Their heads were egg shaped. She stood frozen with fear. Two of them grabbed her arms, and two of them grabbed her legs. The last one held his left palm up to the sky, and her neighborhood dissolved into an odd round room with a dentist-like chair in the middle of it. Similar beings lined the wall of the room. She was led to the chair and was forced to sit in it with her arms at her side and her legs together. Suddenly, her arms, chest, forehead, and legs were chained to the chair. The chair tilted back, flat like a table. There was some light in the room, but she could not see the source of it. Five humanoids then leaned over her; her clothes were somehow removed by one of the humanoids. He left with her clothes then came back with a table with multiple syringes, some were empty, and some were filled with different colored liquids. Then one of the humanoids took a blood sample from her using a syringe. Then in the exact spot on her arm they injected a thick looking blue liquid. Immediately her whole body went numb, but she was still awake, but everything was blurry. One of the beings now leaned over her right foot. She then felt a painful jabbing and then something being stuck. She became numb again. He then put his warm white fingers on her forehead and she felt calm and relaxed. She then heard a soft beautiful voice that somehow terrified her. The voice told her not to be afraid, that they hurt most others, but that she was special. That she was essential to their plans. They said the Earth was the most under evolved planet in the universe. That there was a superior race in the galaxy very far away that was planning to take over Earth, turning humanity into slaves. This was going to happen soon, and that they could only take one member of her family and that she had been chosen. She was then told that she must go. The room then dissolved into the curb, with her standing there holding a trash bag. She had been gone for three hours she found her dog back on her bed trembling with fear. The next day she found a strange wound on her foot.

A man appeared at the door of the previous UFO and "Man in black" witness. He stated that he had come to see his unusual watch. He stated that his name was Mr. Smith and showed some ID. He wore a dark charcoal suit, white shirt, and black tie. He also wore a black fedora. His feet were very large, "size 13, or 14", like the witness previous visitors. His shoes were black and shiny, with no signs of dirt on them at all. He was about 4-feet 8 inches to 5-feet tall, very thin, and very pale skinned with very long fingers. He also wore black wrap around glasses with silver frames. The witness extended his hand but was ignored (again). Upon entering the house the visitor commented upon the carved walking stick in the hallway. He also asked the witness to turn the microwave off before he walked in front of it. Sitting down at the kitchen table he produced a small silver tape recorder, claiming it could record up to 80 hours or more. Using a pick like tool from his breast pocket he examined the witness watch. He opened a black briefcase, removed some paper, a silver pencil with a red top, and a pen like flash light that emitted a mauve, pencil thin beam, which scanned the interior of the watch with. He took a small digital type camera and with it he took several pictures of the watch. During the whole of his visit he spoke very little, and his speech seemed slurred. Again the cats were agitated during the stranger's visit. He again expressed interest in the watch and the witness asked 500$ for it, but he replied that he had to check with his colleagues. The stranger also expressed interest in a computer saying that it had very minimal power. The stranger departed without saying good-bye. The witness went immediately to the window but could not see any sign of the visitor or any car in the vicinity, he had simply vanished. A plastic hair blower nozzle was found melted and a ruler in a drawer close to where the visitor had been sitting was bent into a slight S curve. Again the witness suffered from a severe headache and an eruptive nosebleed.

The witness suddenly awoke and heard a low frequency buzz or vibration. He sensed that the house was tilting at an angle and braced himself thinking that it was an earthquake. As the tried to brace himself he realized that he was totally immobilized, could not move any limb or his head. At that time he looked to his right toward the skylight and saw a beam of blue light that he sensed was searching and had found him. To his left he also saw a light coming from the window. Now he felt in a semi-awake state, and realized he was being examined in bed. Looking around he could make out a small dark figure on his left, above his head to his right. Suddenly directly in front of him about 10 feet away, he saw what appeared to be a holographic figure. He asked them what they wanted, but received no response. He sensed that they were intent in examining him. It suddenly stopped and the blue light then gradually went away from the skylight and the window.

2001 HUMANOID REPORTS

Compiled by
Albert Rosales
dolphins305@comcast.net

"The dark ages may return on the gleaming wings Of science. Beware, I say, Time may be short."

Winston Churchill, March 1946

2001, the beginning of the millennium brought forth new riddles and more enigmas. A bizarre creature reported still creating havoc, later another bizarre entity attacking humans in India. While there was talk of human cloning and stem cell research, more bizarre incidents were being reported all over the globe. There was talk of war in Israel and Macedonia. Will humanity look deep inside and realize that we are just dust in the wind, that there is something more wonderful and fantastic around us. Remember "there is none so blind as those who will not see." Following is the first humanoid encounters reported in the new millennium.

1.
Location. Russell Park, New York
Date: 2001
Time: night
After seeing UFOs in a park the witness experienced a period of missing time. Later he was able to recall the incident fully. He saw a noiseless alien craft come down and land. He saw a ramp open as if inviting him inside. He went up the ramp ducking as he went in. The floor of the ramp felt strange on the bottom of his feet. Almost like a skin more than a metal ramp. Inside it was dimly lit, his cousin that had accompanied him was nowhere in sight. Inside he saw huge octagonal metallic walls or doors, about 9 feet high. The inside of the craft appeared to be larger than the outside of the craft. Each wall had a large symbol that looked like a different complex pattern burned into it. He began to receive messages in his head and turned to see three gray skinned humanoids with large heads and child like bodies sitting around some sort of biological hi tech computer device. They wore tight fitting diver suits; they did not look up at the witness. He asked questions in his mind and received quick answers. He was informed that they were advanced bipedal animals with the soul or spirit of demons with great scientific knowledge that people on Earth could not begin to understand. The frightened witness began experiencing heart palpitations, shallow breathing, and tunnel vision. He began to pray. The craft was surprisingly simple and the floor had an interesting structure and design similar to cutting an orange in half and seeing those lines coming out from the center of a single focused point. There were no windows. He asked them how they navigate through space and survive. He was told that they use their minds for navigational purposes. It took three humanoids to properly fly and navigate this craft for interstellar travel. He also saw the top of a cylinder that was like looking at an advanced 3-d computer monitor with images stacked over images, like a hologram. The screen was round like a computer monitor that was laid face up. He saw star charts or lines connecting constellations and it had an alien font or hieroglyphic data on the outer rim of this device. They told the witness that they made it work by placing their hands on what he could only describe as a control panel. The humanoids had two fingers with an opposable thumb.

The witness, Tarcisio Bantas Cancado was at home conducting some chores when he suddenly went into a dream like state. He remembered floating through a long dark tunnel and entering a luminous compartment, which had an oval shaped table in the center that appeared to be the source of the light. In front of the front of the table stood four human like figures whose bodies seemed to emit a white light, fluorescent in appearance. The witness could not see any facial details only a protuberance resembling a nose; he could not see eyes or mouths, ears or hair. He began to feel that the beings did not represent any danger to him. He was then encouraged to ask what they wanted of him. He was told that they were from a place, which he understood it to be called "Shiraqueanos" They were apparently in some kind of mission and was told that he was not unable to return to his home, however if he did not agree on this conditions he would be let go and another person would be found. Moments later everything became dark and he woke up scared back in his home.

Two peculiar strangers again visited the witness to a previous UFO encounter. These two were different from the others. They were at least six-feet tall, very bony, with head, hands and feet out of proportion to the rest of the body. They wore gray suits that seemed to be "oily", had black ties and hats plus wrap around sunglasses that they never took off. When questioned about the glasses they remarked that they could see perfectly well. Their ears stood out from their heads and their skin was pale white, whereas their fingernails were gray in color. They never removed the hats during their visit. And throughout the whole time only one of them spoke. When asked for ID's they displayed "silver" cases that contained a photo an unusual symbol, plus their names in small print. Upon entering the kitchen they asked the witness to please unplug the microwave, they also told him to turn the computer off. The two Persian cats were going crazy dashing around the room, and trying to get out of the window, which was closed. Each man carried a briefcase with an inverted L shaped handle. The man that did all the talking asked to see the witness unusual watch, he then removed from his briefcase four small containers, each had a different colored top. Opening two he proceeded to pour the contents over the watch. He told the concerned witness that no harm would come to the watch. He was given $250 for the watch and told that they would give him the rest later. He told them that he was moving soon, to this they replied "We know, don't worry, we can find you if we want to." They soon departed without the common courtesies, staring blankly at the witness as he extended his hand. Once again the witness hurried to the bedroom window only to find, as before, no sign of either man departing, nor cold any vehicle be heard leaving. After the visit the witness felt drained, had a severe headache that lasted for two days and a rash on his arms, face and chest.

A family of four that included a 19-year old daughter and a 13-year-old son had gone out to picnic in a rugged abandoned strip mine area. As they walked towards the nearby edge of the mining gorge, after parking their vehicle, they noticed a bright flash of light from behind a nearby hill, and then there was a loud sound resembling exploding firecrackers. The 13-year old boy hopped on his bicycle and began approaching the area. Being dangerous terrain, his father prevented him from going any further. Again the loud exploding sounds were heard. The family then arrived at the edge of the strip-mining gorge and soon noticed two strangely dress figures at the bottom of the gorge, who appeared to be digging or surveying the terrain. As they watched the two figures another bright flash of light emanated from behind a path directly above the figures. As the witnesses approached the edge of the gorge, the two figures suddenly turned around and stared at them. The family then noticed that the figures were wearing dull gray colored coveralls. They seemed to be wearing some sort of masks that prevented the witnesses from seeing any facial features. But the girl thought that their heads were somewhat larger than normal. Apparently startled by the sudden intrusion of the family, the two figures began to leave the area using very quick and inhuman movements, one of them traversing a distance of 300 meters in a matter of seconds. The other figure, using several vertical jumps of more than 30 meters each, climbed the rocky wall of the gorge. The two figures were now level with the witnesses, and standing across the gorge about 600 yards away. At this point the bright flashes behind the path increased in intensity and in numbers. The father then approached the edge of the gorge and saw more flashes at the bottom of the gorge. Suddenly two more similarly garbed beings appeared, these seem to glide about 50 cm above the ground and were carrying something very bright in their hands. These two new figures stopped briefly and looked at the witnesses, then followed the path, which the other two humanoids had taken. Their bodies appear to give off bright flashes of light. Suddenly one of the figures, again using very quick movements, glided back down the bottom of the gorge and seem to search for something, in seconds it returned back to join the others. At this point the family became hysterical, the mother feeling an intense pressure in her eardrums. The two younger members were screaming hysterically and all felt drained of energy. Suddenly a metallic gray oval shaped craft appeared behind the 4 humanoids, and descended to about a meter from the ground. The four humanoids then disappeared into the object in an unknown manner, since no opening was seen. The family thought that the object must have been larger inside as to what appeared to be in the outside. The craft then suddenly flashed and shot away at angle disappearing at tremendous speed.

Roberto Hernandez and other family members were camping in an isolated area of the mountain and were exploring some old abandoned mines when they heard loud grunting sounds coming from an undetermined source. Going outside the mine to look they perceived a strange humming sound in the air and saw mysterious flashes of light overhead. The lights flew over and in front of the witnesses at very high speed. Later, walking back to their camping site their path was illuminated by beams of light that seemed to originate from the top of the trees. They also heard the sound of footsteps among the brush, apparently from several "persons" moving about. Later while in their tents they were unable to sleep. Soon they noticed the presence of numerous large black rats with large red luminous eyes that came out of nowhere. They were about 25 of these bizarre "rats" that seemed to frolic around the campgrounds totally unafraid. Suddenly the witnesses noticed a bright sphere of light that was "bouncing" up and down from car to car as if inspecting them. (The cars were at the nearby parking area.) At this time they also heard the loud grunting sounds again (similar to the ones they had heard before). Afraid, most of the family members closed themselves inside their tents except for Mr. Hernandez that remained guarding the tents with a flashlight. At this point the rats began climbing the tent ropes apparently in an attempt to get inside. Suddenly the sphere of light that had been hovering above the vehicles began approaching Mr. Hernandez, expanding as it did so; it suddenly transformed itself into a tall luminous human-like figure that floated just above the ground. The feet were not visible as that part of the body had apparently not materialized completely. The figure was that of a tall man wearing a long gray tunic with an unknown type of design around the chest area. The man seemed to have a luminous diadem on his head. The very had very fine chiseled features and long brown hair. As he approached the tents he stopped, looked at the rats and made a quick "wave" like gesture with his right hand, suddenly the rats scattered in all directions and vanished. The man then stared at the witness that perceived a mental message telling him to relax and to go to sleep that they were going to be safe. A sort of stupor overcame Hernandez and he went to sleep. Moments later his wife, Iris Mendez, and daughter Ivelisse that were still in their tents noticed the presence of a very tall figure silhouetted behind the tent. Both women then began floating in mid-air; Mrs Mendez rose up to the ceiling then fell back down slowly. The silhouetted figure remained standing outside. Ivelisse felt some type of mental communication and felt a sense of calm, suddenly her body rose up again and she lost consciousness. Mrs Mendez then apparently also went to sleep.

Several family members living in a remote location heard strange screams or yells coming from the woods resembling that of a woman crying out in pain, terrified they called the police and went out to investigate. The police searched the area with high-powered lights but could not find anything. Some time later they heard the screams again and again the police was summoned and again nothing was found. Next time they decided not to call the police again. Days later the dogs were heard barking in the backyard, a female witness points the flashlight out back and sees looking back at her 2 huge red eyes. She focuses the light on them but can't make out the figure. She yelled out for the additional family members but the eyes disappeared. She vaguely sees a dark figure run into the woods. The ball then transformed itself into rings that emerged simultaneously. The rings were 3 or more feet in size and they kept their shape as they flashed and strobe. These rings then formed into a perfectly circular disk about 4 ft across. He had a full frontal view of the disk. It hovered stationary at the roof area of the house and was perfectly circular. Several local residents reported "aircraft noises" passing overhead, and then going out they spotted a strange creature measuring about 20" in height, humped and with leaden hair color. While looking for traces of the animal they found several balls of strange gray hair. Footprints have also been found. Several dogs have been killed in the area. The strange predatory creature apparently generates some type of energy that effects human beings and animals alike, apparently incapacitating them.

After dinner, the witness, Mauro Diniz Brumana went to his backyard to pick up some fruit from his grove. While climbing on a mango tree he noticed a very strong red light. Thinking it was a car or a fire he descended the tree and walked over to investigate the source of the light. Climbing over the neighbor's backyard wall he noticed a huge disc shaped object, around 10 meters in diameter, with bright red lights around the edge and a cupola on top that appeared to have landed on the neighbor's field. Near the object stood two humanoid about 1.20 meters in height wearing tight-fitting metallic outfits. Unable to move, he stood watching the scene for 10 minutes. After that, the humanoids boarded the object, which took off at high speed. The next day he called the police and they found scorched ground areas on the ground, where the object had landed.

An angler casting his nets into the river pulled ashore a strange looking artifact. The artifact was described as resembling a small "android" about 6 inches in length. The unusual "doll" was translucent and changed color from blue to red as the holder touched it with his hand. The color changes happened repeatedly as the object was held in different positions. They detected on the skin a liquid like transpiration. The local military police reportedly took custody of the android, and is reported being currently studied by specialists.

The witness was alone @ home doing some cleaning when she suddenly heard a ruckus coming from the patio area. It sounded like the cats were fighting with something or somebody. She went to check and upon lifting the curtain she saw the three cats that appeared to be paralyzed. Sitting about a meter from the animals sat a strange creature that upon noticing the witness jumped over the wall and disappeared into the darkness. The being was described as short, maybe 3-feet tall, with large powerfully built hind legs, and covered with gray-led hair. Before leaving the creature uttered a strange growl that made the windows rattle. The witness also said that her son had seen two similar beings some time back in the same area, one was smaller than the other.

In a dream like state, M, found herself floating up into the air. Suddenly she found herself in a brightly lit room resembling a surgical area. Several "presences" were there, attempting to perform various medical examinations on her. She was totally awake and was lying on some type of cot that appeared to be floating in mid-air. One of the beings, apparently a woman approached her and at the same time the others began to prepare for a gynecological examination. At this point she felt a needle stuck in the middle of her spine and somehow knew that it was some type anesthetic. At that same very same moment she began to feel scared and wanted to leave the room desperately. She then observed a woman that was approaching her cot, wearing a silvery gown-like garment. Incredibly the witness noticed that the woman was an exact replica of her (clone?), but much more prettier, and younger, but it was still "her". At this point she began to resist their control and sensed that the beings did not know what to do with her and were surprised at her stubborn behavior. She passed out and soon she was back on her bed with no further recollection of events.

Three friends, including Ingrid Amalia Sperberg and Patricio Vallejos Tapia had parked in the outskirts of the city at a popular sight seeing spot in order to see the nearby lights of Angol. They exited the vehicle and walked to the nearby viewing area. There they saw a bright white light rising vertically about 150 meters away. The light then hovered close to the ground and seemed to open up like a fan, exhibiting orange, yellow, red and finally a light violet color. It illuminated everything 40 meters around. As the light began moving, one of the witnesses became frightened and walked back to the car. The interior lighting of the vehicle seemed to be inoperative. The light then seem to close upon itself transforming into a small white sphere, it then disappeared behind some nearby hills. At this point two of the witnesses began hearing a loud "bell" like sound that repeated itself with certain frequency. As the witnesses, one inside the vehicle, two outside, pondered what they were witnessing, one of them heard a sound similar to something metallic being dragged on the ground. Looking in the direction of the sound, they saw two short dark colored figures about 4-feet tall, approaching a nearby metal fence door. According to the witnesses the beings resembled dark shadowy forms, and no facial features could be seen. Interestingly the figures seemed to be "crawling" or dragging themselves on the ground. The metallic sound could still be heard, and one of the figures seemed to be carrying two metallic staffs. The two figures stopped at the entrance to the fence, and then one of them passed through the gate and after a few moments went back outside. Both figures now began dragging themselves away from the area. One of the witnesses then went to the car and was able to turn on the high beams in order to get a better look at the beings, but these had already disappeared. Two of the witnesses reported that the beings seemed to communicate with each other by using a bizarre high-pitched unintelligible murmur. 16-year old Jose and three friends had gone fishing at a lake about 3 miles from their home. On the way to the lake, they chatted about everyday things after a couple of hours they reached the lake. Unfortunately the wind was still blowing strongly, and the dark lake rolled with violent waves that lashed the rocky shore ferociously. After walking around for about an hour looking a spot they finally found a perfect spot when a gust of wind struck them so violently that Jose and another of the boys were knocked from their feet. Jose's head struck a boulder behind him and he clearly felt the back of his head getting wet. He reached back and touched it, and was surprised to find no blood. He asked one of his friends if he could blood, but he answered that Jose wasn't. No trace of blood could be found. Strangely the back of his head still felt wet. Later they caught some fish and ate their lunch. The wind made it impossible to start a fire. As the sun began hiding behind the gray, desolate clouds and the mountains they decided to head for home. They packed their gear and began the 3-mile hike back home. Jose's head still felt wet and he was not feeling well and despite Jose's request they decided to take a shorter more remote road instead of the longer visible road. They continued and came to a small hill. They climbed it and saw, at the bottom of the hill on the other side, a man. He was lying on the ground, motionless. Fearing the worst, the boys rushed over to see how he was. He appeared to be dead, and his body even began to emit a repulsive odor. He looked old, about five feet tall and was dressed formally. They speculated that he had been murdered and his body placed there. It was then that Jose felt someone touching the back of his head and a strong gust of wind blew. The old man suddenly opened his eyes. They looked orange or red orange, and they seemed to cry blood. He blinked two times and opened his mouth, filling the cold air with an unworldly stench. The back of Jose's head seemed wet now, even wetter than before, but he still could not feel any blood. Jose and his friends began to run from the area. It now began to rain and it was very cold. They boys kept running confused and frightened. One of the boys shouted, "It's coming this way!" Jose turned around and saw the blazing eyes of the little man "floating" at them like headlights. Jose tripped and fell again, but his friends kept running. Terrified he curled up on the ground, closed his eyes and began grabbing stones. He felt the strong wind and rain hit his back. He gathered enough strength to look and saw nothing. Meanwhile his friends had stopped about 100 meters ahead, had turned and were shouting at him in a panic. He stood up and just as he lifted his head, his eyes met the staring red eyes of the old man. Jose now was paralyzed and stood there gazing at the strange figure. His eyes then appeared to look to the side, as if pointing at something. The little man pointed to Jose's right and he began slowly walking in that direction. His eyes now seemed more normal in appearance. Jose walked after this "man" for some minutes. He stopped and pointed at the lake. He looked back at Jose, just as the rain was stopping and the wind settled to a breeze. Jose felt an arm touch his back, then pushed him so hard that he fell and then fainted. When Jose woke up, he was in the hospital with second-degree burns. The pain was intolerable and the doctors could not explain how he had been burned. He was told that a hunter had found him on the mountain more than eight miles from the lake. The hunter claimed he had seen a metal disc in the air, hovering and then disappearing over the horizon. Then he found Jose, who had signs of strange cuts, as if from knives, and he had a wound on his chest, as if he had undergone surgery. His friends claimed they ran off when they saw the shiny eyes and then a mirror-like reflection of shiny metal on the lakeshore. Their parents ignored them when they told them what had happened.

A British naturalist and some colleagues were conducting some research in the area after being notified by a local of "something" strange that was seen earlier on the year. As they stood at the edge of some woods by a quarry they suddenly spied an extraordinary entity. Measuring 2.5 ft or son in length, it resembled a serpentine dragon with four short limbs, but its head was shaped very like that of a sea horse, and it was airborne---undulating and wriggling as it flew about 10 ft above the surface of the quarry in a wide circle. They were unable to recall seeing any wings, but it had a long tail that terminated in a pair of horizontal, whale like flukes. The entity was green in color and shimmered somewhat, but appeared solid, not translucent or ethereal, and they watched it for 3-4 minutes, at a distance of approximately 50 ft, before it finally vanished into one of the numerous caves and large crevices pitting the quarry. The naturalist had the distinct impression while watching it that this creature was deliberately seeking to keep them at bay, warning them off from approaching further into its territory.

Vinicius Da Silva and Marta Rosenthal were returning home from a day of fishing in the River Tocantis when they felt a bump in one of the tires. Thinking he had a flat Vinicius stopped the vehicle and went to check. He could not find anything wrong with the tire but suddenly heard Marta screaming and saw her pointing to the right side of the road. There, only a few meters away, hovering over the water was a metallic object with small windows along its edge. Standing outside the object on a ledge was a humanoid figure of about 1.30 meters in height. The figure was holding something resembling a hose and was apparently sucking water from the river and into the craft. After about two minutes the humanoid pulled up the hose from the river and re-entered the object. The craft then became very fright and shot away horizontally into the sky.

Mr. A.J.A. had stepped out of his home to smoke a cigarette in his front yard when he suddenly noticed a figure approaching from his right. At first he thought it was a large owl but as it flew directly in front of him he saw that it was a bizarre creature. As the creature flew close to a nearby light pole the witness noticed that it was a humanoid figure with a very large head, which was wingless and flew at in an even level flight, totally noiselessly. The body was about 1 meter 4cm in length. It appeared to be covered in dark green "matted down" hair. It had a pear shaped head but the witness could not see any eyes. It had long thin arms. As the creature flew in front of the witness about 10 meters away, he felt a cold chill and illogic panic. The creature flew by the light pole and executed a 90-degree turn quickly disappearing from sight. The lights streetlights went out as the creature flew by, they came back on later.

Freddy Villalobos, his cousin Christopher Huanca Valenzuela and a group of friends had just finished a soccer match in a nearby field, when they saw a strange bird. It was about 70 cm in length. It landed on top of a public light pole. The light fixture dimmed as the creature landed on it; it was to a point where it was almost completely out. The witnesses were able to see that it had round reddish yellow eyes. The creature emitted short squeaking sounds. One of the witnesses turned on the truck headlights in order to obtain a better look and the bird reacted immediately, covering its head with its wings, as the light apparently bothered it. It seemed to be floating on top of the light fixture rather than having its feet on top of it. Suddenly, it opened up its wings for a brief moment and they saw its head; they described it as horrible. It resembled the head of an old man with a long nose and a triangular shaped mouth. M suddenly found herself being lifted up in a vertical position in what appeared to be some kind of whirlwind. She floated up moving her arms and able to look around. She is attracted to a powerful light that seems to emanate from a hole in the sky. She notices that three humanoids floating next to her accompany her into the hole. As she looked down she could see the roof of the house, then the house become smaller and then the city of Rosario itself. As she continued to rise up into the sky she fell asleep again. An intense cold wave woke her up and she heard what sounded like a metallic hatch closing. She noticed that she had entered this location through a hexagonal shaped opening. Everything was dark around her but as her eyesight adjusted to the light she noticed that she was in an immense room with about 20 floating cots all with a human figure on them. The room was extremely cold and she received the impression that she did not want to be there. To her right she noticed her 45-year old sister sleeping on one of the cots she also remembered seeing a black skinned man lying about 4 cots away. All the people lying on the cots appeared to be in a state of animated suspension. All the time in the background she could hear a low steady snoring sound that seemed to be part of some type of mind control procedure. At that point she began to hear what appeared to be low "voices" that spoke very quickly among themselves. Almost at the same time three humanoids approached her, these were about 1.60 meters in height, very thin, with elongated heads, cat-like eyes, two small holes for noses, hairless, the eyes glowed a blue-gray color. They had three large fingers that appeared to be connected by a membrane and separate finger on the other end. Their bodies were of a beige-pale color and appeared very flexible or gelatinous. They possessed small mouths and what appeared to be a small protuberance on top of their heads. She sensed there were both females and males present but could not see any sexual features. At this point she sensed desperation from the beings as if their time was short and they were unable to reproduce. One of the beings seemed to measure her cranium with a thin tube about 30 cm in length that emitted a beam of light from the tip. As the tube or bar was passed over her head she felt a slight sensation of warmth. She also sensed that the aliens had somehow chosen planet earth for a reproduction staging area, acquiring the necessary materials, which were human bodies of both genders. She could hear other thoughts or speech in her mind and felt that the beings talked about her and about her knowledge. At this point another one of the beings seemed to measure her face from ear to ear at the same time telling her via telepathy that everything was going to be fine. The witness sensed that the aliens needed human bodies as some kind of breeding "container" for their own purposes of survival. Soon the witness became terrified as the three humanoids approached her in an attempt to touch her. She asks them if they are spiritual beings and they answer yes, but she feels it was only an attempt to manipulate her mind. One of the humanoids attempts to touch her breasts but she pushes his arm aside and notices that it has a gummy texture with no bone structure. She learned that the beings were looking for humans that would be good "sperm carriers" or Sementhalers. She also learned that these beings were able to manipulate light in a way that they could use it as a solid matter. On her descend back to her home she remembers seeing images of famous persons flashing around her, including John F Kennedy, Adolph Hitler, Judy Garland, etc. She woke up in her bed with her concerned husband attempting to calm her down.

A village resident stepped out to his patio to find his two dogs barking at a very strange creature. The animal was very small; it measured no more than 40cm tall. He described the creature as very shy, the dogs tried to bite it, but it defended itself with loud screeches, also by opening its mouth, which showed two long teeth in the upper part of the mouth and two smaller ones on the lower jaw. It also stretched out a long tongue of about 25 cm of length. The tongue had two tips very similar to the tongue of a snake. The inside of the mouth was dark green in color. The creature had very little hair, as if it was a newborn. He was not able to determine if it was a male or female, but he saw a small scrotum that appeared to be filled with liquid. The small creature had a strong scent, resembling that of sewage. The creature was fighting for its life and was completely filled with panic. As one of the dogs tried to bite its leg, it was able to defend itself by raising its paws to avoid the fatal bite. Shortly afterwards the small creature began to violently jump from side to side, almost hurting itself by hitting a metallic fruit container on the kitchen sink. Suddenly when seeing that the patio-kitchen door was open, the little creature rushed to the patio, the witness attempted to close the door but it was to late. He was only able to grab its leg and pull some hair from it. He then saw it running away towards a neighbor's house until he lost sight of it. On the day following his encounter with a bizarre creature, a local farmer saw three strange looking but very well dressed men that showed up as he spoke to a friend who had also seen the creature. They stood some 30 meters away from a group of acquaintances who were busy sharing a side of flame-roasted beef. They approached the farmer and informed him that they were police officers and were going to arrest him. Surprised he asked why, since he had not done anything wrong. They told him he could not discuss what he saw the day before with anybody. He asked the strangers to show some badges but they refused. He described the men as being almost 2 meters tall, very thin and closely resembling one another, especially in their bearing and constitution. They wore sunglasses that concealed their eyes. One of them had eyes that reminded the witness of "Spiderman." They always kept their left hands in their pockets. They surveyed the entire area, and never once did they call out to one another. All three wore a type of glove, which left their ring and smallest fingers exposed, with the rest of the fingers occupying a single space. Their shirt cuffs covered part of this "pseudo-mitten" over which they wore a thin, shiny metal bracelet. He also described a 'prosthetic" covering the nail of the smallest finger, and a ring placed at the tip of the ring finger. Their Spanish was very strange, sloppy as if they were drunk. They spoke a language among themselves that the farmer was unable to understand, he was sure that it was not English. After they left the witnesses realized that the men had not moved their mouths to speak. The farmer further noticed that the group leader wore a hat "similar to a bullfighter's" which barely covered one of his ears, in which he could see a "V" shaped cut and a darker shade of color. He also recalled the following details: a very sharp vocal tone, short blond hair, broad forehead, high cheekbones, straight nose, thin neck, small mouth (except for the leader, who had thick lips and was wearing a safari-type jacket), a mechanized walk, similar gestures, line eyebrows, black ties and tie clips the same color as the stones on their rings. One of the men engaged in roasting the side of beef remarked: "They approached us at one point and looked us up and down, but said nothing at all. They appeared to walk and spin on the tips of their feet. They gave the impression of weighing less than a normal person." They did not accept any water from the witnesses and threatened the farmer once again. Hearing noises the witness saw in an alley behind his house a short figure that was glowing"lavender" color. It was wearing what resembled a "potato sack". It had large black eyes. Soon the lights of his house went out and he found himself paralyzed in bed and floated outside into the alley. He had vague memories of being inside a place with blue walls and without windows. He saw a door that appeared to be guarded by a figure. There was a table in the middle of the room.

Daniel Carter and several other witnesses were hiking in a thick jungle area and had taken a little rest in a clearing. Soon they began hearing strange grunts, at first they thought it was a wild boar but the grunts became high-pitched almost like a long soft scream. About 5 to 7 minutes after these sounds there was an abrupt rustling of leaves and snapping of branches and suddenly a strange creature appeared. It was about five to six feet tall and very slim. It had the same shape and appearance of some kind of ape but it was clearly not a mammal. It had dark reddish/brownish skin that appeared very bumpy. Its eyes were small and black, very close together. The mouth stuck out and the teeth were very visible. It stood there about 20 seconds then dashed away with amazing speed. The witness was lying in bed trying to get some sleep when she noticed what appeared to be a figure standing by her bedroom door. A terrible feeling overcame her originating in her stomach area. She rolled over and tried to get some sleep. As she lay there she heard a sort of buzzing sound. Her next memory was of floating in mid-air about a foot above the bed. She then blacked out. Later she woke up lying on a steel table. It was very cold and the air around her was damp, cold and there was a sort of fog around the room. She then saw a figure come toward her. She tried to scream but could not. The figure came straight to her face. She described it as humanoid, quite tall with no hair on his body. He had a sort of white glow around him. He communicated via telepathy and told her that they were here to help her. She then saw another being come over and touch her on the arm. She was unable to move at all. She then saw an object come toward her face. It appeared to be some type of metal object, like a rod, but it glowed. It glowed a bright white. One of the figures looked at her and said, "Don't worry, I will not hurt you. I am giving you information. Knowledge to get through the coming days" It touched her between the eyes and she saw many different things. Numbers, letters, symbols, shapes, pictures, events and much more. She then passed out. Later she woke up still lying on the strange metal table. She was naked and tried to find her clothes and then saw what appeared to be a light, very dim. She walked up to it and noticed that it looked like a porthole. It was round, but had strange symbols around it. The symbols were very geometric in shape, but somewhat different in style, nothing like is normally seen. As she looked through the porthole she saw a huge blue ball that apparently was the planet Earth as seen from out of space. Terrified she started running back to the table and then saw one of the figures come out of nowhere. He came directly toward her, sort of floating in mid-air. He told her telepathically to calm down and that she must go back and remember what she was shown. The next thing she knew she was in her bed totally naked. She staggered toward the bathroom and looked in the mirror and noticed what appeared to be a bright red mark on her forehead right where one of the beings had put a rod.

After dropping a paper into the box she began to driver forward to the next house and noted a late model white pick up truck coming up behind her. She pulled out onto the side of the road and waited for the truck to pass. She claims that everything seemed to be in slow motion at that point. As the truck passed there did not seem to be a driver. The passenger turned to look into the car. She says it was not a natural movement, it seemed to turn its entire body to watch them as it passed instead of just turning its head. The movement was so unnatural it was like it was wearing a full body scuba suit or a suit of armor that was difficult to move about in. Silhouetted in the street light a few yards up she saw no sign of hair on its head that seemed larger than normal, but at the same time it was darker than the darkness around it. Even as the truck passed under the streetlight the figure was still dark. The truck then turned onto a road that she claimed to be a dead end or a long road with no turn off. All this happened within a time space of about 30 seconds. She dropped a paper into the next box and then hesitantly turned down the same street to find that the truck had disappeared.

In the distance he saw a large dark "animal" which was then down on all fours, and was assumed to be a bear. The animal then looked at him, then stood upright on two legs. He described them as about 3-½ ft tall, and heavy set, walking quickly up and down the hallway. Being very dark he could only see their outlines. He could only compare them to trolls. They never paid any attention to him and seemed to be very busy at some unknown task. Every time the witness attempted to get up he felt paralyzed and unable to speak. A month later he woke up in the middle of the night and saw a taller, dark figure peering at him, leaning its upper body around the doorframe. He was not paralyzed and chased the figure down the hallway toward the top of the stairwell. The dark figure vanished into the outside wall.

Five students camping in a deserted beach, including Luis Carlos Prima reported seeing a large disc shaped object about 10 meters in diameter land on the beach. The five geography students had been sleeping when a very strong wind suddenly woke them up. The wind was so strong that it began to unearth the tent from the sandy ground. Thinking it was a storm they ran out and confronted a huge disc shaped object with numerous bright lights on its top and windows on the center. Suddenly a small door opened and two short humanoids came out. The object and the humanoids were about 200 meters away from the witnesses. The little men seemed to be collecting ground samples when they became aware of the witnesses presence. They ignored the witnesses and after several minutes reboarded the object, which took off at high speed. Deep ground traces were found at the landing site.

3 men were working in the night shift on a small observation post on top of a small hill, with a good view over South Evoikus Gulf. They were looking out for forest fires. They had parked their vehicle next to an old abandoned heliodrome with a tattered landing platform made of concrete. The witnesses were sitting at a nearby kiosk when suddenly a disk shaped light colored object was seen coming towards them flying low and soundless from a northeast direction. Their mobile phones, radio and the vehicle CB ceased to function all at the same time. When the UFO approached them it was emitting a light sound "like a small electrical motor." The sound was not heard after the UFO landed or during the rest of the incident. The UFO approached and landed softly on the old concrete platform about 15 meters away. It was shaped like two plates stuck together on their lids was about 3 meters in diameter and seemed to have a whitish or metallic color. It seemed to land on its "belly" and not on landing gears. It was partly hidden by small bushes. After a short while the frightened witnesses watched a door open on the side of the UFO. The opened door formed a ramp leading to the ground. Inside the opening a dim light was observed. After that, three small occupants emerged from the inside one after the other. They were humanoids, 80-90 cm tall, with normal bodies and limbs, resembling small kids. The beings were wearing tight-fitting and seemingly metallic uniforms or suits, like the ones used in scuba diving ending in a "hood" that was covering the head but not the face. The witnesses could not see their faces in the dark, but apparently the humanoids were not wearing a visor, or faceplate. The 3 humanoids preceded one after the other for about 7 meters until they reached the end of the flat area on the top of the hill. They seemed to walk a little bit faster then the normal. Then they seemed to descend on a small path that leads to the seaside and vanish from view. Meanwhile the opening on the UFO remained opened. One of the witnesses attempted to walk towards the UFO but thought better of it. After about 10 minutes the humanoids appeared again on the path and preceded, again, one after the other to enter the UFO. The door closed and the UFO took off softly and silently. It vanished from view southward. The witnesses searched for traces but could not find any. 2 nights later the same group of men saw a huge disc shaped object fling slowly overhead, it emitted a soft whirring sound and again they experienced EM effects on their radios and cell phones.

A 51-year-old security guard reported hearing strange sounds at a construction site that he was guarding. He described the sounds as similar to hearing children running and playing around. The sounds came from outside the stockpiles of wood. His companion, a pregnant stray dog, suddenly ran towards the back patio, while he listened, the noise seemed to get louder. Thinking there was robbers about; he picked up his flashlight and run towards the door. As soon as he opened the door, the dog ran out barking, ran a few feet then suddenly bounced right back. The animal was apparently terrified and was moaning in apparent pain. The witness then saw a bright oval shaped object floating around near the 55-gallon drums. The object was about 35 ft from the witness. The object moved at about 15 mph. It appeared to be some type of small airship. It did not emit air, noise, or it left a contrail. He felt a strange sensation in his body. Other guards reported seeing strange looking men dressed in gray roaming around the site. They were very elusive, and appeared to be looking for something.

A woman and her daughter were traveling by van from Calama to the coastal city of Antofagasta. As it began to get dark, the daughter suddenly jumped out of her seat and yelled at her mom to look outside. Looking she saw a flock of bizarre looking flying creatures, about 20 of them. It was too dark to distinguish any physical aspects. They resembled shadows and appeared to be oval in shape and grayish in color. They flew very fast and did not appear to fly in a straight pattern; they made wobbling movements in all directions. They appeared to be some type of living creatures. As she tilted her towards the windshield she noticed that they were traveling in a straight line, heading towards Calama. Her daughter noticed that one of the creatures approached the van, and she thought it was looking at her. Terrified the witnesses drove quickly away from the area.

The witness woke up flying trough what appeared to be a watery tube or conduit of a flexible nature (involved in other encounters). This tube like structure appeared to be flying through the air, she felt surrounded by a liquid energy. The tube was long and flexible. Under her she could see another human and above her another human. They seemed to be spaced apart only by a few meters. She saw what appeared to be a large city apparently Buenos Aires below her. Soon she was inside a ship in a huge room with walls made out of a material resembling transparent acrylic. The room was of a hexagonal shape. There were over a hundred humans in the room apparently from different parts of the planet. Some were wearing nightgowns others what appeared to be sports clothing. Somehow she knew a reunion was going to take place. Looking at the crystal like walls she saw a young girl looking back at her, the girl resembled her when she was a young girl. She felt a very calm atmosphere surrounding her and her voices in her head. She was able to see the universe through the transparent crystal walls. She was told that great changes were coming in the earth. Mostly to do with great climate changes and war and conflict among humans. She was told of a massive coming pandemic that will destroy more than half of the human race. She was told about the current wars in the Middle East and Afghanistan. Also she received information stating that many of the current young people that are reported missing are in fact taken by the extraterrestrials in order to complete their mission on earth.

As the light rapidly approached they thought it could have been a truck but then it suddenly flew over them and stopped about 100 yards ahead. They could now see that within the light there was a round object about 7 meters in diameter, with several bright lights on the bottom and an antenna like protrusion on top. From inside the object 3 humanoids exited. These were described as about 1.30 meters in height, wearing tight fitting green-metallic body suits and with small staring eyes. As the humanoids approached, the vehicle engine suddenly stalled. In a panic both witnesses began to scream. This apparently startled the humanoids, which turned around levitated back to the object. The object then took off and vanished. Three minutes later they were able to re-start the engine and left the scene.

2002 HUMANOID REPORTS
Compiled by
Albert Rosales
dolphins305@comcast.net

2002 Humanoid Reports. It appears to be a slow start for this year with only one recorded case, again from Chile. We will see what develops later on the year. 2001 was pretty busy but it was a decline from 2000. Maybe we will see another down trend again, later to pick up again in the near future. This seems to be the ever-ongoing trend of the phenomena. Will it always stay the same? Time will tell. Following is a list of known 2002 humanoid cases.

Late one night in a dream-like state the witness woke up to see seven to eight strange figures in her bedroom. They were dark gray in color and very thin, with three large thick long fingers on their hands. They had large, lipless mouths and large shiny protruding black eyes, their noses were thin and protruding, small ears, the heads was large and pointy. The humanoids appeared to be naked and she was able to see a penis on the humanoids. They were about 1.55 meters in height. She felt dizzy and under the control of the strange entities. She was led out of her bedroom by one of the humanoids that removed her clothing and made her lie down on the floor. The humanoids apparently attempted to molest her sexually and possibly attempted to rape her but were not successful. She apparently passed out and does not remember anything else about the encounter.

Two young teenagers, Jean F and Nelson C, where at home at night when Jean noticed that his pet snake had escaped from its cage. Both boys began looking for it outside among the rubble of the parcel. They recalled how half an hour before, their two dogs strangely began to howl and cry; however, it did not seem to be important at that point in time. They searched for the pet snake together when suddenly, about 30 meters from where they stood; they saw what appeared to be a stray dog. They threw rocks at to avoid an attack. However, to their surprise, the animal stood there, motionless and fearless; it did not get scared nor it ran away as ordinary dogs normally do. Shortly, the strange animal began to move towards them. The movements it made as it walked were very strange. It used two legs at a time. It made very small sand short leaps like a rabbit. Suddenly, it stopped and it stood up on two legs. The teenagers then began to feel some kind of energy. "It was like an electrical shock in the stomach," they said. It later walked again making a loud dragging noise, making small leaps and only moving one of its legs. They noticed the weird shape of the animal. "It was like a rugby football with legs," one of them said. Jean began to feel frightened and started to move away from animal. On the other hand, Nelson felt a strange need to get closer to the creature; he got to within 2 meters away from it. The creature appear to emit a strange luminosity that apparently, was bright enough to lit a small area around the creature in spite of the nighttime darkness. Nelson was mesmerized as he stared at the strange creature. He described it as having a head like a large dog with a flat nose like a bulldog. Its eyes were slanted and pale-red in color, which could only be seen when the creature turned its head from side to side like a lizard. At that moment, Nelson heard a voice in his head saying, "Don't stare, and just run away." They provided further description, describing the ears as flat, round and large. Its arms were short, it had elbows, and the hands had three fingers. It had hair like the one on a wild pig. Its legs were like the ones of a goat. The feet had also three fingers and a membrane like ducks, but somewhat shorter. On its curved back, they were able to notice a spinal section covered with amounts of even thicker hair. Most of the hair of the animal was gray, but the tail had a white tip. Nelson finally fled, terrified, from the area. He also described how he felt an inexplicable bone-chilling cold sensation.

Ted Parker was eating some leftover food when he claims the food began to change. The bread of the sandwich turned an orange color and the lamb became a silvery metallic color, sort of like liquid mercury. As he watched transfixed, he saw the orange bread and metallic lamb turn into the figure of an "alien" with the form of a man. It was silver in color and its outfit (smooth pants and shirt, like a jump suit) was orange in color. At this point Parker glanced at the wall clock and it indicated that 2 hours had gone by, even though it felt like minutes only. The alien figure communicated using telepathic means and asked Ted to come with him. They both went outside and there, Ted saw a landed black-colored craft in his backyard. In a split second Ted found himself inside the craft not knowing how he got there. The inside of the craft was pure white in color with strips of the metallic silver that the alien figure appeared to be made of. The rest of the incident is just a blur, but Parker did remembered hearing several loud high-pitched rings while onboard the object. A couple of days before while eating dinner with several other people there had been a similar high pitched ring and everybody had just stopped eating and walked out of the room.

A strange creature called by locals "El Pestizo" has attacked several lone pedestrians in the middle of the night. It is described as a dark man shaped shadowy being. A boy riding his bicycle on the way to visit some friends was toppled from his bicycle and found a black shadowy figure facing him. The young man managed to upholster his shotgun and fire two shots. But, when he saw that they had no effect, he promptly drew his knife and stabbed the figure without any apparent harm. Frightened the youth tried to escape but the creature knocked him down without saying a word and began dragging him by the hair to the side of the road. At this point the young man began to scream. A local man, who rushed to provide assistance, only to find a black shadow dragging the boy by the hair, heard his cries. The fearful shape disappeared without a trace after it became aware of the other man's presence. Six other locals have reported being attacked by a similar being and received wounds.

Several friends were taking a trip to the coast and it was already very dark. They had already entered a tropical forest area and there was a mist rolling along the ground. As they turned around they saw something squatting in the middle of the road. It stared at them, and just as they thought they were going to hit it, it leaped off the road and into the trees. It leaped about 10 meters in the air. The creature was definitely human looking although it wore strange clothes. It was dressed in a green robe of some kind with little pieces of gold on it, and it was either wearing a head crest or it had a row of spikes running from its forehead to the top of its neck. Very frightened the witnesses drove out of the forest and at the same time the mist turned to a thick fog. They pulled over and decided to wait until the fog had cleared, although none of them were too happy about it. As they sat around and waited they suddenly heard a shriek. It sounded like some sort of wild animal and they turned the car on so the headlights would scare it away. The headlights revealed the same creature they had seen earlier. It hid its face from the light and shrieked. Right before the witnesses' eyes, the creature seemed to evaporate into the fog. Within five minutes the fog had gone and the normal rolling mist was back. The witnesses quickly left the area and drove towards the coast.

The witness and his wife were in bed that Saturday morning talking when their 5-year-old daughter came into the bedroom with her baby brother, whose cot is placed under their bedroom window. They heard a strange noise and some green light came into the window. Their daughter looked out the window and reported seeing a "flying car" with four spinning green lights on top. She saw two windows in the vehicle and saw two dark brown faces looking out. His wife saw the craft flying past through the curtains. That same morning, in a large tree near the witness house a strange structure was found. The branches were arranged in a rectangular pen shape, vertical, each approximately 30 to 40 cm long. They found a few smaller sticks scaling down in size from the structure. A piece of concrete slab was found propped up on one corner. The witnesses had never seen this strange structure before and think is some kind of message left by the visitors. (Some kind of bizarre crop circle?). A few nights before they had heard strange noises coming from the kitchen area.

Augusto & Maurizia were in their vehicle parked in an open field next to a wooded area having a heated discussion when suddenly a powerful beam of reddish-orange light illuminated the area around them. They rolled down the car window and heard a sharp metallic sound that seemed to be increasing in intensity. They now noticed, behind the beam of light a hovering disc-shaped craft with a central rotating ring, it hovered about a meter from the ground. From the object, a cigar-shaped beam of light emerged; they could see it as the central ring of the craft slowly rotated on its axis. The craft was only about 10 meters away. At this point, and only about 4 meters from the object Augusto saw what appeared to be a gelatinous transparent humanoid-like figure with a visible head, arms and legs. The figure was silvery in color and was very tall, about 3 meters or so. At this point Augusto became concerned and drove away from the area and did not see the object or figure depart. The whole episode lasted about 10 minutes. The metallic noise was heard all throughout the encounter.

Helen Diskin went for a walk in the countryside talking snap shots along the way with her digital camera. Returning home she loaded these into her computer and was intrigued by an odd-looking image. It looked like a luminous figure in an area of no sunlight, skulking amongst the trees. She returned to the site of the photo twice afterward and could find no explanation for the figure. The figure resembled a small helmeted figure that she had not seen when she took the picture of an area of the woods she had thought of as "mysterious."

Several witnesses were camping outside of town and late at night one of them was attempting to put out the bonfire when he heard the most awful and horrifying scream. It resembled that of an injured dog crossed with a scream of a woman. The witness dropped the flashlight and was joined by another witness. Suddenly out of the woods a hideous and gruesome creature appeared. It did not look human, somewhat satyr-like in appearance and walked on two legs. It had a long tail like a dragon and wings like those unicorns in fantasy books. The beast took several steps towards the witnesses and one of them picked up and asked and yelled at it and then shone his flashlight at it. The creature then turned towards the bushes and ran away from the area.

Mirna, was watching television alone in her room when she began hearing noises coming from outside, at first she thought it was her dogs playing around with some empty cans. But the noises kept getting louder and louder and she decided to go outside to investigate. Once outside she was stunned to see some type creature that had somehow entered the rabbit cage and was attacking the animals that were making loud unearthly screams. Thinking at first that it was one of the dogs she approached the case but realized that it was a gray colored hairy hunched over creature, that was moving quickly inside the cage. She stepped back and could not understand how the creature had entered the cage, since there wasn't any apparent hole or aperture visible anywhere and the door was firmly closed. Afraid she ran inside her home and notified her son, both then ran out but the creature had mysteriously disappeared. Unnerved, they could not understand how they creature had escaped since the door to the rabbit caged was still firmly locked. Later they could only find a small round hole in the wire only several centimeters in width, not large enough for a creature estimated to have been about 70 to 80 cm in height. Several of the rabbits were found injured and one was dead.

It appeared not to have any other facial features and was wearing dark clothing; it wore some type of head covering, which was hard to see because of the darkness. She could only see a pair of large dark eyes on his face that appeared to shine in the darkness. Some more children now arrived and observed as the humanoid move several steps towards them. Another witness, Rene Mamani saw the humanoid run and hide behind some bushes. It seemed to move at very high speed in an unnatural fashion. It seemed to have remained suspended in mid-air for a few seconds. It then seemed to fly through the air and disappeared into some nearby woods. Somewhat perplexed he approached and noticed two individuals standing on a nearby field. These were over 2 meters in height, wore tight fitting white coveralls and helmets resembling that of the early astronauts. He parked his vehicle and approached the two strange figures on foot. One of the men walked away and entered the shiny pear-shaped craft while the other remained behind. Knowing that these men were "not from this earth" he still asked the remaining humanoid if he needed any assistance. He felt that as he approached the strange pair he had been in some type of a trance and seemed to have floated over the road. The humanoid answered and appeared genuinely happy as to his offer of assistance but said that everything was in order. He also added that the area was very beautiful and also added: "Humans don't know what they have. Where we come from we don't have such beautiful scenes, they disappeared a long time ago." The astounded witness managed to ask the humanoid where he was from and was told that they hailed from another dimension, a concept that humans have not yet assimilated. The humanoid smiled as he answered the question. The humanoid then bid goodbye and walked towards the nearby shiny pear shaped object, he then disappeared inside of it. The craft then emitted a loud whistling sound and disappeared at very high speed towards some nearby cliffs. The witness described the humanoids as about 2.50 meters in height, wide chests and heavy set, thin legs. Generally human features, but somewhat "refined" or sharpened features. The suits were very tight fitting made of an apparent synthetic material resembling plastic. Their eyes were very light almost white and their speech was hesitant & accented. The witness had stayed up late watching the soccer game as was in his bedroom when suddenly there was a coldness around him that made him shiver. He noticed that his audio capabilities were somehow enhanced and he was able to hear sounds that previously he was unable to hear. He then heard a noise outside his door and went out to investigate. The noise became louder as he approached the door. He then heard footsteps and opened the door. A very small man with a somewhat deformed body that was smiling at him confronted the witness. He looked straight ahead and then stared at the witness. His next memory was of waking up in his bed in the morning.

The primary witness had stepped out on his back porch when his attention was drawn to two huge black "birds" which were approaching from the north. His first impression was they were Herons, but soon realized that the color was wrong, and "they were huge, much larger than any bird I have ever seen." The two huge birds landed at the top of a very tall coniferous tree. The witness stated that the wingspan appeared to be wider than the branches, jest below where they had landed. The body size was estimated to be about six feet from head to tail. The oddest feature was the shape of the wings, which according to the witness appeared to be bat-like. The tree where the "birds" landed seemed as though it would break from their weight. The witness yelled for others in the house to come outside to look. Another family member was able to see the huge black birds as they passed overhead, and headed for some woods. After checking the size of the branches where the birds had landed, the witness estimated that the wingspan would have been close to 12 feet or somewhat larger.

A couple were walking near a local historic monument (a windmill) and they drew closer to monument they heard a low whirling noise. The noise progressed to a high-pitched whining, almost out of hearing range. Then they saw a mysterious glow coming from the dark side of the windmill, and then to their astonishment they saw 5 or 6 shadow like figures standing in front of the windmill. Startled the two began to run back towards the main road. The woman looked back and saw the figures become engulfed by a bright light and disappear, and then everything became quiet.

Pedro and Estela Moine had decided to visit the business district of town called Barrio Norte and crossed the old railroad yard through a pedestrian pathway that ran through a pasture area between some silos, old railroad depots and abandoned wreckage. As the couple moved through the premises they suddenly became aware of a strange and incomprehensible conversation between many voices. Startled, they stopped walking moved a few meters more and then heard the voices again which now sounded like strange "O" sounds. Pedro looked toward the silos and was able to see resembling humanoid but lacking upper and lower extremities. Despite the pleas of his wife, Pedro ran several meters toward an inner alley in the silo plant, being able to make out some 45 meters to the west and in profile---the entity, which acting surprised, avoided the encounter and moved again to the north. However, what filled the witnesses with wonderment was that the creature did so as though flying or floating without touching the facilities it passed. Pedro and Estela ran after it. It was thus that the man managed to see the entity apparently hiding behind the control room of the truck scale. Pedro ran toward it and was again startled to see the apparition rising as a plane taking off, flying at an altitude of 5 meters and disappearing behind a large metal shed. Bewildered, both witnesses called out, but were unable to see anything else. Pedro Moine as "a thing with human shape" described the apparition. It had some sort of light, although he could not say if reflected or self-generated, although he tends to believe the latter, since it was a nebulous whitish light, which kept him from making out details. The entire mass of the apparition appeared to be a body covered from head to toe in some sort of mantle, which he described as though it wore a hat, but covered with some kind of long raincoat reaching down to what he took to be its feet. He added that the "conversational sounds" repeated themselves in three separate occasions at various intensities. They were like conversations in a strange language.

Police officer Guillermo Arias was on routine patrol through a rural area when he heard over the radio that his colleagues in arms over at Achiras were seeing lights in sectors of said community, and that they were heading towards Chajan along National Route 8. At the wheel of the police patrol van, he managed to see a formation of 7 lights in the distance and decided to drive 10 km along a rural dirt road. When he had covered said distance, he noticed, not without surprise, that the engine of his vehicle sputtered and died, causing the police car to strike the edge of a guardrail. Simultaneously, the lights on the van's dashboard began turning on and off randomly, the police radio went haywire and its dial displayed the random shifting of the frequencies while the cabin became filled with an acrid odor, as though of burnt wiring, and the interior lights and stop indicator, which were broken, began lighting on and off. Seized by fear, Arias leaped from the van and walked away a few meters down the road, losing his cellular phone in the escape. The darkness was total, when suddenly, amid the confusing situation; an immense light emerged from a field adjacent to the road as a triangular object rose majestically into the air. Now Arias condition went from fear to abject terror as he saw what he described as a real "floating city" some 200 meters long with a long row of windows (perhaps as many as 100). Arias claims having seen something move behind them, describing the movement as "TV sets which make lines and shadows", which he defined as "non-human", and that many beams of light came out of the giant triangle, aimed at the ground. The event lasted 2-3 seconds, but to Arias it felt like an eternity. The object suddenly rose and sped away, vanishing behind the hills of a local field. As the object moved away, the whole area was lit up like daytime and there was an afterglow that lasted another 20 minutes.

Three girls had decided to visit the rooftop as they did the prior evening watching for satellites. It was dusk and the girls had a good vantage point looking towards the east. With them they had a pair of binoculars and a pair of walkie-talkies. The girls noticed that a large orange light appeared approximately 15 degrees above the eastern horizon. The anomaly was noted to have fluctuated in colors of orange, yellow, white and pale blue. At fist they thought of an arriving airplane, but then a second light appeared approximately 50 degrees south of the first anomaly, and about 10 degrees above the horizon. This much smaller anomaly began to perform some unusually maneuvering; from a stationary position it accelerated at least 5 degrees closer to the ground surface at an approximate 45-60 degree angle within a matter of a single second. The first anomaly then began to move slowly towards the north. At this stage they partially lost view of it as it moved behind a tree. Then a third anomaly appeared in a valley-like region of the horizon. According to the witnesses, this third object appeared to have "landed" on the ground surface. The object was then viewed through the binoculars and presented in great detail; the object was described as a gray saucer with interchanging colors of green, red/orange, blue/purple and white rotating around the rim. Thy also noted the trees being slightly illuminated by this extraordinary phenomenon. They were suddenly distracted by someone on their walkie-talkie saying, "Identify yourself." This was followed by some unusual voices communicating in a foreign language. Around 1830 the girls were then called down to have dinner. At about 2030 the girls re-established their places on the roof after dinner. To their surprise, the third ground-based object was still present. Unexpectedly a yellow beam of light ascended a few meters above the object and suddenly deviated its course towards the three girls. "It was like an orange, yellowy bright light shining on us from far away." The light shone on them for a period of about half a minute. At this point, it is not clear how one of the girls ended up on the ground. She became extremely hysterical and ran inside. The other two girls quickly followed her. That evening all three girls had stomach pains. One of them could not sleep and did not go to school the next day. Another of the girls woke up the next morning with her nose bleeding. She also mentioned that she had seen a strange small human like figure in her bedroom.

Local residents have seen a strange figure, which they described as resembling a "shroud". The apparitions, which always occur in the early morning hours, have become so common that in recent days several neighbors have stayed up late to see them, and it is thus that they were able to confirm the simultaneous presence of up to 2 such beings, as well as red lights flying over the area. All the witnesses whether individuals or in a group, agree that the entities are nebulous and glowing, with a pair of red eyes being clearly identifiable, and glassy faces (as if transparent). Their movements are smooth and they always appear from behind the sand dunes, as though "coming form the Naval Base." Most witnesses agree that they show a great interest in the water tanks located above the roofs, and that they do not flee upon detecting the presence of local residents---rather, they stare at them fixedly for some minutes. Deep silence is perceived during the observations and "the air appears to become still" and neither heat nor cold can be felt---only a sensation of warmth, as if the beings emanated heat. Witnesses also state that things appear to be darker when "the shroud" appears, as though ambient lighting were dimmed. Another curious fact is the large number of cats and dogs who report to the place where the sightings occur and sit down to observe it in silence, in a state resembling a trance. A series of semi-circular prints have been found in the dunes, not very deep, with 15-20 cm separations in some cases and 30-50 cm in others. The locals have identified them as the strange being's footprints. Efforts have been made to photograph the "shroud", but all images, despite the use of different cameras appear exposed. One witness who approached the site to witness the phenomenon took two photos of the prints in the afternoon and decided to stay with the group of people hoping to see the "shroud", managing to take some photos of same and record the new prints which appeared in the dunes after the sighting. A completely uncommon print was found at the site---but the residents aren't sure if it's related to the phenomenon: it has the shape of a five-fingered claw. One witness tried to make use of his carbine's telescopic sight to see the figure in greater detail, but "when he tried to focus on it, he could see nothing_it was a though it could only be seen with the unaided eye."

A man named Todd Sees went up the mountain to look for pre-season deer. He told his wife that he would be home by noon. He rode his 4-wheeler up the power line behind his home. He never returned. A search party composed of local police, state police and volunteers searched for Sees. The 4-wheeler was found on the top of the mountain near a power-line. Tracking dogs could find nothing to go on around the 4-wheeler. The search went on for 2 days and over 6 miles of mountain was covered from top to bottom. Then, in the evening of the 2nd day, his body was found in a hard to reach wooded area. He was wearing his underwear. He was emaciated---not bloated. He was pale and had an expression of horror on his face. When he went up the mountain he was fully dressed, boots, camo-vest, hat, socks, pants. 3 people, on one farm, said they saw a large round bright object just above the power-lines at the time of the disappearance. It was silent, it did not move for about 10 to 15 minutes. It suddenly went up and suddenly stopped. A light shone down and something was pulled up into the light. It then went straight up, hesitated again, and then went west over the Susquehanna River and out of sight. More specifically a farmer saw an object above Montour Ridge at the power lines, on top of the mountain, it was round and very still over the lines. Suddenly it moved what looked like a few hundred feet to the east, it stopped and a beam of blue and white light shone to the ground. What was seen next was very unnerving, he saw what appeared to be a man suspended in the light, he was being pulled up head first, he was moving his arms slowly in the light. What looked like a man was pulled up into the bottom of the craft. A few seconds later it started shuddering, then went west very fast, stopped briefly, and then went straight up and out of sight. Also three fishermen saw the craft. The FBI is supposedly also investigating. (Debated as a hoax, who would? and for what purpose?).

The witness suddenly awoke at about 0330A and heard her twelve dogs barking and was surprised to hear birds singing at that time of the morning. She stayed in bed until her husband woke up and opened the window and they noticed despite the heavily clouded weather that it was light as if it was a full moon. After watching the backyard for about 30 minutes it suddenly turned dark again and the birds and dogs went quiet. Her husband reported seeing one of the dogs barking at the backyard wall, he looked in the direction of the wall and saw the figure of a "person" standing still on the top of the wall. The man like figure was as tall as the wall or at least 8 ft in height. Astonished all he could do was stare. He felt that the "person" may have noticed being observed and walked very swiftly to the corner of the wall and did not jump, it just walked off the wall as if walking off the stairs of a house. Right after that, it went dark again like someone had turned off the light. The next day the witnesses learned that several locals including military police had reported the unusual brightness in the sky from different points of the city.

Carre Obregon was walking through her neighborhood when it was still dark (she lives in a suburban neighborhood surrounded in on at least 3 sides by extensive wooded areas). She happened to see something out of the corner of her eye as she walked along and when she looked in that direction she saw what initially impressed her to be a very small, stark white person squatting on the ground in the alley about 25 ft away. It was still somewhat dark with moderate rain falling, so she was not able to get a detailed look at the creature. She was however able to describe it as about 2 ½ ft tall if it had been standing, and entirely white all over its body, either covered in very sleek fur or just very white skin. It was seated on its haunches and appeared to have tiny, dexterous hands like a very small person might. She was not able to see its head or face clearly but was able to make out either hair sticking out around its head or some sort of spines. She hurriedly walked away from the area.

Four men were riding through a dirt road in a forested area and had stopped the car next to an abandoned building in order to explore the area. As they were walking on the road they noticed off to the side of the road about 3 meters away what appeared to be a round pale head with large dark "sad looking" eyes. It looked like a "gray" alien head. They ran to the car in a panic. When they started the car they noticed that the battery was almost spent and that the oil temperature was suddenly very high. Two weeks later the witnesses saw at about the same spot a human-like figure wearing white robes. When the person turned his head in the direction of the witnesses they began to run, as they fled one of the men was grabbed from behind by his leather jacket and he fell to the ground. About a week the same witnesses saw in the same area a peculiar car that they could not describe its model but it resembled a Vauxhall.

A young member of a vacationing family was walking through a wooded area when he came upon a strange tiny humanoid, only about 7.2 cm in height. It had a large head, arms, long thin fingers and two legs. It somehow resembled a "small mummy" and seemed to have several burn scars; at times it was able to open its eyes. It died after about eight days. Members of the University of Chile are apparently investigating the supposed humanoid and text results are expected soon. (Update, it has been reported that the creature could be a native marsupial common in the region, however is not clear yet since the creature reportedly did not have a tail).

Adrian Sanchez had pulled his work truck into his yard and as he was walking towards the front door he noticed a strange odor. Looking back toward the truck, he noticed a small figure inside the truck. It was picking up the CB microphone and attempting to speak into it. After a few moments, he could make out two colors inside the truck, orange and blue. He watched the movement of the lights for a long time, until morning came, and the lights faded. There were other witnesses to the event also. As work time arrived, Adrian cautiously approached his truck, and seeing nothing, got in and started the engine. He proceeded to a house and unloaded the products from the back of the truck, and then proceeded to the Eddin-Walcher fuel island to gas up. As he did, he again noticed some type of small figure in his truck. He watched for a short period of time until the figure disappeared. He drove to his next location, which was San Angelo. He reported the incident to the police.

First a man heard consistent knocking at the front door and looking out saw a small man like figure that requested assistance saying that "one of his family members was being beaten." Briefly stepping out the witness did not hear any shouts or voices and did not see anything amiss, meanwhile the little man disappeared into the darkness. Fearing a robbery the witness ran back inside. Hours later a similar figure was seen walking on the Juan Manuel de Rosas Boulevard, police responded but found nothing. Days later a local police officer responding to dog's constant barking went out to investigate and confronted a figure about 80 cm in stature that was standing at the entrance to his house, when the creature noticed that it was being observed it quickly left the area. The officer described the figure as about 80 cm in height, man like with a beard and long pointy ears.

Delfino Garcia Zarate was at his post as security guard at the Technical Secondary school # 98 Mariano Escobedo and was making the rounds in the patio area when he heard a strong sound resembling a bird moving its wings at a very high rate of speed.

Curious he looked up in the direction from which the sound originated and was able to see a hairy man-like figure with two huge dark wings. Terrified he ran into the school and hid in one of the schoolrooms until the morning. Around the same time a woman living in the Unidad Puerta Grande suburb was out in her back patio washing some dishes when she also heard a loud thrashing sound overhead, at first she thought it could had been an eagle and looked up but was surprised to see a hairy man-like figure floating overhead on a pair of huge wings, terrified she also ran into the house. Also around the same time in Cocolapam suburb a man and his son were repairing the TV antenna on their roof when they noticed a winged creature, gray and hairy in appearance that was approaching their location from a northerly direction, the winged humanoid glided on a pair of huge wings and quickly disappeared from sight. Another woman reported being awake around 0300A taking a shower when she looked out the bathroom window in the direction of nearby Cerro De Escamela was surprised to see a huge winged dark creature resembling some type of prehistoric being gliding slowly over the area. Others in nearby Cerro del Borrego have seen a similar winged creature.

The witness was jogging in a field with some of her pets when she noticed a crowd of people in a field. At first she thought that it was a group of young boys playing but his dogs broke loose and ran toward them. She thought it was strange since his pets were usually calmed and gentle. She ran after them and saw them run right through the crowd towards what appeared to be a sort of hovering disc-shaped object. The witness ran up to a 13-year old boy in the crowd and asked him what was going on, his replied was, " I am not sure". Suddenly a blinding light flashed as the witness touched the craft. She suddenly woke up, thinking it was a dream feeling a cold sensation on his back. She was lying on some kind of hard table surrounded by strange creatures with large heads shaped like watermelons. Their eyes were like bugs and the skin was grayish green. They had strange utensils or apparatuses that poked the witness causing her skin to burn. She tried to scream but was so terrified that he was unable to utter a sound. About an hour later she was removed from the craft onto the same field, but a different location. He saw a figure walked out from the side of the road and stopped on the middle of the road for a second. It looked like it was grayish in color and it was walking on two legs. The feet were small with brown/black areas on the side. It wobbled across the road like an ape. When it reached the other side it stopped and looked at the witness waving its skinny arms. There appeared to be lights behind it. The witness described it as about 6 ft tall, with foot long pointy ears, the eyes were dark black, with no apparent nose. It was cold and the witness did not see any "breathe" coming out of its small mouth. The mouth had a red silver strip on top. As the witness boyfriend lay sleeping in bed she got up to use the bathroom. After she left the bathroom she decided to walk out to the living room and have a cigarette before she tried to go back to sleep. The apartment was pitch black. There were no windows except in the bedroom, which was covered with blinds and curtains, and the living room had a sliding glass door to a balcony that was right along side the main door and completely closed up with a drape as well. As she started down the path to the front of the living room she could sense someone walking up behind her. She thought it was her boyfriend and continued down the hall expecting that he was wanted to scare her. After a couple of more steps, she quickly glanced back and was stunned when she didn't see him behind him, but what appeared to be an outline of a figure with a faint glow around it, she could see the bedroom door behind/through it. She looked straight ahead and continued walking. She was stopped on her tracks as she reached the end of the walkway where it branched to either the entry to the kitchen or the entry to the dining room or straight ahead to the living room. She literally felt as though something was standing in front of her. She was afraid to look up but did glance behind at which time she saw the same outline as before only more defined, there was almost an actual being there though it seemed to glow all around. She quickly turned back toward the living room, as it seemed there was only one presence in front and behind her, but also from the dining room and the kitchen. She was literally trapped by the four separate beings. The more she was feeling and seeing them, the more she could see them take shape. The one behind her seemed to be wearing suspenders and maybe plaid, and was probably no more than 5'7", but the others seemed quite a bit larger and taller. The whole time that she felt their presence around her she felt a wind moving around at the end of the walkway. There were no windows opened. She could also hear what sounded like unintelligible whispering. During all this she was trying to look away and reach the light on the kitchen entry directly behind her on the hallway wall she was leaning on. She felt as though the presences were forcing her to the floor. She did manage to turn on the light; as soon as she did the room seemed back to normal. It wasn't cold or windy. Her boyfriend had been sound asleep the whole time.

The witness was in his vehicle entering a viaduct (bridge) 90kms from Istanbul and as his car slowed down to 120kmh the headlights of his car shone on a bizarre animal or creature crossing the road just ahead of him. It sort of leapt into the highway just from behind the barrier. It then bounded across the highway. The fashion in which it was running was peculiar: it was arching its back as its head was still held low and between its shoulders. It had a shiny gray-silvery color body. It had no tail. The witness hit the brakes in order to give it more time to get across. Just as it got across the 4 lanes and reached the mid barriers, it stopped and rose on its hind feet. It stood just as a kangaroo would stand and looked around. It stared at the headlights as though it was mesmerized for a few seconds. Its forelegs were long enough to touch its knees. Its eyes reflected the headlights, in green. By then the witness had come as close as 30meters from it. It had a slight hunch while standing up and the witness estimated its height at about 1.65m, when it was erect. Then it leapt across the middle barrier and bounded across the other side of the highway, which headed east. The witness further described the creature as having fairly large eyes and no hair.

The witness (a police crime scene technician) was leaving a scene late one night. It was beginning to rain, and suddenly his car began making weird noises the radio turned on automatically and started tuning to numerous stations a second, the lights inside and outside the car were flashing. When he looked up he saw a huge triangular shaped object above the car, in a few seconds blue blinding lights distracted the witness. It all suddenly stopped and his car was suddenly parked on the side of the road with everything switched off, and when he looked at his watch it was 0303A. He had lost 33 minutes of time. He turned his car on and drove back to his office. (No hypnotic regression has been attempted).

The witness (a teacher) was in her room grading some papers when all of the sudden she noticed a bright light outside her apartment. She stepped outside to see what it could be when she suddenly felt a warm sensation come over her body. Her next memory was on being alone, lying on a cold hard table with figures wearing doctor-like masks standing around her. The figures were at least 8 ft tall. They appeared to be "slimy" since the witness was touched in several private places by the humanoids. They stuck a needle in the witness, but she felt no pain. In the background there were more figures that appeared to be the female version of the other ones. The humanoids spoke in an unknown language that could not be understood. The speech resembled a series of clicks and mumbled speech. The room grew cold and she felt "something" being pulled out of her. (She believes it was her appendix). She lost consciousness again at this point. She woke up later and found a scar on her side.

24-year old Milagros Linquin had gone into a rocky hillside in order to retrieve her goats when he noticed a shiny object on the nearby hill. Close to the summit she noticed a metallic object similar to a bus, rectangular in shape with numerous visible windows and doors on one of its visible sides. She counted about 8 windows on the craft. The object appeared to be made out of a shiny metallic alloy, which reflected the rays of the sun. Around the craft she noticed other shiny objects, square in shape, some bigger than the others, she counted about 14 of this square metallic "covers". At this point, her father, 74-year old Don Linquin came up and also noticed the shiny metallic object. In the meantime Milagros had climbed a bit further and was now closer to the object. At this point both witnesses noticed several human like figures wearing white tight-fitting garments moving around the object, apparently working on the shiny metallic covers or plates. There were about 6 figures in total. Don Linquin also noticed, a little further down from the summit three additional human like figures these dressed in black tight-fitting outfits that appeared to be looking around and inspecting the surroundings. After about 30 minutes, Milagros climbs higher in order to approach the object and its "occupants" but when she does, the whole scene appears to have vanished. Later while checking the supposed landing site a deep rectangular track is found on the ground.

The witness suddenly woke up wide feeling afraid and wide-eyed. He then saw 4 creatures leaning over him. He went to reach over to his nightstand to grab his gun but as soon as he moved one the creatures pointed some sort of device at him, he heard a hum and then he could no longer move. He could not even move his eyes. He could see his wife out of the corner of his eye, but it seemed that she was still sleeping. His next memory was of lying on some sort of gurney. He was naked and the car was made out of cold metal. The 4 creatures were taking him down some sort of hallway. The walls were dark gray with a scaly type of texture to it. The hallway was lit up, but there were no light fixtures and he could not see the source of the light. He was no longer paralyzed but his arms and legs appeared to be restrained somehow, but there were no clamps or straps. It was as if they were magnetized to the cart. During the brief trip down this hall, there was an open door way off to his right, he glanced into the room for a second, and was able to get a mental image as to what was in the room. There were 7 creatures, 2 were standing in front of a panel at the far end of the room. The panel had some small lights on it. Then there were 3 more to the left side of the room studying what appeared to be a holographic map of the earth. There were several red dots on the map. It seemed that they marked certain "targets" or "locations". Then there were 2 more of the creatures standing in the center of the room, facing each other. As if they were having a conversation but there was no sound. There was actually no sound in the structure that he was in. There was complete silence. They put him in a very bright room, and again he could not see the source of the light. One of the creatures waved his hand over his face. The creature had 3 fingers, resembling 1 index type of finger and opposite thumbs. As soon as his hand went across his face, his body went numb. He was extremely groggy, but he could see what was happening. He could not speak a word. One of the creatures took a long metal object and inserted it in his nose. A sample was apparently taken then the creature inserted the same device into his mouth, reaching almost to the back of his throat. As soon as he started gagging the creature pulled the device out his mouth. One of the creatures then came towards him with something that resembled a device that measures blood pressure. The device was wrapped around the witness penis. He felt a lot of pressure and after a couple of seconds the device was pulled off. A creature then walked behind his head. His head was lifted up until his chin touched his chest. Then he felt a chunk of his hair pulled out. Soon he felt extremely dizzy and passed out. His next recollection was of waking up at 0430A. His penis was sore and appeared larger than normal. He described the creatures as about 4 ft tall, they wore no apparel, there were no genitalia and their arms and legs were much longer than their torso. They were very skinny, with no muscle tone, no signs of fatty tissue, no veins and no bone structure showing through their skin. Their skin was a blue-gray color, almost like a gunmetal color. Very smooth, almost like they were made out of porcelain. Their heads were longer than wide, oval shaped, large black eyes, no retinas, veins or corneas. There was no hair on their bodies. They did not have ears. There were 3 small holes on each side of their heads. They had 2 oval openings above the mouth. Their mouths were like a slit 2" long, horizontal.

Two women came to the side of the South Florida gatehouse where "June" worked as a security guard. They said that there was something strange out by the curb, about 100 feet away, but they didn't know what it was. It was on the road just east of the driveway. The women were upset and seemed to think that something was very wrong. June instructed the women to wait in their car by the gatehouse while she went to investigate. If there were any problems they could call the police on their cell phone. June walked out to the curb and found sitting on the curb, curled up into a ball somewhat smaller than a beach ball a strange "person". With her flashlight June could see a neck and a dark suit. Gently, June touched the figure and said, "Hello!" but there was no movement. Finally as June touched the shoulder, a small woman suddenly unwound from the curled up ball position. She was about 4'8" tall with very high heels on her shoes. She was dressed very well with beautiful jewelry, a leather purse, diamond appearing earrings and long red hair that fell to her shoulders and very large brown eyes, a small nose and a tiny barely noticeable mouth. She appeared to be about 24 years of age and appeared to be afraid. June questioned her gently:

June: What are you doing?
Woman: "I m waiting".
June: "For whom"?
Woman: "A-a-a ride"
June: "Well, who is supposed to pick you up?"
Woman: "I Don't know"
June: "Honey, come off the curb and stand next to me"
June put her hand around the little woman and noticed that she maybe weighed about 70 pounds, had long arms and very long fingers. Her pinstriped suit with a skirt looked as though it could have been made in the 1940's. Finally the woman looked at June and asked:
Woman: Where am I?
June: Well we're on earth, and it's the 4rth rock from the sun. (!)
Woman: "Oh...."
June: "Can I do anything for you? Do you need the police?
Woman: "The who"?
June: "The Police"
Woman: What do they do? (Was her stunning response)
June: They might be able to help.
Woman: No I am all right. I am just going to wait.
June took hold of her and insisted she come with her to the gatehouse to talk for a while. But the strange woman insisted that she wanted to wait by the curb. At this she sat back down and curled up into a ball again. Reluctantly June returned to the gate where she found the other two ladies still waiting in their vehicle. June then called the police, which came around and spoke to the woman for 45 minutes but could not detain her. They told June that the woman did not have any identification on her, and no keys, but had some money and small papers with scribbles on them in her purse. They said that they had no reason to detain her and left. After the police left, June went out to check on the little woman but this one had vanished into thin air.

The entire Russian Baltic Fleet and a large number of local residents watched in awe as a "flying wing" shaped UFO winged over rapidly and plunged into Kaliningrad Harbor. The event was caught on video by a local RTR Russian State Television news crew, which was present on the massive naval base, filming a documentary segment on the fleet for airing on Russian TV. The UFO, described as a "Flying Wing" with two elongated, dome like protrusions on top, and three similar structures, underneath, overflew the Baltic Fleet, which lay at anchor in Kaliningrad Harbor. According to a Russian Naval Commander, who wishes to remain anonymous, the craft was apparently caught, accidentally within the sweep patterns of ship mounted search radars, which came on to track it's progress, causing some sort of malfunction which resulted in the crash, "It was traveling at a tremendous rate of speed" he said to RTR reporters, on the scene. "It was very low, not more than 1500 meters above the surface of the water. When the radars came on, it simply winged over and dove into the water, as if had lost either power or control. The light gray colored craft, with no apparent seams or rivet patterns, was estimated by onlookers to be approximately the size of a small airliner, or light transport aircraft, and traveling at speeds of excess of Mach 2, was absolutely quiet as it passed, but made a "tremendous noise" as it plunged into the water, causing a geyser of steam and water, mixed with small debris, which shot an estimated 500 meters into the air. It appeared one witness, a civilian onlooker, said, that whoever, or whatever was in control of the craft made a deliberate effort to take it away from the naval ships and the shoreline before it went into the harbor. One Sovremini Class Destroyer was slightly damaged by flying debris, but, so far, no casualties have been reported. Radiation levels at the site, re high, but the source of the radiation, as well as its nature, have yet to be determined. Russian authorities, from the Ministry of Health, are quick to point out that the radiation levels are not dangerous, simply "higher than normal." So far, debris recovered has been small, averaging less than a meter in diameter, at the largest. Most debris recovered to date, have been what appear to be "skin material" of an unknown alloy, and interior bracing and piping, composed of a very high grade and extremely pure aluminum. The Navy has cordoned off a considerable area of the harbor and it is interesting to note that, in spite of the high speed at which the craft was traveling, and it's extremely low altitude, there was no characteristic "sonic boom" associated with it's approach, and no noticeable vibration on the ground. More information is pending.

Three young women returning from a bonfire and party in the countryside and had finished returning some of the equipment and chairs to the shed. As they got back into the van one of the girls saw a figure standing a little off the drive-way by the house. She motioned the others to look at it and becoming somewhat afraid headed back into town. They described the figure as man-like, light colored or wearing white clothing. Soon they headed over to the bonfire, which was still burning. Suddenly in the glow of the headlights they all saw what appeared to be two separate rows of creatures or figures. Maybe 15 to each row and about approximately 3 to 4 ft tall and standing only about 15 ft from them, directly in front of the car. One of the witnesses described them as having "Christmas light heads" and that the heads were connected to the body but she couldn't see how. Their arms were up, but she couldn't see hands. She says they were stick-like, dark gray or brown in color. They did not move and stood perfectly still. They appeared to be frozen in two separate rows. Two of the girls began to cry and screamed for the driver to leave the area immediately. Terrified they drove away from the area and drove around for about 2 hours before having the courage to return back to their homes.

The witness had been sitting on the back porch looking over the pasture behind his home. The pasture had several horses but he could not see them at the time because they were at the other end. After about 10 minutes he began to hear the horses and it sounded like they were kicking the sheet metal and squealing loudly. He could also hear dogs barking in the distance. Just as he strained to look over to the horse shelter everything became silent, no movements or sounds. Everything was eerily quiet and the witness feeling somewhat scared stepped off the porch and began hearing a low whirring sound, he then saw a light flash on the ground in the middle of the pasture. He looked up and saw at about 100 ft off the ground a black craft hovering and shooting flashes of light at the ground from a pod on the right end of the craft. The craft had a multicolored mist or hot looking gas on the bottom of it, on the left side of the craft was what appeared to be a rectangular red window. He could see movement inside. At that moment he began to feel sick. The craft looked about 50 ft long with a dull blue light on the top. After about 5 minutes the whirring sound faded and the craft hovered silently for about 2 seconds and then zipped straight up without a sound. He also noticed that the power appeared to be off the neighborhood.

Five young men were returning to the goat pens in a local farm when they suddenly saw six short bizarre beings emerge from behind some nearby brush. The humanoids were only about 60cm in height completely hairless and with dark gray skin. They had huge oval shaped heads, two large pointed ears, small black oval shaped eyes, the beings had large deformed noses, and their mouths appeared to be disproportionate in size in relation to their heads. The witnesses could see yellowed teeth inside the mouth, some separated by large gaps and some completely missing. All six beings had what appeared to be a grotesque and sarcastic grin on their faces. Their facial features were similar to humans and displayed what appeared to be traces of scars and cuts on their skins. One of the witnesses swore that one of the humanoids had what appeared to be a piece of his nose hanging down. Their necks were very short, similar to children. Most of the humanoids had protruding bellies and all wore similar clothing, which appeared to be a multicolored "dirty" looking outfit with a wide belt around their ample waists. Their legs were very short, resembling very much those of a rabbit ending in long sharp nails. They moved around using peculiar jumps and steps, moving in all directions. The moment these peculiar entities came out from behind the bushes they began to "play" and jump among themselves. They seemed to jump and intentionally strike each other with their bodies. Some of them would scratch the ground, throwing up large gobs of dirt and rocks. During the whole incident the men noticed very strong sulfur like smell in the area. The beings stared at the men and emitted sinister guffaws and laughs, which caused a certain fear with the men. The sudden appearance of the bizarre humanoids caused a sense of immobility and stupor among the witnesses. After "playing" around for a few minutes the humanoids walked over to the sheep pen. The sheep began to exhibit great fear and began to group together in one corner of the pen. One of the humanoids approached the sheep and suddenly jumped on top of one of the unfortunate animals. The humanoid commenced to roughhouse with the animal, squeezing it with its legs and then inserting its sharp claws into the animal's neck. The sheep could only shake in terror and howl, apparently it could not move. Soon four of the other humanoids surrounded the animal and began to strike it mercilessly with great violence until the animal fell mortally wounded to the ground, at that moment all six humanoids began to attack the injured animal, tearing its flesh apart, while the animal howled in pain. The terrified men watched the spectacle unable to move; finally one of the men broke from his stupor and flung several rocks at the creatures. The humanoids evaded the rocks, laughing even louder at the witnesses. But this gesture on the part of the witness apparently caused the creatures to regroup and jump towards the same location from which they had come out. The humanoids then disappeared into the brush. At this point the rest of the witnesses reacted and approached the mortally injured sheep. The unfortunate animal displayed several large holes and scars on the neck area and due to the gravity of its injuries and the great loss of blood it had to be sacrificed.

He was speaking in English but the person responding was speaking in "silence" (telepathy?). The person was telling the witness to refrain from doing something, but he said "No". It was then that he woke up. As he was trying to go back to sleep, two dark figures about 4 ft in height jumped onto his bed. One of the figures grabbed his legs and held them down, and the other sat on his chest and began to strangle him (!). He could not breathe and began to slowly pass out. Somehow he mustered up enough energy to break free with his legs and push one figure off his chest and kick the other figure away simultaneously. As he did this he heard a couple of thuds and the figures vanished before his eyes.

After a long day of weeding potatoes in the fields the main witness and her mother were sitting on the porch of their house resting and admiring the evening sunset. Their attention was suddenly drawn to a lonely cloudlet of unusual form. It greatly resembled a pear. Thinking that it was really a cloud they ignored it. Later that night as the main witness slept she suddenly awoke feeling a terrible headache, a strange vibration in her body and a severe earache, similar to when what happens when landing in an aircraft. Her teeth rattled involuntarily. A bright beam of light fell through the window on her bed. However he mother slept peacefully in the same room. The witness could hear a monotonic sound that apparently her mother was unable to hear. The witness rose from bed and hurried out of her bed, as soon as she left lighted area from the beam of light the headache subsided. The witness then walked to her porch and opened her door. At this point she was stunned to see hovering directly above the potato beds an object very similar to the pear-shaped "cloud" seen earlier by the witness and her mother. The object was similar but only much brighter, with silvery, blue beams of light and a protrusion resembling a cell phone antenna. Feeling no fear the witness took off in a run towards the object, yelling and wildly swinging her arms. Suddenly her body acquired a weightless constitution and she seemed to float above the earth. She floated quickly towards the bright object when she was about 2 meters away she seemed to fall and loose consciousness. She came to the next morning lying on the cold ground covered with morning dew. She lay on the earth for more than 3 hours. Later she arose slowly and walked back to the house. Later a circular burnt patch was found on the potato bed directly under where the object had hovered. Nothing grew on the spot for about 3 months afterwards.

The witness (involved in a previous encounter) had gone up the mountain and was meditating when he asked specifically, to visit the "Telos" and in the stillness, a trunk of a tree presented itself and there was a doorway in the tree. The witness asked permission of the deva of the mountain, the deva of nature. He then walked down at an angle downwards through the mountain. He didn't exactly walk, he floated down, and his feet were not quite touching the ground. He floated down; the atmosphere was faintly red, with a red tinge to it. There was a group of "people" waiting, in the mountain, and it was a very short visit, just to acknowledge that they had granted what he had asked, to visit them in the mountain. He described his hosts as human-like very kind and hospitable. He then came back up the pathway.

Two men were returning back from a friend's house along a section of country road they had driven individually many times before. They slowed for a tight left hand bend in the road and as they turned, driving at this point at about 20mph the headlights caught someone moving amongst the trees on the outside of the bend. Both men then caught a brief glimpse of a "person" of a most bizarre nature. The figure was at least 8 ft tall, and whilst their brief observation it was hard to make any accurate estimate on that, he was clearly larger than normal. It was too quick to notice any particular facial features, he was virtually facing the witnesses, but looking slightly down as the lights shone on him, and seemed to be stepping sideways over something in the undergrowth, as his right leg was moving upwards and sideways. The other very unusual aspect was that the headlights reflected a large glare of his clothing, which seemed to be shiny, almost like foil. Stunned, both men confirmed to each other what they had seen and after a couple of moments of indecision they reversed back to the bend and point the headlights into the trees approximately were they had seen it but it all appeared normal. One of the men even exited the car and called out several times.

The witness had just pulled into her apartment parking lot and was slowing down to select a parking spot, when she noticed what appeared to be a small child playing around a large steel waste dumpster in the corner of the parking lot. The steel dumpster was located underneath a large stand of trees about 15 feet from her location. She got out of the car and walked over to the rear passenger door to get her briefcase and saw movement out of her periphery that further caught her attention. She was concerned about the safety of the "child" and began to slowly walk towards the dumpster to ask where the child's parents where at. She approached to within 6-8 feet when she heard a loud banging noise and this "child" suddenly had the ability to jump 5 feet and land on top of the dumpster's steel lid. It was now staring down at her. At this point she described feeling a pressure in her head, nausea and dizziness. She strained to identify it for about 20-30 seconds when she realized that it was not a child, but a strange being, which suddenly produced a glowing white orb of light about the size of a volleyball in its hands and held on to it at about chest height. The light cast from the glowing orb illuminated its head for several seconds and she described a large almond shaped head with big black eyes staring intently at her movements. She stood there in stunned silence trying to understand what was happening and that everything seemed to be happening in slow motion. The being seemed to tighten its grasp on the glowing orb of light and it jumped feet first into the dumpster and disappeared without making any noise. She broke down emotionally and ran into her apartment, quickly notifying her husband. Her husband searched the area but failed to find anything. A man named Zilmerman had left for work taken the usual route on the Limeira-Piracicaba toll road. There was a weak fog that morning and as he drove out of the toll area he noticed a figure that appeared to be hitchhiking on the side of the road. Obeying an inner impulse the witness lower the driver's window and remained sitting in his car seemingly unable to move. When the person came over to the window, the witness realized that this "person" was not an ordinary human. He had human-like characteristics, but he had large "cat-like" eyes and seemed to exude a powerful "odor". The stranger pointed to the direction of Piracicaba and entered the car. As he entered the backseat of the car the smell became almost unbearable to witness who could not compare it to anything known to him. The being was about 1.60m in height, with pale features, wearing a pointed hood and a tight-fitting outfit, resembling a jogging suit. He wore strange shoes with very thick soles that seemed to scratch the surface of the car. The witness could see a small nose but did not notice any hair. Fearful, the witness asked the stranger where he wanted to go and again this one pointed in the direction of Piracicaba. The witness then asked the stranger his name and in turn the stranger looked at him and as he did his pupils suddenly became totally black. Sweating with fear and after driving for about 500me witness began to hear loud croaking sounds, which he thought was the creature's speech. He looked and noticed that it had six fingered hands with pointy black nails; his skin appeared to be sweating some type of oily substance from which the disagreeable odor emanated. Each time that the witness would ask it something, the humanoid would look at him intently again his pupils becoming totally black. The witness then produced a piece of paper and a pencil and gave it to the stranger. This one scribbled some meaningless diagrams on it and gave it back to the witness. Close to the Santa Rosa quarter near Piracicaba the witness felt that he had to stop the car. The humanoid exited the car smiled at him and then cross the street quickly disappearing into some bushes. The witness experienced a severe headache soon after the encounter.

On a very humid night with a very bright moon the main witness and his wife heard what sounded like rolling thunder in the distance. The rolling thunder noise seemed to be sustained and the witness thought it was rather unusual since he could not see any storm n the distance. About 10 minutes elapsed with the sound still constantly in the

The witness had gone canoeing for a weekend of rest and relaxation in an isolated area but strangely felt queasy and nervous. He was inexplicably anxious for some unknown reason. Although he could define why, he felt like he had something to fear---and he sensed death. Taking these sensations seriously, he was extremely cautious on the river. After several miles he paddled the canoe to the riverbank and tied it off to a tree. He got out to explore the area. Looking down 8 or 10 ft into the creek he spotted what looked like the top of a clay jar. He thought that he might have found some old archeological artifact. He started down the bank toward the creek. The bank was extremely slippery with mud and he stopped just short of the water and very close to the old earthenware

pot. It was more like a clay crock and he soon realized that it probably wasn't very old. He poked at it and noticed there were little handprints on it, at first he thought it could had been raccoon prints but they were more like little human handprints, about an inch wide. He tried to pry the thing loose using a stick but suddenly heard a noise. He heard what sounded like kids laughing. It was coming from down the creek several yards away. When he last managed to pull the crock jar out of the mud, something screamed. It sounded like a little girl---really high pitched and loud. Not knowing what to do he grabbed the jar and began to scramble up the muddy bank. Glancing back he saw something move down near the creek. He then sat at the top of the bank for a moment looking at the jar, trying to reason away the handprints. He then walked along the creek a bit and stopped every once in a while to peek through the bushes and see if anybody was there. Then when he looked over the bank he saw two little people standing about 10 inches tall. They had pale skins, little brown leather pants held up by suspenders, no shirts and little pointy hats made of what looked like leather. They had leather foot coverings that went up past the ankle. Their hair was reddish color and their eyes blue. Their hands were only about an inch wide. They knew he was watching but they continued their task, they were pulling some kind of wooded stump down the muddy creek bank with long leather ropes or strings. These little men were surprisingly clean, for the work they were doing. He then heard a thump back where he first had gone in the creek. He looked back and there were three more of the m---little men just like the first two---and they had pushed that crock jar back down the bank. They were all laughing---high-pitched laughter, like a bunch of kids. He then heard a loud snap and they were all gone. Their footprints were plainly visible in the mud, but they were gone along with the crock jar and the wooded stump. They had vanished in a split second.

The two witnesses, Linda and Pat were playing around on the computer when they decided to go out and do some stargazing. Soon they headed out to an area where they would get a look at the clear night sky without having lights to obscure their view. As they drove along Pat reported that there was quite a bit of traffic for that time of the night, but after they decided to stop just off to the side of the road to see what they might notice, the traffic stopped coming. There was not a light from any vehicles, not anything other than a very dark stretch of road. Pat grabbed her flashlight and shone it into the sky as she has done this in the past. Her friend Linda was scanning with a pair of binoculars on the other side of the car. A few minutes later they noticed what appeared to be three stars up in the sky that formed into a triangle shape. All three lights at this time were solid white in color. Both ladies watched as the three white lights started moving, but moving together. Soon the lights began to change color to neon green as the object stopped and hovered just ahead of their car. Pat turned the headlights off and shone her flashlight down the road in front of her car. They were worried about any wild animals such as bears etc. As she shone the light up the road both of the women spotted which frightened them a lot. Five sets of eyes were staring at them from approximately 40 feet away from them. As frightened as they were their first thoughts were of coyotes or some other wild animals. But soon they realized that the creatures were roughly four feet tall, with dark gray shoulders, and were coming towards the women. Pat yelled at her friend Linda "get in the car, get in the car". Pat said they both scrambled to get back into the vehicle but she said it was like moving through quicksand and it felt horrible. It felt as if everything was slowing down around them. Once they were both back in the car, Pat tried to turn the ignition on so she could get the power windows up. But all the electricity in the car was failing. The dome light and headlights were going off and on, on their own. Finally the car started and they sped off towards home and as they traveled along the road they again noticed a fair bit of traffic coming in their direction. (They thought it was strange that there had been no traffic around when all was happening). As they drove along the road both ladies felt their whole body tingling just like they had been zapped by a charge from a battery. At this point they both noticed a time discrepancy in their vehicle clock. It appears that they could not account for 25 minutes of their time. As they neared home and turned onto Baker Street all of the sudden they saw this bright glowing neon green sphere low in the sky. The object started moving to the right, moving in quick hesitant bursts of speed, and then it started to move away until the ladies car came to a halt, and sod did the object. Before they knew it, the sphere of green light began heading towards them at a high rate of speed and hovered high above the car. The driver sped off quickly and drove into an orchard, which was very close by. They thought it was a good place to hide from the object. But only after a very short time after arriving at the orchard they now saw three glowing spheres of green light hovering in the sky forming what appeared to be a triangle. After a short period of time each of the green lights moved away in different directions. In the morning Pat discovered a large bruise on her left breast and another on the bottom of her foot. Both were extremely painful. Linda also suffered from an unexpected nosebleed. Also bruises resembling finger marks were found on Linda's thigh. Linda also suffered from terribly pain on her lower back. Curiously the doctor told Linda that it appeared that she had suffered from a radiation burn on her back.

Several youngsters were out in the area trying to snag salmon in the tidal pools late one night (it was very light out, just like twilight) when they saw on a field what they could only describe as "stick people" about three feet high, with large heads and eyes that reflected greenish light when the youngster shone their flashlights on them. The terrified youngsters felt that they were being stalked as they saw 15 pairs coming towards them. At this point the kids made a mad run for the main road. Upon arriving there, they confronted at least 15 to 20 more "stick people" hiding in the tall grass. Thankfully, the humanoids then ran towards the heavy brushy area and disappeared from sight. Another adult witness reported experiencing unexplained loud "ringing" in his ears as he visited the area.

The witness was watching television facing away from the window when the blinds from the window began to bounce around; he ignored it, thinking it was just the wind. After 20 minutes the witness got up to close to window and was startled to see a bizarre powerfully built creature about 3-1/2 ft tall that stared at the witness with huge red glowing eyes. It was what had been bouncing the blinds. Terrified the witness ran to his room and hid and did not see the creature again.

H Snow was in his bedroom when a small white ball of light zigzagged into his room above his head. He then closed his eyes and could see a rectangular window with geometric patterns of different colors, swirling vortexes of different sizes and colors. It was as if he was looking into another dimension of pure beauty. He could see a panel of different color lights on each side of the window. The room seemed to get bigger and he felt as he was inside the light, he could now see a being of light sitting at a control desk with the same kind of panel and lights with his hands over some of the lights. There was no sound or communication from the being. The room then got even bigger and the being now looked like some type of robot with beautiful pulsating colors inside of it. The head looked like strips of leather with short black tentacles. They seemed to be moving as the being floated towards the witness. As it got closer he could see the tentacles right next to his eyes. However he felt no fear as he opened his eyes. The witness feels that he received curative powers as a result of the bizarre encounter.

Andre Villa and his girlfriend had camped out on a hill overlooking a valley and had started a small bonfire when they noticed a bright bluish light descend over the area, within the light they could see a large disc-shaped craft. The illuminated craft approached their position at very high speed and landed on a nearby field. Terrified both witnesses ran and hid behind some bushes, the whole time keeping their eyes on the object. They could see that the craft was really hovering at about 3 meters from the ground, illuminating its surroundings like daytime. The craft did not have windows, doors or openings; it was completely smooth and was encased in a bright bluish glow. Despite his girlfriend's loud objections Andres approached to within 200 meters of the craft and hid behind a pile of rocks near the bonfire in order to obtain a better look at the strange craft. After about 20 minutes an opening became visible on the craft that still floated close to the ground, from the opening a small ladder-like protrusion dropped to the ground. Two short humanoid creatures then climbed down to the ground from inside the object, these had child-like bodies, very pale features, huge heads, but the witnesses could not see their facial features due to the glaring blue light around the craft. The two humanoids looked around and seemed to talk among themselves, soon 3 more similar creatures emerged from the craft. The group walked around the area near the object as if looking for something. Moments later the witness watched another bright light descending from the sky. The light hovered briefly changing colors from red to orange tones. Suddenly the short humanoids that had been milling around the bluish disc-shaped craft appeared to become agitated and began running towards their craft, while the other craft, a sphere shaped object dotted with bright beams of light quickly descended over the scene. The sphere descended to within 50 meters of the disc and landed. The witnesses then heard a loud roaring noise and a bright flash from the sphere temporarily blinded and seemed to incapacitate several of the short humanoids, since a couple dropped to the ground. The glare now gone the witnesses saw three figures come out of the sphere. These were described as taller, human-like, wearing transparent glass-like helmets, and very tight-fitting black jumpsuits. These aliens ran in the direction of the shorter humanoids, which were still stunned and appeared confused. Three of the short humanoids managed to enter their craft, but two were unable to and remained behind to confront the other three apparently threatening aliens. The stunned witnesses watched as a brief but violent struggle ensued. To their horror they watched as the two short humanoids were apparently struck down by the taller aliens, while their bluish disc-shaped craft pulled up the ladder, closed the opening and shot away at incredible speed, living behind their two fallen comrades. The three tall aliens then proceeded to pick up the limp bodies of the short humanoids and dragged them inside their sphere-shaped craft. The witnesses could not tell if the humanoids were dead or still alive. The aliens quickly entered the sphere, which then rose up into the sky and vanished in plain sight. Terrified the two witnesses left the area, promising never to return to the area.

The above case, though not properly investigated seems to indicate a sort of an ongoing struggle between different types of "aliens", there has been other reports of apparent dogfights between different types of UFOs, these well documented, plus other reports that hint of a struggle between different sides. Mr. Lech Hacinski was returning home from work when he noticed three figures, about 1.60m in height, apparently standing under a nearby railroad overpass, they appeared to be inspecting something on the ground, and immediately noticed as the witness's vehicle approached their location. One of the "men" then left the others and walked to the middle of the road with one of its hands raised up. For some unexplained reason the witness was forced to stop the car as the human-like figure approached him. At this point the witness noticed that the three men wore round helmets and had large round black eyes, he could not see any other facial features. On top of the helmet there was what Hacinski took to be a communications device. They also wore dark blue astronaut-like suits with black backpacks of some type. One of them approached even closer and pointed an object at the witness, which flashed multi-colored lights. This humanoid then proceeded to contact the witness by using telepathy and asked him several questions about his car and his manner of dress (apparently the witness had by now stepped out of the vehicle). They asked him about the car's propulsion system and engine. The witness opened the hood of the car and attempted to explain to the humanoids how the engine operated. Before leaving the humanoids warned the witness that humans must to preserve the earth's most precious resources, which they said it was the water and the air, if not extinction was surely to follow. Before leaving the witness asked the humanoids where was their home planet located. Their answer was sort of vague but the witness understood something about "the eighth galaxy". The aliens also told the witness that he was the first earthling they had made contact with. The aliens then floated to a nearby field where a huge dark round object rested on the ground, the bottom of the craft appeared to be surrounded by fog. The aliens disappeared into the craft, which then rose up and disappeared towards the west at high speed. On the field where the craft had landed a 50 meters width circle of flattened wheat was found.

The witness was vacationing in the area and had gone to bed in his hotel room after about 3 hours he had to get up to use the bathroom. He opened the door and heard an odd slurping sound coming from the toilet. He leapt up in surprise at the two dim red eyes that were staring at him. They had no pupils. He switched on the light and stared in horror at a small bipedal reptilian-like creature that glared back at him. It was green in color and had a frog-like body and a large round head. It had what appeared to be spines running from the top of the head to the end of its back. Two small fangs protruded from its mouth. They were each about an inch long. It wore a cute and curious but menacing expression. The creature was about 1 meter in height and as soon as it saw the witness it jumped to the shower curtain, scrambled up on it using amazing agility and perched on the horizontal bar that held it up. Immediately the bar snapped of the wall bringing the creature down into the bathtub. As it struggled to regain its feet, the witness picked up the pole and struck the creature twice on the rump. The creature hopped out of the bathtub, it ran under the witness legs, out of the bathroom and into the witness sleeping quarters. The witness was driving back to his hotel in Auburn Maine when suddenly he was enveloped by a blinding light coming from all directions, his truck engine stalled and he just drifted off the road onto a sandy shoulder abutting the field. The truck then levitated 6 ft off the ground and was deposited about 90 ft off the road in the middle of a field. Terrified, he scrambled out of the car and while in the field a basketball sized orb of light suddenly flew toward him and stopped inches in front of his face. The orb began to spin. It was multicolored (like carnival glass). The witness remembers becoming very calm and then he lost consciousness. When he awoke he was naked and lying on a surface about the size of a twin bed, except the surface appeared to be translucent and unsupported. It seemed to be floating in mid-air. The chamber he was in seemed to be made of the same shimmering material as the orb. As he sat there very calmly, at least six beings came into the chamber through a portal that seemed to just open in the wall, like a mouth. Their skin was the color of ripe plums (dark purple), their "hands" were cone shaped and seemed to have eight opposable digits of the same length webbed together with no break in the webbing. Their two eyes were almond shaped with pale blue/silver irises against a black pupil. Their eyes had no whites and one seemed slightly larger than the other. Some of the aliens had a larger right eye, some a larger left. Their heads and mouths were like a turtle's. They seemed to have small indentations on either side of their heads, but no openings. They were bent forward and moved like "birds" except their legs seemed to be heavier. They were of varying heights, between 5 ft and 6'6". The witness thinks they were of the two sexes. The "females" appeared to have a small trench-like depression in the small of their back between where their legs joined. The "males" seemed to have a small protuberance high on their torso with a valve like opening in its center, the protuberance was not phallic, but more like a 4" long vertical mound. There also seemed to be some kind of eliminatory opening between their legs. The witness could not see their feet. He felt strangely calm as the aliens examined him. They waved "wands" over his body, which turned different colors. They took blood through a clear suction type device, which did not pierce the skin but seemed to draw the blood through the surface. The aliens made vibrating and purring sounds to each other during the exam. They also extracted some semen through a device similar to the blood taking suction cup. The chamber was extremely warm. When they finished their exam, the orb appeared over his face again and he lost consciousness again. He awoke naked in a fetal position next to his truck in the field. His clothes were in a pile nearby. Still feeling very calm he drove back to the hotel. The witness examined himself on a mirror and noticed a round suction mark on his torso, which faded the next morning.

In the last week of August four youths were driving south of St. Laurent towards the golf course road (as many locals call it) when they saw flashing lights over and above one of the buildings on the course. The lights seemed to be sitting stationary in one spot and low over the sheds. The witnesses assumed, after seeing a car pulled to the side of the road and the lights flashing, that someone might have been breaking into the sheds. Two of the young men decided to sneak in to see if they might catch someone causing damage, the other two went back home to get their parents and have them come down to the area where all this was taking place. As the two youths were approximately half way into the course and as they approached a small road, which passed by one of the dugouts, they heard a very loud, piercing scream. As they kept walking for approximate another 100 feet, all of the sudden this "thing" was right in front of them screaming out a loud screeching noise. It was a three-foot tall creature that ran in front of them only about 25 ft away. Both witnesses were taken totally by surprise and were very frightened. Both ran back towards the road where they had been dropped off but seeing that they did not have a vehicle they cowered in the ditch, which ran along side of the road hoping that whatever it was would not find them. A few minutes later the two other youths arrived along with their parents who searched the area but found nothing. But, apparently unusual holes have been found in the ground throughout the area.

The witness was scouting for deer on horseback in the Cerro Colorado Mountains about 1.5 miles from his camp and as twilight approached he found a dead bighorn sheep lamb. It looked like it had been killed within the hour. It had a gory looking bloody hole in its throat, just above the chest area. It appeared that the predator had eaten the heart and drank the blood, nothing else. There was some blood on the ground. The witness looked around and picked up the trail of a three---possibly four-toed animal with each toe about the length of a human finger with a claw or nail on the end of each one. He had never seen a track such as this one in all the years he had spent in the wild. He followed the tracks to a draw and looking down he saw a "thing" about 50 feet below him headed down hill. The witness followed it and after a while it apparently sensed the horse was there and turned around to face it, it saw the witness and then moved more rapidly down hill, but it couldn't outrun the horse. Its stride was about 1.5 ft walking upright and 5-8 ft when moving on three or four limbs and possibly 12-20 ft when making a funny sort of hop. It had a funny gait, almost a lope, but little jumps and sometimes bounds were involved. It only looked back at the witness three times. It finally got down to a steep rocky area full of cracks, crevasses and holes between the boulders. It disappeared into the rocks. The witness described the creature as a cross between the creature of the black lagoon and a rhesus monkey. It moved on two, three and four legs/arms. It stood about 3.5-4 ft tall when standing and weighed maybe about 50-60 lbs. It had large lemur like eyes, brown skin, possibly fine fur, a large bald or hairless head, enlarged buttocks and thick hind limbs. It had some spike-like protrusions along its back that appeared flexible and moved as it ran. It had claws or long gray nails on at least three of the digits on the left front and rear. It had more of a snout than a nose. The witness did not see any teeth. It had a "dead meat" smell, but not rotten meat, no doubt because it just fed. The next morning the witness was surprised to find the dead lamb still there, apparently not touched by any of the area's predators.

He felt someone feeling his face and he thought at first that it was his mother or sister attempting to wake him up, but then he remembered that he was alone at home that night. He felt a hand palpate his upper eye orbital region and then his cheekbones and then tilt his head back. He felt paralyzed but struggled to awake fully. He then attempted to mentally communicate with what he felt was an alien presence in his room. He told "it" his name and let them know that he was not afraid. He then felt a hand on his forehead; soon the sound and the hand went away. He then felt his right arm being lifted and then another hand grip his wrist. He then felt some caressing on his hand. He continued to struggle and soon felt what seemed to be a large needle driven into his wrist perhaps drawing blood or injecting something. He then felt what seemed like a powerful electrical shock on his wrist, up his arm and then up his back and neck. He then felt the needle come out. Somebody then held his arm and the witness began to regain the ability to use his right arm and the use of his facial muscles and began to whisper "Hello, hello". During the wee hours of the morning the witness's 12-year old son woke her husband and herself telling them that he had a nosebleed. They did not think much about it since the boy usually gets a bleed once a year and it was not a heavy bleed, but rather a persistent trickle. He then came to their bed with them and the witness suddenly went to sleep very rapidly and went immediately into an extremely vivid lucid dream. In the dream her son and her were outside of a house and they ran to the other side to see a UFO in the sky. The UFO was not lit, but rather a dark shadow in the night sky, huge and in two parts that were connected. They somehow "knew" that this was something to be afraid of and hid in the deep shadows of the house as the UFO came down with very little noise and transformed itself into a vast robot, which started walking across the countryside. Again they "knew" this had something to do with power, as in electrical power and that they would be forced to use some power they didn't want to use. In fact they "knew" that if they used the power they were bringing it would be a trick ultimately used to imprison them. They ran inside the house and there the phone was ringing and they again "knew" it was the power company calling them to force them to use this new power. For this reason they did not answer the phone. There was a glassed in room in the house, which had a number of people seated in it. These people were important to the witness, although they were not familiar to her. She ran into the room to warn them of what she had seen. One of the people was a brown haired girl about 20 whom the witness recognized as her daughter (not her real life daughter). She also recognized her as her mother. She was crying, although the witness was not sure why. What was remarkable about her was that she was half human and half "android" or robotic. At one point the witness could see some of the skin on her back and you could see that the skin was living tissue stretched over a metallic frame. The skin was red and sore like burned scar tissue. She was also pregnant and made a comment to the witness about how she had been to "animal control" (the witness could not quite recall the phrase but it was like going to a veterinarian instead of a human doctor), where she had been impregnated. The father of her child was also there, another predominantly robotic person who looked like a human face had been grafted on. He was a sympathetic figure and he understood what the witness was telling him. There were others in the room that were similar but the witness did not have a chance to speak to them. The dream went blank for a bit and then the witness found herself outside in a "neighborhood". There was a huge wind blowing and the witness "knew" that this was about earth's changes. She also "knew" that after the earth changes the alien beings will come for us and that it would be terrible. The power company had set up a steel building that looked like the only thing that could withstand the wind. Everyone crowded inside and the witness "knew" that it was trap. She point out to the father of her daughter's baby that the heave stainless steel door only opened from the outside, and that if they would let them go they would all be imprisoned. Between them they managed to keep the doors from closing. The dream went on with dire predictions for humanity and coming earth changes; a collapse of society was coming. The witness woke up around 0600A with a severe nosebleed, stiff arms and legs and total physical exhaustion. Other family members reported strange scratches and marks on their bodies.

A husband and wife were relaxing and talking about the day when they noticed the sky turning a strange pink color. They were on a small hill on the east side of their house when both suddenly and almost at the same time said, "What the hell is that? The wife ran for her camera and began to take pictures. They both saw a strange vertical cloud that seemed to be walking up the hill. It had started out toward the bottom but by the time she got the camera it was almost to the rise. It seemed to be "body-like" in form. It also seemed to emit some kind of "mental energy". It gave off very scary energy or vibes. It continued out of view. The sky then returned to normal.

Upon hearing his dogs barking furiously a local resident stepped out of his home armed with a flashlight. At first he did not see anything but upon directing the beam of light to another direction he saw a mall dark hairy figure apparently attempting to climb up the side of the nearby Candelaria Canal. She could not see many details because it was really dark, but was able to detect a sort of sound coming from the creature similar to a hiccup. Terrified she ran home. Another man reported seeing reported seeing the same or similar creature this time in the canal standing on top of some rocks, "its body was totally covered with dark hair". Others reported seeing the creature and calling the police who failed to locate anything. The creature was reported to be the size of a 4-year old child.

Two witnesses had gone to the local park after sundown, which was considered trespassing since the park was closed before sundown. As they walked by the trees guarding the field they noticed that the grass had a sort of shroud or clear like fog hovering about two feet above it. As they walked to the center of the field one of the men noticed something moving in front of the trees on the other end of the field about 500 ft away. As he crept closer he could see a sort of white figure about 5-6 ft tall, moving slowly. It wasn't exactly walking and it didn't have any real definition to it. It sort look like an apparition the closer they got. The first witness quickened his pace, closely followed by his friend. He could not start to make it out. On completion of a step, there was a loud screech, like the creature forced the air out of its lungs and made an "eee-uuuungh" sound. The witness then saw a half erect, two-foot tall, gray creature fling up about 10-15 ft in the air right in front of the white figure. It reminded him of a monkey in shape and movement. It made the noise again. Both witnesses yell in shock and bolted from the area, the first witness tripped over a divot on the field, his friend ran back to help him as he did this both men watched the now very white figure or "shroud" above the ground move around. They then watched a serpent like formation of fog crawling across the field in front of them. One of the witnesses walked a few feet and again heard the strange screeching sound coming from the middle of the field. At this point both witnesses ran out the field as they did they heard the screeching sound several times again from behind the tree line.

Several passengers' onboard bus # 35 of "Adelas" transport services including Gaudencio Lopez reported seeing an incredible looking creature just as the bus rounded a corner known as "El Piojo". They reported seeing a creature larger than an elephant somewhat reptilian in appearance crossing the road just ahead of the bus. Terrified the passengers yelled at the driver to turn the headlights off, afraid that the creature would charge the bus. The strange creature reached the embankment on the other side of the road and disappeared down into a gully. Other passengers reported seeing the same or similar creature around the same curve at other times.

The witness who was staying at an "education camp" along with hundreds of other young men was sleeping in the barracks that night in a room that contained 6 other companions; he slept on the top bunk. That night he suddenly woke up as if in a dream and observed several "alien figures" or humanoids (not described), which appeared to be busy at different tasks in the room. He was completely paralyzed and in terrible fear. The encounter lasted for about a couple of minutes then the witness suddenly was awake in bed sweating profusely and shaking. He got up and checked the doors and windows but these were all locked.

Victor M was standing in his kitchen pouring a cup of coffee when for some reason he found himself staring to his left out the window to the backyard, almost as if in a trance. The entire scenario happened in about four seconds in time. In the first second, a brownish (sienna) colored smoky mist came wrapping around the patio post from the rear. It was about two feet tall and two inches thick and was hugging the side of the post about five feet above the ground. His first thought was maybe there was a fire in the rafters and smoke was rolling down the side of the post. It was a weird looking smoke though, very fluid looking and brown in color. The next second the "smoke" stepped aside from the post and formed into a human shape. He could see the torso from above the groin (no legs) the head and right arm. It was the same fluid smoky sienna brown. He couldn't see a face and the torso didn't appear to the clothed. There was a redwood colored storage shed in his neighbor's yard directly behind where he saw the shape and his backyard was covered in sienna covered gravel, so he couldn't tell if the apparition was picking up its color from either of those. He also could not tell if the apparition was transparent. It almost seemed to have transparency to it, but he was not sure if the light on the storage shed was actually shining through it or not. The whole thing was still very smoky, fluid and almost had a shimmer-like sparkle to it. The next second it appeared that the apparition actually straightened its head from a downward position (like someone standing at attention). He saw the shoulders snap into place and they stood and stared directly at each other for a split second. His whole body jolted like he was shocked to see the witness looking at him. It was a very human like reaction. His head and shoulders did that classic shocked, jerky movement, (imagine how your body reacts when someone surprises you). In the remaining second, he turned sideways and raised his right arm like he was running. He scooted very quickly back behind the patio post. At the same time he appeared to be running, his body also seemed to be reverting back to the smoky mist shape. The witness was never afraid during the entire incidence. It happened very quickly and it seemed to have been afraid of the witness. The next second the witness ran out the patio and looked behind the post. There was nothing there.

It was crouched down, sort of frog style, and took a jump toward the witness as if the witness had startled it. It then made a loud hissing noise. In fear the young witness closed her eyes and did not move until she heard her mother calling out to her. Her mother had caught a glimpse of something running out of the corner of her right eye, but it was to fast to see any clear details. The Hernandez family was conducting an outdoor barbeque in their backyard when suddenly several prunes apparently from a nearby field pelted the wife, Mercedes, who was guarding the grill. At first she thought that someone in her family was playing a joke on her but soon realized that the prunes seemed to be coming from the direction of a nearby large tree. The tree was about 10 meters away and she approached the area. As she approached the tree she heard a sound similar to someone chewing very loud, upon getting closer she spotted a pair of shiny red eyes, which were looking at her from a point in the center of the tree trunk. Whatever it was, it seemed to be sitting in between two thick branches located in the center of the trunk. Terrified she yelled for her husband. Her husband also saw the strange figure and grabbing a hose he sprayed water on the creature hoping that it would scare it. In an instant the creature executed a tremendous leap and jumped over the nearby neighbor's wall, and into a pen filled with geese and ducks. Due to the moonlight on that night the two witnesses were able to see some details on the bizarre creature. The creature was about 5 ft tall, covered in brown hair. It had a pear-shaped head with what appeared to be a very pointed beak, also hairy. It had two short arms that ended in claws, and a tail-like protrusion on its back. The eyes were round and bright red in color. As the creature leapt from the tree it caused several branches to break in half, when it landed on the other side of the stonewall, there was a very audible "thump". At this point the creature disappeared from sight. During the encounter the witnesses two pet dogs hid under a nearby outdoor sink visibly terrified.

Sixto Paz Wells along with about 37 other persons had gathered in a mountainous area in order to meditate, during the so call "Worldwide Moment of Contact" the first one held in the Dominican Republic. After performing numerous breathing and meditating exercises the group noticed a strange fog or mist approaching their position at about 300 meters away. The strange fog seemed to move at ground level. As it approached their location the fog seemed to rise up into the air acquiring a half-moon shape, turning a pale blue or silvery color. Wells immediately decided to approach the strange fog with the intention to verify what the group was witnessing. As he approached the luminous dome-shaped fog it seemed to approach his location, surrounding him in a sort of luminous whirlwind. At that same moment Wells noticed the figure of a very tall man, dressed in a dark outfit that walked towards him, the others in the nearby camp also saw the strange tall figure. As Wells watched he noticed a luminous golden sphere floating among the bushes ahead of him, and to his right a silvery disc-shaped object hovering above the trees. Suddenly Wells rose into the air and felt being "sucked" towards the hovering disc in an oblique trajectory, he entered the hovering object at very high speed. Apparently the tall humanoid had accompanied in his flight towards the hovering object. Once inside he found himself in a round dim room, not to large. Above him he could see what appeared to be a constellation of stars. Suddenly he noticed four "persons" standing in front of him. Three of them were very similar to each other, including the outfits they wore, only the fourth figure appeared different, he seemed to be a giant of a man, somewhat uncomfortable as he stood slightly inclined looking at the witness. The giant wore a dark outfit, with a silvery plate-like object on his chest. He had long silvery hair. The other three were of average height, and wore tight-fitting blue coveralls; their faces were slightly triangular in shape, orange in color with large slanted eyes. They had large pointy ears, which drooped over their shoulders. They had thick dark hair. Wells (involved in other encounters) recognized some of the aliens, since he had met them before. One of the beings, the one called "Sampiac" then communicated with Wells. Soon the others joined in a dialogue with Wells. The beings spoke about their ancestors from Lemuria and Mu and the destruction of Atlantis. They warned Wells of the approaching earth changes and warned that humanity must be informed. Soon he was told to return to the rest of the group. At that moment a beam of light descended from a triangular shaped crystal-like object on the ceiling of the craft completely covering Wells in some sort of "soft energy". A sort of hatch opened under his feet and Wells descended slowly towards the forest, at very high speed, accompanied by one of the tall beings. The being landed about 20 meters from Wells, in a very excited state Wells noticed that he was accompanied by the very tall being, about 2 1/2 meters in height. He asked the giant humanoid if he could approach him but was told that it was not necessary, that he was tell the others about what had transpired. Wells then bade farewell and walked back to the camp to join the others.

As the truck drove very close to the object Espinoza saw an object about 100 meters in width, which was resting on the ground on what appeared to be several leg-like supports that rose to about 10-12 meters from the ground. Several hose-like protrusions with lights on the end emerged from the supports. Curious Espinoza left the truck and hid behind a boulder to get a closer look. Suddenly the lights dimmed and Espinoza saw several strange figures, which walked as if suspended animation. He was only able to describe the humanoids as tall and thin wearing very bright outfits that obscured any other features. Hiding behind the boulder he saw one of the figures jumped on top of an outcrop and appear to collect ground samples. After about 20 minutes, Espinoza decided to return to the truck in order to notify the rest of the people. They saw the object but were unable to see the humanoids, because of the distance.

D. H. age 41 was awakened in his travel trailer and clearly saw a red orb three inches in diameter floating around. The baseball size red ball had a two inch red mist around it, so its total diameter was about five inches. Although the red light was "hazy" it lit up the entire interior compartment of the trailer. It was an extremely bright light hovering in the same spot, said the witness. He leaned up on his right elbow very slowly and the light moved about a half an inch further inside the trailer and then bolted out the door. D

H was unaware until that moment that the trailer door was open. He always closes and locks that door. The door slammed behind the light. He awoke that morning with a good-sized bump on the back of his head. Yet, he felt better than he had in months. The door trim on the floor had a one-and-a-half inch outward dent in it. The next night he closed his eyes for a minute and had a flashback of someone pulling him by his ankles out of his bed. All of the covers had been removed from his body and he was terrified as he was being dragged feet-first by two hands from his bed and through the trailer door. His head striking the rim probably caused the dent. Later he remembered a large dark gray face about two feet away with thin arms, he saw no ears, mouth, hair or nose.

The main witness and two friends were celebrating the advent of a new year, but had only drunk a little bit of champagne and were out walking the streets. The men suddenly noticed a large orange sphere that seemed to descend and approach their position. The sphere then hovered above some nearby fir trees. As the men stared at it, the main witness looked around and spotted a strange "person" some meters away, which immediately he realized that it was not normal or human. It had what appeared to be a "snout" and was staring at the witness in a mocking grin. It then turned sideways and the witness was stunned to see that completely flat in appearance, like it had been run over by an asphalt roller. At this time the witness felt a strong invisible wave that struck him and knocked him down against the icy ground. As he got up the sphere and the strange humanoid had disappeared he turned to his friends, who apparently had not seen the humanoid but saw the orange sphere.

The witness was driving on state road 68-west, up a lonely hill when his headlights caught sight of a strange creature running into the woods. The stopped his car and looked at the creature, which resembled a walking tree, two shades of brown, its head had a beak like a bird with many protruding teeth, and a strange crest-like protrusion on top of its head. Terrified the witness drove home. The following week driving on the same hill the witness saw another strange creature, thin in color and glowing green, the head was like a lizard and on its back it carried something resembling a backpack, which had a transparent canister filled with the glowing green liquid, the creature briefly walked towards the witness up an embankment but stopped and disappeared into the woods, as it did the strange creature appeared to turn transparent. Soon after that the witness was driving up the same hill when his windshield went dark, something was on the hood obstructing his sight, whatever it was it was a creature with many white square teeth, he also saw the creature's feet, which appeared sinewy and gray in color. The creature then jumped from the hood and started walking alongside the road, it had extremely long arms, and seemed to drag them on the ground, the creature stopped and began gesticulating with its long arms, at this point the witness noticed a similar creature sitting on the ground staring at the witness, the eyes of the creatures were black the size of a grapefruit, and both had large pointy ears. The witness thought that another creature was coming up behind him and looked back when suddenly the area was illuminated by a strong white light, he drove on for about 50 ft and then looked back, and again saw the bizarre bird-like creature standing on the road looking at him, it was six ft tall, with square patches of red and yellow on it. He rubbed his eyes and then saw nothing and kept on driving, at about 5 meters away the bizarre figure again appeared. Stunned at what he was seeing Berrios almost lost control of his vehicle as he swerved around the figure almost upending the vehicle. The strange creature had what appeared to be the carcass of a bloodied dog clutched in his jaws. The creature suddenly jumped and disappeared into the brush. Berrios described the creature as about 1.50m in height, with large hind legs like a kangaroo, small curved front arms that ended in claw like protrusions, a spiky dorsal fin on its back, and a tail resembling that of a rattler on a snake. The facial features were also bizarre; it had a wolf-like snout, several sharp rows of teeth, and fierce-looking red eyes. It jumped a height of about 5 meters and disappeared from sight.

21-year old student, Susan T and her neighbor Jeff F. were in Susan's driveway when they spotted an object in the sky. Susan stated that the object was hard to describe but it was disc-shaped with a hump on top. Susan said that at one point the object stopped and began to "drop". She thought it was going to hit the ground. However it suddenly stopped and hovered and then it began to drop again. For several minutes this object "stopped and dropped". She finally lost sight of it as it went below roof top level of her house. Susan went on to say that this object must have been "covered in a million lights" and also said there was a rotating light on the top of the hump and white lights on what she described as the belly or bottom of the craft. She claims that the object seemed to turn on its side so that she could see the bottom part. This turning and flipping caused the object to look like it was changing shapes and getting bigger. Susan explained that she felt she was being watched and grew very frightened. Both she and her neighbor sat in the truck and watched this object for over an hour. It was 0415A when it finally slowly went behind her house. Susan then stated that something very strange happened. Right after the object went behind her house what appeared to be a "shadow" dropped on her roof and turned into a ball and rolled down the roof. Her neighbor also saw this "shadow". Being very frightened neither person went behind the house to see where the object went. Susan feels that it landed or almost landed. She reported that the dogs were going wild when the object came down close to the ground.

48-year old, L K was lying in bed with his face turned towards the window. Suddenly he woke up with a strange feeling that something odd was happening in the street. He opened his eyes and noticed a ball, which was hanging in the sky. It shone with a white-blue silvery light---like the moon---but it was 2-3 times bigger than the moon. He immediately looked at the clock and noticed the time. He looked around the bedroom and saw his wife and dog sleeping calmly. The witness then felt very dizzy and went to sleep again. That same night he had another strange experience. While in a half-awake state in his bed he heard a strange female voice, which repeated a passage read in an unknown language (the witness is an interpreter and speaks five foreign languages fluently). Feeling afraid he covered his head with a pillow. He immediately checked all the electrical devices in the room but they were all turned off, except for the icebox. His wife and dog again slept calmly. The witness also heard the strange voice the next night.

21-year old police officer Leonardo Samaniego Gallegos was patrolling a section of Alamo Street when he observed what appeared to be the figure of a woman totally dressed in a black cloak-like outfit descends from a nearby tree towards his patrol car. She appeared to float towards the car at very high speed. She had large black eyes without any pupils. Terrified he drove away from the area but was chased by the flying apparition. He called for assistance over his police radio. The tree the strange figure descended from was about 6 meters high. The strange flying creature approached the police car and impacted onto the front windshield pushing it inward, apparently trying to get in using what appeared to be large pointy claws at this point Gallegos lost consciousness. In the videotaped interview officer Gallegos describes the eyes and black gown as in the news article but adds the description of a "helmet" or headpiece it was wearing that curved downward to a point at the back of the creature's head. Also, a police officer from Santa Catarina, Jorge Contreras declared that he and two more policemen from the Regia police saw exactly the same flying being that officer Samaniego saw, but three days before. They saw it flying and decided not to say anything---until they heard about Samaniego's case. Norma Alicia Herrera who lives in Colonia La Playa declared in a TV interview that she and her brother also saw the flying humanoid at daytime and that it looked weird. She said that her brother was so stunned by the sighting that he was sick for almost a week afterwards. Another neighbor in that sector also videotaped several days before, a strange flying humanoid and gave the video to the TV station.

At the Rizal Elementary School grade 4-faculty advisor Hermie Orieno asked her students to clean the grounds. As the students cleaned around an acacia, some of them saw two dwarves in green and blue clothes near the trunk of a tree. Later, other students also saw dwarves in nearby shrubs. The dwarves talked to the children and said their names were Wendy and Wendell. They asked the children not to hurt them because they didn't mean them harm. In fact, they helped the children clean the place. As other children, like Divine Grace Castillo, 9, Myrna Salaver, 9, Charmaine Clarin, 10, and Sandy approached, they also saw the dwarves. Sandy even gave them a biscuit, which the dwarves ate. The children saw the biscuit become smaller as the dwarves ate. Then along came another student, Kent Grey, 10, who couldn't see the dwarves. He was angry that the others could see them but he could not. In his frustration, he got a stick, asked the girls where the dwarves were. He started hitting the ground with the stick, accidentally hitting one of the dwarves, breaking his leg. When the other children saw what happened to the dwarf, they reported it to Ms. Orieno. She rushed out but could not see the dwarf. Then one of the girls pointed to a leaf that was moving while the others around it remained still and told her teacher that the dwarves were by that leaf. In the meantime, Kent was taken by his parents to a local "albulario" or witch doctor to prevent him from being harmed by the dwarf. According to Ms. Orieno, almost half of her class saw the dwarves. Some students in another section also did. The dwarves were described as wearing pointed hats and colorful clothes of blue, green and red. The children also saw a mother dwarf with a male child. She wore a red dress. According to Sandy who seemed to be the one who saw the creatures most clearly, there were at first only two dwarves. After Kent hit one of them and it fell to the ground, others came out of hiding and surrounded the victim. The head dwarf, who had a long beard and wore black clothes, was very angry. Ms. Orieno although she could not see anything, apologized to the dwarves for what happened and asked them not to retaliate because Kent could not see them. Charmaine, who saw what happened, cried when she saw the other dwarves crying. The dwarves told the girls not to tell others that they saw them. They didn't explain why. Other children, especially the boys said they also saw what appeared to be "angels" coming down from the sky. They described the creatures as beautiful, with wings and very curly hair reaching down to their shoulders. The angels were naked except for a piece of cloth covering their hips down. They said nothing to the children, who estimated their size to be three feet.

In the middle of the night the witness, Jim, (involved in previous encounters) suddenly found himself wide-awake. A loud buzzing sound filled his ears. He was curled up on his bed in a fetal position facing the closest wall. He felt a force push on the back of his head. It did not hurt but felt extremely uncomfortable. Again he heard the now familiar "clicking" sound in his head. This time it panned from his right ear to the left. He looked at his arm and it was covered in a bluish purplish pulsating energy. He could not move his legs and arms; he could just move his head. Somehow he managed to break free and used all his effort to turn around. Standing before him in the center of the bedroom was some kind of short humanoid creature, with a large mantis/fly looking head. A beam of energy seemed to be shooting from the alien to the witness. Thousands of thoughts entered his head at the same time. Strangely he felt no fear and felt as he had known the strange being all his life, but also felt that he had been somehow manipulated into feeling this. He then heard a slow deep voice, almost overwriting all his other thoughts. It seemed to be communicating telepathically. It said in an abrupt manner, "Now do you understand?" "Yes" the witness found himself answering, but he had no idea why he said that. "Good" It replied. The witness then turned his head back to the wall and shut his eyes. The buzzing sound stopped and he felt extremely tired. He then collapsed and lost consciousness. He described the creature as humanoid, 5 ft 5 inches in height. Its head was huge in relation to its body. Its eyes were extremely large, shiny, and insect-like and were supported by big sockets. His first impression was that it looked like a cross between a praying mantis and a fly. The being appeared to have been surrounded by a bluish purplish field of energy. In the center of its cloak was a golden badge, there was definitely a design or symbol on it, but the witness could not make it out. He looked closer at the head and it had two protrusions between the eyes and a mass of protrusions was in the area where a mouth would normally be. The witness woke up the next day feeling very tired.

A 17-year old motorist traveling almost 10 miles north of Aurora Indiana on Saturday night claims to have encountered an unusual figure on the road. While driving his black Chevrolet Cavalier southbound along North Hogan Road a "figure" was spotted in the headlights of the automobile as it was crouched down near a puddle of water. From the driver's perspective the figure was spotted out the windshield on the right of the car. After passing the frail-looking figure, the driver looked into his rear view mirror and again observed---illuminated by the taillights of his car---what he described as a tall, abnormal figure that moved strangely with pointed joints that "buckled out". He estimated the figure stood around 6 feet, seven inches. "It had protruding joints and moved very strangely." The driver said he was able to ascertain the figure, alleged to be dark gray or black and "pencil thin" stand up and take several steps toward the woods along the roadside. The figure definitely walked on two legs and was thought somehow, to be a male, although no clothing was noted. No face or eyes could be seen, but the witness had the impression that the figure was looking straight at him. The figure was immediately thought to be something out of the ordinary, not a human being. The duration of the sighting was "hurried" and possibly within the 3 to 4 second range. The driver continued on for a small distance after passing the figure and finally put on his brakes, coming to a stop at an estimated 2 minute walking distance on the road from the location of the sighting. He looked back to further observe the entity. At that point, a second car came into view and approached from the opposite direction, passed and then reached the spot on the road where the figure was thought to be. The 17-year old motorist reportedly watched closely and observed the second car undertake what he thought to be an evasive maneuver near the vicinity of where he thought the figure would be situated, and then the car turned around at that spot and shortly pulled up behind him, somewhat in the grass. There was an elderly couple in the car, both in their late 60s or early 70s and both with gray hair. The driver, who wore glasses said, "Boy, did you see something back there? I'll tell you right now, that was no person." The passenger, an elderly female said, "It was no human being. It was no man." The elderly couple was reportedly "spooked" but offered to follow the first witness the remainder of the trip down North Hogan Road, clearly in the opposite direction of their intended destination route. It was thought that the elderly couple observed this same figure on the opposite side of the road, and possibly had observed it more closely. Later, the 17-year old witness was said to have become hysterical, and within an hour was describing the figure as an "alien".

(He had felt the same in the previous encounters). There was no sound anywhere and not a bit of movement in the room. As he laid on his bed feeling very relaxed he was grabbed by the left and right arms between the elbows and shoulders and pulled down into his bed. It was as if something was under his bed and its arms were coming through the bed. At this stage he was not worried but his legs started to rise together and he could not stop them. He attempted to break the grip but was grasped even tighter. He began to struggle and to yell obscenities. The witness then yelled "go to the light" "go beneath the earth" until he was set free. He now felt calm. Then all of the sudden he was grabbed in the same way and he felt an electric current travel through his body, his legs began to rise up again. He then saw lots of movement in his room and saw a hand similar to a "frog's foot" or a gecko lizard foot, apparently reptilian in nature. His legs went right over and he seemed to have passed out. Virginia and her husband had retired and purchased a home near the Maryland coast; the house was 85 years old and needed some major repairs. Most of the repairs involved an interior facelift. A small room with an old desk and empty file cabinets on the second floor of the two-story home was slated to become a part of a larger room next to it with the removal of a wall. Some old suitcases, empty packing crates and other debris had been left in there as well. With contractor work scheduled to begin within a few days, Virginia, her husband and two friends went to work removing everything from the small room. They moved the desk and file cabinets out first, and then began bundling up the old suitcases and various pieces of debris left in the corners, of the small room. While the four worked, Virginia began to feel a bit sick to her stomach. Her husband and friends complained of similar feelings over the next few moments. Before any of them had time to consider their sudden, unexplained illness, an odd green mist filled one corner of the room. As all present were focused on the green mist, they could see a human form taking shape. It looked like a man dressed in what all agreed later was a sailor's white uniform. It did not appear to be a modern uniform, but one that might have been worn 50 or 60 years ago. None were familiar with naval uniforms, but the group came to this conclusion after viewing photos of US sailors from the 40's. Within seconds, the man became solid and started to move a bit. Virginia's husband had been an electrician for years before he retired and noted t hat he smelled the odor of over-heated circuitry in conjunction with the sailor's appearing. Before anyone could say or do anything, the sailor looked at the group and said, "2005. Watch out for 2005! They're playing with your future!" After that, the sailor faded into the wall and the green mist dissipated in less than ten seconds. All agreed later that they had heard his voice and everyone heard the same thing. They described the sailor's voice as deep and full, but sounding a bit muffled.

Late one night two brothers were sitting outside their mobile home located in the outskirts of Tucson enjoying a few beers (they insist that they were not intoxicated). When they suddenly saw a coyote followed by several others running out of the forest as if being pursued by something or someone. Both men then armed themselves with rifles afraid that coyotes might raid their chicken pens. Hidden from view of the animals the men soon noticed what appeared to be figures walking swiftly among the trees and rocks nearby, apparently the motive for the coyotes to flee out of the woods. Soon the men climbed on top of two large trees in order to view the area more clearly, thinking that the figures were really illegal immigrants that had recently crossed the border. Soon they realized that they were looking at numerous man-shaped shadowy silhouettes that were moving steadily among the trees. To their terror it soon became apparent that the original silhouettes or figures were just the head of what the brothers could only describe as a "wave" of shadowy figures that suddenly emerged from out of the forest. The terrified men watched the quick moving mass of figures march out the forest and into the distance totally ignoring their presence (to their relief). The men did not see the bizarre figures again.

26-year old Liliana Nievas was sitting in her patio with her boyfriend when suddenly several "cascotazos" (a sort of rock or brick abundant in the area) fell on the two apparently coming from an area behind the patio. Liliana went alone to investigate when she came upon a short dark "man", which began to pummel her and attempted to drag her away. She could only describe the entity as short, dark and shadowy, which covered her mouth and began to drag her on the ground. Hearing her screams, several neighbors, family members, and her boyfriend ran to find the woman lying on the ground suffering facial injuries. She kept screaming that "he is trying to drag me away" as the astounded group watched as a mysterious force indeed seemed to pull her away, however they did not see anybody. Finally with the help of her boyfriend and others they managed to hold Liliana down and the force seemed to release her. She was taken to a local hospital suffering from grievous injuries. Others in the area reported being pelted by bricks and another witness reported seeing a shadowy entity stealing fruit from his backyard.

She then saw a figure of approximately 6 ft in height standing on her lawn. It seemed to have huge eye on its stomach (?) resembling huge black circles that seemed to pierce the witness head with an incredibly high-pitched sound. She was fixed to the spot with terror, as the strange creature seemed to slowly dissolve from view.

For a while they did not approach the supposed crash site because of fear. However others reported that the object was huge and disc-shaped, apparently metallic, without windows or wings. Soon after the "crash" members of the Mexican Territorial Army cordoned off the area and warned local inhabitants not to approach the area. Others have reported seeing similar disc-shaped craft flying at a high altitude over the area.

A silhouette of a man, who walks on rooftops, drags heavy chains and makes strange noises turned into a disquieting "phantom" that has made residents of Monte Maiz restless. Opinions on the "phantom" are diametrically opposed, since some claim having see "a figure standing over 2 meters tall, dressed in black and with spectacular agility" while others say its all imagination. The local residents call it "the phantom". Those who have seen it say that it is a young person, very tall and slim, with red eye. It dresses in white, sometimes black and others gray. Always wear a hat and covers its face with a mask or hood. The sounds on the rooftops begin after 2100 hours, as do the calls to the police. Residents claim that it walks on the roof, shuffles and runs, drags chains, scratches at windows and bangs at doors. It doesn't speak or yell---it has only been heard to laugh in the dark or whistle, some claimed having heard it imitate the howling of a dog. Locals say that it runs swiftly and jumps over barbed wire fencing and walls without touching them, according to concerned neighbors. Some eyewitness accounts follow:
Ivana Molina had gone out to her yard and saw a man dancing, whistling and slapping his hands. The neighbors heard similar noises. The next day, she went out and the same man tried to grab her. She ran into the house and phoned the police. It then banged on her bathroom window and wrote "mueres" (you'll die) with its finger. Oscar Gonzalez reported standing in the yard when he saw a shadow walking along. He could see its red eyes. He then went out with another fellow to find it and the "phantom" jumped the neighbor's yard. It was dressed in white. The following day it whistled at the men again. They went out to chase it and it vanished. Veronica Bertrando reported that her husband saw it as it crossed the patio; he said it was dressed in gray with a hood over its head. When it went by the dog barked, her husband then went outside and it took off running. He searched for it but could not find it. Local police offered the following additional details on the stranger (or strangers?), 1.8 to 1.9 meters tall, dresses in black, a white face (possibly a mask) wears a black hat, its movements are generally silent and possesses extreme agility, it jumps over fences, walls and climbs up trees with ease. It normally appears between 2130 to 0300 hours.

She didn't even see the whole body, but it seemed she knew what it looked like. The alien seemed very familiar for some reason. The witness received an acute impression that the (female alien) was smiling, even though her face didn't look like a smile. What struck her was the color of her skin and the warmth radiating off her. She had vanilla colored skin, not white, not brown, but more of a blend between it leaning on the corn colored side, like maize. Her eyes were the most striking feature about the female alien. She could see lips, but very small lips in a straight line. Her nose was small, if noticeable at all. She could see a pinkish glow coming from the alien. The witness smiled back at her inside. They remained like that for a moment, while the baby slept. The witness could feel joy in the center of her chest, it was actually very enjoyable. The two witnesses had gone riding ATV's (all terrain vehicles) in a place called "The Underground" which is a public and private storage facility near the town. The facility is miles and miles of carved out caves and also stores thousands of dehydrated food containers for the Navy. It is also a fallout shelter and can hold up to 40,000 to 50,000 people. They had gone about 8 miles deep into to the caves when they turned into an area that was marked, "Naval Authoritative Zone." The walls became more defined as in polished or finished, and this was striking because this was supposed to be a newly blasted area. Both witnesses just kept on going, increasing their speed since the floor was paved now. They then came upon an unusual painted pattern on the floor, which they thought it was graffiti. The road then dipped down and took a 90-degree turn to the left. They were going to fast and knew they were going to hit it but they didn't. They passed through some kind of holographic projection of the cave wall. Now they had come upon a whole new road system, this one large and much older than the one they had come from. They began to notice an odor, that was musty and damp that grew stronger as they went deeper into the area. The lighting had changed as well. It was now 60% darker than the other area from which they had come. They turned on their headlights and slowed down also noticing that it was getting cooler. They made a right turn and started to come up on what they thought was a rest area about 40 ft away. One of the witnesses then saw something that at first he thought were a pair of fountains until they moved. They both stopped immediately. About 30 ft away they saw two creatures, one was very tall (at least 7 ft, maybe more) and very powerfully built, it was reddish in color. The other was smaller (about 6 ft tall) and was a pale, almost albino color. This one was not as powerfully built as the other. They resembled large reptiles. They said nothing the witnesses did get a strong malevolent feeling, an evil presence of some kind from the taller one. One of the men screamed and they turned around and started back. One of the men looked back and saw that the taller entity was following them. He received an overwhelming feeling that if it caught them, harm would come to them, they passed through the wall projection again, and looked back and saw the tall entity raise its arm and it had a weapon of some sort, it fired and hit one of the ATV's, which apparently killed the engine causing it to stop. The rider ran to the other ATV and jumped on it. They drove away and looked back to see that the tall reptilian had now stopped at the graffiti area on the cave floor. It was obvious that the creature would not cross the strange marked area. It seemed to have been some type of barrier for the creature. The witnesses now slowed down and were now about 75 ft away from the creature. The two men and the reptilian stared at each other for about 15 seconds, and then they left. The creature remained standing without moving. One of the witnesses called the police on his cell phone but he was told that the security at the facility would handle the matter. Indeed security waited for the men and threatened to arrest them if they did not leave.

Steven Nicklin and a friend were walking across Northicote Farm near an old Tudor farmhouse when both men saw a humanoid grayish figure with a human-type head standing on a tree, which formed part of the many trees that bordered the farm, these were tall pine trees, and the figure stood on the top branches. They estimated the size of the figure as being about 2.1 meters in height. It had two legs and two arms connected to membrane-type wings. Its clawed hands seemed connected to the wings, somehow resembling a pterosaur. It moved its head and looked directly at the witnesses, since the moon was full and there was a streetlight not farm away. It turned its head from the witnesses and then took one giant leap and glided to the next tree. The tree bent under the creature's weight as it took the impact. It then turned its head to look at them once more. Its gaze felt that "it could look into their very being (soul)". Both men felt quite scared and both fled the area quickly. The men said that it was a creature they had never seen before nor wanted to see again.

The witness, M N, was driving eastward on Wellington Street on the southeastern end of Lake Superior and as he came to the central part of the city (known to locals of the Lake Superior region as Soo, Canada). He noticed a straight beam of light hovering in the early morning sky, from the top of the hill that was on his northern side. His vehicle came to a complete stop at a cross street and he looked all the way down to the end of the street (about 7 blocks away) because the street ended at the base of the hill and has a metal stairwell leading to McDonald Avenue. Although being 7 blocks away his eyes were able to focus on a little dark figure that was standing very still. This caught his curiosity as he slowly drove towards it, and then started moving from side to side using fluid movements as if it was hovering in mid-air. It moved as if it was confused or afraid and didn't know what to do. As he got closer, the figure's appearance seemed to have metamorphosed into a transparent, shadow like entity that very swiftly flew up the stairs. To his astonishment, the beam of light that he had seen in the sky a few minutes before and a couple of miles away was now at the top of the hill, only about 100 ft away. With his heart racing, he drove as fast as he could eastward along the base of the hill until he came to the nearest hilled street and drove up McDonald Avenue to see what was happening. In a matter of seconds, traveling from the bottom to the top of the hill, he arrived at the top of the steps only to find three circle-shaped burn markings on the pavement of the street. Approximately 10 seconds later he heard a very weird kind of gunshot sound, looked up to the sky and saw a bright light shooting up into the stars. As he watched the spectacle a surreal kind of peaceful feeling came upon him and he felt as if every hair on his body was standing on end. The feeling only lasted for what felt like 30 seconds, but when he looked at his watch it was a good 40 minutes later.

He decided to send his son to check with a flashlight to make sure thieves weren't at work. The youth obeyed his father and flashlight in hand approached the large henhouse stealthily, becoming terrified upon seeing a strange black animal, standing some 40cm, tall and resembling a small dog with a long tail and standing on two legs. He recalls, among what little he was able to see through the flashlight's beam, that the animal had a very long tongue. Upon seeing the light, the creature fled into the vegetation, skillfully leaping over a wall. An inspection of the henhouse revealed that 20 hens had been slain. Police authorities of the nearby town of San Ramon were notified and Officer Marcos Hernandez reported to the scene to corroborate not only Gonzalo Rodriguez's account, but also the testimony of frightened neighbors. The birds were whole and the only sign of damage to them were the two small orifices on their backs, through which it is presumed that the strange assailant drove its fangs to remove or suck the blood. 44-year old Eduardo Perez, a security guard at a high scale condominium was at his guard shack when he perceived a strong luminosity coming from outside. As he went out to investigate he immediately lost consciousness. He is later found by another one of the guards; about 600 meters away from his post in a state of confusion, and incredibly with a three-day growth of beard, the hands of his quartz watch were turning on the opposite direction. After explaining what occurred to his superior he shakes hands with him but this one is suddenly thrown back by a violent discharge of static electricity from Perez's hand. Later local police found strange ground traces at the nearby golf course, which unfortunately were ordered, removed by the local residents. According to Perez he has had unusual encounters from an early age, including one time when he was missing for several hours and remembers seeing two short humanoids.

The main witness (involved in a previous encounter) had driven from Albuquerque to Roswell with a group of students and she had gone into the UFO museum and inside she encountered the same little man she had encountered in Egypt back in 1991. He looked at her in a very shocked and surprised look on his face and he kept staring at her thighs, not like in a sexual manner, but as if he was looking for something. Her students observed everything that was happening and of course her shocked reaction to seeing the little man. She immediately walked away to another area in the museum. He followed her just like in Egypt and was so close to her that one of her students had to get between her and him. IT didn't stop him from staring at the witness, she kept moving to different areas of the museum and the little man would follow her. Finally out of the blue he left he museum in a hurry. According to the witness it had been the same little man she had seen years before. After the above incident she has returned to the museum but has not seen the little man again.

24-year old Robert Van Den Broeke, involved in a long series of paranormal and humanoid encounters, photographed a long-necked alien visitor in his room. The visitor materialized from just a "fog" and was gray-whitish in color. The strange fog appeared during the next two nights, one after the other and Robert used a camera to photograph the fog forming in his room, he clicked the shutter 5 times. Eventually the entity appeared in the drawing room. Other contacts with Robert led researchers to the conclusion that those entities visited him not in the physical form, but the aliens were somehow able to materialize from a fog-like substance and then de-materialize.

Robert Van Den Broeke had been unable to fall asleep. He got up, took his video camera, loaded with 8-mm film and installed it in his bedroom. At approximately 0400A the foggy cloud began appearing just opposite to the door. Robert switched on the video camera and started looking into the viewfinder. Soon a semi-transparent, grayish white figure began forming from the fog. The video recording was of excellent quality. The face of the humanoid was clearly visible. The humanoid did not move and after several seconds moved to the right and vanished. After some time the figure appeared again, emitting bright light and apparently taller in height. According to Robert's father, 53-year old Peter van den Broke he believes the strange entity is able to absorb energy from "outer space" (solar energy?). Robert has compiled an extensive album of alien photographs and according to reports stays away from the media. According to Robert, the aliens are peaceful and are here to help humanity and the earth. Robert displayed paranormal abilities ever since he was a youth, including the ability to foresee the future. He also reported seeing energy spheres creating "Crop Circles". Researcher Nancy Talbot reported seeing the same type of phenomena.

The main witness, Summer Sanders, and five other friends had decided to go star gazing at a beach about 10 miles from downtown. They walked out onto the beach and scoped out the scene, there were no cars around and the closest house was at least a mile away. Soon the witness noticed a large black object in the water that seemed pretty heavy by the way it was flowing around in the current, it must have been about 500ft away. It would go under the water and closer then further away from shore, after watching it for about 5 minutes it floated closer to the breakwaters. Suddenly this black "object" came up onto the shore on 4 legs, it was about the size of a small horse but its body was very skinny, it jetted across the shore for a good 100 ft, almost at a gallop, at this point the group of witnesses became scared. The "creature" then turned to its right toward highway 101 and went onto 2 legs at this point. The bizarre figure seemed to be about 7 ft tall and it walked up the beach at a steady pace moving slower and then it seemed to speed up on the sand going up hill and when it reached the rocks that divide the street from the beach which are very big it hopped over with ease and disappeared. (Those rocks are exceptionally large). At this point the witnesses were terrified and were ready to go. On their way to the rocks an unmarked cop car pulled up, and they thought it was going to ticket their car and tell them to go home, but they didn't they shined their searchlight toward the ocean on the exact same spot where the creature had been in the water and crossed over, but they didn't say anything to the group. As the group was leaving they heard a whistling sound, which seemed to follow them as they climbed the rocks up to their cars. The main witness compared the creature as the one portrayed in the movie "Signs".

Mike B was about three miles in the woods hunting for deer, he had to walk because the woods were too thick and it was impossible to take an ATV (al terrain vehicle) back with him, he then decided to camp for the night. According to the witness there are several talc mines in the area and plenty of game. Later it grew dark and it was somewhat warm outside. To the north of where he was camping he saw blue lights in the sky. They were hovering over the ground and then they went behind a hill. A short while later he began to hear "clicking-chirping" birdlike sounds, unlike any he was able to identify. The sounds kept getting closer. When Mike shined a flashlight, he saw a creature and it ran from the light. Then he later heard something walking toward him and his first reaction was to go for his gun and take a shot. He said the campfire was lit and he saw the creature which he described as "god-awful". The creature was reptilian in nature and much taller than Mike which was 6'6" in height, greenish/brown and scaly with catlike eyes. The creature then began to circle around Mike's campfire and Mike felt a couple of rocks being hurled at him. He stayed there that night and didn't sleep the whole night. It seemed that there were more than one creature and they kept circling around the camp all night long. In fact he used all his ammunition and his last shot was around 0700A. Apparently the creatures communicated among themselves by using chirping and clicking sounds. Mike said he had shot a deer earlier and he left it behind for the creatures. In the morning he noticed that the deer was gone, and tracks were there as if it had been dragged off...tracks that led to the talc mines which had a three-foot wide and four foot high opening. He had seen only one reptilian during the night, but when he got up in the morning he found three sets of footprints. The footprints measure size 14 in a man-size shoe with three toed feet...three in the front and one in the back "like a lizard's toes." According to Mike local residents have reported the mysterious disappearance of their pets and other small animals. There are also reports of two missing persons in the area.

A similar event to the above befell a group of five youths who were spending the night at the lookout point. They saw strange entities emerge from the sea, gradually coming closer. They were unable to make out any details at first, but later added that they were diminutive humanoids surrounded by something like an aura of light. After remaining motionless in mid-air, the beings began to disappear. The entire group was able to see these strange entities, and all members coincided in their descriptions and the details of the visitors that emerged from the sea.

A local hog farmer named "Belizardo" was searching the maize fields for several of his pigs when he perceived a strange "star-like" light moving an inclined angle towards the earth. After several minutes of observing the descending light he noticed several beams of light emerged from the light, which seemed to scan the surrounding fields and ridges. He was now sure that it was some kind of "apparatus" (name given by the locals to any unidentified aircraft and also in the nearby state of Maranhao). Concerned he watched the lighted "craft" had now descended parallel to his position. Apparently the occupants of the craft had by now spotted him and Belizardo immediately ran and hid behind some small trees. He armed himself with a rifle and waited tensely. He scanned the dimly lit surroundings and soon spotted a figure that seemed to move in strange "mechanical" movements. According to Belizardo when the figure lifted an arm it lowered the other one in some bizarre rhythm. The lighted craft remained static at a certain distance at times lighting up and then dimming. The beams of light still scanned the area. Suddenly a bright beam of light shone at the feet of the witness. Terrified he immediately ran from his hiding place. He then hid in an area of thick foliage where he felt more secure and from there watched the lighted object until it left. He did not see the strange figure again. There were possibly other witnesses.

According to the few details known, on Sunday morning one of the truckers working on the premises of COPEFRUT had to park somewhat far from the point of entry into the premises. At that time the driver's vehicle was accosted and attacked by a strange winged creature that placed its legs on the ground and then flew off. The frightened driver attempted some sort of maneuver to reach an area where he could find more people, which was almost impossible due to his nerves. After some minutes, he managed to tell his story, although he was unable to furnish details as to what had attacked him. He only said having seen an animal that flew away, but which did not have the characteristics of a bird. Strange footprints or tracks were found at the scene.

The witness, Frank, reporting hearing his basset hound beginning to whine and then cut off in mid stream. He was lying on his bed, and everyone in the house was asleep, except for him. He then heard off to his left a rustling sound like a bird fluttering and he became aware of a shape moving down the side of his bed---it was a "standard" gray. Immediately he felt like something was holding him from the back with one arm around his neck as if trying to hold him down. He was able to sit up and in front of him was a door of some sort with frosted glass. He saw through the door what appeared to be another "gray". Immediately he received a "masking" memory which was thrown at him where he was aboard a normal naval ship trying to his best to raise an alarm to no avail. Next he was aware of something on his back again still trying to hold him. At first he thought it could have been one of his children. He wrestled the "person" to the ground, trying to turn on a light switch to lighten the room up. When he turned the light on he was holding the creature around the neck with his right hand. Immediately another masking memory appeared that he left the apartment and looked down the stairs from the top towards the front door, which was open. The strange thing was the door had a door knob hole and missing the knob. He went down and closed the door, and as he turned around there was a woman standing in the shadows trying to get him to come unlock the door. Something was strange about the woman and so he said, "I am not that stupid to fall for that," and reached in his right pocked and pulled out a Swiss Army knife and opened the blade. The next thing he was aware of a group of aliens that appeared to be size of "grays" but were not gray, but green with the appearance of grays except the heads were smaller than the grays. Also where their mouths would normally be was something yellow that looked like false teeth or some type of "biohazard" device. Immediately the lead alien had its hands on the witness forearms while he attempted to cut the alien with his knife, but nothing seemed to come out of the blade. Right then he received another masking memory that changed one of the aliens into an Indiana Jones look-a-like and other men behind him and then it ended. He decided to swim towards where the body of the duck floated, so he could take it home with him and cook it. As others watched from the shore, as the young man grabbed the duck something or somebody grabbed him from under the murky waters and dragged him down. Locals waited for the body of the young man to surface for several days but it

But according to witnesses six days later the body of the young man was flung out of the water violently, according to a man named Pedro the body flew up into the air approximately 4 meters and then fell on the shore of the lagoon. When authorities arrived, including forensic medical personnel it was determined that the young man had been deceased for only a few hours (!), despite the fact that he had apparently been underwater for six days. Later some men attempted to measure the depth of the lagoon where the young man had disappeared and using a small canoe and a long rope (30meters) stunned the men had to tie two additional 30 meter ropes to the original since they were not able to touch the bottom of the lagoon, at 90 meters depth they gave up. At that same moment the men noticed that from the shore of the lagoon a strange creature was watching their actions, the bizarre creature was about 3 meters in height, hairy and canine in nature, it quickly jumped in the water and began swimming towards the men in the canoe, who in a panic were able to quickly row back to shore and summon the authorities. A search was conducted but nothing was found.

A young man, Andrey Alexandrovich Zabava (Janefarlz) was spending some time on the seashore near Cape Plaka in the company of several tourists from Russia and Poland. Their basic reason for being there was to observe the surroundings and to "hunt" for UFOs, out of Andrey's belief that there is an underground alien base hiding inside Ayu-Dug (Bear) Mountain (570.8 above sea level) just west of Partenit. The first six nights it was uneventful but on the 7th night they saw several dim spots of yellow lights that appeared one after the other on the northeastern rocky slope of Ayu-Dug, where there are no known buildings. The lights were positioned in a triangle-shaped form, giving the impression of being navigation beacons, possibly installed by the aliens near the entryway to their base. At about 0100A a strange object appeared from the west slowly floating in midair above the Black Sea. The object made a slow right turn drifting in total silence heading towards Ayu-Dug and slowly descending. When the object approached Andrey could discern an elongated rhomb-shaped form, clearly outlined by rows of lights. Four bright emerald green lights were positioned at the four corners of the craft, numerous red lights were running along its edges and constantly blinking in a clock-wise direction and large bright yellow-green lights were located at the center of the bottom of the craft, while four blue lights were positioned around it in a cross shape. This magnificent craft had several dimly lit yellowish windows along its top section. When the craft as its closest, Andrey felt a stream of hot air emanating from it. While the UFO passed along the seashore, Andrey noticed that all electric lights along the banks of sea blinked out simultaneously as if there had been some type of power interruption. The craft then approached Ayu-Dug and seemed to dissolve into thin air, at this point it had been flying at a very low altitude. Immediately after, a bright beam of light appeared from the seashore and began searching the sky and scanning the water, apparently frontier guards had been alerted to the presence of the strange craft. Andrey also noticed that his friend Vitya's watch had stopped when the craft passed directly overhead. At around 0300A Andrey noticed bright yellow flashes of light at the top of the mountain, resembling fireworks or explosions. Soon a total of 8 groups of objects zoomed out of the mountain the next 15minutes and flew away towards the southwest and eastwards towards Novorossiysk. At 0500A Andrew and Vitya began descending Cape Plaka when they suddenly heard a voice yelling from behind them, "Sons!" They stopped and turned around. A figure resembling that of an elderly woman stood on a rock. Details of the face could not be discerned because it was still dark; it was not facing them, as it stood sideways. The height of the strange "woman" was about 1.5m and was dressed in a long grayish loose fitting garment completely covering her legs and head, with a hood covering her head. Her apparel somewhat resembled that of a nun. In a soft female voice in pure Russian she said, "Sons Don't tell anybody down there about what you have seen, they will not understand" The somewhat stunned young men did not began a conversation with the strange woman and did not pay much attention to her. Several seconds later Andrey turned around again and the woman had disappeared into thin air. There was only a sharp rock outcrop and no place to hide. Agitated the witnesses searched for the "nun" everywhere but did not find anything. So they continued to their descent from the rock when suddenly Vitya screamed pointing to the water near one of the Partenit's piers. There they saw another humanoid entity, very tall, about 2-3 meters in height, dressed in a tight-fitting suit, dark blue in color, like a spacesuit, which covered completely its body, it had a helmet, which was attached directly to the suit. A yellow rectangular "window" was positioned in the face area, but the facial features were not visible. The entity was standing in the water up to the waist and looking at the embankment and houses on the shore. Unexpectedly, in the blink of an eye, after several seconds of observation the alien figure simply dissolved into thin air. The stunned witnesses descended to the hamlet in a very agitated state. In the pier they spoke to an old sea captain named "Jora" that reported experiencing problems with his electronic equipment onboard his cutter on several occasions recently.

Military maneuvers and exercises code-named "Shield of the Fatherland-2004" (Szhit Otechestva-2004) began in the forests of Belarus. A senior lieutenant named Dmitriy commander of a reconnaissance diversion group (RDG) was performing rear guard operations and was engaged in destroying targets pre-positioned there. On August 24 at 2200 they made camp. Two men code-named "Rainbow" and "Hedgehog" were posted for night duty watch. The group had decided to make camp 375 meters away from the village of Krepachi in the Brest region. The location was mixed forest, in a clearing with 2 large old oaks and a lake between them. The almost empty (dying?) village was not in any map and the nearest real inhabited place was the hamlet of Gorodiszhe. At 0308A they were awakened by a bright, but a monotonously spreading orange light. Their radio communication in their portable (Podsneshnik) radio remained intact. Dmitriy asked Rainbow if he had seen anything. Rainbow replied that he could see a plate-shaped craft about 27 meters from him hovering over the earth at an altitude of about 2.5m. Dmitriy then gave the command to take defensive positions and prepare the grenade launcher. After confirming that all his men were ready, Dmitriy took another man "Barkhan" and went on a reconnaissance patrol. The object was generally sauce-shaped with a truncated cone above. At close observation the object seemed metallic. The UFO emitted a beam of turquoise light from its center. Unexpectedly "Hedgehog" reported that he could see four figures approaching from the object, which he could not see them properly because of the tall grass concealing them. The men then turned on their laser rangefinder to infra red mode. The humanoid figures seemed very tall, but the men could not see them properly. Dmitriy noticed that the figures moved evenly as if robotic in nature. Seconds later the UFO quickly gained altitude, zooming out of sight beyond the clouds. According to the laser rangefinder the UFO speed was 2600 kilometers per hour. The humanoid figures then walked into different directions. Dmitriy did not order his men to follow them because that could lead to separating the group, which contradicted the defensive order. The figures seemed to walk through some high tension wires as if they were not there. Dmitriy could only hope that the humanoids and object quickly leave and that his men would not be harmed. After returning to their unit some of the men informed senior officers of what had taken place. The officers ordered the men to keep silence, in order to prevent them from being discharged from the Army under "psychological" reasons. He suggested that the men had been hallucinating as a result of the rigorous training exercises. Later KGB personnel interview the men and appeared to be glad that the men had not used their weapons against the "aliens" for fear of retaliation. A female resident of the village told Army investigators that spherical and disk-shaped objects were often observed in the location. The villagers had been pasturing cows in the glade where the UFO had descended and the men had camped, and reported that the cow's milk production had dropped dramatically.

A little while later Lisa heard a rustle and saw a bush move to the left, next she saw eyes or something reflecting light. Soon after seeing additional flickering lights descend towards the field, Sheila reported seeing a creature that was engaged in a rapid scurrying or running through the field across the road and into the immediate yard in front of the house. She could not discern with certainty whether it was 2 or 4 legged due to darkness, but felt it was walking upright and also felt herself to be keenly aware that there was a physical presence outside as she watched through the window. Sheila said that she could see a large white head but could not see the body since it sort of blended into the bush, but the eyes were reflecting the security light, like an animal looking at you from the woods. Lisa also reported seeing something land in the field and claimed she saw something running in the darkness. Whatever it was, it was running very fast and seemed to blend in with the environment. Sheila estimated the distance of between 20 to 25 ft from the window to the bush where the creature was seen. Sheila also reported other mysterious activity in the area including a very strange thunderstorm with continual rolling thunder and ferocious strobe-like lighting that hit the area on August 18.

Two witnesses, and elderly man and a young boy reported seeing a circular craft crash into a beach area. According to the man he was cooling off at a beach resort when a circular shaped craft flew over him and crashed into the beach. He reported the case to the aviation Authority which did not believe him. The young boy who was peddling spring water around the beach resort also corroborated the first witness account, but was brushed aside by authorities as an infantile hallucination. At the site where the craft was purported to have crashed was later searched by divers and they claimed to have found nothing.

A man named Vasiliy Ivanov was attempting to fall sleep, lying on his bed, alone in his apartment. Suddenly out of the corner of his eye he saw a "man" that appeared in the middle of the room "out of nowhere". The man walked towards his bed and while the stranger approached Vasiliy began to feel ill, feeling nauseous, chest pains and a strong pressure between his temples. The man walked up to the front of the bed, strangely Vasiliy felt no fear. The strange man appeared to be about 50 to 60 years of age, bald headed, quite common in appearance. The stranger then began to speak. His words came directly into Vasiliy's head (evidently he used telepathy). The visitor said that humanity is headed towards its destruction and that "process" could not be stopped. To avoid destruction humans have to change their moral values, and become closer to the "Higher Mind". Next the "man" told Vasiliy that in 1990 15 extraterrestrials had descended on earth (most probably incarnated replacing the souls of high-ranking or positioned earthlings, mainly politicians, probably 15 in Russia and an undisclosed number in other countries). At first those aliens privatized huge and important industrial plants on the Russian territory and issued Constitutional laws that led to the destruction of Russia. They also invented mortal diseases, and promoted the spreading of narcotics and alcohol. And most importantly began corrupting earthlings (especially Russians) in all possible ways. The alien then continued on saying that in 2009 a senseless war would occur and hundreds of thousands would die in Europe. The Earth would be polluted and scorched in the ensuing wars. Humans will began fighting for the scarce food available and special police squadrons would eliminate millions, bringing humanity into deathly agony. Those 15 (or so) aliens would then return to their planet, disgusted with the ambitious and corrupted earthlings. After saying that the alien stood back and vanished and gradually Vasiliy's pain and discomfort vanished, he got up from his bed and checked the door, which was still locked.

Modesto Gonzales, 60, Jose Venticola, 53 and his wife Ana Maria Quipildor, 48 reported the appearance of the enormous creature on Monday to the Rosario de Lerma sheriff's office and requested protection due to the terror inspired by their sighting of this beast. "We were baking bread when my wife saw the head of this veritable monster emerging from between the holes in the wall of a brick shack" said Venticola, who added, "I was paralyzed. It had a snake's head, but hairy, with red eyes and a piercing gaze." Firefighters combed the area but found nothing. "I told my husband and Modesto, who was chopping wood, to kill it. It was a huge snake," said the woman. "They were going to cut off its head, which was the size of a hog, with their machetes, but it went back in when it saw them approach. I've never seen anything so strange. What I do know is that it isn't a "lampalagua" (a 3 meter long river snake of northern Argentina) because I know what those are. I'd never come across a hairy reptile." Moreover, Martin Corbalan of the Rosario de Lerma sheriff's office stated that they would continue searching for the reptile to insure the protection of the locals and the witnesses.

Porra's description aptly fit the physical appearance of the supernatural being that has the ability to transform itself into different forms while devouring a prey. He claimed that he and his younger brother were sleeping in as mall makeshift hut near their rice field on the above evening, guarding their farm ducks, when the incident occurred. The boy's parents were sleeping in their house just a few meters away from the rice field. Tata reported that the big black dog was about three feet high and was about to bite the neck of his younger brother when he saw it. When he saw the creature he grabbed his single shot rifle and shot at the creature. The creature then fled and was lost in the dark. Prior to the alleged attack, Tata said he heard a squeaking sound outside the makeshift hut. Michael was hit on his right leg when Tata fired the shot at the aswang. He was immediately brought to the South Cotabato Provincial Hospital for medical treatment.

They were perfectly ordered in equal distance from each other for the entire time. They were maybe the size of Lear Jets or maybe a 747 (!) and were at a 45 to 50 degree angle above the horizon. They flew perfectly south, away from the church, not gaining or losing altitude. He saw them for a total of 10 to 15 seconds. The bottom of the craft was somewhat illuminated from the three flame-like symmetrical appendages on the bottom and he described what appeared to be "ribs" running across the bottom of the object. As it passed directly overhead, he was exposed to something which seemed to reverberate through his body. He stated that he felt many sensations all at once, but no description could be found for what he actually felt. The object also made a pulsating/drumming like noise which also passed throughout his body. The object passed him and suddenly turned west and moved behind nearby hills. The main witness watched astonished as he thought that it looked exactly like a miniature pterodactyl. It had a wingspan of about 4 ft. It was gray in color and it did not appear to have any feathers. The wings were an odd shape and flapped much differently than any kind of bird he had ever seen flying, they looked fleshy, like bat wings. It flew very gracefully flapping its wings very slowly, lifting them up and down in a vertical motion. It seemed to glide on the air between flaps, catching air under its folded wings on the upward motion and then gliding on the air by pushing it out from beneath its wings and extending them to straighten them out on the downward motion. It had a long skinny pointed tail extended straight behind and it had a sort of diamond shape at the tip. It also had a long neck extended out in front of it as it flew. Unfortunately he did not get a good look at its head. The creature proceeded to land on a tree nearby, maybe about 100 ft away. The landing motions it made very much resembled the way a modern plane lands today, having its nose up and the wheels hit the ground first while the wings glide on the air. Around 2100 on November 1 the witness was in bed watching television. Directly above her bed are three windows with 12 by 12 glass panels. The television was to the left of her bed. Suddenly her attention was drawn to the floor approximately four feet from the desk her television was on. What she saw was a beam moving very quickly in small circles in one concentrated spot on the floor. The circle motions it made were not perfect, they were more like "wobbly circles". The beam was solid, pure solid light and approximately an inch wide...it was fairly thin. The color was pure white with somewhat of a bluish tinge around the outside of the beam. The beam itself was bright, but did not seem to emit any light beyond its edges. She was able to watch it for about 5 seconds before she left her room in a state of total panic. She looked outside to see any evidence of a craft and there was none. There were no aircraft of any kind besides high-flying commercial planes. When she checked the area later, there was no evidence whatsoever of the beam having ever touched the floor. On the above date, the main witness was this time with her younger brother when suddenly a pitch black figure, which appeared to be two dimensional, in a very humanoid form quickly passed across a window and wall which were directly in front of where they were sitting, about 12 feet away. The figure had no discernable features in its face, no clothing, no hair. Just a round head and human like torso were all they were able to make out. It was impossible to make a height estimate. Local Ufologist Yuriy Moskalyev and a group of other curiosity seekers were visiting a local ancient monument called "Kamennaya Mogila" or the "Stone Grave" which is considered to be one of the most important energy centers or Chakras on Earth, and an important locale for ancient possibly proto-Sumerian civilizations with many stone formations and hills scattered over the area. Before the main encounter the group had noticed several small flying globe-shaped objects circling around. Moskalyev felt a strange sensation in his body, which he could pinpoint as to the cause, and felt that some sort of "contact" was imminent. The night of November 18 to the 19th he saw powerful blue lights in the sky over the area; he saw fast moving and flashing saucer-shaped objects flying over the camp. He was confused and could not comprehend what was occurring, and could not overcome a feeling of fear that lasted until about midnight but suddenly went away around 0200A. At that he calmly walked out of his tent and was surprised to see six humanoid figures standing around him. The figures emanated light. They were of the same height as he was, their faces outlined quite distinctly. The clothes which the humanoids wore resembled long loose-fitting coveralls. He then told them that he desired contact and he was provided with a "code" which enabled him to enter into telepathic communication with the visitors. During the contact he saw bright images. They told him that on the morning of November 24 2004 he had to return to the same location for additional "work". Before leaving and as he turned around he felt a "wave" or breeze in the back of his head, which was probably one of the entities touching or feeling him. Strange events continued when he returned to camp. At the time there was great agitation dealing with events occurring in the country (the so-called Orange Revolution). Suddenly the tableware (dishes and such) began to vibrate, as if a heavy train had just driven by. All those present felt as if someone or something was trying to attract their attention. Thinking that it was another step in their "contact" several walked around and saw a huge hemispherical-shaped object hovering above them, they felt enveloped by the "hemisphere". The aliens then entered into telepathic contact with the group and showed them a series of symbols which represented the "Cosmic Alphabet" and then those present began to ask questions. The most important question was, "how to help their country" the aliens then showed them an image of two human palms connected on the fingers by two rings, apparently meaning "union". Then the group saw several images in their minds, including the image of Kiev and various "energetic" streams projected from India and other locations.

Comments: Besides the ancient ruins located in the area, the location is also known as the "Suppert anomalous Zone" which supposedly possesses a very ancient underground facility built by a very developed ancient race that existed on Earth, a product of alien civilizations. The facility includes a base with tunnels, chambers, etc. The area is known to have numerous caves and some people have reportedly disappeared without a trace within those caves. Reportedly this center was used by the "Lemurian" civilization as a training and information center. Other sources state that the base only exists in another dimensional, which can only be accessed via a portal or gate between dimensions. Researcher Anton Anfalov suspects that there are indeed ancient underground alien structures connected by long tunnels with subsurface towns under the nearby Sea of Azov and also with the rumored ancient base under the Island of Hortitsa in the city of Zaporozhye on the River Dnepr.

Kris and Ed Sherwood were out walking their family dog, a few blocks from their apartment when approximately half way down the street as the dog stopped to sniff; Ed looked up and between two buildings immediately noticed something very strange in the sky, flying slowly towards them. At first he considered a helicopter high above the city and perhaps one to two miles away. It was solid looking, bulky, and dark gray to black in appearance. However, the more he watched it the closer it came, and the nearer it came the more anomalous it looked. He quickly realized that the "UFO" was much smaller and much closer than originally thought, and it wasn't a helicopter. Instead, it was about a third of a mile away, made no discernable sound, was about the size of a very large man, and looked oddly "humanoid". The witness first considered a tethered balloon, or a released inflatable "parade character" but it didn't actually look or behave like either. After about 10 seconds he drew Kris's attention to it and they both observed it together for several more. Knowing that he was only a block and a half from their apartment, and observing how slowly the "object" was moving he decided to run back to retrieve their H18 video camera. However the object immediately stopped and began to head away from their position in a north westerly direction. Determined not to lose the opportunity he ran and obtained the camera. Finally he was able to film the "humanoid" as it slowly approached a cross street about 350 feet away. Curiously as it approached the cross street, and flew over it, the UFO seemed to form a cross almost in the sky. It was the only time during the entire sighting that he saw it do this. Seconds later what had looked like outstretched arms, or appendages of some kind were now down in a half resting position. The figure remained in this configuration with some subtle movements for the remainder of the sighting. The figure eventually disappeared behind some buildings.

The witness was traveling on a public bus with his father and as the car drove onto the San Antonio Bridge over the Orizaba River he looked out the window to see a very short figure about 1.20m in height, very thin and with gray skin, it wore a tight-fitting black coverall and had a face with huge black eyes, lacking eyebrows, that seemed to be crouching down and drinking water from the river with its right hand. The witness was surprised upon seeing the strange humanoid and felt that the humanoid felt he was being watched, since it immediately turned its head and looked straight at the witness. The witness closed his eyes but could still see the humanoid's face for a few seconds later. The passenger sitting next to the witness also saw the humanoid. But later at the bus terminal the witness asked him about what they had seen, but the other witness seemed to have forgotten the episode, and could barely remember that he had seen something anomalous in nature.

The witness had been sleeping for a couple of hours when he woke up to the sounds of his dog growling who was sitting at the end of his bed. Then he felt that he was being watched, like someone was standing beside the bed, as I opened his eyes he could see that someone was standing in the middle of the bedroom in the direction where his dog was looking. Thinking someone had broken in; he quickly jumped out of bed and came face to face with a strange man. He had spiky black hair, with a bony looking face, and was very thin and pale. He was wearing a black leather jacket with black pants. He was a bit shorter than the witness. According to the witness the intruder looked very solid and human-like, so naturally the witness assumed that the stranger had broken into the house. They stared at each other for about 15 seconds. There was no emotion in his face. The witness was a bit in shock so at first he didn't say anything to him, when he finally snapped to reality and was about to ask him what he was doing in his bedroom, the stranger vanished right before his eyes. The next thing he remembered was opening his eyes and lying back down on his bed. He remembered thinking that it was very cold in the room. He shivered and thought that it might have been a dream. He checked around the house to see if anyone had really broken in but couldn't find anything out of place. When Saturday came around the witness had the feeling that he might see the intruder again, but somehow found a way to fall asleep that night. Around 1 or 2 he was woken up by the sound of his dog barking at something in the room again. The witness became more alert this time and his whole body tensed up, with a uneasy feeling in his stomach he lifted his head and saw the same stranger this time walking into the bedroom's doorway disappearing just before he entered the doorway. The witness again checked the house for a possibly break in but everything was in order and the front door was locked. On Sunday the witness arrived home to find his dog acting strangely. He walked to his room and again saw the stranger this time actually standing in the room with his back to the witness and facing out the window. The witness attempted to sneak up on the stranger in order to grab him but the figure suddenly seemed to fade away and disappeared.

The witness, employed in a security contract in the northern capital region was working the midnight shift and was sitting in his vehicle when he noticed a very tall being of about 6-5 to 7-5 ft. The being was very thin, grayish to dark in appearance with large glowing eyes and a larger than normal head. The eyes looked as if they were small lights. The being had long arms and folded them up across its body and simply stood still in the shadows. It gave the impression that it could stand still and nobody would see it. It stayed in the shadows and moved quietly apparently floating just above the ground. It was about 30-40 ft away from the witness. Suddenly the being turned and vanished into thin air.

Three men were "hanging" out around an old abandoned railroad station and on their way back to the road they noticed an extremely bright "star" hovering in the horizon for about a minute, which then began to move somewhat erratically towards them, it got close and then veered away. The men followed the light down the road and then watched in amazement as it landed in the middle of the trees a few "miles" away. The main witness attempted to convince the other two men to go investigate the "landing" site but the men refuse to go. They kept watching to see if anything else would happen. As they stood watching a bizarre sound came from the area where the ship appeared to have landed. The sound was very difficult to describe, the closest they could compare it with was a totally alien scrambled digital code. The noise was loud enough for the men to hear it from a mile or so away, yet quiet enough that no one inside their houses would notice. The men quickly ran into the house armed themselves with bats and knives and this time decided to get closer in order to "investigate". As they walked down the road in order to obtain a better view of it they suddenly heard a very weird sound in the forested area directly next to them. It sounded like a hydraulic pump, opening and closing at high speed, it appeared to be moving randomly in different places in the forest, making noises. Again the men became frightened and ran home. The men then watched from near their homes what appeared to be unusual air traffic, including helicopters and jet aircraft, which appeared to be circling the area. Later one of the witness saw a craft described as very dark, long, cylinder shaped with an assortment of light on the side, on the back there were giant fins jutting out, and on the front of the craft was what looked like a giant ball of light, or maybe a searchlight. Besides the anomalous noises already described the UFO did not make any other type of noise.

The witness felt "telluric" and magnetic anomalies emanating from the object. He approached the site to see small humanoids (not described) enter the craft. He then heard a loud humming sound and felt a strong odor and a strange taste in his mouth. The craft then lifted up and disappeared into the sky at very high speed. Apparently the witness has had other previous encounters in the area. He could only say that the humanoids were short but could not give additional details since the humanoids did not want him to. According to him they were here on a

The two witnesses were driving across country from Missouri and as they drove over a hill on I-70 they saw 2 lights in the sky. They were both immediately drawn to the lights and they assumed it was just a plane. One of the witnesses commented on the size of the plane considering how far apart the lights were. They kept watching and realized that it was not moving. One of them said that it must be an aircraft beacon tower but as they kept driving they realized that it was directly above the highway and it was not moving. All they saw was two lights until they were directly in front of it and noticed that it was a very flat cylindrical-shaped object sort of gray in color. They were both mesmerized by the object and everything seemed to stand still. It had previously been very windy but as they were underneath the craft the wind suddenly stopped, there didn't seem to be any weather or temperature. Neither of them was paying attention to driving and just stared upward at the craft. In the middle of the craft there was a dome and inside a flashing red light in the center. At this point their memories became confused and their next memory was of being a few miles away. At this point they noticed that there were a lot of lights in the sky and they could still see the UFO behind them. The new lights turned out to be a swarm of Army helicopters that were all formed together throughout the sky and were headed towards the UFO. They watched the UFO sit there for a second and then suddenly shoot up straight into the sky, it shot back and forth as if toying with the helicopters. The men then pulled over and got a hotel room after the UFO left. An hour later they saw Apache helicopters in the sky in the place where the UFO had been. They also noticed numerous police cruisers zooming up and down the highway that night. One of the men found what appeared to be a bruise on his face and both felt nauseous and experienced terrible migraines. One of the men could not sleep for three nights straight after the incident. That same night both men also reported hearing very "unnatural things" in the air all night, sounds that they had never heard before and could not explain. Five witnesses were at a meeting point waiting to be picked up in order to deliver ad circulars in another location. They were waiting by a man-made lagoon made for the local residents when they observed a green, basketball-size globe, rising out of the water about 50 yards from the group. Then as it rose up, a small, about 3 ft tall being or figure arose behind (under) it, it was too dark to make out any features. It took about three steps on top of the water then the globe started to glow brightly white and then shot straight into the sky and disappeared. The short figure had also apparently vanished. Strange and bizarre occurrences are still being reported this day and age and 2005 is become more and more interesting by the month. Who knows what the future holds, sometimes I wonder if it is all worth it, keeping track of these bizarre events and putting them into chronological order. I just hope it makes some interesting reading at least.

Location. Poland, exact location unknown yet
Date: 2005
Time: unknown
The witness was driving on state road 19 when he noticed 3 large strange figures several dozen meters ahead. According to him the entities were "bipedal animals" which were swinging their arms and took off in a run apparently bewildered by the human's presence. The witness claimed that they had been standing on the side of the road and when the car approached they quickly turned left toward a nearby wood located about 10 meters away. Due to the fog that enveloped the area the witness wasn't able to describe the beings stating that, "Surely they weren't any wild animals or humans, what can explain their stride and size".

Since early January numerous residents of this community in Cordoba have reported the presence of a bizarre creature they call a "lobizon" (wolfman). The intruder has attempted to enter local residents while at the same time emitting blood curling howls. It generally targets homes where there are no men around; it attempts to enter the home through the rear open patio area. Thankfully so far he has no been able to gain access to any of the residences where women and children have been alone there to confront him. Several women have described the entity as very tall, hairy, thin, and very agile, with blood shot eyes and wearing all black clothing. Police has failed to locate the mysterious intruder.

It seemed to move around and appear in different places. At one point the figure apparently approached the vehicle and appeared outside from below one of the windows. Surprised the man stepped out of the car to investigate what was happening, suddenly he heard noises on the nearby grass and afraid he went back inside the vehicle. The noise seemed to originate from different locations at the same time, but before exiting the vehicle they had not heard any noises. He backed his vehicle away from the road and could still see the shadowy figure, that appeared to be of medium height and shapeless that moved around at very high speed. The headlights of the vehicle did not bring out any details on the figure. Since it had been a cold night the car windows had been covered in a fine mist. Once at home the two witnesses were stunned to see the images of two hands outlined in a perfect circle on the front windshield, the marks appeared to be totally dry and they could only see the fingers and half of the hand.

In this area that borders Nepal, tourists returning from Nepal are talking about a possible UFO crash in that country. The rumor is also rampant in Katmandu, capital of Nepal and other Nepali cities. The crash site is in the deep Himalayan border of Nepal and China. According to sources, the crash site may be close to Mount Everest and is totally inaccessible from either side. The rumor is that the Chinese military is actively looking for the crash site. It is also rumored that the extra-terrestrials were not allowing anyone to get close to the site. Unusual activities and some tremors were felt all over the Himalayan regions from both the Indian and Nepalese side. Also UFO activities have gone up sharply in recent days in that area, possibly related to the supposed crash. It is possible that the crash was nothing more but a Chinese spacecraft. China has some secret military projects in that area. This time of year the weather is so inclement that is almost impossible to reach the area, everything is frozen over. The Nepalese military is busy fighting Maoists who are creating insurgency problems in that part of the world. According to some, it is possible that underground UFO bases in the region were damaged by the recent tremor and strange aftershocks are still being felt since the huge 9.0 Richter scale quake in Sumatra, which caused the huge Tsunami.

The anonymous witness has reported strange beams of light appearing around his ranch and finding mutilated cattle and finding strange crop formations in the fields. Others in the area have reported seeing strange objects in the sky and in their fields. The witness has been able to see several small humanoids about 3 to 4 ft tall with large heads and huge black eyes in his fields. One time he was sitting in his porch when a purplish glow appeared on one of the nearby fields, he grabbed his shotgun and went to investigate. In the field the witness was stunned to see what appeared to have been a cow mutilation in progress. He saw several short humanoids insert some type of device into the cow's mouth, which apparently made the cow numb and pain-free. The humanoids then sliced off half of the cow's face and its genitals and placed them in some kind of shiny orb-like container. They then cut off the cow's eyes and the ears and then proceeded in removing the cow's internal organs. This activity took only about 2 to 5 minutes and it was quick and very precise. A couple of days after the incident the witness saw a formation of disc-shaped objects flying over his ranch.

A Mr. Ramos woke up to the sounds of his dog barking and his goat wailing furiously. He ran out to see what was wrong and was able to observe "something" like a shadow, leave the area flying. He was not able to see any details on the creature. He checked around his yard and found a dead rabbit still inside the cage but it appeared to have been skinned, another rabbit was outside, ripped opened and missing its entrails. The goat that was tied up about 20ft from the rabbit cage was still alive but had a twisted neck and two holes on the right side of the throat. The rabbit cage door appeared to have been pulled from its hinges. Ramos disposed of the rabbit carcasses but kept the goat since it was still alive. On the February 5 he woke up to feed the animals and noticed that two of the rabbits were missing. He searched around the yard and found the rabbits dead and mutilated about 45 ft away from the cages. He also disposed of these two rabbits. Blood tests proved negative, nothing anomalous was found.

The witness, K, was driving home from work that night. She came off the Valley Freeway and started up Petrovitsky Road, passing Valley General Hospital at 2335. She drove on listening to the radio. About an eighth of a mile west of the intersection of Southeast 176th---and 151st Southeast she approached the crest of a small hill. Just before she reached it a dark-colored sports car with two vertical headlights and a loud engine passed her and roared on ahead through the intersection. She came to the crest of the hill and saw a UFO. It was a horizontal ring of red and blue lights, flashing from left to right in an apparent sequence. It was about 75 to 100 ft in diameter and hovered above a grove of trees at the Southeast corner of the intersection. Curious, she slowed down and drove on for about 30seconds, looking at the lights. When she reached the intersection, she turned left onto 151st putting the UFO behind her. She then drove a short way 151st and turned left into the parking lot of her apartment building. She parked her car and looked toward the UFO. It was not there. She then looked to the left and saw another UFO. It was a cluster of red and blue lights, about 25ft in diameter. It hovered about 100 to 150 feet of the ground, across the street about 200 feet from her car. She thought, "If it moves or drops, I'm getting out of here." Then it began to move dropping in a falling leaf motion to an altitude of about 20 to 50 ft. It stopped and started coming toward her. Frightened she got out of the car for her front door. She noticed her headlights were still on, got back in the car, closed the door and turned off the lights. Consciously, she only remembers that after turning off the headlights, she left the car and ran for her front door 75 feet away. When she reached it, the UFO was gone. Later in a series of hypnosis sessions, she revealed that as she sat in the car it suddenly was filled with a bright white light. The next thing she knew, she was standing in a dome-like room, about 15 ft wide, with white, very smooth floors, walls and ceilings. An arched doorway was in front of her. A desk-sized white box with "zillions" of colored lights on a dark field was in front of her. A long white table perched on a single pedestal was behind her. She stood there, calm, but kind of "bewildered" and absently reached to unbutton the collar of her dress. The next thing she knew, the garment was at her feet. Two beings came through the door. They were about 4 ft 8 inches to 5 ft tall with thin upper bodies, long, sloping shoulders and arms that hung to about their knees. They seemed unable to straighten their arms completely, she said. They had four, very long fingers. Their heads were shaped rather like a light bulb and they had large, wide open eyes. Their noses were very small, just a ridge, they had slits for mouths and small holes with a slight skin flap for ears. Their skin was gray-white and very cool. They were dressed from neck to toe in blue-gray metallic fabric. On the upper left chest of their uniforms they had an insignia, an isosceles triangle inside a white circle. They took her by the upper arms and guided her to the table. She wasn't frightened as the aliens gently pushed her down on the table. She sensed a third person in the room. He was like the other two, but wore a red orange uniform with a black stripe around the neckline. He put a silver mallet-like object to his eyes and then placed the other end on her abdomen. He moved it around a bit and then left. He came back a short time later and the three beings stood around the table. "What is the purpose of this?" she thought. "You are progressing physically and mentally as planned and are very receptive to us," they responded by telepathy. They added that they were pleased with what her father had taught her and then told her she must go. “I didn’t want to go,” she said, “But they assisted me off the table. I put my dress on, they said, “You will see us again” and the next thing she knew she was back in her car.

Robert Kinion, a civilian contractor stationed in the area was driving through a heavily wooded and hilly area and had arrived at a location about 2 miles before a local restaurant called “The Planet” when he witnessed what he described as a “hairy humanoid” coming down a fairly steep slope and then cross the road in front of the vehicle going from his right side to his left side. The creature was only about 5’6”, slender with reddish colored hair, heavily matted in places. The hair around the head was longer than the rest of the body. It had heavy matting around its buttocks and also some long hair and matting around the front section as well. The sex was hard to determine as the sighting did not last long and the witness was almost in shock. He only saw a profile of the face but it was fairly flat and very dark. He saw the hands but did not get a good look at the feet as it went in front of the vehicle and then across the road and down a slope into a valley. The hands were also very dark.

The witness was cooking in her kitchen when she heard the dog barking at the front door. She looked out the peep hole and it was black. She said, “Take your finger off the hole so I can see you” Then the light was there and she saw the image of a body. It was gray and blurry, somewhat small like that of a 10-year old normal size person. No features, no hair, could be seen, just a gray body like figure. She shouted, “Tell me who you are,” and received no answer. Afraid the witness called maintenance and her husband. The witness is convinced that it was some type of anomalous figure or alien.

The witness had retired to bed at 2230 and woke up through the night to an orangey flashing light. She looked at the clock and saw that it was 0020A; she got up and walked outside and right above the treetops inside a cloud it looked like orange lights rotating really low and huge. She was totally stunned and could hear a droning noise like continuous crickets. She stood there for what seemed like only a few seconds in disbelief, then she ran inside for her video camera loaded the film and went back outside and aimed. By this time it had moved over the east horizon into the distance and was no more than a few inches long. She was filming between the trees and could see nothing through her viewfinder but kept filming until it disappeared. When she came back inside the clock was at 0420A. She went back to bed and awoke at 0745A but the clock had stopped at 0420A. She felt tired and dazed and ached all over and had symptoms like she had a cold which continued all day, she could think straight, was confused and bothered, she knew something had happened but didn't know what. Whilst taking a shower she noticed a small scar on her waist, which was flaky and looked like a burn scar. She reported to the investigator that whilst out with friends she became very vague and distant from the conversation and unconsciously started to draw strange symbols, her friends made a comment, "are you alright, what's wrong, you look like your off with the fairies." She went home early and went to bed, the next morning she awoke with a nose bleed in her left nostril. When she checked her video recording from the Monday night experience the tape was blank. She was very distressed.

Numerous local residents have reported to the police encountering or seeing a peculiar character, dubbed the "Crazy man of the roofs". He is said to jump from roof to roof using uncanny acrobatic ability. Witnesses describe him as over 2 meters in height, wearing all black, with cape and carrying some type of walking stick or "cane". His eyes are said to glow red when he is confronted by witnesses. Some describe him as some sort of "cat-man", who they could only see in silhouette and conceals his face, but when his face is seen his eyes are said to be glowing red. He is said to have first appeared in the suburb of Centenario near a local football stadium and then in the suburbs of El Arenal, San Lorenzo, Chalet and Santa Rosa de Lima. A resident from the El Arenal sector reported that he fired 17 times at the mysterious stranger who seemed totally immune to the bullets. It seemed to provoke or goad the witness by howling like an animal or cry like a baby, jumping from roof to roof like a cat. Many of the locals have armed themselves with clubs and knives. Most of the witnesses describe the intruder as a character out of the "Comic books", very tall, who is able to leap across streets in a single bound and climb up steep, smooth walls up to 7 meters in height. A resident of the city claims she saw the man and it then vanished into thin air. Another woman claims she saw the man point a finger at her, causing her total paralysis.

After arguing with her boyfriend and after he angrily left the house the witness saw flashing blue lights outside of her house. She then walked into the living room and saw one large creature about 7 to 8 ft tall and three smaller creatures about 5 ft tall. All of the creatures had very large heads that she described as "rocky". The tall creature was wearing a jump type suit and had a "jellyfish" type textured skin. She said that the creatures were humanoid-like (two eyes, two ears, bipedal etc, etc). She wasn't too alarmed at first because she couldn't believe her eyes and thought her two older boys (aged 19 and 21) were playing a joke on her. (Her boys were not living with her.) However, she soon realized that these were not "ordinary" people as they seemed to be blending in with the wall paneling and could actually walk through walls. Two other people were in the house at the time. (Her sister in law was sleeping on one of the couches in the living room and her 10-year old son was sleeping on the other couch in the living room.) Neither was awakened by the intrusion. She attempted several times to awaken her sister-in-law to no avail. The tall creature shot at her with a device that would shoot a liquid substance, but would solidify upon contact. She was not injured by this. The creatures were there for nearly two hours, but took no other hostile action. She has since been terrified by the experience and is undergoing treatment by a psychiatrist due to the resulting trauma. She attempted to report the incident to the University of Arizona, but they wouldn't return her phone calls. She has not told her psychiatrist details about the incident. Her boyfriend is also somewhat traumatized but does not recall any details after he left the house that morning. She said that one of the trees in the front yard had sustained some damage. She noticed this right after the incident.

Residents of a few towns on the Caspian shores in Iran and Azerbaijan say they have seen an amphibious man, he was reported to be swimming amidst huge shoals of fish. Rumor has it that the waters where he swam were becoming sparkling clear. Recently eyewitnesses onboard the Azeri trawler, “Baku” reported seeing the creature. According to Gafar Gasanof the captain of the trawler, the creature was swimming in a parallel course near the boat for a long time. At first they thought it was a large fish, but then they spotted hair on its head and his fins looked very unusual. And incredibly the front part of his body was equipped with arms. Shortly after this report was published in an Iranian newspaper, numerous readers came forward describing their own sightings. The readers pointed out that numerous fishermen had repeatedly seen the strange creature at sea and on the shore after seabed volcanoes in the area of Babolsera became active in February and offshore oil production operations intensified in the Caspian. All the eyewitness accounts provide a similar description of the marine humanoid. His height is about 165cm to 168cm, it has a protruding stomach, his feet are pinniped and he has four webbed fingers on either of his hands. His skin is pale white in color. The hair on his head looks black and green. His arms and legs are shorter and heavier than those of a medium-build person. Apart from his fingernails, he has nails growing on the tip of his aquiline nose that resembles a dolphin’s beak. There is no information as to his ears. His eyes are large and orbicular. The mouth of the creature is fairly large, his upper jaw is protruding and his lower lip flows smoothly into the neck, his chin is missing. Iranians have dubbed the creature, “Runan-shah” or “Master of the seas and rivers”. Other stories report that the waters remain crystal clear for days in the area where the creature has been spotted. Fishermen report that the fish that are caught in their nets seem to sense the creature when it approaches and produce a barely audible gurgling sound. It is said that the creature answers the call of the catch by making similar throaty sounds. According to a theory the creature is not alone and that there is a family of underwater humans, who are on a mission to tackle environmental problems in the Caspian. The reproduction of flora and fauna in the Caspian has significantly deteriorated due to a surge in offshore oil production operations and underwater volcanic activity. The Astrakhan fishermen have long complained about the decrease in the stock of sturgeon.

A local man, Arkady G. was returning home from his job. The weather was good with crisp and clear skies. Suddenly a strong wind began blowing; the weather began to change suddenly as if a thunderstorm was approaching. Arkady expected heavy rain to fall. Suddenly a bright beam of light blinded him, still thinking that it was a swift change of the spring weather he looked up to the sky and to his surprise he saw 5 or 6 bright wide beams of light. The beams of light didn't appear to be from the Sun, as it was totally absent from the sky. Arkady stopped and began to look at the sky attentively. Suddenly the wind became calmer and the clouds moved away and at this point he saw a strange object hovering beyond the clouds. Thinking he was seeing things he attempted to walk away but he turned around and the object was still there. It was a metallic circular craft with distinct contours. Arkady found it difficult to estimate the object's size since the distance was hard to measure. His feelings were strange and unexplainable, but he felt no fear. He could not say how long he remained there just looking at the UFO which began to descend and then hovered silently some distance from the ground. Soon a large beam of light descended from the center of the object, the beam was bright but bearable to look at. Then he saw several moving shadows or figures inside of the beam, but could not see any specific details. The beam then suddenly vanished and the UFO began to slowly ascend upward. Arkady kept looking at the UFO until it became a small dot in the dark sky. When he returned home he realized that he had been apparently watching the UFO for more than an hour, he could not remember anything else.

The witness was standing out on the steps of his house smoking a cigarette when he suddenly had the impulse to look up in the sky. Recently he had read about reports of people who had seen a UFO and decided to attempt telepathic contact. He looked up and saw what he thought was a UFO and was able to make telepathic contact. He asked if they were there and they said, "Yes". Recently he had been having horrible nightmares and decided to ask them if they were the cause and they said yes. He asked them why they had been giving him the nightmares. The reason they gave him was that he meant something special to them. He then asked them to please stop scaring him that he was deathly afraid of them. They said that they couldn't stop because he was not born here, on earth they meant (!). The witness asked what did they mean and they answered that they had created him and that he was one of their experiments. He then asked them if they were going to take them again and they said yes. The witness then told them to try "not to scare him to much". To which they replied "we will try". That same night they came for him and the witness was able to remember everything. He remembered the aliens coming through his bedroom door which was closed. He looked at his watch and it said 0330A. He screamed and started to cry. He described the beings as about 3 or 4 ft tall, with slit for mouths, egg-shaped large heads, with large almond shaped eyes with pupils that resembled those of a cat. They were very thin and had very long fingers, which he counted five on each hand. There were a total of four humanoids. They told him not to be afraid. But the witness was becoming hysterical and was telling the humanoids to go away, while he screamed uncontrollably. They then stared at him and he began to calm down a bit but was still crying. Still sobbing, they led him into what appeared to be a small scout vessel shaped like a croissant, which had a large ramp about 10 ft long and 20 ft wide. He estimated the "scout ship" to have been about 20 to 27 ft long and about 13 to 18 ft high. They led him by the hand and as soon as he was inside he was strapped to a slab that looked like an uppercase "T" after that they disrobed him. All the while this was happening one of them told him that his name was Morrin. The aliens were speaking and all the witness heard was English, he thought they might have been using telepathy, but he still heard sounds coming out of their “mouths”. The sounds were a mixture of grunts, shrieks, groans and one to scary to make out. Then when the ship docked with the mother ship he was rolled or felt like he was being rolled to their medical center, all the while he was still crying. Morrin told him that he was an experiment meant to advance their breeding program and that they had tried to adapt their hybrids to feel emotions but so far they had failed and that they just needed some insight into what they called human interaction and emotions. The witness then asked why he and they replied that they were still trying to find out. He then decided to tell them that if he was their “creation” how could they not know and they said that they were just “working for them and they were not told anything”. The witness then asked who were “they”, the humanoids then pointed to their left and when he looked, he saw what looked like a “Nordic” type being but it was much too thin and it had blood red colored hair. They then proceeded to take blood and sperm samples. After about four hours of mental interrogation as the witness felt being treated like a test subject he was returned home. He asked them to please never come back for him and they said “no”.

Night sure what aroused her she just lay there wondering what had woken her up, her room was illuminated by a white light, very bright, like a fluorescent light streaming into the window. She thought that it must have been a full moon so she decided to go to the bathroom. On return approaching her side of the bed---which is closest to the window she became glued to the spot, because she was looking out the window to see where the lights where coming from. On a vacant block of land she saw a UFO about the size of a normal house. It was making a humming sound, just idling. She is not sure if it was actually on the ground, but the lights around its center were white with a blush of pink and very pretty. The lights around its center were not moving at all but stationary and the lights on the top were the same color but flashing like those of a police car. She wasn’t scared and a feeling of peace came over her, she shrugged her shoulders and went back into bed. As she lay down she felt a presence, very reassuring and loving. She could feel “their” hands on her, giving her the feeling that what she saw was “correct” and that she wasn’t dreaming. When “they” put their hands on her she promptly went back to sleep. Vyacheslav Rybachkov was driving his car during the holidays to his country cottage in the village of Olhovka to check to see if everything was in order. When he passed Sosnovo and drove onto the asphalt road located amid a dense pine forest he saw a “man” standing near the roadside. He slowed down and recognized the man as his “neighbor” Volodya (short for Vladimir). The witness pulled over, stopped and invited him onboard the car and continued his drive to Olhovka. His “neighbor” expressed his joy about not having to walk 10km and began to speak animatedly to the witness asking him about his wife and children. His questions seemed strange, he seemed to be interrogating the witness, asking him questions like, how he lived, what he ate, the state of his children’s clothing and asked the witness if he were visiting the church why didn’t he obeyed the traditional Orthodox Church rules, like fasts, etc. “Volodya” also asked the witness about his job, salary and state of health. Strangely as they approached the village, his neighbor (passenger) unexpectedly asked Vyacheslav to stop the car. Once the witness did, his “neighbor” stepped out of the car. The puzzled witness then continued his drive onto the village not bothering to look back on the rearview mirror at his neighbor. Upon reaching his house he suddenly saw his neighbor “Volodya” chopping wood in his yard. Vladimir (the real one?) spotted the witness, dropped his ax and approached the witness in order to smoke a cigarette. He made small talk asking the witness about his family and surprised the witness reminded him that he had already answered all those questions in the car earlier. Puzzled, Vladimir told the witness that he had been at home the whole day chopping firewood. The witness noticed that the “real” Vladimir smelled of alcohol, while the man he had picked up earlier had been totally clean and odorless, also the men were dressed in a different manner, and the real Vladimir never asked so many intrusive questions. So evidently he had picked up a different man, who looked exactly like his neighbor Vladimir, almost like a replica, the real Vladimir never had a twin brother. Ignat Buhushin a reporter for the local “Orenburgskaya Gazeta” told his colleagues that he was going on a meeting with “extraterrestrials” that was scheduled to occur on the night of the 13th. To his amazing claim he added that he had already encountered UFOs three times before videotaping one the night of December 13 2004. Ignat did not return to his job the next day and his worried colleagues began searching for him. They even published an advertisement in the press, asking for help in locating the “lost man”. But while the time passed nothing was heard from Ignat. Finally on April 6 a woman, Lubov Mazylo, the editor of the "Sorochinskiy Vestnik” local newspaper, called the city of Orenburg with an unexpected question, asking them if they new a man named Ignat Buhushin. She added that he was alive, healthy but suffering from amnesia. It was incredible news because the small town of Sorochinsk was 175km in distance from Orenburg. Ms. Mazylo reported that early one morning a strange man had entered her office; the young man was decently dressed, was unshaven, dazed and confused and with a worried look on his face. He refused food and only drank coffee. He told her that only today he had realized he was in the town of Sorochinsk. Soon the newspaper staff realized he was Buhushin and put him on a minibus going to Orenburg. Several hours after the bus arrived to the city, he had a second time lapse, he had briefly stepped out of the bus to smoke a cigarette and in the blink of an eye the bus was now gone, the people around told him that the bus had already departed 30minutes ago. Ignat then told his friends that it had all started when a reader from the town of Orsk told Ignat that he frequently observed UFOs in the city since 2004 near a vacant and abandoned building in the outskirts of the city. And told Ignat that the aliens would return on March 13 2005, so the curious Ignat went alone to meet the aliens, at approximately 2200 he took his photo lens camera with him and climbed the 16-story building (the building was in the process of being remodeled). There a bright flash of light blinded Ignat, he closed his eyes for a second and when he opened them he found himself standing on the railroad tracks. He only saw dirty snow around and some distance houses about 2km away. He happened to know that the town was Sorochinsk and went almost completely mad when he was told that it was already April 6. He could not explain where he had been for the last 24 days. Regressive hypnosis was recommended but the witness asked to wait, he wanted some time to rest before he did it. A man named Nicholas was sleeping when he suddenly heard a voice in his head telling him to "wake up". As he woke up he saw two beings standing around his bed. Both had large heads and huge black slanted eyes and were wearing some sort of golden aluminum suit. For some odd reason he reached his hand out and grabbed one of the figure's arms gently and comfortably. After he touched the arm he felt back into a deep sleep.

David Espada and an anonymous friend were playing with a ball while Jose Alonso Herrera was recording them with his SONY K500i cellular phone just for fun. The teenagers were joking and playing on the sidewalk outside the houses and everything was normal for them. The sidewalk was well illuminated by several street lights. Then David Espada lost control of the ball and it rolled to a nearby post. David went to pick the ball while Jose Herrera kept recording and applied the 2x zoom following David. When David tried to pick the ball suddenly from out of nowhere a strange creature appeared from behind the light post and extended a long arm grabbing David's right arm. The entity was bald with yellowish white skin and was "alien shaped". The contact lasted just a second as David reacted, jumping and shouting. And then he ran back to his friends and pointing back to the post and screaming, "Its there! See it! It grabbed me!!" The three boys were in shock after confronting the unknown creature and ran away from the place screaming in terror. According to their testimonials David Espada was so frightened by the event that he didn't want to go out at night for sometime and didn't want to go anywhere near that part of the sidewalk fearing his nightmare would repeat again.

Two witnesses driving along Highway number 35 some 30km south of Santa Rosa saw a beam or "tube of light" some 50 meters from the paved road surface. Unable to see the source of said light, they noticed that the "tube" was projected from a height of some 8 meters in the air down to the ground, without touching the surface. "It seemed suspended in mid-air". Faced with this circumstance, they slowed their vehicle, detecting that (inside the tube) it was possible to see two figures in apparent descent, one on top of the other, with their legs slightly raised. The witnesses add that the "tube" measured approximately 1 ½ meter wide, was entirely white in color, and allowed the witnesses to see that the beings wore silvery clothing, like astronaut type jumpsuits. They further noticed that the beings held their arms outstretched as though carrying some element in their hands while the rest of the arm was downward and slightly away from the body. Faced with the unexpected encounter and their subsequent feelings of fear, they chose to speed away from the sight, looking back to see that the "tube of light" remained in place as they pulled away from the area.

He said that he first noticed a strange kind of ship hovering above the BR-158. It then drew closer and landed in an adjacent field. "At this moment I thought I was going to die" Rodrigues dos Santos said, "I thought of my wife, my sons and my family." Vanderlei is not certain how long he was held aboard the ship. He said he completely lost track of time. He said he was taken to a laboratory aboard the ship, where three aliens extracted skin, hair and blood samples from him. "They were three little humanoids", he said, "All had big heads and small, spindly torsos. I wanted nothing to do with them, but they brought me along into the ship. When I clearly saw the eyes of one alien they were as dark and as blank as they eyes of a newborn." Vanderlei said that it was about 0600A on Thursday March 31 2005 when the extraterrestrials put him off the ship. He found himself back on Earth but at a service station on the Avenida Presidente Vargas in Santa Maria dozens of kilometers from the location where he had left his car. The 28-year old witness was walking on a beach; it was very dark with no lights in the area. As he sat on a hammock on the beach he spotted a tall slim male-like figure on the sand in front of the beach, on the left side of the beach there a large tall rocks and on the right rocks and caves and across the beach ranches, mountains and a freeway. He could just make out a silhouette that appeared to be floating sideways. He could tell it was floating because the legs didn’t move, nor his body in an up and down movement and because he went from one side of the beach to the other in a really short time. He saw him move from left to right and to left again, it then stopped. The witness could now see that it had moved, like if he were now facing towards him, but since it was dark he could not see any facial features or if it was standing forward or backwards, but it wasn’t sideways anymore, immediately after that the witness saw a small white light that appeared to be far away over the beach and the figure was gone.

Azerbaijani fishermen from the trawler “Baky” (Baku) were stunned to see a weird entity in the water. The entity swam for a long period of time near the trawler, parallel to it, reported Gafar Gasanov Captain of the ship to the local newspaper “Zindagi” when he arrived at the Iranian port of Enzeli. At first the crew thought that the entity was some type of unknown large fish, but soon they noticed that the entity’s head had distinct hairs on it and the front fins were not fins at all but webbed hands. They acknowledged that the entity looked more like a humanoid than any kind of known fish. They all concluded that they had never seen something like it in the waters. The amphibian entity then plunged deep into the waters and disappeared from sight. When Captain Gasanov returned to Azerbaijan people there refused to talk to him about the incident alleging that he and his crew had all been drunk. But the Iranians took the report seriously because of numerous rumors about “a man from the sea” were circulating in Iran long before this report. After publication in the local newspaper "Zindagi" local Iranian residents wrote numerous letters to the newspaper reporting their own encounters with a similar entity. The common opinion was that underwater volcanic activity in the area of Babolser and the intensification of oil extraction in the Caspian Sea has somehow caused unknown deep water dwellers to venture up to the surface. The entity is shorter than that of the average height, about 165-168cm, thickset, with a protruding belly, feet with flippers, and 4 fingered webbed hands. The skin is pale yellowish gray in color and it has stiff black-green hair. Arms and legs are slightly shorter and thicker than that of humans. Sharp nails grow on its hands and also at the tip of its hump-shaped nose, forming something like a dolphin's beak. The ears are not visible. The eyes are big and round and the mouth is quite big with a protruding upper jaw, smoothly connected to the neck, without chin, the smaller lip is similar to that of a shark's jaw. In Iran this amphibian humanoid is called "Runah-Shah" which means, "Sovereign of waters and rivers". Interestingly the fishermen have noticed that the fish seemed to react when the entity appears, like if there were some kind of distant, extra sensory communication between the entity and the fish. Other witnesses reported seeing the same or similar entity in May between the small fishing villages of Astara and Lenkoran.

She was silenced by her owners and everything was quiet. Sometime around 1-2am the witness felt "attacked" while sleeping. He saw a white entity at first in his "dream state". When he noticed that something was unusual about the entity (nothing in particular, just a feeling) the situation changed. Immediately there was a physical contact, which angered the witness. There were 3 separate entities that literally jumped on his back, trying to forcibly "get inside" of him or do something to him. He fought them off and when he turned over nothing was there. He went back to sleep, this time sleeping on his back, ready to fight again. An hour or so later he had another encounter but it was different. He felt a presence and started to wake up. Something was going down his throat. He woke up coughing and choking. He saw a probe of some kind retract through the ceiling. The probe was a white flexible "etheric" tube that wasn't solid. Gennady Rotchin, resident on the 9th floor of a multistoried apartment complex was sleeping in his room and at first thought he was dreaming when he felt his bedclothes moving. He awoke and sensed a strange "sweet" odor in the room that made him feel giddy. He half-opened his eyes and saw himself floating in the air out of his flat and moving up in the air. To his amazement he could see cars, trees, and roads below him leading into the parking lot entrance of his building. Then everything below him was suddenly covered up with something and he appeared levitating over a white floor, and then over a table that appeared to made out of plastic. The next moment the stunned witness saw numerous humanoid entities running from several directions to the room where he was. In appearance "the aliens looked as those frequently described and portrayed in the magazines", Gennady remarked. The humanoids had large heads, with huge eyes, without pupils, like those of a human embryo. Their bodies looked like the bodies of 12-year old children. All the humanoid entities were dressed in dark overalls with a metallic tint. "Or maybe that was their skin, I don't know", wrote the witness. The small alien creatures then surrounded the witness and began doing something inside his body, as he directly felt. Some of the entities were doing something on the lower portion of his belly while the others were occupied with some type of medical procedure inside the man's left side. He could feel piercing in those areas. Then the small aliens moved away from his body and walked away. The witness then again found himself levitating near the porch of his building, smoothly floating through an open window and onto his bed. At first the witness took the whole episode as a dream; however he changed his mind after discovering three scars on his body, one scar below across his body, the second was on the level of his urinary bladder, and the third was a cross-shaped one slightly lower than his left rib cage. The scars resembled healed or scabbed bed sores. These scars remained on the witness for more than a week. This strange "dream" worried the witness a lot and he even visited a hospital and asked doctors to take X-rays of his body in a possible attempt to locate implants (?). 26-year old Andrey Alexandrovich Zabava was in the company of several friends from the town of Yalta and had gathered for a picnic in an area near the Izobilnenskoye water reservoir NW of the town of Alushta. Andrey then borrowed a UAZ-469 vehicle (Russian Jeep version) to drive several km to a location that he wanted to desperately visit. He drove north and turned right passing the village of Lavanda and then left to the Southern Mt. Demerdzhi area (1239m) before the village of Luchistoye. There the Jeep got stuck in some mud and muck and was unable to go on any further. By instinct he remembered the 1994 incident in the alien base known to be in the region and walked about 4-5km towards the northeast, first climbing the western slope of Mt. Demerdzhi and then down north and then up eastward to a cave on the Demerdzhi plateau about 2-3km east of Northern Demerdzhi. As was reported by a local UFO group (Terra group) there is a camouflaged alien navigational beacon somewhere inside Northern Mt Demerdzhi. The cave that Andrey was looking for was called the “ghost cave” that is visible only if its “owners” want anyone to visit or come inside. The cave is not on any map. Andrey knew nothing about the cave but was led by instinct. He entered the cave, which looked more like a grotto, the ceiling high enough for him to walk in. Inside a strange light from an invisible source illuminated the cave quite well. He saw stalactites and stalagmites growing both on the floor and the ceiling of the cave; he then came upon a small underground lake and then stumbled upon a protective and decontaminative field resembling the surface of a mirror, similar to vertical standing water from ceiling to ground. He touched it with his hand and he felt warmth. The “screen” then changed shape and he could see the outline of a human figure probably assisting him in “passing through” the shield. In a moment he walked through and felt his body become lighter and refreshed just like after taking a shower, and it was much more easy breath as well, the air apparently much cleaner than outside. He then found himself in a strange room, like a hall of “mirrors” which constantly changed in appearance, with strange doors changing shape and forming gateways of different shapes, rectangular, triangle, oval and circular revealing visible passageways and corridors beyond them. A tall humanoid entity was standing in the middle of the room; he was about 2-2.5m in height. The alien was obviously the same one Andrey had met in 1994; he wore a gray-whitish furred tight-fitting suit. The humanoid had 5-fingered hands. This time what appeared to be a transparent dashboard (or helmet screen) covered his face, especially the area around the eyes. Andrey understood it to be a special filter to protect the aliens’ eyes from the bright sun light outside. Andrey couldn’t yet understand if this alien was a living, totally intelligent creature or just a biological robot or cybernetic organism which was used as security for the alien base. They then entered into telepathic conversation and the alien said, “So you have found the way in!” Andrey could only answer, “Hello” (or Hi_) which the alien also did. They stood in the room and communicated for several minutes and Andrey asked about the fast changing corridors or doors he had previously seen, the alien answered that those were actually passageways to the base or station located about 300 meters away. Andrey thought that there must have been another cavern gateway to the base on the northern side.

The alien reportedly told Andrey that they welcomed more visitors that it would be actually “beneficial” for them. Asked if it might hinder their activity or operations the humanoid replied, “Not at all, nobody would hinder them. We are all scientists here”. After the conversation was over Andrey left the cave the same way that he had entered, and then descended down the curved pass on the rocky slope about 4-5 km to the road and managed to drive the Jeep away from the area. According to Andrey the battery of his electronic watch had completely melted. Several days later Andrey and Dr. Anton Anfalov (source) attempted to visit the location but were not successful. Apparently Andrey was not completely trusted, he remembered that during the telepathic conversation with the alien this one said the he was also originally not trusted and was now chief of security at the base.

A girlfriend and boyfriend were looking at the moon from their hot tub. A light mist was falling and rain showers would occasionally pass over. (The moon was bright and visible between the clouds). The boyfriend first noticed a strange light over the tree tops of his yard. They both went to investigate. What followed was 90 minutes of terror. At first they saw one light. It would rapidly change shapes and colors. At times beams of light would shoot out of the light towards the witnesses. The light would then become a telescope like device and move towards the witnesses. The light temporarily disappeared only to be followed by more light (eventually three). The woman in her terror tried to call her brother on her cell phone. While making the call the lights approached her and engulfed her in light. She described that the light went right through her. The predominant shape of the lights was that of a human eye and the witness said that they “looked alive”. The colors ranged from blue to yellow and were predominantly red. Eventually the woman said that she dropped to her knees, prayed and closed her eyes for about 10 seconds. When she opened her eyes the lights were gone. She also said that the rain really poured when the lights were around. The rain abruptly stopped when the lights left. She was so upset by the experience that she didn’t sleep at all that night. Her boyfriend was also quite terrified. They were both sober during the experience. Neither had seen a UFO before. No sound was heard during the entire event and no electrical interference was noted. No lighting or thunder was noted. She notified the police, but no investigation was carried out. She reported that her boyfriend’s dog had been acting strange about an hour before the incident and was growling at something in the woods. And the witness thought that it had encountered a wild boar since it sustained some puncture marks on each side of its nose after going into the woods. However the dog slept through the entire incident.

An anonymous witness reported watching from a house in a wooded area a disc-shaped object about 24 ft in diameter which emitted an eerie purple and greenish glow as it hovered low over or within some tree limbs. The witness watched three humanoid figures moved down to the ground in an enclosed sphere of gray light. The three figures approached the screen porch where the witness was sitting. The figures were almost transparent in nature and had an orange cast that seemed to glow lighter and darker---almost as if they were communicating by using signals. They came right up to the screen and watched the witness for more than a minute. At the time the witness sensed that the entire area was enclosed in some sort of force field---almost as if the witness was in a black hole where nothing could escape or enter if not already inside. It was the oddest sensation the witness ever experienced.

A young woman named Irina B, was living in a countryside cottage and was visiting a secluded beach on the banks of the great River Dnepr. She frequented the area often and knew it well. Her favorite area was an isolated small inlet covered with sandy beaches and bushes, the area had numerous gaping holes or crevices all around, some of them quite large, and possibly artificially made by locals. On this day she was lying by the beach sunning herself, and dozing off when she suddenly awoke with the feeling that someone staring at her. She opened her eyes and was terrified to see a huge bipedal lizard-like being about 2meters in height and covered with greenish scales standing very close to her. Terrified she wasn't able to scream and waited for the worse to happen. But suddenly she heard a voice inside her head, "Don't be afraid, my rations do not include albumen (protein) I am not going to eat you". The witness was not sure if the mysterious voice spoke in Russian but she distinctly understood everything that was said; the voice seemed to have correctly anticipated her apprehension. "How is this possible?" was her only short thought, and the voice calmly answered her immediately, "Nothing unusual, simple telepathy". She sat on her towel looking at the huge lizard like being standing over her. The voice inside her head then again reacted to her thoughts and said, "You are afraid of my appearance. That can be corrected". Then in a blink of an eye she saw the most beautiful young man she had ever seen in her life. "How did you do that?" she asked in amazement, now feeling more curious than afraid, in a moment she received the answer, "Easily. You see what you want to see. I simply compel you to see what you want". So now both began communicating by using telepathically. The lizard being told an amazing story, apparently he was a 'criminal' in his planet and other species in his planet had wanted to punish him (execute him?) but he had succeeded in escaping and had been wondering all over the Galaxy for a long time, hiding from "bounty hunters" that were chasing him. For some time now one of these holes at the beach had become his shelter. But he was now tiring of hiding and wanted to be found and "executed". Apparently he had been observing her every time she had come to beach for a while now. She reminded him of his home planet where the creatures also liked the sun and the water. He just wanted to chat with her since he had been an outcast in his planet for so long. At the end of the conversation the "lizard man" told Irina that he would erase her memory, or her brain would not sustain such huge volumes of new information and would "explode". He promised that it wouldn't be painful, suddenly everything around her was encased in a bluish light, and horrified she watched the body of the lizard being dissolved into nothingness. And next she lost consciousness. She was briefly reported missing and a search was organized to find her, her parents and neighbors found her the next day on the beach. She was found lying on the sand bleeding from her nose and one ear. The doctors at the hospital were puzzled thinking that she might have had a brain hemorrhage. She was considered to be alive only by a miracle. The witness insists that she did not invent the story even though she is aware that it sounds like the ravings of a lunatic.

While driving a very reliable “Zil” truck in this remote area on his way to the village of Novolokti on a dense pine forest road, covered with low hills and mires the engine suddenly stopped. Surprised the elderly driver exited the truck and looked under the bonnet. He was even more surprised to find that the engine was perfectly fine apparently the engine had stopped for some unknown reason. At the same a crow (bird) had by now approached the man and began harassing him, at times pecking at his legs. By now very upset and disturbed the witness cursed loudly and looked up at the sky and was stunned to see a large cone-shaped object which was emitting a buzzing sound descending towards the ground very close to where the witness and his truck were located. The object hovered low over a hill for about a minute and a half, then several landing props jutted out and the UFO then slowly landed. The object’s hull was covered with numerous blinking red and white flashing lights. Not knowing how a ladder appeared on the craft and descended towards the ground then a door became visible. The witness felt mesmerized and could not stop staring at the bizarre spectacle. Soon after a small humanoid entity appeared at the door, no more than 1.20m in height, with huge black eyes, without ears, the entity’s skin was gray in color, its clothing was snow white in color and very tight-fitting on his body. Then a second entity of the same type appeared, looking exactly like the first one, the witness thought they looked like “twins”. The second alien was holding a silver-like stick in his hands, resembling a narrow silver-colored tube. The witness watched still mesmerized as the aliens performed some kind of incomprehensible activity around the craft, both pulling clumps of grass from the soil and spreading it about on the ground. This activity lasted for about an hour, the whole time the alien held the silver colored stick positioned downward. The witness is absolutely sure that both aliens saw him, while he stood amidst the dense bushes, only at about 30 meters from the craft. After finishing their bizarre task both creatures then walked back up the ladder and the door closed. The object then rose up and then emitted a piercing whistling sound and vanished into the sky. The crow now appeared again but it was now behaving normally, totally ignoring the witness. The engine of the ‘Zil” quickly started without any problems and soon the witness continued on his way to the village.

Reportedly a 12-year old boy was playing with some friends near the children's "Ecocenter" (Ecological center) in or near the large Siberian city of Omsk was abducted by a UFO. At first he encountered several humanoid figures standing next to a landed craft on a field. Unfortunately there is no description on the humanoids available. According to the story later told by the boy the humanoids compelled him to open his mouth and placed some sort of paste in his mouth, like toothpaste, explaining that this would help him "sustain the overloads during the space flight". After doing that the humanoids "deactivated him" probably paralyzing his will to resist as well as his body and then they placed him on some type of stretcher and carried him onboard the craft. During the whole time the boy was kept inside the ship, at first in some type of circular or oval room and then moved probably to an alien outpost in space. After being brought there the aliens conducted numerous experiments and biomedical tests on the boy's body, subjecting him to various procedures. After the tests and the series of extensive experiments were over, the boy was returned to the same place from where he had been abducted. Unfortunately not much more information could be obtained on this case since the aliens had apparently effectively blocked most of the boy's memory, and the few amounts of data was obtained using regressive hypnosis.

Suddenly he heard two quick, quite consecutive "thumps" as if a person hopping of a 6" step, placing their dominant foot first. About as fast as he heard the second thump his eyes were open. Normally when he wakes up he is a little "pissy" and that's exactly how he felt, except that he realized that he was staring at an orange L.E.D. style light about the size of the end of a finger. But because he had just opened his eyes he couldn't see past the light (bright, although kid of dim it didn't hurt his eyes), he quickly felt into a state of confusion. But in the split second after opening his eyes he felt that he had startled whatever was in his room (the light had been 6' from the side of his bed, the light was 2 and a half to three feet off the ground). Whatever it was it made a buzz like a bee but without a "B" and a multi tonal sound. Right after the sound is when he realized that he could not move, except for his eyes (barely). Within

After each landing locals had discovered circles of burned soil, later, incredibly the grass now seems to grow with more strength within the burned circles. During the last several years 8 cows and 2 horses have disappeared without a trace in the area. This event occurred in a very rural area of western Mercer County, in western Pennsylvania. The main witness, a 14-year old boy was visiting his friend on a farm and [as2] the two boys were taking an early morning walk through a field some distance behind the farm house. The weather was clear, sunny and hot. They had stopped momentarily to discuss their direction when the main witness noticed something stand up from the tall grass less than 25 ft from them. It was a humanoid-looking figure, 5foot 5inches tall. A dull white in color, no obvious clothing, a large head, no noticeable eyes, nose or mouth, described as gaunt and gangly looking. The main witness yelled at the second witness to look, and at that moment the humanoid began running on 2 legs toward some nearby woods. Its speed was unusually fast for a 2 legged creature. The woods were about 40 ft away, and when it reached them, it crouched down to go under a strand of barbed wire and lifted its hands to part the brush under the wire. The boys could see it attempting to hide behind some heavier brush and in doing so caused the brush to shake violently. They waited about 10 minutes, being very curious but also very afraid. They cautiously crept up to where the being had hidden, but found nothing. They searched around for a while but then began to feel very "creepy" so they went back to the house and obtained a .22 rifle and went for a further search of the woods.

While searching the area they found peculiar footprints in the area where they had seen the being. The footprints were very difficult to describe according to the witness and the source. The night following the event the main witness had a very long, strange and vivid dream about the death of a close friend of his, which disturbed him. The following day in the late afternoon on the same farm, the second witness older brother and his girlfriend were alone in the farmhouse. Both area bout 18 years of age and had been arguing when the girl walked out of the house into the backyard to calm down. She was a good distance from the house when a young deer (perhaps a fawn) walked out of the field towards her. It came so close to her that she could almost touch it. She watched the deer for about 10minutes and then went back inside the house. The argument started up again so the girl walked out of the house again and saw the young deer lying in the yard. It was badly clawed or cut, bloody and obviously dead. Terrified she ran back into the house, got her boyfriend and went back out very quickly only to find the deer was now gone. The grass in the lawn and the field was flattened as if a large animal had attacked the deer and dragged it away. There were footprints on the lawn, and the original 14year old witness seems to think they were similar to the footprints he had found at the time of his humanoid encounter.

After dinner they sat around the campfire planning their next day activities. Soon they were surprised to see a car-headlight-like light glowing behind some trees. Upon investigating the source of the light they came upon a landed cone-cylindrical shaped craft, with no visible doors or windows. The witnesses hid in the bushes and observed the scene for about 15-20 minutes when a voice from within the craft called out, they could not understand the language, but the quality of the voice was soft, metallic-like and was heard to only say a certain phrase. Both of them went outside and the “thing” was still there, floating just a few feet above the front building’s roof and Horacio’s sister reacted by saying, “What is that?” Horacio immediately began taping the “thing” with his video camera. When Horacio applied the camera’s zoom and got a closer look through the viewfinder he received a major surprise which left a profound impression on him. According to Roquet, “It looked like a human-shaped body, ‘standing vertical and just floating over the roof. I was shocked. The figure was not facing meI was looking straight at its right side. It was tall. No sound was heard and we both stood still, watching, while I continued recording.” Then the dark body started moving to the right slowly, and rose several feet in the sky and then hovered again, completely still. Horacio kept recording all the time, even though he was very nervous and was attempting to control himself. After several minutes the dark figure moved again to the left, disappearing behind the building’s roof. The sighting lasted about ten minutes. The video clearly shows that the figure was wearing a dark loose fitting outfit and had a red light around its waist.

Mohamad Amirudin, 34, stepped out of his house with his 3-year old son after hearing a commotion from the children playing outside. He glance skywards and saw a large bird-like creature flying over the area. According to the witness it looked like an ordinary bird, flapping its wings but was much larger. However, he was unable to give an estimate of its height. The bird was black in color but there was red light on its front portion. The adult folks said that it was a mythological bird but the children said that it was a ghost. After looking at the strange bird for a few minutes, the witness went indoors since it was already sunset. Several minutes later he glanced out the window and saw the children still looking at the bird.

Ruben Parrilla and three family members were visiting the rain forest on that day and around 1124A took several photos of the scenery. Later upon downloading the photos in their computer they noticed that in the area of La Coca Waterfall there is an image of a landed metallic blue pyramidal-disc shaped object on the ground, around 10ft in diameter. Next to the object they could see two entities standing. The two figures appear to be "self luminous", with humanoid features, a nose, large mouth and teeth, no ears are visible and it appeared to be winged and according to the witnesses the humanoid appears to possess mammary glands and it is obviously a hermaphrodite (!). The humanoids seem to be able to blend in with the surrounding vegetation. The witness promised to submit the photo to the source but as of December 2005 he hasn't done so. Apparently there has been new coverage of the event.

The witness (involved in other encounters) felt that something was around him and holding him back. He remembers being really angry. He remembered thinking that he wanted to go on a crusade to be the "Night slayer" and get rid of whatever it was. For 2 or 3 weeks throughout the day, he had visions of seeing some type of sophisticated beings dressed in an interesting jeweled suit. He called a friend and asked her if she knew anything about them (she didn't). He wanted to draw or pain them because he was fascinated; unfortunately "he is not an artist". He had never seen them before and he also felt connected to them in some way. Again there was no direct communication, just impressions that he received about them. The main individual was a commander or general. This individual had a jeweled skullcap that fit tightly around the "hairline". The witness could not tell by the material if it was a hard or soft helmet or what it was covering. The outfit was layered somewhat like the ancient Chinese emperors use to wear, however, the material was metallic like and also crystal jeweled. Their outfits are a type of spacesuit. A weapon was visible in its "sword case" similar to the "life saver" sword in Star Wars. This group was of a benevolent nature, but if pushed to defend themselves, they would strike with quick precision. They are identified with a pink/gold aura or a light blue or green/purple aura. The witness does not think that this group had a planet anymore and could have been lost through a battle of some sort. They travel by a spaceship throughout different galaxies.

One night after leaving his friend’s house he noticed up in the sky a star-like object high up and moving in his direction, what was peculiar was that this “star” seemed directed toward him as if he was being watched by it. He ran into his yard and hid behind the house, but when he looked up again it was again. The witness reported attaining a connection with it, which seemed like telepathy, he tried to tune it out but couldn’t. The “star” apparently communicated with him. He heard a voice in his head say, “You must not destroy yourselves, for we need your kinetic energy or we will suffer.”

On the night of 13 July 2005 a private TV channel showed a video footage taken from a CCTV camera placed on top of a tall building. The footage showed a hazy black mass of no definitive shape measuring about 3.5ft by 2.5 ft sliding or crawling swiftly on top of the roofs of several houses below. When it reached a drainage pipe of a 4-story building, it climbed upwards. The movement of this entity seemed to show that it was actually using its hands and legs to climb up the pipe. Upon reaching the top, it turned around and descended back down and then moved over the nearby roofs until it disappeared from the camera’s view. The movement of the entity suggests that it was ape-like in nature. It climbed the pipe like an ape and walked or moved across the roofs on four “legs”. Its movement however was much swifter than any monkey. The strange thing about the episode was that the view of all the buildings was well in focus and clear but the entity appears out of focus thus obscuring its true shape.

A local resident of this village located on the Great Russian River Volga, Alexander Grigorievich Zdorov awoke one night with a weird sensation of worry. When he opened his eyes he saw three humanoid entities dressed in tight-fitting silvery-metallic suits that somehow had entered his house and into his bedroom. The humanoids were short but not dwarfs, about 1.4-1.5m in height, with proportional heads, hands and legs, their hands reportedly had five fingers. In all aspects the humanoids were human-like, resembling human Asians from Middle Asia, with completely black short hair, brown eyes, slightly slanted, tanned skin, in general swarthy in appearance, with human faces lacking any specific unusual features. All three were male, athletic in built, with correct figures, which is very unusual for typical humans. The aliens approached the bed of the witness and began a telepathic communication with the witness. Unfortunately the witness does not remember most of the conversation with the humanoids. One detail he remembered, they asked Alexander to let his daughter (sister of Victor Zdorov) to visit the Crimea. The witness A.G. Zdorov as wells as his wife Valentina Konstantinovna (now deceased) had met the same aliens back in 1989. (It appears that the whole Zdorov family has been involved in numerous encounters with humanoid entities).

Samuel Delgado and four friends were pulling out roots and weeds from a field located behind the security fence of Buena Vista Airport. The sky was clear and it was a pleasant evening. Suddenly Samuel heard a strange sound, resembling one made by a dog before attacking its prey (Grrrrr) but not as loud and at the same time he perceived an odor like “rotten meat”. Whatever was making the noise was moving around in a field located on the other side of the fence. Samuel then continued working. However seconds later he again heard the sound, this time it seemed to be closer. He immediately thought it was a dog, or perhaps a horse or a cow. He heard it again and decided to look around. At first he could not see anything but suddenly he saw a long thin gray/green arm in the brush that appeared to be walking in his direction. When Samuel managed to see what it was this terrified him and he ran to get his four friends so they could be witnesses also. These other four men also saw the creature. According to Samuel the creature was about 41/2 ft in height, with long thin extremities, its arms almost reaching the knees. Its eyes were completely black and did not blink. Suddenly one of the men screamed and the humanoid turned, stared at them and pointed towards the moon, it then immediately hid within the brush. The men then decided to jump over the fence and look for the creature and after 2 hours of fruitless searching they gave up, it was already about 2100.

After a long day the witness had gone outside to his covered driveway for a smoke and look at the night sky. The witness looked towards the north and thought about his recent (saucer) sighting wondering what it was all about. In the near distance, at no more than a couple of hundred feet he saw a faintly visible moving object that flitted from side to side. Whatever it was it reflected light from the streetlights. Its side to side movement was so quick initially he couldn't tell if it was one object or two. The object then zipped directly over his neighbor's house across the street. It continued to move side to side in a space of approximately 50 feet. It then stopped and the witness was able to observe it more clearly. The object was a humanoid with large eyes and wing-like appendages and was probably 2 to 3 feet in width. It remained still and he could see wavering reflections from its "wings". They were not beating like a bird, but showed shimmering reflections from the streetlights. The witness felt the hair on his head rise al the way down his back to his ankles. It appeared to be watching the witness as he smoked his cigarette. The witness felt threatened and then said out loud, "I see you!" Then the flying figure went from stationary to out of sight right over the witness head in an instant. He then came out from under his covered carport and turned to follow its movement. Immediately it zipped into view directly above his head, obviously studying the witness who could see really large and intensely dark "eyes". It seemed surprised by the witness looking right at it, it didn't like being seen. The witness apprehension rose even higher. The creature then turned away and disappeared like a shot. It had a birdlike shape, but was thicker. The witness insists that it wasn't a bird, bat or any familiar nocturnal creature and has never seen anything like that before.

triangular object, not much higher than 70ft. The object had a base 100 ft wide at its widest area. It almost blended into the sky because it was a black color, with a hint of gray, and the only lights were dim red lights on the bottom of each point of the triangle. He remembers not being able to talk. He looked over and saw neighbors on both sides of him looking up also. He remembers sitting up and taking the trash can to the front yard by the road when suddenly he heard the generators again and looked around and did not see the object. He remembers feeling suddenly very afraid and sick to his stomach. His next memory was of waking up at 0600A the next morning. Diaz added that the object had a large dim light on the edge of each point of the triangle, and the bottom of the object looked like there was an abundance of what looked to him like duct work along the bottom. The bottom was not smooth; the pipes seemed to be running at different angles. Its speed had been extremely low, moving at about 5mph only.

Sandy Nichols was traveling west on the Bethesda-Arno road in the Middle Tennessee area about 25miles south of the Davidson county line of Nashville. His speed was 40mph on the fairly typical country road, which was bordered mainly by farm land. There were no other vehicles on the road and his headlights were on full brightness. At the exact spot of his sighting there are three homes set back several hundred yards off the road on a fairly steep grade on the north side of the road. While the south side of the road was bordered by a fairly steep slope with a thick hedge row of mangled brush and trees about 20ft from the road. He first noticed a creature as he rounded a curve and continued onto a short straight away with a slight rise in elevation. His estimated distance from the creature was 300 ft and he immediately began to slow the car. The creature was standing a foot or two off the side of the road on the south side. Behind the creature there was the back side of a 71/2 foot tall road sign. The top of the creature's head was several inches above the sign, though his feet were on the ground. This would have put the creature nearly eight feet tall. The creature's body was covering about 1/5 of the sing. The head of the creature was human in shape but with a peculiar triangular appearance as well. The head seemed a bit to large for the rest of the body. The neck was normal in appearance and attached to narrow shoulders. The chest appeared normal, though narrower than one would have imagined. The legs of the creature were long and slender, almost skinny, especially the thigh area extending down to the knees. Both arms were long and thin and connected to hands with long, slender fingers, four or five, he could not be sure. The face of the creature was shrouded in a shadow like appearance. He could discern no facial features. The creature's arms were outstretched, and attached to the wrist of both arms was dark webbing that extended downward and attached at the knees, and also was attached to the torso of the body directly at the underarm and extending downward to the knees. The webbing was solid in structure, with a slight tapering that came to a point mid way to the knees, and then continued to taper as above to the knees. From the shoulders down to the feet with the exception of the arms and webbing, the color of the creature was bright, reflective red. The duration of the sighting was a brightly lit 7 to 8 seconds and at one point not more than 7ft from the open window of his car as he passed the creature. Never once did the creature move or make any type of hostile gesture toward the witness. Nichols managed to bring the car to a full stop some 100 yards from the creature. He immediately turned the car around in the middle of the road in the hopes of seeing the creature again, but it was for naught.

The witness who lived in a highly developed housing neighborhood was staying up late at night watching television when he suddenly experienced an urge to look out the window of the second story unit. He stood up and slowly peaked out from behind the blinds, and when he did, across the street, right underneath a streetlight he saw 3 entities walking, a tall one, a shorter one, and another tall one, in that order, the short one was in between the tall ones. They were skinny, had long limbs, slightly larger heads then humans and walked in a strange manner. One of the strangest things about the experience was that at the exact second that he looked out the blinds the entities were staring at him (hence the mental impulse?), as if they knew he would be looking out the window at that exact second. Also they were not walking side by side like three humans most likely would, they were walking in a single file, and walked in a sort of mechanical “zombie” manner, arms bent back dangling, knees bent, and heads dangling as well but cocked so they could stare at the witness. However because of an unspecified glare outside the room the witness could not make out any specific facial details or the color of their skin, they were just well defined. They kept staring at the witness and he kept staring back, but they kept walking until they couldn’t see them anymore apparently disappearing behind a row of houses. Once they went out of his sight the next thing he remembers was backing away from the window, putting his hands on his head and saying “what do I do now”. Then he slowly fell to the floor, for some reason his legs were unable to support him, so he crawled to his bed and laid down. He was in panic, his heart racing and his legs useless, and he was very afraid to fall asleep thinking that he would never wake up again. He thought about calling his older sister or even dialing 911, but did not. Soon his heart went back to normal and he was able to walk again.

Several Moscow residents were in the group. The night was very light and there was a full moon. The children had gone to sleep while the adults sat around. Ivan's assistant Alexander and several more men had gone to nearby woods in order to satisfy some physiological needs. When they returned to the camp they were trembling with fear and then the whole group heard a frightful snarl or growl very close to the camp. The men went to the perimeter of the camp, Alexander armed with an axe. Moments later they all saw strange creatures resembling "wild men" or animals only a few meters away. There were 3 creatures, about 2 to 2.5m in height, their real height was difficult to establish, because they were bending over and periodically sat down on their front extremities. All three resembled huge apes, and were growling. Their faces were very dark, and the eyes were almost not visible. Their heads were positioned low over their shoulders almost lacking necks. On their backs they had something resembling humps. Alexander was closer and saw that the hairy creatures were covered in light fur on their heads and eyebrows, with some areas on their shoulders. The witnesses could not tell what sex the creatures were. Creatures appeared to be aggressive but not openly, and appeared more curious. The witnesses became terrified, Alexander trembling with fear. The children woke up and came out of their tents after hearing the growling noises and became terrified with some of the girls crying and screaming. The encounter or "siege" lasted for about 40-45minutes, with all the men becoming impotent due to the terrible fear felt. Finally the strange creatures turned around and walked away in strange manner, like hoping or jumping. The rest of the night the witnesses were unable to sleep and in the morning they failed to find any tracks or prints since the ground had been covered with a thick layer of fallen leaves. Some of those present attempted to film the event but the film was very poor and indistinct probably because of the poor lighting.

Shaun Bush claims he was abducted by aliens on this day. But they weren't the probing jabbing aliens, they were peaceful aliens, they wanted to talk and oddly enough spoke English. He was taken onboard a spherical craft about ten feet in height. Inside he was taken into a massive room, which looked like any room you would find in a house, only bigger. He was shown to a chair and gave him food, “a hamburger”. They let him go after what seemed like a few days, but it was actually just 3 hours. They had taken him at about 0200A and it was now 0500A when he found himself back in his room.

The witness, Milos Dokic was getting some work done in front of his house when he heard the children that were playing soccer nearby shout, “A man flying!” He briefly glanced at the roof of a nearby yellow building and saw a small man with a black cape walking on the edge of the roof. He got back to work thinking it was somebody installing a television antenna. When the children began shouting a second time, the witness wife, Slavojka came out of the house to see a man floating in midair, between the yellow building and the Ljubovijatrans building. He was surrounded by a faint glow and his eyes glowed mysteriously as well. They then attempted to approach the humanoid but he retreated, always keeping the same distance. Then a strange game ensued, every time they approached the strange figure he would retreat, always keeping the same distance, when they stopped he stopped, all the time hovering in the air. After a few times that this occurred the humanoid abruptly turned around and disappeared behind the poplar trees near the Ljubovijatrans building. The following day at around 1500 the mysterious figure was seen again, flying towards the Kik Hill then turning towards Nemic. There were many witnesses this time, people walking on Drin Street, including a bus full of people and crowds of people that were waiting at the stadium for the soccer match to begin. The description was again identical; some said that it appeared to fly as if it had an engine of some sort strapped to its back, defying gravity. The police conducted an investigation but without any definite results. After hearing about these sightings a man, Dule Lazarovic came forward saying that his children had seen something similar earlier in the summer of the same year but at the time he did not take the story seriously. This sighting took place in the village of Lokanj near Zvornik, some 50km from Ljubovija where Lazarovic’s family was on vacation. His two children, Lazar and Dejana, along with other children from the village saw for three nights in a row a similar being also apparently flying; they described it as having the shape of a man that was stooped over. The children were very upset and did not go outside to play anymore after that.

The 37-year old witness was sleeping when she suddenly found herself standing on a street corner---no cars were around. It was late at night and there was another girl standing near her, to her left side. She did not know her. She felt as if she was waiting for something but did not know what exactly. The intersection reminded her of one in North Dakota where she had lived a few years ago because the surroundings were flat unlike her current residence where there are lots of trees and hills. She looked to the sky and saw a dark object resembling a dark sphere without lights. She soon realized that it had been far away because it suddenly grew in size as if approaching. She had to tilt her head back to see the object completely. It was black underneath; she never saw the top of it. She remembers noticing light around her but does not recall seeing actual light bulbs or lights on the underside. She couldn’t tell the exact shape because the thing high over her head and it was dark. Her next memory was being in a small room. The lights were dimmed and it all seemed to in muted tones. She then realized that the other girl was not with her anymore and she then asked this female creature where the other girl went. The female alien let her know without speaking, obviously using mental communication. She described the female alien as very thin, and not much shorter than her, maybe about 5’2” in height. She appeared to have been wearing a blond wig with a style of that of the 60’s. The humanoid attempted to calm the witness letting her know that she was not dreaming. The witness got the feeling that the humanoid was very pleased and was almost laughing, but her expression never changed. The alien then asked the witness if she “was now ready for the tour”. She followed “her” out of the room into a hallway. She remembers that the hall was a silver gray maybe a metallic color. It was much brighter in the hallway, again she saw no lights but there was light all around her. They walked for a little bit and she has a vague memory of seeing some sort of elevator in the center of this large open room when they walked around a corner. It just opened up and it was huge and beautiful resembling the center of a mall, she thinks that there were plants around. She continued to follow the alien female and then entered a room which was also enormous. It had hundreds of chairs in it. They appeared similar to those chairs that have the metal on the outside in the shape of an “S” and then the seats were plastic. The seats were located in the center of this very large room. There appeared to be glass windows or shiny metals to her sides. The alien then communicated with her telling her that she hoped that she was pleased. The witness got the impression that she was being rewarded and she felt that the alien was going to let her see her “grandparents” which were dead. She had noticed when she first entered the room that there had been photos with peoples faces on them sitting on the chairs. There were hundreds of them, of all races and varying ages. Towards the rear of the back rows they stopped and then the alien motioned with her hand for the witness to go into the row of chairs. The witness felt that the alien was “proud” of her. The witness was feeling happy but at the same time confused when the alien told her to stop. She stopped and looked at the photos on the chairs. The alien seemed to sense her confusion and the witness felt her mood change. That scared and concerned her. The alien asked her if she knew those people but they were Indian not Native American but Indian. She said no. And then the alien female’s mood went icy cold, the witness felt nothing from her and worried that she had somehow displeased her. Suddenly several shorter, twig like gray beings were around her, encircling her and they were kind of pushing her down to the floor. As she lay on her right side she saw a needle coming toward her with what appeared to be orange liquid inside. They inserted the needle in her arm and she was suddenly awake on her bed with a sore left upper shoulder. There was a small bruise and a pin prick mark on her shoulder.

The object was shaped like a jellyfish and was waving and moving like this animal in the water. After a while the object went away and when it was about 100m from the witness it stood motionless for a minute and in a second it suddenly shot up into the sky and disappeared from sight. In July 2005 the witness had been sitting on the balcony when he saw a purple light that approached him. The witness is deemed reliable. The new anchor called this a “jahn binh” or flying saucer. Others added that it had a small body, a large head and didn’t leave any footprints. It is reported that the creature wandered around in the field for about an hour without taking notice of the villagers. Sawaeng Boonyalak, 35, who was among who rush to see it, reported that the humanoid was about 70cm high and had yellow skin and a flat chest. Its mouth was very tiny; it had a large bald head with big eyes and big ears. District chief, Wisit Sitthisombat who interviewed the ten residents said they were consistent in their testimonies.

A black tricot hat, a green suit jacket, green pants to the knees and greens stockings and wearing black shoes with buckles in them. He was standing on top of a lampshade (one of the tall floor lamps). Shocked, the witness said to her mother, “Who is that” She responded, “That’s Mr. LaCourt”. (?). Apparently her mother saw the enigmatic figure and likened him to someone familiar to her. The little man beckoned Kelly forward and said the name of a friend of her and then he said, “Over the next five days four things will come true”. He was completely shocked. The shadow was not moving, and was very detailed. He could see contours of its body very clearly, but in his sleep deprived state he quickly assumed it was just a shadow from a curtain or some object. Suddenly he felt back to sleep again. Another strange thing to add was that next day after blowing his nose; he noticed a lot of blood in his left nostril. His right nostril had no blood whatsoever. Also when he woke up he noticed that the joining part between his face and nose was “torn” but not bleeding. He also noticed a few bruises on his arms. For some reason now he can breathe easier through his left nostril and his right. He believes a sort of implant was apparently inserted into his nose cavity. The witness has seen a number of UFOs in the past years.

The owner of the Rancho El Cadillo, Mr. Jesus Gel Gonzalez reported to the municipal police that six of his animals had been found dead from very strange wounds to their bodies. Police officers and Dr. Oscar Sanchez, director of the department of health for Juarez, reported to the scene and found the carcasses of six goats presenting very deep wounds on their necks. The injuries appeared to be bite of some predatory animal, although what most surprised the officials was the fact that there wasn't a drop of blood to be found in any of the bodies. The rancher stated having seen a creature standing 1.20m tall, gray in color and with a 4-meter wingspan, which he suspects it the culprit in the goat slayings. He added that this is not the first time that animals have been killed in such a way on his property, and that even some of his dogs have disappeared. Policemen reporting to the scene found some prints resembling large, four-fingered claws were unable to determine the type of beast they corresponded to. Dr. Sanchez said that these deaths are not normal, given that a predator such as a puma or coyote would have ripped into the goat's abdomen to feet on their organs. The creature responsible for the goat deaths only sucked their blood, but what type of animal could have caused this, remains a mystery.

The golden-yellowish head looked like an octagon shaped helmet through binoculars. The jet pack looked just like a jet pack from Buck Rogers with two oxygen tanks. Its shoes seem to direct the object. When the object moved the legs moved also. The object never wobbled or reflected the sun like a balloon. It was flying north then stopped and headed west in a perfectly straight line. The object was obviously heading on a straight line trajectory. It was moving at a snail’s pace and at one point came to a complete stop and changed course going in the opposite direction. Angela Hausinger remembers seeing a triangle-like ship over her; she was trying to run away but was not scared, but had a feeling of super amount of adrenaline. The ship was over her, not to high up. Once it was directly over her the noise was unbearable, like a roar. There were many lights around the bottom, mostly white, and then red. She remembers grabbing her head tightly. She was then suddenly inside the object. There were other “humans” in there as well. She had the feeling that she knew someone that was there but she was not able to pin-point who it was. There was a lot of activity going on around her. She was standing in a short hallway with a couple of other people. She then noticed she was wearing a white exam gown, it was full length and no skin was showing. She kept thinking how stiff the air was and she couldn’t wait to get out. A gray humanoid passed them in the hallway and for some reason the witness tried very hard so not to be looked at, she had her head hanging down like as if trying to make herself less noticeable. The gray wore a long cloak which was “very pretty”. A man standing next to her started explaining something they were watching. To their left were 2 persons, they appeared to be of Indian descent, black hair and very dark skin lying on two tables. She had the feeling this was a father and son. The child appeared to be around 7 or so. There was a taller cloaked figure, with the features of a gray but his skin tone was bluish. He turned the head of the father to the side facing the witness and a black super shiny tar-like substance started oozing out of his mouth. He kept pressure on the side of this man’s head until he was sure it was out. At the same time they were doing this to the child also. She was told that this was because they had something wrong with their stomachs. She was suddenly in a dark lab like area where 2 humans were working; one was male and the other female. The woman was of Asian descent and the male looked like Asian/Hawaiian. He was very attractive. Both appeared to be in their 30’s. She was dressed in white and green scrub like clothing, the male was in a black cloak like outfit. He was with a “patient” inside a glass like cubicle. There was a bed inside. This room was very small. The presence of the 2 people and the bed inside this cubicle filled it to the max. The lab itself was filled with black machines with lights on them much like the room at the Dr’s offices where they do ultrasound exams, it was also very compact. He was doing “something” to this patient (a woman) she looked exhausted. She was covered with a dark green blanket. The witness remembers the lady “doctor” telling him “this was enough”. The lady doctor then leaned over the witness---she was sitting on a stool and asked her twice about, “my concerns for my daughter becoming pregnant”. She didn’t answer her, the noises were so loud ---but she told her there was a “sand like substance” but did not say if she could become pregnant or not. She was told that these human extraterrestrials were helping those with health issues, they were not harming us. The ship was supposedly a “hospital”. She does not remember anything after that.

The closest resemblance was perhaps to a native American Indian, but still quite different. He appeared to be covered in something tight-fitting of solid texture in dark gray or dark green color, no cloth. His feet were covered with what seemed to be a continuance of his clothing. He had nothing in his hands, which appeared to be very similar to the witness’. He seemed to be quite muscular and several inches taller than the witness, perhaps 6’6” or 7’. They both looked at each other for about 30seconds. He showed no fear, only some curiosity, as he broke eye contact with the witness to look him over. After a series of tragedies in her life, Svetlana D. was in despair and turned to prostitution to survive and on her first "working" day was standing near the roadside on Ring Road close to the location of a local tramline when she suddenly felt weird. She felt strange waves moving all around her body. Soon a car stopped near her and a man stepped from it, a beam of light was then projected to where she was standing, like someone or something above her had activated a powerful torch or lantern on her. But apparently she could only see the beam of light since the stranger kept approaching her in an "imposing" manner but as he walked into the circle of light he was seized by horror and with a terrified look on his face he began to scream and shake, almost as if having an epileptic seizure. Screaming in a panic the man ran away from Svetlana and left his car on the roadside. Soon after Svetlana felt an unknown force pulling her body into the air. Afraid she closed her eyes. When she opened her eyes she found herself inside a strange room. Somehow she understood that she was inside some flying craft. All around her she could see unknown instruments, emitting sparkling multicolored light. The she was suddenly surrounded in a green aura or glow. What happened next she could only vaguely recall (this part was apparently erased from her memory or her ability of visual perception was substantially hampered from this moment). Seemingly to her, she saw something like shadows of several humanoid entities moving around her, performing some manipulations with her body. Possibly the entities were taking tissue samples for analyses, but she felt no pain during the procedures. She couldn't tell how long she was in the company of the strange entities, but as soon as she found herself back on the ground she hurriedly walked away from the area and boarded the first bus away from the location. After this incident she lost her need or desire to become a prostitute and apparently reformed herself.

A young fourth grade student reported seeing a strange flying entity over southern Colorado. The entity was glowing gold in color, and it had black hair, not flowing in the wind or with its movement. Face was looking down, arms where moving like superman and rotating positions first right and then left, while one arm was out the other was against its side. It appeared to have wings which were not flapping and appeared to be about 3 to 4 feet in height and was wearing some type of uniform. It flew from east to west and no sound was detected. It was possibly about 20 feet away but she was not sure how high it was. The witness used the word "Angel" to describe the entity.

An 18-year old student named Ravendran claims that while outside his house he saw a black-disc-shaped flying object in the morning sky. However, he was unable to estimate its height or distance from his location. But he estimated that the UFO was about the size of a small car. The witness also claimed that he could a humanoid being, reddish in color, in the transparent dome-shaped canopy. The reddish nature of the humanoid could probably be due to the reddish glow which the object emitted. According to the witness, after watching the phenomenon for a few minutes, he had the impression that the being had seen him and the object immediately flew away and was lost from sight. Another UFO was sighted a day later at a different location in the same state of Selangor.

John Day was walking home late at night when all of a sudden he felt really ill and light headed the next thing he remembers was waking up in a bright white room, naked on a clear table. He was not tied down or strapped down but he could not move at all, except for his eyes. He was terrified and could not breathe properly. He looked around the room and he could see tall “people” around it. One of these came over to him but he could not see his/her face, he then felt a hand touch his head and it was ice cold, he became dizzy again and possibly went into shock, he recalled hearing a weird crackling noise and seeing flashes of bright yellow and red lights. He then apparently blacked out since he found himself the next morning in Coronation Park, Crosby, by the park warden, his head throbbing and fully clothed. Later he went to see a doctor and was told that his blood iron levels were very low.

The 14-year old witness was sleeping on his bed when he suddenly woke up and caught a brief glimpse of what appeared to have been an alien’s face. The figure stood by the dresser next to the mirror and was about 4-5 ft tall and had large black eyes. As soon as he saw the alien’s face he pulled the blanket over his face. Moments later while hiding under the blanket he heard shuffling noises on the carpet and also the sounds of plastic tubes being banged on a hand, the last sound he heard was a loud clapping sound. Later when the sun was up he had the courage to pull off his covers, look around and go to the bathroom. By now everything appeared to be back to normal.

The witness was having dinner with his family when he saw three lights on the horizon, in a flash they grew instantaneously larger, the light was almost blinding. He approached the lights and could see a cigar-shaped object moving up and down in a vertical motion. He has two dogs, one was barking uncontrollably, the other, a normally more aggressive dog, whimpered and hid under the deck. As he stood watching, a man, about five feet tall approached him; he spoke to the witness in a foreign language which the witness was certain that it was “German”. Mr. Palacios was in front of a local Walgreen’s store at the “Los Pascos” shopping center. He was standing outside with his son while the rest of his family shopped inside. Suddenly his son noticed who he thought was a well known local “Ufologist” Andrew Alvarez accompanied by a woman coming out of the Drugstore and walked towards the area of the food court, he immediately told his father since both had recently attended a conference given by Mr. Alvarez. Palacios looked and confirmed it was indeed Alvarez. Moments later Palacios stepped out into the parking lot in order to smoke a cigarette. Having finished he went back to Walgreen in order to look for his wife, coming out of the store he again noticed the supposed “Alvarez” now wearing a pair of dark sunglasses and alone standing outside. He walked towards Alvarez and as he stood in front of Alvarez this one takes off his sunglasses and stares at him intently. Stunned, Palacios suddenly found himself unable to move, when he realized that Alvarez’s eyes were totally out of the ordinary, they were all black with double lids somehow resembling those of certain reptiles and sharks. Alvarez (or whoever the imposter was) continues to stare at Palacios intently and without saying a word he put on his sunglasses again, turned his head backwards like canines are able to do and walked towards the parking lot. Immediately, and now able to move, Palacios followed him, but to his surprise Alvarez had now completely vanished from sight. Despite the fact that Alvarez's "double" had not spoken a word, Palacios was convinced that the meaning had been obvious and direct, the imposter had conveyed to Palacios the fact that "he was not the person that he seemed to be". Why he was chosen to see this apparent "shape shifting" demonstration, Palacios does not know, but thinks it was for the purpose to know that there were other "types" of sentient life that were capable of doing that. Palacios and his family have experienced other apparently unrelated paranormal events.

On January 14 2006 the real Andrew Alvarez was himself at the "Los Pascos" shopping center waiting for the start of his radio program. He then decided to go into one of the stores to buy his girlfriend a gift. The surprised cashier told Alvarez that she had seen him the previous week at the shopping center and he had been acting strangely, his eyes were red and he was unfriendly. (He is usually very outgoing). Andrew pointed out that he had not been at the shopping center recently. The next day Alvarez learned about the Palacios incident from investigator Guzman.

The witness had gone to the front porch with his sister-in-law to smoke a cigarette and talk and while he was looking at her talk, an object came into view behind her, up in the sky. It couldn't have been too far because he could see its feet dangling in the air. The sky was clear and this black object stood out. It had no lights as both witnesses waited for it to come down, so that as it came closer they could clearly tell what it was. It resembled the figure of a man in a parachute, it followed a horizontal path and then it went upward until it just became a dot in the sky and disappeared into the clouds. It had clearly looked like a person on some type of parachute. It was clearly not a balloon, it followed a horizontal path at first and then it went horizontally for a while. The "legs" were pedaling as if were trying to balance itself.

He apparently passed out and woke up again exactly at 0311A. Numerous local residents in an area near the local dump, including dozens of children have reported seeing what they termed as “small white gnomes” who climbed a makeshift Christmas tree and threw stones at the startled children who also threw stones back. Their stones were quickly fired back by the gnomes at very high speed and with great accuracy. It apparently all started when several residents attempted to dismantled the Christmas tree; this apparently angered the “gnomes” who began hurling stones at those present. A large crowd gathered including police who shone a floodlight at the tree and was reflected back at them like a mirror. Several of the police officers fired their weapons at the tree and in turn were showered with rocks, strangely the rocks only struck the police officers and none of the others gathered around. Several of the children who were interviewed by a local news channel described the “gnomes” as tiny and man-like, wearing all white, with small hands, who stuck their tongues out at the children. Some of the witnesses believe that there were about 7 gnomes; a girl claimed she saw one of the gnomes jumped from a roof into the tree. Some of the children suffered minor cuts and abrasions when they were also hit with stones. (Apparently this has been going on for several days, maybe into 2006).

[as1] It has become readily apparent in my mind that many paranormal experiences are directly link to the UFO phenomena. Or are we dealing here with so-called “Magic Technology” a technology so advanced and so beyond our comprehension that we (humans) can only come to term with it by calling it “magic”.
[as2] According to the source the main witness showed some signs of emotional distress, saying that the event had frightened him and deeply concerned him.

2006 Humanoid reports, this year will be the last of my report summaries. I will update and correct my summaries with updated summaries, correct dates, names, etc and will finally initiate the creation of a master UFO/entity/humanoid catalog that will conclude in 2006. This year has already brought forth some enigmatic occurrences which will be summarized for everyone to know. The truth will indeed set us free and knowledge is the key.

David Salomen, 60's, was riding his dirt bike in a secluded forest north of the location and had stopped to rest when suddenly he saw a figure standing about 12 feet away from him. The figure was short, willowy whitish in color, with large dark eyes. The figure said, "May I connect with you?" Terrified the witness prayed in agony. But he could still hear the voice in the area of his frontal lobe, that said, "Say yes." And he said "yes". He could plainly hear a voice behind his left ear, in the region of the brain that handles speech and verbal logic. The short figure then began to tell him many things, about the pyramids, and the sphinx, of ancient Nephilim giants, of 50 terrestrial races more devout than monks, of a flying miniature planet that sets up the gravity of planet Earth on the bottom and its atmosphere and flies at 12,000 miles per second without subjecting its occupants to G-force, of chimera experiments gone awry, of Mothman, Bigfoot, Champ, Nessy, etc. It will be the first of several "sit-downs" Salomen would have with this entity. His small mouth never moved. His pushed-in furrowed face reminded the witness of a Pekinese. His nose was nearly non-existent and his enormous eyes were like two black almonds that slanted upwards at a forty-five degree angle. The large veins of his bulbous bald head were clearly visible. The entity called itself "Magnuss" and told the witness, "I am using your own lexicon embedded in your mind to communicate with you". On February 3 2006, Magnuss would dictate to the witness 38 pages of information he wished for him to pass on to "Abo" or humans. At one point he asked Magnuss about Atlantis but his answer was ominous and he enquired no further, basically the entity said that it was too much information and it wouldn't be "wise" for the witness to know about it. He also asked about implants and was told that each piece of metal is attached to nerve endings, which transmit location and biological data to an "object" not unlike a mainframe, where all whom they tag are kept. There is no hand on manipulation required. The data is continually transmitted to each abductee's cell in the mainframe. If one of the implants is surgically removed, a cell becomes dormant and the monitor alien is alerted. The witness is apparently a biblical scholar and found many parallels in the bible of alien intervention. In fact he was told by Magnuss that they have been monitoring the earth for thousands of years. A lot of the information was indeed compared to religious dogma and according to the alien there is a definite connection.

The witness, a security guard at a granite quarry across the old landfill outside the city limits, was one night sitting inside the guard shack tuning up his guitar in the dark when he noticed dark brown smoke come out from behind the wall heater. He smelled the air and didn’t smell anything, and it didn’t really look like smoke; it seemed to be staying together and moving slowly one way. As he watched, it began to take the form of a large cloud, puzzled he sat there just watching. Soon, in front of the amazed witness the cloud turned into a giant robed man. He appeared to be looking down at the ground. As soon as the witness realized what he was watching, he jumped back into the wall, but as the giant looked at him straight in the eyes, a great comfort came over him. The figure was huge, almost 10ft tall, and sat on a crate, not even feet in front of the witness. He had a giant brown beard, large comforting eyes, and giant almost perfectly woven locks from his beard. He began to “talk” to the witness, not with his mouth, but with his hands and eyes. He gestured in such a way, it made all his gestures completely clear. But as he began to do this, the witness noticed another man appear out of nowhere. He was much smaller, like a normal person’s height. He had jet black hair, all slicked back and shiny. His eyes though were black and almost like smoke. He began looking out the windows of the shack, as if waiting for something. He didn’t say a word either, but it seemed like they were together. So excited and in awe was the witness that he began rambling to them out loud saying, ‘Who are you? Where are you from? Please visit me any time”. Moments later the giant entity gestured to the witness to come close and when he did he began turning back into smoke. Then as the witness stepped back, he turned back with a big smile on his face; the witness did this several times to assure himself he wasn’t seeing things. The giant then pointed to the side wall in the dark with a worried look on his face, so the witness shone his flashlight over and saw a stop sign with a can of gas and a fire extinguisher in front of it. After about 20-25 minutes after the encounter he started walking to the door to see if any of the drivers were around because he wanted additional witnesses, he turned around and saw the giant entity begin to dissipate and go back into the wall behind the heater. He did not see the black haired man again.

Irina Karimova was watching television late at night, when suddenly she saw in her peripheral vision a bright glow coming from the window. At first she thought it was a fire, but the glow became “cold” and blinding. Strangely when she thought of going to see what it was an unspoken command came into her mind it said, “You do not need to go to the window”. She remained sitting in the couch. The rest of the night both Irina and her husband suffered from a restless night filled with nightmares while their dog barked all night as if disturbed by something. Despite the noise and commotion both remained in bed and did not get up until the morning. When Irina looked outside into the court she was surprised to see a strange round, spot several diameters on the roof of

The witness walked into her home to find a devil-like creature violently attacking her 6-year old Labrador dog. The creature seemed to be an unusual combination of a monkey, wolf, and "devil". There was a camera nearby so she grabbed it and snapped a picture. Shortly after the photo was taken the creature sprang to its hind legs and ran nearly pushing the witnesses over to get to the open door, they just had come through. This creature seemed to have long fangs, monkey-like tail, and extremely bright glowing eyes. The Labrador was checked afterwards and was unharmed by the attack because they had apparently arrived just in time. Lately round their neighborhood there had been reports of missing cats and small dogs and reports of a creature matching this creature's description hanging in trees by its tail.

Around 0100A the witness woke up feeling very disoriented and sick to his stomach, it took him about an hour to go back to sleep again. Over the rest of the day he had multiple unexplained bizarre sightings and apparitions. At 0700A he woke up to take a shower, it was still very dark and he spotted a small figure moving across his back porch, it was approximately 3ft in size. He was so frightened by the figure that he locked himself in the basement room. There were no windows to peek in or out. Around 0730A he heard unexplained noises, anywhere from a bang to a boom to a loud ring in only one ear. At 1400 he decided to drive to a friend's house in the outskirts of the city. As he drove he saw a large diamond shaped light come from a patch of woods off New Trebien Road, the light proceeded to fade and he could spot movement towards the car, it had a dark graphite type of texture and color, the object moved away from the car and disappeared into the woods. At 1430 he arrived at his friend's house and they talked about the strange appearances. By the time he leaves around 0400A the next morning the witness and his friend arrived at his house at 0430A. At 0700A he sees the small figure again and at the same time his television goes haywire, he then gets into his car and drives 2 miles out of town, stops on the side of the road and vomits. He proceeds to the nearest church he can find and speaks to the pastor at around 0800A. The pastor tells him that the bad things have to do with the house. The witness is not convinced with the pastor's explanation.

The 2 witnesses were awoken by a low humming sound and clattering against all the windows of the house. They looked outside and saw 20 or more tiny blue lights in the sky. They quickly picked up the video camera and began to film the. The objects were very high in the sky, and moved freely in any direction or hovered together, one on top of the other a few miles apart in the sky. This continued for about an hour. They then noticed the objects getting much larger, as they slowly descended to earth. They claimed they managed to get one or two close up on video but the quality was not the best. The ridge above the house about 1 ½ miles to the north began to emit a day-like glow. Most of the objects were no longer visible but the humming sound had become almost deafening. Suddenly a strong wind began to rip at the house, out of the north, the light pulsated in the horizon and clouds of smoke appeared to rise up slowly from each light, there were about six lit up areas. One of the witnesses attempted to call somebody on the phone but it was not working, it was making a peculiar buzzing sound. They then both leaned out the window to see better and listen. Soon they heard a very eerie howl, not like any coyote they had ever heard, almost like a siren, but not as perfect. It was followed by a loud blood curling deep scream, definitely not human. It filled the entire valley, and what followed was odd for mid winter in Canada, a warm strong breeze came from the north, almost hot, and it smelled like burning plastic, or something similar. The sensor light outside kept coming on and they heard crashing and banging against the house, scratching through the walls on every side. Both witnesses then saw a tall very pale figure that had a human-like shape and glowing eyes, running across the driveway. Petrified, they shut themselves in and listened intently. They looked out the window for a bit longer to see the smoke puff up from the lighted hilltops again, and again saw tiny blue lights like they had seen earlier that shot up, hover briefly and then began getting smaller as they flew higher into the sky, they remained visible for a long time.

It was coming towards the car. She further described the creature as "enormous and its body as white as the snow around it". It had tiny little legs, like animal goat legs but very small. She had the impression that parts of it were like a man and other parts of it were an animal. According to her it either grabbed, or reached for the door handle but he car was locked. She said its fingers were incredibly long, "long, long fingers and nails". It was so incredibly fast that she did not see a face or anything else. The witness, Maria Zinoveva had gone to sleep with her husband at night and a "dream-like" state she found herself inside some strange laboratory type room. She saw walls made out of some material resembling plastic all around her, the ceiling emitted light and also looked plastic. Then she saw several humanoids creatures walking near her; the creatures were similar to those typically described as "grays" and popularized in the mass worldwide media. They had large hairless heads, large eyes and slim figures. The humanoids began looking at Maria, touching various parts of her body, her hands, face and neck. They prodded her with strange rod-like devices, but without hurting her or causing her any pain. She was then gently positioned on something resembling an examination table; a constant idea was in her mind the whole time: that it was all a dream, so she had nothing to be afraid of. Then one of the humanoids suddenly entered into a sexual relation with her. At first she also thought that it was just a dream, but soon her feelings became so evident and clear that she began struggling and screaming. But the humanoids were persistent and continued to "assault" her, all of them, one after the other, taking turns. This lasted for no less than one hour---and then she suddenly awoke on her bed; her husband calmly sleeping besides her, everything appeared normal and quiet. She awoke her husband and asked him if he had heard or felt anything out of the ordinary, but he answered that he was sleeping and did no see or hear anything. Maria did not tell him anything, deciding that her experience had been merely a nightmare. But soon after she noticed strange developments, approximately a week after the "dream" Maria felt pain in her belly, which became stronger and stronger. The sharp pain was in the lower part of her stomach. At first she thought it was merely an infection and began taking antibiotics, but the pain did not go away. In addition she experienced a delay in her monthly period (cycle). She then visited a gynecologist who told her that everything appeared normal and that there was no sign of pregnancy. Not convinced and very concerned she visited several doctors and took different medical tests---all coming back normal. But in March of 2006 she had another similar “dream”: she appeared again inside the same laboratory and saw the same humanoids. This time she attempted to resist their actions but was not successful. But when she “awoke” back on her bed, the pain had disappeared, and soon, as was established, her normal monthly cycle returned to normal.

Two women were driving in a desolate stretch of road, one was suckling her baby, while her girlfriend was driving and their two young boys were in the back seat asleep when she experienced a strange discontinuity or dissociation. She can’t recall everything in a linear sequence and there are gaps in her memory, but she remembers being pushed back in her seat, her vagina was inflamed and painful as if she’d been violated and started menstruating out of cycle. She remembers her girlfriend screaming at someone outside the car, they were stationary, but she couldn’t see anything. Apparently she was screaming at blue colored men with strange small noses. The boys were still asleep. Then they both found themselves just sitting in the van on the side of the highway at night. Completely freaked out they made record time back to Melbourne and were even more disturbed when their youngest son recounted a strange dream he had that night about blue men with small noses saying hello to him and taking his mother and the other woman up into the clouds. The main witness had a similar encounter in the Nullarbor back in 1998 involving temporal dissociation, same violation and menstruation although no memories of any sort of beings just a very bright light parallel to and trailing the car.

The witness watched a huge object descend overhead, described as a thick large disk shaped craft with a large rotating dome on top and four equally spaced domes of a smaller sort underneath. It glowed an intense white glow that enveloped the whole ship. The witness put his sunglasses on and was able to see additional details. The craft had a diameter of 6 city buses. When he looked closely at the rotating dome he saw strange runes or glyphs encircling the top dome emitting a blue glow that outlined these odd symbols. It went the same for the smaller rotating domes underneath, yet they were colored separately purple, red, green and yellow. It circled around his house practically brushing the tree tops. After about 15minutes of circling it hovered directly over the house. Intrigued, he went outside to obtain a better view. The glyphs on the small domes then became brighter and the domes began to spin faster and faster. Then all of the sudden a dazzling blast of light focused on the witness. Terrified, he couldn't move. Suddenly there was a horrible shrieking noise inside his head. It was deafening and incredibly painful and forced the witness to the ground clutching his throbbing head as though he was going to die. Then there was a brilliant blaze of light and the shrieking stopped. The ship then began a steady climb towards the stars. As it did, four orbs about the size of a car appeared to have risen out of the forest and began circling in bizarre patterns around the ship. The craft rose faster and faster into the night sky, until it was only a speck in the sky. Steeling feeling an intense pain in his head the witness went to sleep.

The witness was taking out the rubbish when he heard an extremely low pitched sound, very deep and rumbling, he felt it more than he heard it. He peered at the forest which is at the end of his garden, separated only by a small, barred fence and could see two large circular objects that glinted with a soft yellow, sort of like cat's eyes, except they were much larger and without pupils. The circles got darker towards the edges. He then switched on the outside light, which increased the pitch of the rumbling and the discs got brighter in color. He dropped the rubbish and began to walk down the path, towards the end of his garden. After a few steps the pitch of the sound increased. He hesitated but then continued. With every few steps, the pitch increased, and when he was almost at the bottom of the garden, it was almost painful. He decided then to go no further, but he had a fairly obscured look of what was there. The discs were high on the thing which made him think they were eyes. He could see that they were on the sides of a head, not on the front and he was merely seeing the front of almost orb-like eyes. He thought that the creature was furry, or at least had hair of some kind, but it was dark and he couldn't see very well, it was rather large, about six or seven foot high. He couldn't see much more of it, and it was slowly moving backwards. Scared he ran into the house and locked the door. Later during the night he heard a low pitched rumbling a few times. Oddly enough it sometimes came from above and sometimes from below. When he turned the light on to take a look out the window he saw something pretty much the same shape as what he had seen earlier in the woods (vaguely humanoid rather wide and covered with humps) fluttering about in short hops, in his garden and the field next to it. In the morning when he went to the yard to investigate he found the rubbish strewn about. Also the wire they used to make sure rabbits do not simply slip through the bars was sunken to the ground. He found many broken branches and scattered debris in the woods.

A man named Arturo Lopez Lopez “El Burro” reportedly filmed from the roof of his home the figure of a small “flying man” (hombrecito Volador). After an examination of the images it was determined that the flying figure had an elongated head, and arms and legs were clearly visible. Below the small flying man there appears to be a distorted “energy” image of a falling figure, without any specific details visible.

The witness had been watching television and when a commercial came on decided to look out the window, since the curtains were drawn. He found himself looking at a cluster of stars when suddenly there was a disturbance, one of the supposed stars blinked hard, not like a normal twinkling star, it was different. At first he thought it was a small plane since there is an airport nearby but the “star” got brighter and seemed to come towards him and then a small dark shadow about 150 yards away and 200feet above the ground started to open and inside there was a green glowing saucer shaped craft with around five orange glowing circles across the bottom. The witness felt very nervous and couldn’t move. There was no noise from it but suddenly the witness heard a telepathic message from it, he heard a simple message that said, “Yes, we are here and watching, to be patient that there is more to life and to remember what he saw when he was 12-years old” (apparently he had a sighting then. Soon the object seemed to dip slowly down and to the right diagonally and then flare white hot and zoom out of sight at incredible speed.

A fisherman, Ahmad Affendi, 22, and a few friends found a small bottle on a beach. After shaking the bottle he realized that there was a small figure inside, measuring about 15cm in height. However the tiny figure which was greenish in color and had a pair of red eyes did not move. The tiny being was wrapped in a black cloth and tied with a white string. Ahmad Affendi took it to an elderly man, Ismail Omar, 94, who then opened the bottle. He claimed that the being was still alive. The witness then took it to the police station but was advised to hand it to the museum. While at the museum over 600 people managed to have a look at the strange figure but unfortunately due to superstitious beliefs they threw it away into the sea less than 24 hours later. It is a common belief in Malaysia that such creatures have bad spiritual effects and should not be kept.

Miguel Camacho and other witnesses observed a large very intense bright white object descend and land on the ground at about 600-700 feet away. Soon after the UFO landed they observed three to four alien figures that appeared to be working or gathering something around the bright object. The aliens had large heads, with large almond-shaped eyes that swept back and up at an angle and long thing arms and bodies with four fingered hands. The fingers were very long also. They stood about 3 to 4 ft high. The witnesses could not see their skin color or their legs. After about 60 minutes of this activity the glow appeared to be surrounded by some sort of covering or possibly closing whatever access or hatch that was opened. A sequence of lights started to flash from the top and sides of a bell-shaped area of the craft. This went on for about 20minutes then afterwards all lights except for a probe-like arm with a single white light on the end went dark. It hovered and moved within 20ft or so of its original position on the ground. This activity went on for several hours until well after sunrise. At this point a second object was observed flying/hovering about 500 ft directly above the object on the ground.

A local police officer, Corporal Sergio Pucheta a member of the regional unit from the Abigeato division reported having a bizarre encounter with two short entities with glowing red eyes which “followed him around and gave him orders” telepathically. He was missing for approximately 20 hours. His last communication was via cellphone when he reported a “strange situation”, but his communication was suddenly interrupted. Backup arrived about 10 minutes later, finding only his motorcycle, his personal weapon, helmet, and other personal items belonging to Pucheta. Later after an extensive search of the area he was found the next day at 1630 lying on a road in a fetal position between the towns of Trili and Quemu Quemu, at about 20km from his original location. He was found by a local farmer who commented that Pucheta seemed to be in a state of ‘nervous shock”. He was immediately transported to the Centeno Regional Hospital where a Doctor Covella attended to him. He was given numerous analyses and examinations, in which his physical state was found to be normal and hydrated. According to Covella, Pucheta appeared to be sleepy, and only wanted to sleep. Immediately after being found Pucheta reported that he had been approached by 2 small men with glowing red eyes which apparently communicated by using telepathy and gave him orders, he attempted to get away from the entities but not could not remember anything after that and did not know how he ended up where he was found. It was noted that Pucheta had patrolled the area regularly and had previously reported seeing anomalous lights which he had attempted to film. The officer is now under psychiatric care, his suffering from headaches and his hands itch. Additional details indicate that Pucheta had been driving his Honda 125 cc when he reached an area of wilderness called, “Las Cañas” there he saw a red light similar to that of a car, however upon reaching the site the light vanished. He got off his motorcycle to explore the area and when he was getting ready to go back on his motorcycle a very strong red light appeared in front of him. He felt mesmerized by the light and could only move his hands. The light then rose into the air and caused him “considerable headache and eye pain” a situation the officer tried to escape from, running away on foot into the fields, without recalling ever having dismantled his service pistol or the police Walkie-talkie which were subsequently found at the site with other belongings, such as a cell phone which lost all of its stored phone numbers, except for the last call Pucheta made to his fellow officers, calling for help. He was then pursued in the fields by the two entities that seemed to levitate and were additionally described as being smaller than him, somewhat transparent, with large heads and clear very red eyes. He explained that the entities appeared to be “utilizing his mind and performing tests”. He reached a cornfield and there saw a large figure that appeared to be chewing the corn cobs and was breaking something. He felt very scared and stood there gazing at it. It was getting closer and closer and that’s when he heard the two small entities tell him, “either you go forward or backward”. He then walked right past the figure, and the fear sort of left him at that moment. When asked if the figure could have been that of an animal, he said, no, because, “It was taller than me and much larger”. Some two weeks ago, a fellow officer was driving along the access road to Agustoni and saw a light in the middle of the road. He thought it was a car and flashed his headlights at it, but the light wouldn’t budge. When he was about to overtake it, the light moved from one side to another and flew straight up.

While listening to the sound of the TV set coming in from the dining room, she entered into a crisis and felt herself floating toward a very large, white light. When she was about to be absorbed into the light, she felt herself “snatched away by several shadows” who told her mentally that “this was not the time” At that moment she was able to see the figures clearly, realizing at the same time that she was somewhere else and not in her bedroom. Fully lucid and awake, she was able to observe that she was lying on a sort of platform, oval shaped and bathed in an intense light which seemed to be suspended from a type of structure or support a meter and a half in diameter, silvery-colored and seemingly metallic. Around this platform she noted the presence of the 5 beings who debated the critical condition of her health. One of these beings stood at her left and the remaining 4 on the right. These indicated that “there was no other alternative other than to go in” After this the being on her left introduced one of its long, thin arms into E.R. on her left side under her ribs, while she was held by her arms, legs and head. She felt that something was “torn out and dragged” from within her body, causing intense pain. The extracted material was given to the other beings. The intense pain was followed by a feeling of emptiness and gradual relief that permeated throughout the entire area. While she clearly remembers the physiognomy of the beings, she has also been able to recall some of the statements they made “from this moment on you will put aside all medications” and “from this moment on you will be a different person” After a period of time she could not determine, she regained consciousness this time in her bed, able to her the sound from the television set. Upon remembering her experience, she began to touch the affected area and felt a void, as though something was missing. Upon pressing her body, she felt the characteristic pain that follows an operation. Two days after the experience, E.R. got up from bed on which she had remained for nearly a week, noticing that her pains were almost completely gone. The next day she went to the clinic for a consultation with the physician, requesting an immediate clinical examination. With the results in her hands and after the corresponding review, she attested to the noticeable reduction in her condition’s levels, while experiencing a slow but steady recovery, stressing that she has no answers that may account for the change or development observed. As far as the beings are concerned, E.R. states that they were tall, thin, with long slender arms. Their heads were medium-sized with a pronounced volume in the occipital region. Their mouths were small, like their noses, eyes were medium-sized, slanted, very dark, smooth angular faces, small chins, with no visible cheekbones. No clothing was visible. Their bodies were lead-blue in color and their movements were swift. E.R. did not notice any hands, and was uncertain about the use of instruments during the procedure. She did remember noticing a small isolated platform to the left of her location. It was seemingly metallic, silver-hued and very bright.

A high security clearance employee at Mitchell Airport was on his way to work when he observed a strange creature crouching in a ditch then rising easily to stand on two legs with its arms at its sides “much like a humans”. The creature resembles a bipedal wolf. He has seen the creature previously in February and has seen it cross the road on all fours and estimated it was at least five feet long from nose to rump and its back stood almost three feet off the ground. It appeared unafraid of him and stared at him with yellow, glowing eyes. When it stood it appeared slightly hunched over, as many other witnesses have said.

On November 2005 the witness and her daughter had heard a strange sound like a hurricane wind whistling over their house. When they looked outside they observed what appeared to be a disc-shaped object moving towards the rear of the house towards a rain forest or wooded area which led all the way to the Atlantic Ocean. After that both heard the same sound at least twice a week. Friday on the above date the witness again heard the same sound going by her house. About 10 or 15 minutes later her dog (Dora) began barking continuously in the backyard. When she went to investigate by turning on the backyard lights and looking through the dining room window, she observed the dog lying on her back with her 4 legs up apparently unconscious or hypnotized. The dog was chained to a metal pole next to the rear fence which separated her property with the rain forest in the back. The witness called the dog’s name, but there was no response. When the witness raised her eyes and looked at the back fence which was about 25 ft from where she was standing, she observed two creatures (extraterrestrials) standing close to and behind the chain link fence staring at her. One of the aliens was about 3 ft away from the dog and the other alien was bout 5 feet away from the other alien. They were about 3 and a half feet tall with a large oval head and large slanted eyes. They had grayish skin and had a very thin slit for a mouth and two little holes for a nose. They also had very skinny arms and they seem not to be wearing any clothes. She could not see their legs because a cinder block covered them. The aliens were staring at the witness and she was staring at them. They then communicated with the witness telepathically and apparently controlled the witness’s actions. She decided to wake up her husband Nelson but somehow she went to her daughter’s bedroom and woke her up instead. Both then went to the dining room window and observed the creatures still standing in the same location. Again they stared at the witnesses and they stared back straight into their eyes for a while. Her daughter then said to the witness that she was going back to bed because she was scared. She followed her daughter to her bedroom and approximately 10 minutes later she returned to the dining room window and the aliens were still there. And while staring straight into their eyes the one closest to the dog was telling her in her mind to open the door leading to the backyard. However the witness said in her mind, “I am not going to open the door.” The alien then demanded telepathically, “You are going to open the door”. The witness then felt herself become drowsy and move slowly towards the door. She doesn't remember what happened next, she woke up in her bed. She asked her daughter if she had seen the same thing and her daughter described the incident and the creatures the same way the witness had seen them. Her husband had heard the dogs barking around 0300A but did not look towards the fence area. On May 1 2006 at about 1250A while sitting in the living room and while talking on the phone the main witness saw through the dining room window a bright light, like an enormous light bulb, moving through the woods. She informed her husband and they immediately closed the louver windows in the kitchen and the dining room. At approximately 0200A that same night the witness heard the same sound again over the house. Seconds later while laying in bed her husband and her heard a loud crashing noise like something hitting the flat concrete roof that shook the house. They were afraid and did not come out to investigate or call the police.

The 17-year old witness was on his way to a local cinema named ‘El Dorado’ located in central Oslo with two of his friends. He was feeling kind of tired from not sleeping but otherwise felt fine. At about 500meters away from the cinema the streets suddenly went quiet, and it was a very busy Saturday. He looked around him and did not see a single person around him even his friends were gone. When he turned around he saw a 2 meter tall “person” dressed in a blood red in front of him, it had no face or hair. The only thing on its head was a round shaped metal object on what would have been its forehead, except from this the figure looked like a middle age male. The suit was seamless and the texture looked like wool. It started to walk towards the witness and the suddenly all the people in the street returned and red dressed entity was gone. Shocked the witness again saw his friends and asked them what had happened, they thought he was crazy since at no time had they noticed anything strange. A few days later the witness was awakened by his cell phone ringing, he answered the phone and got no reply. He said hello once more and heard strange unexplainable noises. It was a sound he had never heard before that he is unable to describe in detail, when the mysterious sounds ceased he turned off his phone and dozed off again. When he woke up that morning he noticed that his cellphone was still on. He checked the incoming and outgoing calls and saw nothing. 2 weeks later he had almost forgotten the incidents and he was now on the subway (T-Bane) on his way to see a friend. Suddenly the eerie quiet returned, and the same strange entity was now sitting in the opposite seat from him, a half meter from him. It was wearing the same red suit, he still could not see a face, and he could see the metallic disc on its forehead, he then heard the sounds he had heard on the cellphone previously, they had no distinct direction or origin so he assumed they were telepathic, then the disc opened and revealed an eye, a human eye, but in a shade of red and violet. This scared the witness and he cried and screamed. The being seemed to ignore the witness's terrified state, until it took his hand with an incredibly strong grip, but soft. The witness tried to pull out of his grip but to his surprise he touched his hand with his other hand in an attempt to calm the witness, who stopped crying but was still terrified. Suddenly the entity uttered in Norwegian "Rod er morgenen" which directly translates to "Red is the morning" or "The morning is red". His voice sounded kind of neutral, not masculine or feminine. Then in a flash everything went back to normal, the witness looked around him, too afraid to do anything. He decided not to tell his friend about the encounter. He has not encountered the strange entity again.

The beings would not move until the witnesses left, which they did but then they returned again. Additional details indicate that the beings in the water were wearing something that looked like “hip waders”. The beings on land blended in really well with their surroundings. A witness said one being stood 50 yards off in the willows and was almost impossible to see. The beings saw the witnesses and the witnesses felt they were being stalked. The disk came close to the shore at one time and then back to the lake again. The lights on the disk were in the shape of a peace sign “V”. The lights flashed red and green. It followed the witnesses at times and then took off again. The lake is reportedly very shallow. The case is still being investigated by source.

Port Shepstone rescuers are monitoring a mysterious situation in which “numerous” eye-witnesses reported an unidentified object crashing into the sea, the National Sea Rescue Institute (NSRI) said on Sunday. Eddie Noyons, NSRI Shelley Beach Station Commander, said eye-witnesses reported that an unidentified object, possibly an aircraft, had crashed into the sea behind the breaker line off-shore of the Port Shepstone High School. Police, rescue craft and a fixed wing aircraft were alerted to the scene to investigate. “Following a full scale search of the area covering 12 square nautical miles nothing has been found.” “There are no reports of activity in the area that may be related to this incident and there are no aircraft reported to be overdue or missing," said Noyons.

He said numerous eye witnesses---including teachers and pupils attending a sports event at the high school and other by-standers including local fishermen---were convinced they had seen an aircraft go into the water, including seeing smoke and water exploding. Interviews with the witnesses revealed that some also reported seeing flames. "Some reported seeing something, an unidentified object, splash into the sea causing a ripple effect of waves," Noyons said. Due to the number of eye-witnesses with similar reports, it was presumed that weather activity in the area at the time might have given the impression of something falling into the sea. "We will continue to monitor the situation which remains a mystery," he said.

Several college students were hanging out a building were a reputed "monster" had been seen before when something caught their eye. About 50 yards to the right of them they saw something moving. At first they didn't think anything of it until they heard large twigs begin to snap. One of them took out a Mag-light and pointed it at the area. The crickets suddenly stopped chirping as the witness with the light saw something moving out of a wooded area, kind of a silhouette. Shining the light right on it, they saw a huge 6' 9" figure, apparently humanoid and bipedal. The hair was either dark brown or black, probably dark brown, and it must had covered most of the body, and was maybe an inch long. It stood unmoving partly exposed behind a tree not moving at all while the light was on it. Its arms were longer than a human and appeared a bit hunched over. The face was human like but hairy, the mouth seemed to be narrow but the witnesses didn't see a nose at the end of the "snout" or ears. The eyes were yellow and slanted; it had a very large forehead. The frightened students then left in their vehicle but about ½ mile away decided to return to figure out what it was. They pulled back by the building and sat there for about 5 minutes before strange things began to happen. First of all they all heard noises around them, they couldn't explain the noises but they "put shivers down their spines". Then as soon as the noise stopped a motion light on the building turned on and they heard something run very fast. Suddenly they see something behind them; the driver pushes the clutch and slowly rolls back to get a closer view. One of them shines the light on the figure and two yellow eyes stare at them. They felt that the creature whatever it was "wanted to harm them". The driver floors it and going at about 40mph sees in his break-lights that something was chasing them on 4 legs. Eventually they lost the creature and had to pull over the side of the road to calm down.

He was dressed in black, like all the others he wore a pointed hat. Across from the monument is the old Grenfell hospital that used to be the main location to go for the whole coast of Labrador. There in the path amongst the trees she spotted a little person. He was marching back and forth under the trees. Another one came out from amongst the trees and marched happily across the road toward the monument, arms swaying back and forth. As she kept walking toward the main road, one went and sat down on a resident's step, legs crossed he just sat there. Straight across from this resident's home at the Community Center, she spotted a little person sitting on the ground, his knees folded in front of him while he wrapped his hands around them. While she kept walking she saw yet another one dressed in blue clothing that hung down to his ankles. He was dancing upon a rock, going around in circles, happily dancing. She then walked up the path toward her friend's house. There were two more little people sitting in the tree, staring down at them. From there she called her mother again to be picked up, she was frightened. She began to cry, wondering what she had seen. She thought they were trying to get her, and that they might come to where she lived.

The witness had gone to bed late after surfing the web and fell asleep around 0315A. Something woke him and he opened the light curtain and could see an object hovering over his neighbor's rear garden farm. Their house is about 175meters away and in the early morning sun the object was clear and sharp. The craft was about ten to twelve meters long and round like a trash can. It was metallic silver in color with a dome. On that dome was a much smaller black half dome and it had a beam under it almost as wide as the ship, with a white light that was not shining. The witness tried to scream, and the craft started to fly towards him and flew real close and he could see that the underside was dark with three domes. He does not remember what happened next and then woke up in his bed with a feeling of panic.

A young girl named Piyumi Kaushalya went outside of her house in the evening and saw a 2ft tall humanoid figure standing near the well. “It seemed to write something and when I talked it ran away and got down to a paddy field. It disappeared after yellow, blue lights flashed on top of its head” Kaushalya says. Two weeks prior to this incident her mother had seen 3 bright red colored objects in the eastern sky. Later D.D. Kusumawathi and six other people went to a jungle, marsh land sort of area in the evening in order to see the creatures. “Other people were about 20ft behind me and suddenly I smelled something burning when I looked around I saw a brownish reddish face with red glowing eyes looking at me the red color in its eyes was rotating. I was looking at it for a while and screamed. I felt like my head was going to explode and I fainted” reported Kusumawathi. Chamila Prashadini and two of her friends walked into the wooded area hoping to see the creatures. She had a similar experience as D.D. Kusumawathi and also says she heard a humming sound. Also people have heard a humming sound in the evenings from marshy wooded areas near the village.

Numerous witnesses reported bizarre events in the area, an elderly man reported seeing 2 small beings in the woods and then a 9-year old girl came upon a small being sitting under a tree. The being spoke to her in a squeaky, bird like noise. Then that same night she says she was “taken up” and transported away in limbo to “a rock” and then back to her bed. Others saw a bright pinkish light in the sky. The beings were described as very small, about 2.0’ to 2’.6” in height, faded gold in color and with human like faces.

Motion detectors would continuously go off around the house and no one would be there. On the above date he saw bright lights outside his and 3 types of strange beings outside his windows. He described the beings as, # 1, small, with very small feet, large head and eyes, about 4ft tall and a milky white translucent flesh tone with a very shy demeanor, # 2, very tall, 9 to 10 feet very slim, large head and eyes, 14" feet with long toes with big toe on the opposite side of the foot, milky white translucent flesh tone, demeanor unexplainable only stares at witness, # 3, 6' tall, snout for a nose, skin is red with green spots all over, fur covered squared feet, 3 claws per foot, demeanor very stern and rather frightening. He sat frozen in his living room while the beings were tapping at his windows, the door handles were jiggling and deadbolt locks unlocking by themselves. He called 911 and reported a prowler. The police arrived 45minutes later, but 2minutes before they arrived all went black outside and the tapping and scurrying of feet stopped. He called his friend to take him away from the house for the night. In the morning he returned and found strange footprints, swirled markings on his concrete driveway and large amounts of "dried chemicals" all along the side of his house. Outside the windows, deep scratch marks in the cement and circular grooves on his brand new windows. He opened the garage and found a very sticky slimy residue which resembled some sort of plasma (which is currently dissolving the concrete floor). He attempted to report this to several law enforcement agencies who ignored him. He has reported subsequent visits by the humanoids.

Researcher Barb Campbell suddenly woke up with the feeling that she wasn’t alone. She looked at the doorway to find something standing there. This “thing” took the whole entire space of the doorway. It was almost transparent with white outlines that took on the form of a hooded robed figure. Every single edge of the robe was well detailed in a sparkly, fluorescent like white, dim light. Everything else blended into the room. She was not able to see a face as the hood came over hiding the facial features completely. It stood there watching her with arms crossed. Her eyelids were extremely heavy, but she managed to say out loud, “go away!’ Immediately it moved across the room to the open window and was gone. As it moved, the white outlines of the robed figure shimmered and flickered in almost strobe-like fashion and blurred with its quick movements. She had never seen anything like it. She lay on the bed for a while trying to sort out in her head what had just happened. She could t go back to sleep right away so she got up for about an hour and then went back to bed. For some time now she has been witness to a triangle-shaped object flying over her home on an almost nightly basis. Times vary within the range of an hour. One of them scooped up the sow with one arm, transferred it to its other arm and tossed it to the second figure. In the moonlight the witness suddenly realized that the figures were not "ordinary people" and quickly became frightened and confused, as they were extremely tall, perhaps seven or eight feet in height. He fired a shot from his rifle into the left side of the entity that had caught the sow and was close enough that he felt sure he hit it. He immediately heard a loud screeching, squealing weird sound. Then the entity that had thrown the pig to the other one swiftly "floated" toward the witness, picked him up by his shirt and with one arm, threw him backwards about 20 feet. The youth landed on his back, and while on the ground heard a sort of "boom sound." He sat up, reloaded the rifle and looked around for the entities, but they were nowhere to be seen. The witness described getting a sense of fear from the other beings once the first one had been shot. He described what might have been an empathic telepathy between the beings and himself, with them indicating something like, "we mean you no harm..."

On September 20 around 1915-1930 the two witnesses were driving home from dinner, heading west on Cliff Road. The night was cool and the sky was brilliant blue in color. The only exception being some clouds that looked like they had been painted in the sky. The clouds looked like they had been created by the strokes of a paint brush using violet colored paint. They formed the shape of a flame. The source of the flame appeared to be the yellow glow of the sun that was now hidden by the earth. The sight was so impressive that they pulled over to get a better view of the beautiful sunset. Then something caught the man’s eye, just above where the clouds ended. It looked like a black dot or disk off to the southwest of them. He kept looking over at the object as they drove home, which was probably just about a half a mile in distance. As he kept looking over at the object, it did not seem to move at all. When they got home he went to a clearing on a nearby hill and found the object still in the same spot in the sky. He observed the object and it seemed to be stationary for the most part, only moving slightly from time to time. A few times he saw an energy surrounding the object like an aura. Besides the energy glow around the object he never saw any other lights coming from it. Using passing aircraft as reference he guessed that the black object was at least 30-40,000 feet above the earth. After five minutes the object began to move west and slightly north in a somewhat straight line until it was no longer visible. Around midnight on the 21st he was about to go outside to enjoy the clear night sky when he sensed “beings” roaming around inside their house. The energy they created in the house startled his wife and woke her up. Prompting her to come out and ask what was he doing and telling him to come back inside and shut the door. He could feel from time to time, himself and a being’s energy pass through one another or his body being touched by these invisible beings. This lasted for about a half hour and then he sensed the energy leaving the house.

The witness (involved in other encounters) had gone into the kitchen to quench his thirst when he experienced a feeling he’d only felt twice before. A blaze of bright light poured into the room, and he noticed his cats on the counter growling and staring outside at a domed craft brushing the tips of the trees. The craft was followed by 4 glowing orbs that followed it in an erratic path. After two minutes of circling it stopped just in view of the kitchen window. It then turned a blinding beam of light on the witness. He covered his ears expecting the loud shrieking noise he had heard before. He then something in his head. It was the voice of a woman who spoke in clear English and said, “We Armisael are sorry for hurting you. Communication very different and difficult. We like it here and may come back again”. He was stunned as the beam turned off and the craft blazed straight into the sky followed closely by the four orbs.

The witness was returning home from work on a beautiful night with a shining moon, he stopped near his house looking at the sky to see if he spotted any falling stars. He wasn’t successful, so after a few minutes he headed home. Suddenly he heard the sounds of footsteps behind him and was soon overtaken by a rectangular shadow 1x0.7 m in diameter. It was gliding above the ground, and the witness saw what appeared to be moving “protuberances” on its edges. The “creature” was emitted a quiet hum and a low “pitter patter” sound. The strange entity then went into the bushes near the witness home and disappeared.

The location is known as a “UFO Sanctuary” and observation area. A UFO conference had been held in the location in August. Walking into the observation field with Mt Adams in the background the witness saw portions of a craft “wavering” somewhat similar to seeing something through water (an aura or haze). Shortly after an entity appeared, his friend wanted to see it as well but “was not sensitive” enough. The witness pointed to where the entity was and asked to put his hand in that area, the “air” felt smooth with the entity’s presence. His friend compared the energy to another “space” which it was definitely different. They both received answers to some questions about life and then the entity left.

A strange humanoid figure with what appeared to be some type of apparatus on its back was seen flying over the Los Libertadores neighborhood, heading from North to South. Two neighbors, Juan Ignacio Estrada & Pedro Jimenez Lopez reported seeing the enigmatic figure as they prepared to close their business. There were apparently two other witnesses to the incident [ASR1].

A local resident after hearing noises outside saw a bizarre entity floating above a branch of a nearby tree. At first it resembled a man standing on top of the branch; however the witness soon noticed that it was actually hovering in midair. It resembled a very tall man-like figure, dark in color. He did not see any wings on the figure, which appeared thin and seemed to be covered in a “dark cape” he didn’t see any arms on the figure. Afraid he ran inside the house and woke his wife telling her what he had seen. However when he went out again the figure had disappeared.

The witness awoke to let the dogs out and as he approached the door he noticed what seemed to be a fire in the woods. He had seen this before in 1994 with a friend who experienced electrical disturbances with the vehicle as they could hear a very low frequency pulsating hum. During this sighting the witness felt an incredible amount of energy in the air. There was an object on the ground in the woods, very fire-like in color. While watching the object he noticed what appeared to be tall skinny human-like figures or silhouettes moving in front of the object. He grabbed his camera with new batteries but before he could take more than a couple of pictures the batteries died. Strange part was that as bright as the object was he was not able to include it in the picture. The pictures he did get were of his dog looking in the direction of the object and numerous floating “orbs”. The object seemed to pulsate and the hairs on the witness arms and body were standing up like static electricity.

Upon hearing noises outside 25-year old Jhon Condori went to investigate and saw a bizarre creature standing on top of the carport. He described the creature as about 2meters in height, dark green in color and two huge eyes. The creature moved in a strange waddling manner and emitted a powerful nauseating odor. The witness also could hear a strange “air-vacuum” type noise and reported that the creature jumped from the carport and disappeared into the darkness. A greenish sticky substance was reportedly found on the roof of the carport.

The witness was in her room watching television as her son played across the room and as she was enjoying her movie, a black figure without a face appeared in front of her, pushed her down, and held her in place for ten minutes. During this time period, while she couldn't move any part of her body but her eyes, she saw something running back and forth to her bedroom door, chuckling as she struggled to get whatever it was off of her. She said that whatever it was laughing at her came in the form of her eldest son, who is eight. Right away she knew it was not him. As soon as the shadow figure released her, she ran to her son's room where he was sound asleep. She also says that her baby son never seemed to notice what was going on.

On a clear and beautiful sunny day while outside barbecuing the witnesses looked up to see a round black object with a silvery lining floating above their house. It floated for about 10-15 minutes and then slowly went up into the clouds and disappeared. Five minutes later another object appeared, this one was first round and silver, but suddenly changed into a tube shape, gold in color, it then went back to being round and silver with four round spinning objects around its circumference. The object kept changing back and forth and sat there for about 10 minutes. Neither one of the objects ever made a sound. Suddenly several military jets began going over the house and the object floated up and disappeared in plain sight. Soon after that the witnesses spotted a black object dropping straight down from the sky into a field across the street. It came down really fast and sort of resembled the figure of a man parachuting, but without an actual parachute. It looked like a tall black figure with two legs, but the upper body was indistinct. The witness then apparently lost sight of the figure. Military jets continued to fly around for about half an hour and then left.

The witness reported seeing a long wing-shaped craft in the sky with two lights on each side. As soon as he looked up it began to fly "backwards" and then flew in his direction. Five minutes later it had arrived at the witness's location and it was now low enough for the witness to see the wingspan but he could not detect any aircraft outline. It emitted a strange sound resembling a very low one-propeller airplane. It then briefly hovered near the witness and then took off in the opposite direction going over the mountains. His normally active dogs failed to react to the object. That same night as the witness was getting ready to take out the dogs he saw the figure of a man on the porch and as soon as he opened the door the figure left quickly, silently, the witness only heard the brush rustling in the field.

The witness, a defense contractor, had stepped outside his work place to smoke a cigarette when he started to get a beeping sensation in his ear. His first thought was that he was listening to a forklift and he tried to ignore it. Right after that an overwhelming fear came over him and he started looking around. He looked up and saw a gray being hovering about 20feet in the air. The being was wearing a dark cloak, almost like a long trench coat. He couldn't see its body but could see its head. The rest of it was just this cloak floating up in the air. The witness began to panic since he didn't know what to do. His first feeling was that "he couldn't run or hide". Suddenly the strange humanoid floated up and disappeared. He described the being as about 4 to 4.5 feet tall; wearing what resembled a dark monk's cloak. Its head was clearly bigger that the rest of it. It had large black almond shaped eyes, kind of slanted, he didn't see a nose and it had a slit for a mouth. Before the creature departed the witness heard this telepathic message in his mind, "We can find you whenever we want to."

Jessica Walker, her 5-year old son, her mother, and her husband Misael Calderon were spending a day at the local Mayaguez Zoo. The youngster had been given a school assignment and had to photograph the animals. At the elephant section the young boy videotaped several elephants and the surrounding area. Upon arriving home they were watching the video and were stunned to see in an area where there was a monkey and some chickens they saw a strange creature which they considered not to be "of this world". They replayed the video several time and saw the same alien-type creature. They had not seen anything out of the ordinary while videotaping but did notice that the chimpanzee and the chickens were acting strangely. While videotaping the area Jessica's mother felt uneasy and her hairs stood up on end, she left the area immediately saying that "something was not right".

Samuel Saavedra told reporters that he heard a loud noise, "as if something had jumped off the large wall surrounding the house." Saavedra said he saw a creature that was approximately 1.20meters in height, furry, and with a round bald head. The creature had large eyes and an intense stare and gave Saavedra a "defiant glare". Saavedra said he called the police and then went to spend the night at his mother's house, being so scared that he refused to return home for 48 hours. That same night something attacked a henhouse in San Antonio leaving every chicken dead, without blood and with a mysterious orifice on their spines. One of owner's daughters who did not want to identify herself said that she heard dogs barking wildly that night, but did not see anything abnormal after rising several times throughout the night. Flor Vazquez, 73, the owner, told police that she found strange footprints on her patio with only three toes, two facing forward and one backward.
